

Read The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5156-Thea was puzzled by how James knew about the Central Plane's situation.

Surprised, she asked, "Are there many powerhouses at the Holy Celestial Rank in the Endlos Plane?"

James shook his head lightly and said, "It's the same as how the Sovereign Rank was to the Endlos Plane some time ago. It might be a legend, or perhaps a few people have already entered the rank."

Thea asked, "How did you know all this?"

James did not answer her question. Instead, he said, "Let's go meet the Dieux Academy's disciples."

After speaking, he walked away. The next moment, he had already appeared outside the South Heaven Gate. Thea followed behind him.

Jacopo immediately put away his weapon after seeing his parents. He called out to them, "Dad, Mom."

"Mhm." James nodded lightly in response.

The Dieux Acadmy's senior disciple, who was leading the group, turned to James. He was shocked after failing to detect James' cultivation base. He was sensible and did not dare to act recklessly. He clasped his hands and said, "I'm the senior disciple of the Dieux Academy's Mount Morroewa, Ziyad Lubair. May I ask for your name?"

James looked at Ziyad. Although James had not entered the Sovereign Rank, he regained the memories of his previous life and had strong detection skills. With a glance, he could tell Ziyad's cultivation rank was at the Sovereign Fifth Rank.

"It's James Caden."

After casually introducing himself, James reached out his hand and said, "Since you're hereto hand out invitations to recruit disciples, give them to me."

Before Ziyad could speak, a disciple interjected, saying, "You think you can have an invitation so easily, brat?"

James' calmness got on the disciple's nerves.

"You're too noisy."

James looked at the disciple, who had reached the Sovereign Rank, and teleported before him. Before the disciple could react, James had already struck him into the distance.

"You..."

The Dieux Academy's disciples were furious and immediately drew their weapons.

James looked at them calmly and said, "You're in the Endlos Plane. It doesn't matter where you're from. In the Endlos Plane, you follow our rules."

Ziyad immediately shouted, "Stand down!"

The group of disciples stepped back.

Ziyad approached James and stared at him.

The disciple who had been knocked away returned with minor injuries. He looked at Ziyad and said, "You must avenge me!"

Ziyad waved his hand, signaling him to stop talking.

"I never expected to encounter such a powerful person in a small plane like this."

Ziyad had been trying to see through James' cultivation base but was to no avail.

James looked at him and said calmly, "What's the matter? You want to test my strength? Let's get to it then. I'd like to see if your Sovereign Fifth Rank's power is stable."

Ziyad was surprised James could sense his cultivation rank. After a brief hesitation, he replied smilingly, "We were ordered to select talented candidates to be recruited as disciples. We're not here to cause trouble."

Then, he took out an invitation and said, "Take this invitation to the Dieux Academy, and you'll be immediately accepted as a disciple."

"Only one?" James frowned.

Ziyad stared at him and asked, "Is it not enough?"

James replied casually, "Of course. The Endlos Plane has so many talented powerhouses. One invitation is insufficient. I won't ask for too much. Just a few tens of thousands would do."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5157-Ziyad's face twitched at James' words. He frowned and said, "What do you take the Dieux Academy for? Do you think anyone can just join? It's already an honor for your plane to receive an invitation."

James responded smilingly, "But it's not enough."

After the Dieux Academy showed up, James devised a plan. He wanted to bring a few of the Endlos' powerhouses to the Dieux Academy. After all, the Dieux Academy was considered one of the Central Plane's top ten forces.

Although it ranked at the bottom of the top ten, they were a neutral force with good relations with many influential families and sects. The Endlos Plane was still relatively weak and needed strong support.

Additionally, James could not regain his previous cultivation base if he were to remain in the Endlos. In his past life, he had reached the Martial Celestial Rank's peak and was one step away from entering the Holy Celestial Rank. He would need a lot of resources to regain his strength. Unfortunately, the Endlos lacked resources. He had to go to the Central Plane and find a place to cultivate without revealing his past life's identity. The Dieux Academy was a great location.

Ziyad stared at James and said, "If more living beings from the Endlos Plane wish to join the Dieux Academy, they can head to the Central Plane and participate in the assessment. As long as they pass, they will qualify as disciples of the

Dieux Academy."

"Alright, I get it. You can leave now."

James put away the invitation, waved his hand, and chased away his guests.

"Let's go."

Ziyad did not say anything more, either. He quickly issued an order, and his group boarded the battleship. Soon, they left the Endlos Plane and entered the Dark World.

"That brat was too arrogant. Why didn't you teach him a lesson, Ziyad?"

"Yeah. He's from a small plane but was so cocky toward us."

The Dieux Academy's disciples were dissatisfied with James' behavior.

Ziyad took a deep breath and said, "Before we departed, we were advised not to underestimate any of these planes, especially the smaller ones. In some of these smaller planes, really powerful cultivators might be hiding. I couldn't see his cultivation rank, but he saw right through me. I've cultivated a secret art capable of hiding my aura, yet he still could sense my cultivation rank. It speaks volumes about his strength.”

A disciple asked, “Is he really that strong?”

“He easily knocked away a cultivator at the Sovereign First Rank. He’s at least at the Sovereign Second Rank. On top of that, I couldn’t even sense any power fluctuation when he made a move. That means he used pure physical strength.

If his physical strength is already so terrifying, his cultivation base must be…”

Ziyad could not fathom James’ strength. He had a feeling James’ strength was superior to his.

“Perhaps he is a powerhouse at the Petit Celestial Rank who chose to hide in a small plane.” Ziyad shared his speculation.

‘The Petit Celestial Rank?’

The Dieux Academy’s disciples were startled by his remark.

Meanwhile, James was reading the invitation outside the South Heaven Gate.

Thea leaned over to take a look, but the inscriptions on the invitation were unfamiliar to her. Even though she had entered the Sovereign Rank, she could not comprehend them. She asked, ‘What’s written on it?’

James explained, ‘The invitation is equivalent to an exemption pass from the assessment. If I go to the Dieux Academy with it, I'll be immediately accepted as a disciple."

The date of the Dieux Academy's disciple recruitment was also noted on the invitation. After James saw the date, he thought to himself, 'I didn't know so much time had passed.'

It had been a very long time since he had been reincarnated. James was curious about how the Supremuseum that he had built from scratch was doing and who was currently in charge. He also wanted to know the Central Plane's latest condition.

James was looking forward to returning to the Central Plane but was afraid of encountering former enemies before he could regain his strength.

His former foes were top powerhouses and could easily destroy the Dieux Academy. Even though the Dieux Academy was one of the Central Plane's most potent forces, it was only because of the many powerhouses they had raised in the past. These powerhouses had already left the Dieux Academy but would show up if the academy encountered danger.

The Dieux Academy's close connections with these powerhouses allowed them to rise to become one of the strongest forces in the Central Plane.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5158-Thea tugged James and asked, "What's on your mind?"

James snapped back to reality, smiled, and replied, "It's nothing."

Jacopo looked at James and asked, "What are you planning to do next, Dad?"

James responded, 'Til need to pay the Orstellen Sect a visit first."

After speaking, he disappeared from sight. The next moment, he had arrived in the Orstellen Sect.

Although the Human Univers and the Orstellen Sect were districts apart, James could easily reach the place with just a thought since he was the Endlos Lord.

At the back of a particular mountain of the Orstellen Sect, Gaius and Gurgan were playing chess. King Marcias watched from the side, trying to learn from them.

The chess they were playing was made up of different Paths. It was unlike ordinary chess. Instead, they were exchanging cultivation knowledge.

Swoosh!!!

A light ray fell on the ground, and a man appeared from it.

"You're here?"

Gaius and Gurgan immediately halted their discussion.

King Marcias also turned to James.

They knew about the intruders from the Central Plane and were already expecting James' arrival.

King Marcias asked straightforwardly, "So what was it about?"

James walked over, sat down, and replied smilingly, "Nothing much. An academy from the Central Plane came to recruit some disciples and gave me an invitation. I'm planning to go to the Central Plane. You three willing to come with me?"

King Marciais replied excitedly, 'Yes! I've been waiting very long for this day.'

Gaius answered with a smile, "Sure. I've been guarding the Infinity Cities for eons. Now that I'm finally free, life has gotten rather boring. I'd like to visit a stronger plane and strive to reach a higher rank."

Gurgen also agreed, saying, "Let's go together."

James thought for a while and said, "Here's my plan. I want to set up a formation around the Endlos Plane to protect it from intruders. The formation will also prevent the Endlos' living beings from leaving freely. One must at least be at the Sovereign Rank to survive in other planes. Thus, I'll only permit those who have reached the Sovereign Rank to leave."

"Alright." James' suggestion was unanimously accepted.

James elaborated, "Apart from the three of us who have reached the Sovereign Rank. There's also Thea, Taran, and Wyot. If there isn't anything going on, it'll be the bunch of us heading to the Central Plane together. I'll need to go speak to them about it as well."

King Marciais waved his hand and said, "Go ahead. We'll wait for you here. Well depart together once you've settled everything in the Endlos."

"By the way..."

James suddenly thought of something and asked, "How is Hetsema doing these days?"

King Marciais said smilingly, "He's doing good and is constantly improving. He is managing the Orstellen Sect and the Endlos' districts pretty well. Plus, he's very talented. He can easily cultivate anything with just a few pointers."

James said, "I mean his mental state."

King Marciais replied, "He grew up with hatred and resentment. Fortunately, he is doing better after Yemima has been reincarnated. He has a lot of potential. I'm sure he'll achieve great things sooner or later."

James felt relieved with King Marciais' reassurance. He had been worried Hetsema would go down the wrong path. Luckily, his worries were unnecessary.

"I'll take my leave first."

James did not stay in the Orstellen Sect for long and quickly traveled to Mount Hazeaf to see Taran.

After learning about James' plan to go to the Central Plane, Taran immediately agreed. He had always wanted to visit the Central Plane and meet the powerhouses there.

Then, James went to look for Wyot.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5159-A beautiful woman was sitting in a lotus position within a cave on a snowy mountain in a certain district of the Endlos. She was refining a very rare Snow Lotus. A middle-aged man in a gray robe quietly stood aside, protecting her.

Suddenly, he sensed a visitor and immediately teleported outside of the cave.

James was already standing on the peak of a snow-capped mountain.

Wyot appeared on a mountain opposite him.

The two stared at each other for a while. Then, Wyot asked calmly, "What brings you here?"

"The Central Plane's Dieux Academy has handed me an invitation and wanted.

to recruit me as a disciple. I plan to gather a group of powerhouses from the Endlos to head to the Central Plane together. I came to ask if you're interested."

James explained his intention.

Wyot was intrigued by the opportunity but was slightly hesitant. The Endlos was enormous, yet it was nothing compared to the other planes. He wanted to venture to the Central Plane. However, he did not want to give up his current life.

He had been staying with Yemima's reincarnation all this while. His days were peaceful and satisfactory.

After considering it, he replied, 'Til stay here for now. I'll go to the Central Plane after I've enjoyed enough of my current life."

For now, Wyot was happy with his life. Thus, James was already expecting Wyot's answer.

In fact, James wanted to have a powerhouse stay in the Endlos Plane and take care of it. Wyot refusing to tag along was the perfect outcome.

James said, "After we leave, please take care of the Endlos Plane. You don't have to take care of all the trivial things, but if something major happens, I'm counting on you to preside over the situation."

'That's a given." Wyot nodded lightly.

James disappeared from the snow-capped mountain but left a message for Wyot.

"Goodbye for now. I'll see you in the Central Plane."

James' voice echoed and gradually dissipated.

After meeting with Wyot, James returned to the Human Universe's Heavenly Court.

Many people had gathered in the Heavenly Court.

James looked at everyone in the hall reluctantly and said," I'm planning to leave the Endlos to head to the Central Plane.”

After this goodbye, there was no knowing when they would meet again.

“I would like to bring everyone with me to the Central Plane. However, it’s too dangerous. It’ll be impossible to survive if not at the Sovereign Rank.”

James’ voice echoed throughout the hall.

“I’m going to set up a seal around the Endlos Plane. Anyone that has entered the Sovereign Rank can pass through the seal and travel to the Central Plane.”

“James, I...” Thea had a hesitant expression.

“What’s wrong?” James turned to Thea.

Thea looked at their children and said, “I’m reluctant to part with our children right now. How about you head to the Central Plane first? I’ll stay here for a while, then come to reunite with you later?”

‘This...’ James frowned.

He planned to travel with Thea to the Central Plane.

The Central Plane was vast and dangerous, so he was worried she would not be able to meet up with him after arriving there. At the same time, he was afraid.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5160-James also turned to their children and saw their sad expressions. He instantly felt reluctant to leave. However, it was necessary. Even if they could live peacefully in the Endlos for some time, it would not last forever. He had to gain a foothold in the other planes in order to ensure his family’s peace.

He waved his hand, and several magical inscriptions emerged, then floated toward his children.

“These inscriptions contain the cultivation methods of some of the best Supernatural Powers from the Central Plane.

Study them well, and it’ll be beneficial when you guys finally travel to Central Plane.”

In James’ previous life, he almost perished in his enemies’ hands. Although he had not regained his strength, he had memories of his past. He used to be at the peak of the Martial Celestial Rank and was one of the strongest powerhouses in all of the planes. He had cultivated countless Supernatural Powers in his past life, all of which were extraordinary.

He converted a few of the Supernatural Power’s cultivation methods into inscriptions and handed them to his children. Then, he caressed Thea’s face and said, “Since you want to stay here for now, I’ll respect your wish. Come to the Central Plane whenever you feel like it.”

James let go of Thea’s face. Afterward, he summoned an inscription and handed it to Thea, saying, “Take this. You can use it to locate me when you arrive in the Central Plane.”

“Alright.” Thea nodded lightly. She took the inscription and waved goodbye to James.

James scanned the hall, looking at each of everyone present.

“Wait for me, James! I’ll work hard and strive to enter the Sovereign Rank soon.

Then, I’ll come look for you in the Central Plane.” Henry was the first to break the silence.

Henrik approached and said reluctantly, “This day has finally come. It’s a pity I haven’t entered the Sovereign Rank yet. Otherwise, I could also accompany you to the Central Plane.

I will focus on cultivating so I can reunite with you in the Central Plane as soon as possible.”

Yardos said, “Wait for me, James!”

After looking at everyone’s faces, James left the hall.

“I’ll leave some Supernatural Powers created by some powerful Lord of Planes throughout the Endlos. I can’t be biased and only leave them to the humans. It’ll be up to you to find them.”

James’ voice echoed, and a mysterious inscription appeared in the Human Race’s Heavenly Court.

“This, on the other hand, is a Supernatural Power called the Genesis Path Scripture. It contains the Genesis Path of all planes. If you master the Genesis Path Scripture, you’ll gain broader insights, and it’ll boost your cultivation progress significantly. It’ll also help you reach the Martial Celestial Rank.”

James' voice gradually dissipated. Although he would be leaving the Endlos, he had left a great treasure for the humans.

The Genesis Path Scripture was his lifelong creation in his previous life. He created it after being inspired by the various Genesis Paths of the other planes.

He had left his past self's Supernatural Power for them. As for how much they could comprehend, it was up to them.

A few women stood in the main hall disappointedly.

"In the end, he still had to leave." Waleria, who wore a purple dress, sighed. Several other women also wore sad expressions. However, they knew they were not destined to have deeper relationships with James.

Sienna walked over to Thea and said, "Briana! I'll be leaving the Heavenly Court. I've stayed here for too long, and it's about time I go out to explore. need to catch up to you and enter the Sovereign Rank."

After bidding farewell, Sienna left.