

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5106-5110

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5106-Larix was satisfied with the progress.

To him, his subordinates were disposable resources.

He even considered himself a mere pawn that could be sacrificed when needed.

All that was left to do was to kill James and take complete control of the district.

They would be halfway to their main goal if he could conquer the district.

The Alliance Army was also satisfied with the battle's outcome.

Apart from James, the other parties involved were overjoyed.

Contrary to his prediction, the Extraterrestrial Demon refrained from showing up even after his party had suffered such a great loss.

Moreover, the Alliance Army was another big problem.

After he killed the Extraterrestrial Demon, he might also have to deal with them.

James could only hope the Orstellen Realm's trial would end after he eliminated the Extraterrestrial Demon.

James sat on the highest point of the spiritual mountain and dispersed the formation around his body.

He was the last survivor in the universe.

The black palace outside the universe floated over and arrived outside the planet almost instantly.

James slowly stood up.

Larix, who was inside the black palace's hall, also stood up.

He frowned after recalling Xezal's reminder.

Despite his reluctance, he changed his appearance and became an unattractive middle- aged man who would not attract attention.

The palace was surrounded by Extraterrestrial Demons.

After Larix changed his appearance, he walked out of the black palace.

James immediately noticed Larix.

Larix's aura was potent and definitely not inferior to Taran's.

The two of them stared at each other.

Before the battle even began, the surrounding void started to collapse.

James appeared in the air with a flash.

Immediately afterward, the planet below him instantly disintegrated into pieces.

He looked at the black palace ahead of him and muttered, "Be gone." James' simple words contained destructive power.

The black palace instantly crumbled, and the Extraterrestrial Demons around it were obliterated.

Larix was the only one left hovering in the void.

Although James' Curse Magic was powerful, it could not harm Larix.

Larix said calmly, "You finally showed up, James." James looked at the unattractive-looking man and asked, "So you're the Extraterrestrial Demons'

Great Commander? What is your name?" Larix replied with a smile, "It's Larix Mavfta.

I didn't expect so many powerhouses to be within this district.

I've suffered hefty losses to wipe them out." "your goal for infiltrating the Endlos is the Herstellen Art, right? What's the secret contained within the Herstellen

Art?” asked James.

“Ha,” Larix chuckled and said, “It won’t be a big deal to tell you.

Our Lord was injured while fighting to conquer another plane.

He happened to see the birth of the Endlos Plane.

The Endlos Light appeared when the Endlos Plane was forming, and it contained the method for him to fully recover.” “Another plane?” James frowned.

Larix said lightly, “You’ve never left the Endlos, so you’re clueless about how vast the world is outside of it.

The Endlos is just a small plane among the countless planes.

It’s nothing compared to bigger planes.

Our Lord never expected it to be so hard to conquer such a small plane.

He had sent countless powerhouses.

However, he still failed to take over the Endlos Plane and obtain the Herstellen Art to treat his body.” James immediately had a clearer understanding of the situation.

He also learned about the planes that existed outside of the Endlos.

He quickly entered the Marciais Path’s Fourteenth Rank and cast the Defying Heavens Art.

At the same time, he urged all his powers.

His aura skyrocketed and reached its strongest state.

James beckoned Larix and said, “Make your move.” “Since you’re so eager to die, Ill fulfill your wish.” Larix smiled faintly, then summoned a black knife that emitted a black radiance.

The Demonic Knife had the power to captivate one's heart.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5107-Just glancing at the Demonic Knife was enough to make one hallucinate

Larix appeared in front of James instantly with the Demonic Knife.

Before James could even react, the Demonic Knife was already plunging at him.

At the last second, James disappeared.

The Demonic Knife slashed at his afterimage.

James reappeared behind Larix and used the Demonic Compass to attack.

Boom!!! The Demonic Compass shattered the surrounding void.

However, Larix reacted quickly and avoided being struck by James' sneak attack.

James immediately launched another attack.

He summoned the Chaos Sword and cast the Universal Sword Art.

The power of heaven and earth merged into a terrifying Sword Energy.

The Sword Energy instantly permeated the air.

Larix quickly used the Demonic Knife to parry the Sword Energy.

Boom!!! The Sword Energy and his Demonic Knife clashed.

The void exploded, and countless black holes formed around the area.

Two figures flickered through the void riddled with black holes and fought.

Whenever they had a confrontation, their powerful forces would cause an explosion.

James' Blood Energy churned from the shock waves.

When James fought against Taran, he had to use his mysterious formation to gain the upper hand.

Larix was stronger than Taran, so James was disadvantaged against Larix.

James quickly activated the formation he had set up around the universe.

He had already integrated his Supernatural Powers into it.

The formation enveloped the universe and shrank, trapping Larix within it.

He had been watching James battle against Taran.

Therefore, he was aware of the formation's terrifying strength.

He used all his strength, repeatedly attempting to break free with his Demonic Knife.

However, he had underestimated the formation.

Despite using all his power, he could not break free.

At that moment, he was being crushed by a potent pressure.

The formation was constantly transforming, and countless Supernatural Powers had been unleashed against him.

Larix's body was injured, and his soul was damaged.

A trace of fear budded in his heart.

'His formation is terrifyingly strong.' Larix was surprised.

His death would be inevitable if he could not escape from the formation.

He quickly burned his Blood Essence and soul, obtaining great strength.

Larix roared, "Break!!!" Then, he used all his strength to shatter James' formation.

Although the formation was broken, James had a smile on his face.

Larix had paid a heavy price to break the formation, whereas he had not consumed any strength yet.

James was confident in winning the battle.

He knew he would survive even though a tough fight awaited him.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5108-Even though Larix had destroyed James' formation, he had suffered a heavy loss.

Every inch of his body was covered in wounds.

His flesh had been sliced open, and his bones were exposed.

Mysterious inscriptions that belonged to some kind of Supernatural Power he had cultivated flowed through his bones.

At that moment, his face was grim and terrifying.

Larix said coldly, "Damn it.

I won't forgive you for hurting me." His aura suddenly improved and reached the Sovereign Rank.

James knew he was no match against Larix.

He could only drag out the battle and avoid a direct confrontation so that Larix would keep burning his Blood Essence and soul.

"Ha," James snickered and said provocatively, "What can you do?" "Fucker!

Die!" Larix's aura was potent.

He launched an attack containing destructive power.

However, James avoided the attack with Blithe Omniscience and quickly left the universe.

As soon as he appeared in a different universe, a terrifying power shot in his direction.

Countless Sword Lights gathered and formed into a powerful Knife Formation.

Even though James was at his strongest, he would be injured if trapped within the formation.

He quickly mobilized his strength, tore a gap in the void, and escaped.

Larix launched powerful attacks.

However, James refrained from fighting him head-on.

James kept fleeing, whereas Larix chased after him.

Larix's energy was exhausted in vain.

"Damn it!" "You bastard!" Larix's resentful growls resounded in the Orstellen Realm.

His current state was terrifyingly strong, and he could kill James.

However, he was unable to do anything since James kept running away.

He stopped the burning of his Blood Essence and soul.

As a result, his strength returned to being weaker than James.

On top of that, he was already injured.

James seized the chance and began to launch attacks against Larix.

Larix sustained consecutive injuries.

He burned his Blood Essence and soul once again to overpower James.

However, James immediately fled.

Larix growled furiously, "ARGH!!!" At that point in the battle, Larix knew it was impossible to win with James constantly running from him.

He thought of retreating from the battle and joining forces with the other commanders to infiltrate the district together.

Just when he began escaping, James started to attack.

He unleashed his formation, and the two figures besieged Larix.

Larix was trapped in the formation again and suffered severe injuries.

With his own strength, he could not break the formation.

He had no choice but to burn his Blood Essence and soul to escape.

However, James fled when he ignited his Blood Essence and soul.

With the Blithe Omniscience, he could move around without any constraints.

Despite gaining great strength, Larix could not trap or catch up and injure him.

James, on the other hand, was relatively relaxed.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5109-James had nothing to worry about since the Orstellen Realm's primitive living beings had already died in battle.

Moreover, they were within a secret realm.

The powerhouses outside the Orstellen Realm laughed as they watched the battle unfold.

"James will be the winner." "The Extraterrestrial Demons' Great Commander looks so frustrated." "Yeah.

He has all the strength he needs, but James isn't giving him a chance.

If he continues exhausting his energy, James is definitely going to win." The powerhouses happily commented on the battle.

However, the powerhouses of the Alliance Army had grim expressions.

It was an outcome they wanted to prevent so badly.

Their goal was to have James and Larix engage in a fierce battle so they would both suffer losses.

Even if James were to win, they were confident in killing him after he had consumed most of his strength.

Meanwhile, Larix had escaped to the Dark World.

However, James was not worried and calmly chased after him with the Bllithe Omniscience.

Boom! The Boundless Pagoda appeared and smashed into the area.

The surroundings were instantly destroyed, and a shadow emerged from the area and gradually transformed into Larix.

Larix immediately launched another attack, but James avoided again.

Thirty thousand years passed in the blink of an eye.

Larix had been constantly burning his Blood Essence and soul in the past years.

Each time, he would exhaust a bit of his power.

However, he was almost completely drained as their fight lasted thirty thousand years.

He was already at his limit and no longer had the strength to fight.

Larix was in despair.

He gave up and sat down on a rock.

Swoosh! James appeared in front of him.

Larix's hair was scattered messily.

He looked at James dejectedly and said indifferently, "Just kill me already.

I can't help but accept my defeat to you." After a thirty thousand -year battle,

Larix's arrogance was long gone.

James did not immediately kill Larix since he was curious to learn more about the planes that Larix had mentioned.

"What were the planes you were talking about? If you tell me the truth, I'll spare your life." Larix looked at James, took a deep breath, and said, "A plane is like a domain.

For example, the Endlos is considered a plane.

“There’s also the Central Plane.

Countless small planes will be born surrounding the Central Plane.

However, a few of them will be destroyed as soon as they are born.

Some planes will go unnoticed for a very long time after they are born.

Within these planes, a few powerhouses will come into existence.

When they reach a certain level of cultivation, they will enter the Central Plane.”

Curious, James asked, “Which plane are you from, and who is the lord you speak of?” Larix replied, “I’m from the Central Plane.

I serve one of the Central Plane’s strongest.

He has countless powerhouses under him.

He has conquered many planes for resources.

“Long ago, he headed out to conquer a powerful plane.

However, he was injured by the lord of that plane.

He was injured heavily and couldn’t recover.

He learned about the Endlos Plane and the Herstellen Art hidden with the Endlos Lights, which can heal his wounds.

It’s the reason why he insists on conquering the Endlos Plane.” James took a deep breath after learning the truth about the worlds beyond the Endlos.

“Is the Endlos Plane considered strong compared to the other planes?” asked James.

Larix shook his head lightly and said, “Not really.

It's below average.

Otherwise, my master would've personally come to conquer the Endlos Plane."

James asked again, "Are you strong in the Central Plane?" Larix replied,

"Although I'm considered powerful, I'm not worthy of a title in the Central Plane.

I'm just a worthless servant to my master." James had a solemn expression.

He never expected the leader of the Extraterrestrial Demons to be so powerful.

It seemed even Lady Tehila was no match against him.

The real mastermind did not even bother to personally seize the Endlos Plane and only sent his subordinates.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5110-After James understood the Endos Plane's strength and the region beyond the Endlos, he spared Larix's life just as he had promised.

Since they were within a projection, it would not impact Larix's fate in the outside world.

"you can go," James said calmly.

"You're letting me go?" Larix looked at him in disbelief.

"Or do you perhaps want to die?" James stared at him.

"N-No." Larix immediately stood up and disappeared in a flash.

Ultimately, James did not kill Larix.

He still could not figure out why Lady Tehila had left behind the Orstellen Realm.

He had defeated the Extraterrestrial Demons' Great Commander, so he should have already passed the trial.

King Marciais watched puzzledly.

He looked at Cray and inquired, "Ts this the Orstellen Realm's trial?" Cray shook his head and said, "I'm not sure either.

Lady Tehila didn't leave much information.

She only told us when to open the Orstellen Realm.

As for how to complete the trial, I'm as clueless as you." James returned to the shattered district.

The countless universes within it had been destroyed.

Even though a few universes survived, the inhabitants had already been killed.

The Alliance Army, on the other hand, was unscathed.

However, the alliance members were trembling in fear.

James had not suffered any injuries, nor did he exhaust a lot of strength after the battle.

It was evident they could not win.

Even after their attempt to work with the Extraterrestrial Demons had failed.

At that moment, they chose to leave the Orstellen Realm.

Soon, James was the only one left.

He did not leave immediately.

Instead, he wandered through the ruins and pondered.

He was confused and helpless.

Swoosh! Suddenly, a multicolored light ray fell from the sky.

The connection with the outside world was instantly severed, and the powerhouses could no longer see what was happening inside the Orstellen

Realm.

James looked at the light ray in front of him and made out the silhouette of a woman.

Unfortunately, he could only see the outline of her facial features.

Despite that, he could tell she was beautiful.

He stared at her in shock.

He recomposed himself after realizing it was Lady Tehila's phantom body.

James said respectfully, "It's a pleasure to meet you, Lady Tehila.

My name is James Caden." The light ray dispersed, and the woman's appearance became clear.

She had a mesmerizing face and was wearing a white dress.

James could not help but feel fascinated by her beauty.

"James." The woman's pleasant voice resounded.

He snapped back to reality and said earnestly, "Yes? I'm all ears.

Tell me what I should do." James was the only one who could see Lady Tehila's phantom body.

Everyone else waiting outside the Orstellen Realm was unaware of what had happened.

After some time, James left the Orsetellen Realm, and it ceased to exist.