The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5081-Taran had occupied a universe near one of the Orstellen Realm's borders.

He had a rough idea of how to become the Orstellen Sect's Leader.

Initially, he had no interest in the Orstellen Sect.

However, he wanted to enter the Sovereign Rank.

Lady Tehila must have reached the Sovereign Rank.

The Supernatural Power left behind by a powerhouse like her would be a good reference material to him.

Therefore, he decided to give becoming the Orstellen Sect's Leader a try so that he could learn about the Orstellen Art.

"Report!" An armed man suddenly appeared, knelt on one knee, and said respectfully, "Master, a human has come to visit.

He claims to be James Caden." "James?" Taran was slightly startled.

The rumor about the Orstellen Sect's Grand Priest impersonating James had spread like wildfire and caused a lot of commotion.

As one of the strongest powerhouses, Taran had naturally caught wind of the news.

After giving it a thought, Taran decided to meet with James.

James was wearing a white robe, waiting outside the universe with his hands behind his back.

Swoosh!!! A blurred silhouette appeared before him and gradually transformed into a middle-aged man.

Taran stared at James and carefully examined him.

However, the soul aura he had sensed most definitely belonged to James.

At that moment, he began to suspect the person before him was James.

“Are you the Orstellen Sect’s Grand Priest or James Caden?” asked Taran.

James smiled faintly and said, “It doesn’t matter who I am.

I remember you’ve always wanted to have a duel with me.

Well, I’m here now.” “Ha!” Taran chuckled and said, “If you’ve already mastered the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, then it indeed doesn’t matter who you are.

So, are you here to challenge me?” James replied, “That’s right.” Then, James unleashed the words “I challenge you” into the void.

Taran waved his hand and drew the words toward him.

Then, he shouted, “Challenge accepted.” “Let’s not waste any time and have the challenge immediately.

Let’s fight outside the district,” said James.

“As you wish.” Taran nodded lightly.

Meanwhile, the Orstellen Sect’s disciples could see everything happening in the Orstellen Realm.

King Marciais suddenly became excited and exclaimed, “This is getting interesting! James actually went to challenge Taran.” King Marciais was looking forward to the challenge.

He wanted to know if James could defeat Taran after he had mastered the Marciais Path, Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, and countless Supernatural Powers.

James would be the strongest cultivator in the Endlos if he could defeat Taran.

The other Orstellen Sect disciples were also looking forward to the duel.

Taran’s body disappeared and appeared outside the district.

There were many Extraterrestrial Demons outside of the district.

However, they fled in fear after sensing Taran’s powerful aura.

Immediately afterward, James appeared in the area.

The two floated in the void outside the district and had a stare-down.

Countless powerhouses gathered on top of a city wall in the distance.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5082-James had challenged Taran to a duel as the Orstellen Sect's Grand Priest.

The news spread throughout the Orstellen Realm within a very short period.

The Orstellen Realm was the size of a district in the Endlos.

Therefore, the other powerhouses could quickly swarm to the battlefield to spectate the fight.

Before the battle started, the city walls had been filled with living beings from the Endlos.

Meanwhile, countless Extraterrestrial Demons were outside the city walls.

However, they did not dare to get close to the battlefield and quickly evacuated after being frightened by the powerful auras released by James and Taran.

Taran placed his hands behind his back and said calmly, "Go all out, Grand Priest.

During this fight, I won't hold back." James said smilingly, "You don't need to." A powerful energy emerged from James' body, and dazzling halos covered the surface of his skin.

"It's the Marciais Path's Fourteenth Rank." James' aura permeated the air, and the living beings watching from the city walls were shocked.

Everyone thought the James before them was the Orstellen Sect's Grand Priest.

Thus, they were not expecting him to have also cultivated the Marciais Path to the Fourteenth Rank.

His aura was similar to that of King Marciais, who previously fought Taran.

Taran looked at him and said calmly, “The Marciais Path again? Even King Marciais wasn’t capable of defeating me.

I won’t lose to the Marciais Path’s fifteenth rank.

I want you to fight me with the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra.” Taran had already fought against King Marciais.

Although the fight ended with a truce, Taran was confident in his strength.

He might not necessarily lose to King Marciais, who had mastered the Marciais Path if they had a life- and-death duel.

He was no longer interested since he had already fought against the Marciais Path.

Instead, he wanted to fight against the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra.

“Don’t be in such a hurry.” James said smilingly, “I am only at the Chaos Essencia Rank, which is a lower rank than yours.

If I want to defeat you, the Marciais Path is not enough.

I must use various Supernatural Powers.

However...” Suddenly, James paused.

Taran asked calmly, “Yeah?” James answered with a smile, “If you lose, I want you to obey me while in the Orstellen Realm.” “Haha!” Taran laughed arrogantly.

“If you can defeat me, I’ll obey you after we leave the Orstellen Realm.

His words were full of confidence.

James felt relieved hearing Taran’s words.

He mysteriously disappeared from the spot and reappeared right in front of Taran.

Then, he swung his fist with significant momentum.

Taran's potent aura gathered on his body's surface and formed a protective barrier.

James could not break the protective barrier despite using the powers of the Marciais Path's Fourteenth Rank.

Boom! An explosion happened in the void before Taran.

However, he remained unscathed.

James could not break Taran's protective barrier, let alone cause any significant damage to him.

The crowd of powerhouses watched from the city wall.

"The Grand Priest is very powerful.

However, he is slightly inferior to King Marciais.

During the fight between King Marciais and Taran, King Marciais used the Marciais Path's fourteenth rank and the power of his cultivation base." "The Grand Priest won't be able to fight the Taran with just the Marciais Path's fourteenth rank." Several powerhouses commented on the battle.

Meanwhile, the powerhouses of the Human Race also paid close attention.

"Amazing." James felt his fist go numb.

He swung his arm a few times to regain sense in his hand.

His blood churned, and his fighting spirit was ignited.

At the same time, a magical power emerged from his heart.

James grinned and swung his fist again.

Boom! Taran's protective barrier was instantly shattered.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5083-James shattered the protective barrier, and his attack landed on Taran's body.

The impact dented Taran's flesh.

An injury formed instantly, and the pain spread throughout his body.

“What a surprise.” Taran was startled by the outcome.

He disappeared into the distance and quickly healed the injury.

Taran became serious about the fight.

He waved his hand, and a few inscriptions appeared to form a long black sword.

The sword darted toward James with immense power.

It pierced through the void and appeared before James in the blink of an eye.

James growled, “Break!” He gathered all the strength in his body and struck the void.

A spectral fist immediately shot out and clashed with the black sword.

The long black sword was shattered into inscriptions.

Those spectating were amazed.

“So that’s the power of the Martial Path?” “King Marciais reached the pinnacle of the Martial Path and cultivated Heart Power during his battle against Taran.

Yet, the Grand Priest is displaying the greatest state of the Martial Path.”

“Could it be the Grand Priest is stronger than King Marciais?” “King Marciais is the creator of the Marciais Path.

Could the Grand Priest’s achievement in the Mariciais Path really exceed King Marciais?” The powerhouses were confused.

James had displayed terrifying strength.

With the Maricais Path’s fourteenth rank and the power of the Martial Path’s greatest state, he was at the same level as a powerhouse at the Chaos Completable Rank’s peak.

His strength was already impressive, yet he had not even used the power of his cultivation base.

Nobody knew what other tricks the Grand Priest had up his sleeves.

“This battle is going to be interesting.” “I have a feeling Taran will lose to the Orstellen Sect’s Grand Priest.” The spectators were excited to see how the battle would unfold after witnessing James’ strength.

Meanwhile, the black sword that had been shattered into inscriptions quickly merged into a powerful formation.

James was trapped within the formation, and a powerful pressure crushed him.

His body caved to the pressure, and he was pushed downward.

Eventually, his feet made contact with the ground.

Soon, half of his body was buried in the rubble on the ground.

The stones around his body burst from the intense force.

James had already used the power of the Martial Path’s highest state but was still unable to resist the formation.

Despite his circumstance, he grinned and murmured, “Interesting.” At that moment, he unleashed his physical body’s power.

Another powerful force emerged from his body and boosted his strength.

James resisted the pressure and leaped into the air.

Suddenly, a weird-looking geomantic compass shattered Taran’s formation.

“The Demonic Compass!” “It’s the former weapon of Mekaisto, the Extraterrestrial Demons’ Second Commander!” Many powerhouses were startled to see the weapon James had summoned.

“Is it possible the Orstellen Sect’s Grand Priest is really James Caden? Didn’t James seize Mekaisto’s weapon during their battle?” After Taran’s formation was destroyed, the Demonic Compass spun in his direction.

Taran stood firmly in the void and summoned a few Curse Inscriptions.

A circle of light instantly surrounded his body, and the Demonic Compass was blocked.

Then, James appeared near him and summoned a long sword.

The sky was immediately filled with clones of James and countless Sword Shadows.

Several mysterious inscriptions also emerged.

A Sword World formed, instantly trapping Taran within it.

Immediately afterward, a Sacred Blossom materialized and split open, releasing a potent force into the Sword World.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5084-James cast a variety of Supernatural Powers consecutively.

Wynton exclaimed, “A Sword World?” “Blossoming?” Emperor Jabari frowned.

Taran was trapped within James’ Sword World, and an overwhelming wave of Sword Energies swept toward him.

At the same time, the power of Blossoming also permeated the air.

Despite the various attacks, Taran remained calm.

He gently flicked his finger, and an inscription exuding potent force materialized.

James’ Sword World collapsed instantly.

Taran stood composedly in the air, and confidence filled his face.

He said calmly, “Is that all you have? You’re a worthy opponent, but you aren’t strong enough for me to use my full strength.” James grinned at his remark.

He had only been testing the waters, trying to grasp Taran’s strength.

At that moment, James no longer held back.

His aura instantly rose to a higher level, and he mobilized the power of his cultivation base.

However, he was not done yet.

With a thought, he activated the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra.

The Ten Path Technique's powers merged, and his aura instantly skyrocketed.

James' aura was more potent than King Marciais when he fought with Taran.

Taran could not help but frown after sensing James' aura.

With the combination of the Martial Path's greatest state and the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, James was much stronger than when King Marciais had activated the Marciais Path's Fifteenth Rank.

Taran put away the distractive thoughts and mobilized his Curse Magic, which significantly boosted his aura.

"Here it comes!" "Taran is going all out!" "It's the state he had entered while facing King Marciais' Marciais Path's Fifteenth Rank.

It's a pity they ended the fight." "Their battle didn't have an outcome." "There should be a winner in this battle, right?" Everyone spectating from the city walls began looking forward to the battle's outcome.

Whoever won would become the strongest of the Endlos.

"Could that person really be James Caden?" "Rumors are that the Orstellen Sect's Grand Priest was impersonating James.

He can copy James' soul aura, but can he learn all the Supernatural Powers that James had cultivated?" "Yeah.

Since Emperor Raiah's era, James has been the only person to have perfected the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra." Everyone on the city wall began to discuss.

On the battlefield, James stretched his body.

It had been an entrapoch since he last fought.

Back then, his cultivation rank was only at the Chaos Rank.

Now, his cultivation rank had entered the Chaos Essencia Rank.

Meanwhile, his Marciais Path had reached the Fourteenth Rank.

The power in his body was so majestic that he could not adapt to it immediately.

He seemed a little bit unable to control his power.

Now, he needed a battle to consolidate his strength.

Suddenly, he disappeared.

The next moment, he appeared before Taran and attacked with the Demonic Compass.

With James' current cultivation rank, he could completely control the Demonic Compass and unleash its full potential.

The huge Demonic Compass crushed down at Taran.

Taran cast a glance at the Demonic Compass, and he released his Curse Power.

The Curse Power affected the void, and the Demonic Compass was suspended in the air.

The next moment, the Demonic Compass tilted away.

Boom!

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5085-The Demonic Compass was knocked into the distance, destroying a large area.

Taran took the initiative to attack.

Curse Inscriptions surrounded James' body.

They began to transform, and a strange power emerged.

James was instantly enveloped by Curse Power and unable to move an inch.

An injury had also unknowingly formed on his body.

“His Curse Power is terrifying,” James exclaimed in shock.

James summoned the Chaos Sword, poured all his powers into it, and slashed out, unleashing several Sword Energies.

The Sword Energies slashed at the inscriptions.

However, they failed to destroy the Curse Inscription.

Even though he had mastered the Martial Path and cultivated the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, he could not neutralize the Curse Inscriptions.

The Curse Power infected James, and his internals began to suffer damage.

At the same time, his life force began to drain away.

His deep black hair became ash gray.

His face sagged, and countless wrinkles appeared on his face.

He was no longer a young man but an elderly one.

His strength was also slowly seeping away.

Boom!!! The void around James’ body exploded continuously.

The scene made the powerhouses in the distance tremble in fear.

“Is that the pinnacle of Curse Magic?” “It can drain away one’s life force without any warning.

How terrifying.” The powerhouses gasped at the sight.

Meanwhile, James was still being engulfed by the Curse Power.

At that moment, James smiled triumphantly.

He forcibly absorbed the Curse Power, then unleashed a Curse Inscription similar to the one Taran had summoned.

The identical inscriptions clashed with each other.

Boom!!! Another explosion happened in the void.

Taran suffered a backlash and stumbled a few steps backward.

“You?” Taran glared at James.

James laughed and said, “I already told you that I’ve also cultivated Curse Magic.

When I watched your fight against King Marciais, I learned some things from you.” Taran could not help but praise him, “Impressive.

You’re really talented.

You are already so profound in Curse Magic.

However, you’re only one-tenth of my strength.” James’ understanding of Curse Magic was nothing compared to Taran’s.

However, his achievements were still remarkable.

He had only cultivated Curse Magic for a very short time, yet he could reach one-tenth of Taran.

Taran was surprised that James could absorb and neutralize his Curse Power.

He admitted that James was incredibly talented.

However, James was still at a lower cultivation rank.

The disparity in strength was still huge.

Even though James had many Supernatural Powers, Taran was confident in his own strength and felt he would definitely win.

Despite that, he remained vigilant.

He attached a few inscriptions to his body, and they transformed into black armor.

In his black armor, he looked mighty and domineering.

James also summoned the 108 Infinity Steles in front of him.

The Infinity Stele came together to form the Boundless Pagoda.
