The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5246-Mount Wagga was a powerful mountain within the Dieux Academy. The chief disciple of Mount Wagga was named Corbin Dane, with his cultivation base at the early stage of the Great Celestial Rank.

In the countless planes, reaching the Great Celestial Rank was considered a top-tier powerhouse. He could casually go to some fifth or sixth-level plane and dominate that plane, becoming the Plane Lord.

James wielded the Supremusse Sword in his hand. At this moment, an incredibly potent aura emanated from him.

In that instant, he activated the Dieux Academy's supreme signature martial art skill, the Feimsurge Art. His physical body, soul, bloodline, and power were elevated. His aura swiftly ascended from the early stage of Sovereign Third Rank to the early stage of Petit Celestial Rank.

"Heh," Corbin could not help but burst into laughter upon seeing James' aura elevated. "Forty-nine, what does it matter even if you've mastered our academy's Feimsurge Art? Your cultivation realm is too low. Even with that mastery and the Supremusse Sword in your hand, you're still no match for me."

Corbin was confident in his strength. James' use of the Feimsurge Art only brought him to the early stage of Petit Celestial Rank. Even with the unparalleled Supremusse Sword, he was still absolutely not a match for Corbin.

James' expression remained cold. The Supremusse Sword was created and forged by him. Even its previous owner, Quirijn, could not unleash its true power.

While Ladon had only harnessed fifty percent of its power. In James' hands, he could truly wield the sword's power.

Holding the Supremusse Sword, James could defeat an early -stage powerhouse of the Great Celestial Rank with a single move. This was given, and if he could not even defeat a powerhouse at this rank, it would cast doubt on the title of the world's number-one divine sword.

James pointed the Supremusse Sword straight ahead, his demeanor ice-cold.

He spoke each word deliberately, "I've no quarrel with you, and I don't wish to kill you outright.

Today, I shall cut down your body as a warning."

"Haha," Corbin could not help but laugh out loud.

He cultivated the Elemental Formation. His physical body was incredibly powerful, and even living beings of the same realm going all out might not necessarily break through his physical defenses. Now, a human who had just reached the Sovereign Third Rank was claiming to cut down his body.

Outside the battle arena, many living beings burst into laughter.

"Mr. Caden is quite arrogant."

"Forty-nine is indeed audacious, even thinking about cutting down Corbin's body."

"Why should he? Just because he has the Supremusse Sword in his hand?"

"I admit that the Supremusse Sword is a treasure, but it also depends on who wields it. In the hands of the Supremuseum Lord, Quirijn, it was truly a supreme god weapon. However, in Forty-nine's hands, it might not be the same."

Outside the battle arena, there were many disciples from the Dieux Academy.

They came from various mountains of the academy, and they were all here to spectate.

At the base of the mountain and beyond, the surroundings were filled with spectators. At this moment, the spiritual mountain had been taken over by the academy's disciples. A dense crowd of several hundred million disciples watched the scene of the battle arena on the peak of Mount Caden.

Hearing James' words, they all chuckled.

James remained unfazed in the face of all the mockery. If he did not establish his authority today, Mount Caden would face many problems in the future.

The disciples of Mount Caden would find it difficult to establish themselves in the Dieux Academy, and they would constantly face bullying.

The disciples of Mount Caden came from great sects, great families, and major planes. They were all formidable.

However, the Dieux Academy housed numerous powerhouses and disciples. It was easy for them to bully Mount Caden disciples.

“Do you dare to take my sword?” James stared at Corbin, speaking each word deliberately. “Don’t evade it, but you can use any defensive Supernatural Signature Skills. If you can safely withstand my strike, I won’t be qualified to be the master of Mount Caden. If you can’t withstand my strike, show some respect when you encounter Mount Caden disciples from now on.”

“Okay, I’ll take your sword strike,” Corbin replied confidently.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5247-This battle had already attracted the attention of the senior authorities in the Dieux Academy because it involved Mount Caden. Its existence was unique, so it became a subject of special focus.

“It’s a bit challenging.” The headmaster, Xhemal, observed the situation on Mount Caden, stroking his beard, and said, “Even though he has reached the Feimsurge Art’s fourth stage and wields the Supremusse Sword, his cultivation realm is still too low.”

“Yes,” the great elder, Jorah, said, “Corbin is the chief disciple of Mount Wagga, cultivated in the Elemental Formation. His physical body is extremely powerful, while James’ strength is quite low. Furthermore, he has just obtained the Supremusse Sword. Whether he can unleash its Genesis remains unknown. I also believe that a single sword won’t be enough to breach Corbin’s physical defense.”

Even though James had reached the Feimsurge Art’s fourth stage and possessed the Supremusse Sword, the Dieux Academy’s great elders had their doubts about his ability to overcome Corbin’s defense. These powerhouses believed James’ gamble was somewhat reckless.

Xhemal had faced considerable pressure when he decided to grant James a new mountain. Losing the position of master of Mount Caden due to this situation would be an embarrassment.

Every spiritual mountain in Dieux Academy had a battle arena, with each having a Formation Boundary set by the academy's powerhouses for the disciples to spar in battles. Anyone with a cultivation realm not reaching the Martial Celestial Rank could not break the Formation Boundary.

At the battle arena in Mount Caden, James gripped the Supremusse Sword, and his aura was very strong. The sword's blade seemed to flow with enchanting white clouds, giving it a beautiful appearance.

James called out, "Please use your defensive signature skills."

While Corbin was confident, he was aware of the power of the Supremusse Sword. He did not want to leave anything to chance. With a thought, his internal energy transformed and created a mysterious Defensive Barrier around him.

The barrier was golden in color, with mystic inscriptions rotating inside it.

"Forty-nine, please make your move." Having done all this, Corbin made a gesture of invitation.

"Please address me as Mr. Caden next time," James' voice echoed. As the voice echoed, he gradually lifted both feet from the ground, soaring into the air.

He stood in the void and clutched the Supremusse Sword.

Inside the Supremusse Sword contained the power of the Genesis Path Scripture, the Genesis Power of all planes from James' era, including that of the originally ninth-level plane and the Central Plane. Sensing the familiar power within the Supremusse Sword, a faint smile played on James' lips.

"Universal Sword Art." James' throat moved slightly, and a faint voice emanated.

His voice was soft but brimming with confidence. He raised the Supremusse Sword high into the air.

At that moment, the sword erupted with a blinding light as thousands of rays shot into the sky.

Each beam of light represented the Genesis Power of each plane and manifested as the Genesis Power of the countless planes. They gradually merged and condensed into a Sword Energy. This was the Universal Sword Art that James had cultivated in Endlos.

However, the Universal Sword Art differed from the Greater Paths. In Endlos, the Greater Paths formed a sword previously, whereas now it was the Genesis Power of the countless planes forming a sword.

A sword energy hung horizontally in mid-air. It was dazzling, radiant, and radiated a terrifying power that sent shivers down one's spine.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5248-‘This brat.’ In the main peak of the Dieux Academy, Xhemal was shocked when he saw the Genesis Powers of countless planes gathered and formed into a Sword Energy.

Jorah was also slightly stunned and said, “It’s unbelievable that the Genesis Powers of countless planes fused into a Sword Energy. Forty-nine can actually harness the power contained within the Supremusse Sword. At least eighty percent of its power.”

At the battle arena of Mount Caden, as the Genesis Powers from countless planes gathered, they formed a brilliant Sword Energy. This Sword Energy contained the merged Genesis Powers of countless planes, creating an entirely new form of Genesis Power.

As Corbin sensed the power contained within this Sword Energy, a solemn expression crossed his face. At that moment, he felt a bit apprehensive. He had underestimated the situation, realizing that he might not be able to withstand this strike. When this sword descended, it would likely annihilate his physical body, possibly even harming his soul.

In that split second, he once again unleashed multiple martial arts skills and deployed several protective barriers.

“Go.” James held the Supremusse Sword. The sword tilted, and the Sword Energy hanging in the sky descended.

As it came down, Corbin’s body moved as he harnessed all of his power. He moved upwards against the force, his entire body’s power surging with his movement.

Corbin's powers gathered and formed an energy light beam. The light beam shot up to meet the brilliant Sword Energy.

Two immensely powerful forces collided. Under the assault of the terrifying Sword Energy, the light beam that was formed by all Corbin's energies was shattered. In the blink of an eye, the light beam was destroyed. The Sword Energy struck his protective barriers.

Boom!

Corbin's surroundings instantly shattered as the void ruptured, and his physical body was obliterated.

The moment Corbin's physical body was annihilated, James withdrew the Sword Energy. Otherwise, this strike could have erased Corbin's soul, leaving him with no chance of survival.

Numerous Dieux Academy disciples had gathered outside the battle arena.

Although there were many of them, the scene was deathly quiet. All of them were looking at the battle arena.

Inside the battle arena, James descended slowly from the sky and landed steadily on the ground. He sheathed the Supremusse Sword, dissipated the Feimsurge Art, and his aura instantly diminished. Once again, he appeared as an early stage of the Sovereign Third Rank human.

As for Corbin, his physical body had been completely beheaded and disappeared entirely. Only his soul hastily fled from the battle arena. Even though his soul had escaped, it had suffered severe damage the moment his physical body was annihilated. At this moment, his soul appeared ethereal, as if it could dissipate at any moment.

The disciples of Mount Caden were all dumbfounded.

'This is too terrifying.'

"Even with the Supremusse Sword, it should have been quite difficult to defeat Corbin. Now, he managed to easily behead Corbin's physical body with a single strike?"

"So powerful and dominant."

The once-silent scene instantly turned into a bustling one.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5249-The disciples of Mount Caden were all filled with excitement.

“It’s impossible,” said a voice of doubt among the disciples of Mount Caden.

The one who voiced the doubt was Ladon. Despite hailing from the Supremusmuseum, having fought with James in the Arena World, and losing the Supremusse Sword, he chose to join Mount Caden due to the irresistible allure of the Feimsurge Art.

Now, he voiced his doubt.

“This is impossible. I’ve had the Supremusse Sword for a while now, but I can only unleash fifty percent of its power. How can he bring out the sword’s full potential?” Ladon was highly skeptical.

James glanced at Ladon outside the battle arena and calmly said, “Just because you can’t unlock the full potential of the Supremusse Sword doesn’t mean others can’t.”

Immediately, he surveyed the surroundings and looked at the disciples from other spiritual mountains of the Dieux Academy, saying coldly, “Go away. Mount Caden doesn’t welcome you.”

As James shouted out, these disciples from other spiritual mountains dared not even make a sound and slinked away. After all, even the chief disciple of Mount Wagga had his physical body cut down by a single sword, and Corbin was in the early stage of the Great Celestial Rank. In comparison to Corbin, they were significantly less powerful. If James were to lose his temper and slay them all in one go, it would not be worth it.

With James’ shout, the Dieux Academy disciples who had come to watch the commotion all ran away.

Soon, only Mount Caden’s disciples remained in the area. James surveyed the surroundings. Many of Mount Caden’s disciples were gathered here, and all the Petit Celestial Rank disciples had been injured.

James raised his hand and activated the Life Path, channeling Life Power from his palms, and these injured disciples began to recover from their external injuries.

Internal and Path injuries required more time to heal.

Aurelius stood up first, giving a thumbs-up. He said, "Impressive. I didn't expect the Supremusse Sword to possess such power in your hands."

"Master, do you think I should be taught the Feimsurge Art for defending Mount Caden?" A Petit Celestial Rank disciple seized the opportunity to ask James about learning the Feimsurge Art.

However, the Feimsurge Art was a signature martial art skill of the Dieux Academy, and James could not simply bestow it upon them. After a brief moment of thought, he established some rules.

"It's very simple if you want to learn the Feimsurge Art. Go out and collect Emyrean herbs. For each Emyrean herb you bring in, you'll receive a Feimsurge Art inscription. The lowest quality herbs must be at least first-grade Sovereign herbs. The higher the quality, the more inscriptions you'll get. Once you've gathered the complete set of the Feimsurge Art inscriptions and want my guidance, you'll need to provide even more Emyrean herbs."

Although James had acquired an entrapoch of eighth-level plane cultivation resources, there were countless living beings, forces and sects in the eighth-level plane. The Dieux Academy's rule was that every sect, family, or force within the plane had to regularly submit Emyrean herbs, which were the cultivation resources James had obtained.

The resources were indeed generous. However, James now had four more people with him, and their cultivation realms had to advance together.

All of Mount Caden's disciples hailed from major planes, great families, and great forces. The one thing they did not lack was Emyrean herbs.

After saying this, James took Gaius and the others away from the battle arena.

Meanwhile, the Petit Celestial Rank disciples were left to heal their injuries.

They decided to return to their families and sects after recovering, gathering the Emyrean herbs, and then returning to exchange them for the Feimsurge Art.

This choice was made due to the relative ease of obtaining the Feimsurge Art from James compared to acquiring it from the Dieux Academy.

At this moment, in the apex main hall of the Dieux Academy.

“Sir Xhemal, this brat is causing chaos. Isn’t this going too far?”

The events in Mount Caden had drawn the attention of Dieux Academy’s powerhouses. Some of the sect elders could not help but frown upon learning about what happened. However, Xhemal smiled and said, “It’s okay. Let him do as he pleases. I have a feeling that it won’t be long before a true powerhouse emerges within the Dieux Academy.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5250-James displayed immense potential, first in the Arena World, then by wielding and demonstrating the full power of the Supremusse Sword. Xhemal was very satisfied with him.

At the apex of the back mountain of Mount Caden, James and the others gathered together.

“Mr. Caden, you’re incredibly strong. I never thought that you could easily cut down the body of a Great Celestial Rank powerhouse when you wielded the Supremusse Sword. If you hadn’t held back, Corbin would have perished both body and soul in Mount Caden,” Zavis spoke with a face full of astonishment.

He had not fully regained his composure.

James just smiled faintly. He had only used the power of the Supremusse Sword and had not used the Genesis Path Scripture. The combination of the two was the most powerful.

With a casual wave of his hand, some inscriptions materialized. The inscriptions were what he had seen in the Dieux Academy’s library. Each inscription represented a profound Supernatural Signature Skill.

He distributed these inscriptions to his four companions according to the respective Supernatural Signature Skills they were cultivating. Then, he said, “Our cultivation realms are still too low. These are the Supernatural Signature Skills suited to each of you. Take some time to contemplate and improve your martial arts skills.”

The group accepted the inscriptions happily. Then, they set up a time formation to enter seclusion. On the other hand, James left this courtyard. He walked out of Mount Caden, appearing outside the Dieux Academy’s entrance. With a thought, he activated a mysterious inscription.

Soon, a man and a woman appeared. They were the two Great Celestial Rank powerhouses he had taken on after leaving Endlos. The man was named Shade Eaves, and the woman was Yolanda Jacklin.

As soon as they appeared, they respectfully greeted him, saying, “My Lord.”

Although James had changed his appearance and aura, they could still recognize him as the founder of the Supremuseum. Moreover, they had always followed James, having been in hiding. They knew about James’ performance in the Arena World of the Dieux Academy.

James nodded and said, “Hmm, come with me. From now on, the two of you will be responsible for guarding Mount Caden in Dieux Academy.”

At present, Mount Caden was lacking powerhouses, so James needed two Great Celestial Rank powerhouses to oversee it. With these two guarding it, other disciples would have to think twice before causing trouble for Mount Caden.

“Alright,” the two of them replied respectfully.

Afterward, James brought them back to Mount Caden. The two of them stationed themselves at the foot of Mount Caden.

Once he had completed this task, James headed to the library at the apex of the Dieux Academy. He went directly to the ninth floor. However, upon reaching the ninth floor, he searched around and could not find the Dieux Academy’s founder, Lemuel.

Just as he was preparing to leave, a lazy voice chimed in, “Are you looking for me?”

James turned to look. Behind him, an elder had appeared, dressed in tattered clothes, with a beard covering his face. He smiled as he looked at James.

James clasped his hands and said, "I pay my respects to you. Sir Lemuel." 'Lemuel waved his hand slightly and said, 'What's the matter? Speak your mind."

James went straight to the point and said, "I've already reached the fourth stage of the Feimsurge Art, but I'm at a loss regarding the fifth and sixth stages. I hope you can provide some guidance."
