The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5373-Unfortunately, Yui failed to detect how James' body was made out of various precious materials meticulously combined.

That was because James had layered those base materials heavily with the Genesis Powers of countless planes of existence.

Then, he had carefully fused his soul into his current body, bit by bit.

Therefore, others could hardly discern the subtle difference between James' body and the bodies of other living beings.

Yui was completely oblivious to the fact that James' body was practically impenetrable.

"Alright."

After a few moments' consideration, Yui agreed to James' suggestion for a bet.

"I hope you won't regret this, Yui Yeftero," James replied.

"I won't. If you succeed in taking three hits from me, me and my men will leave at once," Yui said unwaveringly.

Yui felt extremely confident with his powers that he would agree to a battle with a cultivator in the late stage of the Holy Celestial Rank in a heartbeat.

He could hardly see James, who was a Petit Celestial Rank cultivator, as a threat.

"You can start now."

James took a few steps forward and teleported to a spot further away in the dark void.

Simultaneously, Yui moved into the same area of the void as James. Meanwhile, the other members of the Four Ancient Races remained in their spots.

Yui lifted his hand. A ball of energy started forming at the center of his palm. A faint smile flickered across his lips as Yui stared at the back of his hand.

Suddenly, Yui teleported and reappeared before James. He held his palm right against James' chest.

A huge crack formed over James' chest the second Yui's palm came into contact with him. The crack branched into fine, long cracks that spread all over James' body. Fortunately, James managed to keep his body intact.

At the same time, James was sent flying in the air due to the force of Yui's attack. The attack was so powerful that cracks had appeared in the surrounding space and tremors could even be felt thousands of meters away.

When James had finally managed to steady himself, he felt something hot come up his throat and coughed up blood almost instantly.

Although James' body was greatly enhanced to make it resilient, Yui was nonetheless able to inflict actual damage to his body.

Also, James could feel an agonizing pain in his soul as it was affected by Yui's attack as well. He grimaced in pain.

Still, due to the unique characteristics of James' body and the powers of the Illus, James possessed extraordinary defense and self-healing powers in his body.

In a matter of seconds, all of the injuries found on James' body were healed.

'Shit! Why were they healed? I was hoping to buy more time by saying I needed to treat those wounds first before taking the second hit!' James cursed inwardly.

Then, he quickly sealed the Illus to suppress its powers temporarily.

Meanwhile, Yui was staring at James with an intense gaze.

He was deemed a rare genius cultivator of his era who had surpassed many of his talented peers.

Also, this was the first time in a very long while Yui had fully unleashed his powers. He did not use any special items or signature skills. However, that first attack was a demonstration of the full powers of Yui's cultivation base.

Normally, even someone of the same cultivation rank as Yui would sustain severe injuries upon receiving that hit.

However, James, who was merely a Petit Celestial Rank cultivator, appeared completely fine after taking the hit.

'Who is this man? Was he telling the truth about the Theognostos? Do they have cultivators who have entered the legendary Transcendental Bliss Rank? Could the children of those cultivators have exceptional talents in cultivation as well?' Yui pondered.

Yui could not help but feel alarmed as he considered those possibilities.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5374-Despite Yui's powerful first attack, James' injuries healed miraculously in an instant.

Since James wanted to buy more time, he swiftly sealed the powers of the Illus.

James knew very well the members of the Four Ancient Races were no common cultivators.

Moreover, James did not think Yui would honor his promise even if he lost the bet eventually. Only the weak were bound by the powers of an agreement. The stronger side could simply neglect the agreement and do whatever they want.

Yui was honestly shocked as he had used his full powers during the first hit.

The other cultivators from the Four Ancient Races also had looks of bewilderment on their faces. They could hardly believe that a Petit Celestial Rank cultivator came out of that attack completely unscathed.

"It seems I've underestimated you, young man." Yui began, "I'm impressed by the abilities of those from Theognostos. Your cultivation rank is relatively low, yet the powers contained in your body are very strong. However, I won't hold back anymore for my remaining attacks."

James flashed him a smile. "You can come at me with whatever you have. I won't even try to avoid it."

A cloud of dark mist started gathering above Yui's head as he stood in the same spot, unmoving.

The mists were Yui's aura. As Yui's aura appeared to have heightened, some excessive auras escaped into the surroundings in the form of black mists.

James could not tell what method or signature skills Yui had used to enhance his aura and powers. However, he could sense how Yui's aura and powers in the early stage of the Holy Celestial Rank had been elevated to the level of the late stage of the Holy Celestial Rank.

Those from the Four Ancient Races were not surprised to see the change in Yui's aura as they were all aware of his capabilities.

"That Yeftero guy is very strong." Lemuel furrowed his brows. "Although Forty-nine's body is extremely durable, I don't think he can withstand the attack from a Holy Celestial Rank cultivator with the latest stage powers. Wouldn't all of his efforts go to waste if he were to be annihilated by that man this time?"

Latrusse looked worried as well. "I think he should be able to withstand it. Also, these lethal hits might be able to help Forty-nine's soul fuse and synchronize better with his body each time he survives them."

"Anyhow, you need to intervene if you sense that his life is in danger." Lemuel muttered in a low voice, "He and I came this far together. I don't want to be leaving this place by myself."

On the other hand, Thea and Yuvin had grim expressions on their faces. Yuvin, in particular, was astonished when he saw that James had succeeded in taking Yui's first attack.

However, Yuvin was starting to feel worried again.

They could all see how Yui was prepared to unleash his powers at his true potential this time.

Yui's next attack would be as powerful as a hit from a cultivator in the late stage of Holy Celestial Rank. Only a handful of people across the Dark World could survive the hit.

Just then, Yui moved.

Similar to the first attack, Yui teleported toward James and reemerged before him in the blink of an eye.

As Yui's palm came into contact with James' chest, James could feel an overwhelming, vicious energy spread from that spot to the rest of his body.

In a flash, deep cracks formed all over James' skin.

James' eyes bulged with shock. He was frozen to the spot as his mind went blank.

Simultaneously, the Genesis Powers of the various planes ingrained in James' body were activated. Those powers formed a protective seal over James' body.

Unfortunately, the protection generated by the Genesis Powers was shattered almost instantaneously.

For James, time seemed to have been paused at that excruciating moment.

Boom!

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5375-The condensed powers of Yui's attack exploded within James' body and tore through his flesh mercilessly.

Fortunately, James' body did not break apart or get shredded into bits. Curiously enough, his flesh swiftly fused again to maintain James' shape.

Then, the immense force of Yui's attack threw James' body backward and destroyed the surrounding space.

James had only come to a stop when he crashed into the void and got stuck in a spatial black hole eventually.

The other cultivators were shocked after seeing what had happened.

"There's something strange about that guy's body. It was held together even though Yui's attack had shattered it to pieces."

"His body seems to be made out of rare, special materials that have been reinforced and combined meticulously. It is very durable. The strong forces of attraction existing between the materials pulled at the broken body parts and kept them together.”

“He’s right.”

“As expected of the Temple of Theognostos that has cultivators of the Transcendental Bliss Rank. They managed to create such a resilient body for their members.”

“Still, even though Yui’s attack did not destroy that guy’s body, it must have crushed his soul.”

The seasoned cultivators from the Four Ancient Races were able to make those detailed observations when James took Yui’s second hit.

Meanwhile, Thea had balled her fists. Sweat beaded her forehead.

“Your Highness, you mustn’t act rashly.”

Yuvin was afraid that Thea might rush to James’ aid. So, he had placed a seal to keep Thea from leaving her current spot beforehand.

Most of the cultivators there postulated that James’ soul would not be able to withstand Yui’s second attack at his current cultivation rank.

However, both Lemuel and Latrusse were secretly breathing a sigh of relief.

The two of them had watched how James created his new body. James had extracted his soul one fine thread at a time and carefully imbued it into his new body.

Theoretically speaking, James’ soul would still be intact if his body could survive that hit just now.

Therefore, Lemuel and Latrusse were convinced that James would still be alive.

Just then, something moved inside the spatial black hole located far away from the others. A man completely covered in blood climbed out of the black hole slowly.

It was James.

When his body was almost torn apart by Yui's hit earlier, James' soul was shattered as well. Fortunately, the unique powers of his body were sufficient to maintain the integrity of his body and soul.

Still, James had sustained severe injuries after taking the second hit.

The cultivators from the Four Ancient Races were surprised to see that James had pulled through.

The frown on Yui's forehead grew deeper. He did not expect James to survive the second hit. Yet, James had appeared before his eyes yet again, despite his injuries.

James got into a seated position. His face was as white as a sheet. He said in a weak voice, "As expected of the renowned and rare genius from the Yeftero Race. You almost managed to exterminate me with that second hit just now."

He continued, "We're left with the final hit now. Unfortunately, I've sustained multiple injuries. You should allow me some time to heal my injuries. Otherwise, it'll be rather unfair for me."

James knew he would not be able to take the final blow from Yui, especially when he was so badly injured. He needed to buy time until Qiyana was done with her training.

However, if the situation would not allow it, James decided he would give up. He had no plans to go so far as to sacrifice his own life just to help Qiyana.
