The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5141-Let's go back to the Orstellen Sect," James said lightly, then turned to leave.

He returned to the Orstellen Sect but pretended nothing had happened. While he waited for news about Xezal, he paid a visit to Zella.

"You're back, James," said Zella.

'Yeah." James walked over and sat down inside Zella's room.

Zella immediately brought him some spiritual fruits.

"Has it ever crossed your mind that your brother is the reincarnation of a powerhouse from a different plane?" asked James.

Zella was slightly flustered by his question. She walked over, put the spiritual fruits on the table, and sat down. She looked at James and said, "If that's true, please spare his life. Regardless of his past identity, he's still my brother in this life."

James immediately came to a realization and said, "I see. You already knew. So when you told me about the reincarnations of powerhouses from other planes around me, you were already aware your brother was one of them, right? That's why you only reminded me and didn't give me names."

Zella nodded lightly in response. She noticed something unusual about Wynton and gave James a hint.

James said with a smile, "Don't worry. No matter his actions, I'll not end his life for your sake."

Zella had saved James before. If not for the inscription she gave him, he would have died during his fight against Mekaisto.

James did not speak further on the matter. He stood up and left Zella's residence. Then, he went to see Livie.

"Dad." During this period, Livie had been waiting anxiously. She was worried something was going to happen to James and that he would fight with Lor Willasse. Seeing James return, she rushed over to him.

"Dad, you're back!"

James' heart was warmed by her welcoming.

'Yeah, I'm back," James replied softly. Then, he asked, "Did you already know that Wynton is the reincarnation of Emyr Island's Young Master?"

"What? He's Emyr Island's Young Master?" Livie was startled.

'You didn't know?"

"No, I wasn't aware." Livie shook her head.

"Forget it, then." James did not say anything more. He came to Livie to confirm whether she knew Wynton's identity.

"Dad," Livie looked at James with a serious expression and pleaded, "If you win, could you please spare him?"

“What if I lose?” James looked at her.

Livie said earnestly, “If the Endlos lose this battle, I’ll beg the Great Elder only to take the Endlos Lights and spare innocent lives.”

James replied, ‘You don’t understand. The Endlos Lights are the Endlos’ core.

Whoever cultivates the Endlos Lights becomes the Endlos Lord and will be able to control the Endlos. To them, the Endlos is just a small plane. The lives of the Endlos’ inhabitants are insignificant to them.”

Livie bit her lips, at a loss for words.

James gently caressed her head and said smilingly, “Rest assured. What you’re worrying about won’t happen. By the way, Lor has already been reincarnated.”

“Huh?” Livie’s jaw dropped in shock.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5142-Livie found it hard to believe Lor had been reincarnated.

Lor was Emyr Island’s Great Elder, a powerhouse at the Sovereign Third Rank.

He had terrifying strength, yet James claimed that he had been reincarnated. She recomposed herself and asked, “What happened?”

James said smilingly, “I went to see him and had a long discussion with him. He realized his wrongdoings and decided to reincarnate to atone for his sins.”

Livie did not believe James’ blatant lie. Curious about the truth, she asked,

“What exactly happened, Dad?”

Unfortunately, James refused to answer her. Seeing that James was unwilling to speak, Livie did not pursue the matter further.

Afterward, James temporarily stayed in the Orstellen Sect and waited for news about Xezal's recent movements.

Although he was in the Orstellen Sect, Gurgun had been keeping track of Xezal, Wynton, and the Ancestral Blood Master.

The three of them had already met up. Then, Xezal brought Thea and a few human powerhouses to the Dark World.

Within the cast and boundless Dark World, a vast land covered by a powerful formation had appeared out of the blue. Even the Dark World's mists were unable to penetrate through the formation.

The land was full of the powerhouses Lor had brought from Emyr Island.

To the west of the central region, there was a spiritual mountain.

Xezal sat in the highest seat of the main hall on the spiritual mountain. Wynton was also seated beside her. Meanwhile, the other living beings in the hall were standing before them.

Thea was also among the group of living beings. She glared at Xezal and said coldly, "So you're the one causing trouble, Xezal. You too, Wynton. I never expected you to be the reincarnation of a powerhouse from Emyr Island"

Wynton looked at Thea and said, "My father only wants the Endlos Light. As long as James hands it over, the Endlos Plane will be fine. After all, I've stayed in the Endlos Plane for a long time and have some feelings for the place."

Thea said, "James has already refined the Endlos Lights. He can't hand them over."

Wynton answered, "Then I'll have to bring James back."

"Young Master, don't waste time talking to her. I'll immediately dispatch my subordinates to send a message to the Orstellen Sect that James should come and save his people if he has already returned. Otherwise, we will kill them all."

Xezal behaved respectfully toward Wynton since he was Emyr Island's Young Master. Although Wynton's current status was below Lor, he was still bound to take over Emyr Island. In the future, Lor would be his subordinate.

She looked at Wynton and said smilingly, "After you get the Endlos Lights, please eliminate a few of the Endlos Plane's powerhouses, such as Taran, King Marciais, Wyot, and others. I'll take control of the Endlos Plane in the future, and we will serve Emyr Island."

Wynton glanced at Xezal. He knew her character very well. Even if Emyr Island decided to seize the Endlos Plane, they would never leave Xezal in charge.

With Xezal's scheming personality, her betraying Emyr Island would be a matter of time.

However, Lor was currently in charge. Wynton was unaware why Lor handed his token to her, but he could only obey her for now.

“We’ll settle these matters later,” Wynton said calmly.

Xezal smiled in response. Then, she sent her subordinates to send a message to the Orstellen Sect. Now, they just needed to wait.

Meanwhile, James waited in the Orstellen Sect. Soon, he received her message

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5143-Xezal sent a message demanding James to head to the Dark World alone.

James sat in the highest seat of the Orstellen Sect’s main hall, and many of the sect’s powerhouses gathered below him.

Gurgen had returned to participate in the meeting. Gaius, King Marciais, Cray and Hetsema were also present.

Hetsema had been staying in the Orstellen Sect and chose not to return to the Human Universe’s Heavenly Court. Thus, he escaped the fate of being abducted.

“Xezal is too much! Dad, give me an order, and I’ll lead powerhouses from the Orstellen Sect to the Dark World and exterminate her! I’ll also get rid of the traitors, Xrival and Wynton. Then, I’ll bring Mom and the others back!” Hetsema said furiously.

James tapped his fingers on the table.

“Don’t hesitate anymore, Dad! Or else their lives may be in danger!” Hetsema said anxiously as if he really cared about Thea and the others.

James stood up and said, “I have my own plan. You guys stay in the Orstellen Sect. I’ll personally make a trip to the Dark World.”

King Marciais stepped forward and said, “Do you want me to accompany you? The Dark World is currently full of powerhouses. They must’ve already set up multiple traps, waiting for you to arrive.”

King Marciais was still unaware Lor had already chosen to reincarnate himself out of fear. Xezal’s group was no longer a match against James.

James waved his hand lightly and said, “That won’t be necessary. I’ll bring them back safely.”

“But...” King Marciais wanted to persuade him.

However, Gaius intervened, saying, “With James taking action, there’s nothing to worry about.”

King Marciais gave up after hearing Gaius’ words.

James disappeared from the hall and appeared at the Dark World’s border. Now that he was powerful and had refined the Endlos Light, he had become a true Lord of Planes, which allowed him to transverse a large area with just a thought.

After identifying the right direction, James stepped forward and appeared where Xezal’s group was.

He arrived in the Dark World and saw a floating land. The land was as big as a planet and was surrounded by mysterious formations, blocking out the black mists.

James approached the land and shouted, "I'm here."

Xezal had been waiting in the central region. Upon hearing James' voice, she said excitedly, "Open the formation and let James in."

Following Xezal's order, the formation opened.

James walked inside with great strides. He immediately detected several powerhouses within the formation with his powerful Zen.

He felt fortunate that he had forced Lor to reincarnate. Otherwise, it would be a disaster for the Endlos if a war broke out.

Even though there were many talented powerhouses in the Endlos, the forces brought by the Emyr Island were challenging opponents. The Endlos would have to face huge losses even if they won the battle.

James stepped forward and arrived at the main hall in the land's central region. He spotted the Ancestral Blood Master, Wynton, and Xezal.

He had to admit that Xezal was beautiful and had a graceful aura.

James scanned the main hall and said calmly, "I'm already here, so let the hostages go."

Xezal stood up, looked at James mockingly, and said, "You're very powerful, James. I don't trust you. I need you to abolish your cultivation base. Only then will I let them go."

At that moment, Wynton stood up and said, "Don't worry, James. We only want the Endlos Light. You just need to abolish your cultivation base and come with us. We won't make it hard for your family and friends."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5144-Wynton and the Ancestral Blood Master knew James' background very well.

James had even solved the battle at the beginning of time in the Tribulation World. They were worried about being unable to handle him if he had not abolished his cultivation base.

'You...' James was speechless by their request.

He dispersed his cultivation base and strength in front of the powerhouses within the hall. Soon, he went limp and fell to the ground. He seemed to not have the strength to get up or speak.

"Can you let them go now?"

Xezal walked over to check on James. She could not see through James' cultivation rank before, so she had to ensure he had no strength left to be at ease.

She placed her hand on James' forehead, and her power entered James' body.

After not sensing any energy in James' body, she smiled in relief.

"Who would've thought you would have today, James? You can't fight me."

Wynton stood up and ordered, "Let the hostages go."

A man in black stood up and immediately released the hostages.

James sat on the ground, scanned everyone in the hall, and asked smilingly,

"So what's next?"

Xezal glanced at Wynton and said, "Take James with you and report back.

Leave Emyr Island's powerhouses in the Endlos for now. I'll use them to deal with some people that pose a threat to Emyr Island."

After successfully capturing James, they needed to bring him back to Emyr Island. Xezal's mission was completed. However, her real motive had not been achieved yet.

Wynton's brows furrowed. After giving it a brief thought, he said, "I can't make the decision of leaving you in charge of the Endlos Plane. I will have to report it to the Great Elder."

"I'll see Lor myself," said Xezal.

James slowly stood up and said with a smile, "I'm afraid that won't be possible.

Lor is no longer here and has already been reincarnated."

M N

Everyone was shocked by James' words.

James said calmly, "I met up with him and had an earnest talk with him. He realized the graveness of his sins and decided to reincarnate himself."

"Nonsense." Xezal glared at James, not believing a word he had said.

James walked toward the front of the hall.

Xezal shouted, "Stop right there!"

However, James paid her words no attention.

Xezal reached out to grab James' shoulder but was suddenly knocked away into the distance by an invisible aura.

‘You...’ Xezal was startled.

Wynton and the Ancestral Blood Master were also flabbergasted. They could not understand how James still had strength after abolishing his cultivation base.

James ascended to the highest seat in the front of the hall and sat down. He looked at the astonished audience and smiled faintly.

Apart from the powerhouses James already knew, there were a few unfamiliar faces from Emyr Island that were at the Sovereign Rank.

“Take him down!” Xezal immediately issued an order.

Before the powerhouses at the Sovereign Rank could take action, two figures emerged from James’ body and launched attacks. The figures were James’ past form and future form.

The powerhouses were instantly reduced to ashes before they had a chance to fight back and were not even spared the opportunity to reincarnate.

Immediately afterward, the two figures returned to James’ body.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5145-Everyone in the hall was shocked by the sight.

Shortly after, a powerful force blasted away Wynton, the Ancestral Blood Master, Sedris, and Xezal.

James looked at them and asked calmly, “Tell me, how would you like to die?”

Wynton stared at James. After a while, he took a deep breath and said, “Since things have already come to this, I won't retaliate. However, I want to know what happened to Lor."

James said smilingly, "As I said, he has been reincarnated."

Wynton immediately cast a secret art to contact Lor.

However, he could not get hold of Lor, no matter how many times he tried. He even tried to sense Lor's aura but was to no avail.

Sedris knelt and begged, "Please spare my life, James. Lor arranged for my reincarnation in the Endlos. Although I'm a disciple of Emyr Island, I have not done anything unforgivable after being reincarnated in the Endlos."

James looked at Sedris and said calmly, "I won't kill you for Waleria's sake.

However, you were a disciple of Emyr Island and led the Extraterrestrial Army to infiltrate the Endlos.

You've caused countless deaths. I can spare your life, but you won't be able to avoid punishment. Today, I will seal you away in the Endlos Plane."

James flipped his hand, and a cage emerged out of nowhere, instantly trapping

Sedris within it.

"The Theos Sect is your home, so I'll seal you there. I hope you will repent. After one hundred thousand entrapochs, the seal will be deactivated."

The cage immediately disappeared and reappeared in the Theos District's Theos Sect.

Wynton, the Ancestral Blood Master, and Xezal remained silent in the hall.

Xezal's pretty face showed reluctance to give up. She could not accept her defeat after planning everything so carefully.

James looked at the Ancestral Blood Master, "Mr. Xrival."

Despite who the Ancestral Blood Master was, they shared a genuine relationship. The Ancestral Blood Master was not a righteous person, but he had provided James with protection when James had first ventured out of the Chaos District. Moreover, he was Thea's father. Even though he was not her biological father, he had raised her with care.

"Return to the Human Universe's Blood Realm. You're not to leave the Blood Realm for one hundred thousand epochs."

James waved his hand and sent the Ancestral Blood Master back to the Blood Realm to repent. Then, he fixated his eyes on Wynton.

"You're Emyr Island's Young Master, so I should kill you.

However, we've been comrades for a long time. Thus, I will drive you out of the Endlos and spare your life. It's also for your sister's sake. I won't show mercy if you ever step into the Endlos again."

'Wait...' Wynton hurriedly spoke.

“What is it?”

Wynton looked at him earnestly and said, “Looking at our past friendship, can’t you let me bring the Herstellen Art back to Emyr Island? Without it, my father won’t be able to recover. If his condition deteriorates, Emyr Island will be annexed by other forces.”

James replied, “Sure, but I have a condition.”

“What is it?”

James elaborated, “I’ll give you the Herstellen Art. However, you must stay in the Endlos to do good and make up for Emyr Island’s crimes. Emyr Island’s karma will be placed on you, and you can leave when it’s completely neutralized.”

“Alright, deal,” Wynton agreed without hesitation.

A mysterious Karma Power born from Emyr Island’s actions emerged and enveloped Wynton’s body.

James kept his word to Wynton. He waved his hand, and a few mysterious inscriptions appeared. He had refined the Endlos Lights and had already comprehended everything recorded within them.

‘These inscriptions have the Herstellen Art recorded within them. Instruct one of your subordinates to hand it to Fenton.
