The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5401-James explained the relationship between the fire and ice elements, leaving out details about the other elements. He was worried Yered would be searching for the other primitive inscriptions of the other Elemental Primevals after mastering the principles. Then, he would be able to perform a complete Elemental Inversion.

An inversion with the Dark World's Primitive Elemental Powers would be much stronger than the elements from the outside planes.

Yered had a rough understanding after James' explanation but was still confused.

"I think I understand, but not really. The principles seem simple but are hard to achieve. I must try it first and figure out how it works."

James said, "You don't need me anymore, right? If so, I'll take my leave first. I have other things to do."

Yered replied, "Yeah, I'll be fine. But before you leave, could you cast the Ice Curse and Flammae Curse simultaneously for me? I'd like to see what it looks like to be cast together."

"Alright." James leaped into the air and floated to a safe distance.

He hovered in the air and raised his hands. The Glacies' primitive inscriptions appeared in his left hand, and the Flammae's primitive inscriptions on his right.

Magical inscriptions kept transforming and eventually reached their ultimate forms. Then, two bursts of powerful forces were born.

"Fuse." James moved the two forces together, and they gradually merged into one.

Although the powers naturally repelled each other, they were also mutually dependent. As a result, a new power formed when they met.

After a while, James dispersed his powers. He descended from the sky, looked at Yered, and asked, "Do you get it now?"

Yered's brows furrowed. He dismissed his thoughts and casually waved his hand. An inscription appeared before him and floated toward James. "Take it. If you ever need me, use it to contact me. I doubt you'll need help from me anytime soon. By the time you need me. I'll probably have already understood the Ice Curse and neutralized the Flammae poison in my body. I might even have entered the Quasi Bliss Rank."

James put away the inscription and said, "You should be careful. I heard the Quasi Bliss Rank is strange. To reach that rank, you'll have to give up everything. Although you gain great strength, you'll be like the Heavenly Path, without feelings."

"Thank you. I'll keep it in mind."

After leaving the reminder, James left the area.

Haleth had been waiting outside for James. Although he was not inside the holy site, he could sense everything happening. He smiled at James and said, "You're amazing, young man. I'm surprised you comprehended our primitive inscriptions and cultivated the Flammae Curse so fast."

"You're flattering me," James replied humbly. Suddenly, he remembered something and asked, "How is Latrusse doing?" Haleth's smile disappeared and was replaced with solemnness. He waved his hand, and a picture emerged before them. Latrusse could be seen trapped within a mysterious Fire Formation.

"Although he has the Ice Sword, he can't restrain us. He is trapped inside a Heavenly Flame Formation. He's strong, so the formation can't kill him.

However, he won't be able to go anywhere if he can't break the formation."

James said hesitantly, "Can't you guys go easy on them? I've heard the story about him and the Flammae's Saintess. They are genuinely in love."

Haleth snorted, "We're already going easy. If not, we wouldn't even let him have the chance to go through the trials. Our Saintess isn't allowed to have a partner.

It's a rule established since ancient times, and nobody can break it."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5402-James looked at the scene before him and analyzed the Heavenly Flame Formation. Suddenly, he said, "I can break that formation." Haleth turned to James in shock. His grim expression was replaced with a smile. "There's a lovely young lady in our race who isn't married yet. Her beauty is out of this world and should be worthy of you. Would you like to meet her?"

James immediately backed away and said, "No, thanks. I'm not interested in women. I only want to cultivate."

"You don't understand. The journey of cultivation is tough, and you should have a partner to brighten up the boring days," Haleth insisted.

However, James remained uninterested in the topic. His main concern at the moment was Latrusse. After all, Latrusse had provided him with a lot of help.

Without Latrusse, he would not have gained a foothold in the Dark World, nor would he have obtained an unrivaled physical body.

"Am I allowed to give him tips to break the formation?" asked James.

"Well..." After giving it some thought, Haleth said, "You can, but our race's nine elders set up the formation. The elders are very traditional and don't like change. If they find out I helped Latrusse, even I, as the Flammae's Leader, might get dismissed from the position."

"Is there no other way?" James frowned.

"Well, there is. You can tell me the way to break the formation. I'll secretly pass on the message to Latrusse."

The Heavenly Flame Formation was a mysterious formation of the Flammae.

Even the Flammae's Leader, Halter, could not break it. If he were to gain the method of deactivating the formation, he would not have to fear the nine elders and could stand his ground against them during conflicts.

"Just a moment. I need to study it for a while. Could you show me a view where I can see the entire formation? I want to have a good look at it."

"Sure." Halter smiled and waved his hand.

The entire formation was displayed before James, allowing him to see all its inscriptions.

Although James' proficiency in formations was lacking, he was good with inscriptions. Now that he had mastered Flammae's primitive inscriptions, it was a piece of cake for him to break the formation. He easily deciphered the formation after analyzing it for a while.

James explained the method of breaking the formation in detail.

Halter listened carefully, and his eyes lit up.

"I see! Thank you!" He clasped his hands.

"Hurry and pass the message to Latrusse. I'm worried his Cultivation Foundation will be damaged," James urged him impatiently.

Haleth quickly relayed the method to Latrusse. As the Flammae's Leader, his Zen could easily penetrate the formation without being sensed by their elders.

After obtaining the method to break the formation, Latrusse instantly escaped.

His lover, the Flammae's Saintess, Lea Halissta, was trapped in the cage ahead of him.

A beautiful red dress hugged Lea's curvy figure. Even though she had been imprisoned for a long time, she was still as beautiful as ever.

Latrusse, on the other hand, looked terrible. He was covered in injuries, and blood was dripping from his body. He held onto the Ice Sword and stared at Lea for a while.

Immediately afterward, a bright smile formed on his face, and he slowly dragged his wounded body over to her.

"I came for you, Lea."

Lea immediately burst into tears when she saw the familiar face with an injured body. She rushed over into his arms.

Swoosh!

An elderly man suddenly appeared, intruding on their reunion.

Halter said coldly, "Stop wasting time and get her out of here. You won't be able to leave if the elders decide not to uphold their promise."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5403-Latrusse said gratefully, "Thank you." "It's not me you should be thanking. It's Forty-nine." After saying a few words, Halter quickly disappeared.

Latrusse was surprised by his words but put the matter behind him. Then, he held Lea's hand and left the Flammae's spiritual mountain.

Outside the Flammae's spiritual mountain, a man sat on a rock with a beautiful woman beside him. Upon seeing Latrusse and Lea, he whistled, then said smilingly, "I didn't expect you to be a hopeless romantic."

Latrusse walked over, sat down nearby, and asked, "What are you doing here?"

Lea followed and stood closely behind him.

"I was afraid you'd get into trouble, so I came to help," James said teasingly.

"Fucker," Latrusse cursed him out. Then, he stood up and said happily, "Let me introduce you. My wife, Lea."

James complimented her, "What a beauty. It's no wonder Latrusse would risk his life for you. He even willingly entered the Heavenly Flame Formation to save you. If it weren't for my help, you'd be doomed to spend your whole life in there."

Lea's face flushed after hearing James' words. She lowered her head and said shyly, "Thank you."

Latrusse interjected, saying, "What are you thinking him for? Don't believe his bullshit. How could he break a formation that even I couldn't?"

"Ungrateful bastard. I was kind enough to help you out, but you..." James complained.

Latrusse dropped his playful expression and asked, "How did you get the Flammae's leader to let us go?"

"This isn't a good place to talk. Let's go somewhere else," James said, then turned to leave.

James brought them to the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion in the Flame City.

They sat together in an independent manor in the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion and began to chat about the recent events.

“What?!! You cultivated the Flammae Curse?” Latrusse exclaimed.

Lea also looked at James doubtfully. As the Flammae’s Saintess, she naturally knew about their Flammae Curse. To cultivate the Flammae Curse, one must thoroughly understand their primitive inscriptions. Only a handful of the Flammae’s members had mastered it.

“Don’t overreact. It’s no big deal,” James said nonchalantly. Then, he asked, “What are your next plans?”

Latrusse summoned the Ice Sword, tossed it to Qiayana, and said, “I don’t need it anymore. You can have it back.”

Although Qiyana had changed her appearance, Latrusse knew it was her.

Qiyana silently took the Ice Sword and put it away.

Latrusse said, “I’ve worked hard all these years and have finally reunited with the love of my life. I plan to travel around with her. I might even leave the Dark World and check out the outside planes.”

“What a pity.” James gently shook his head.

“What do you mean?” Latrusse looked at James.

James said, “I was looking forward to you achieving great things in the Dark World. However, it seems you don’t have such ambitions. In that case, then forget it. Have fun.”

Latrusse’s curiosity was piqued. He asked, “What’s your goal?”

James whispered, ‘To kill the Yefteros’ genius, Yui.”

“What the fuck?” Latrusse almost fell off his chair in shock.

‘That won’t be easy.” Suddenly, a voice came from outside the door. Shortly after, Xoel walked into the room.

Xoel sat down and said smilingly, 'You shouldn't underestimate Yui. Although he has just entered the Holy Celestial Rank, his strength is terrifying.'

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5404-Xoel appeared and instantly rained on James' parade. He sat down, crossed his legs, and said, "By the way, I'll give you a piece of information for free. We just received news that Yui and Thea's wedding date has been confirmed. The two races are currently planning the wedding, so there isn't much time left for you."

As a supervisor of the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion, Xoel had first-hand access to a lot of information. Even James' identity was not a secret to him anymore. He easily found out after briefly going through the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion's information.

Even though James had hidden the Endlos Plane, it was not hard for the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion to find out about the truth.

James was not surprised his real identity had been exposed. The Heavenly Secrets Pavilion was incredibly capable, and he had already experienced how good they were at gathering information some time ago.

He frowned after learning of the news, and a solemn expression appeared on his face.

"I was planning to bring you to our headquarters, but I don't think you'll have the time for that now. You've got more important things to settle," Xoel said calmly, then took out a token and tossed it to James.

"Here's a token of the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion. Show it to any of our branch supervisors, and they'll take you to the headquarters. You can obtain the information you want from there." James looked at Xoel and asked, "If you were in my shoes, what would you do?"

Xoel replied, smiling, "I'd do the same as you. I'd kill Yui so that the wedding will be canceled." "But how am I going to kill him?" James wore a troubled expression.

His initial plan was to obtain and use the five Elemental Curses to help Qairo recover. Then, he would use Qairo to deal with Yui. Unfortunately, he was running out of time.

Xoel waved his hand and said, "I don't know. You'll have to figure it out on your own. You can stay here, but I have other stuff to settle and won't be able to keep you company. See you."

After leaving a few words, Xoel left.

James turned to Qiyana, looking at her with a hopeful expression.

Qiyana averted her eyes and said, "Don't look at me. I don't have the strength to kill him. Even if I were to enter the Holy Celestial Rank, I still wouldn't be confident." James immediately shifted his gaze toward Latrusse.

Latrusse shrugged and said, "What are you looking at me for? I'm not strong enough to kill Yui. Even if I could, I wouldn't dare. He's the Yefteros' Saint. They have countless powerhouses. The Taeytons will be doomed if I kill him."

James fell into thought. The unexpected turn of events left him at his wit's ends.

"How about asking the Shadows for help?" Latrusse asked tentatively.

James replied helplessly, "Although the Shadows will take on any mission, I don't have any more resources to pay them with. How will I get them to kill Yui?"

Latrusse shook his head lightly and said, "In that case, there's nothing else I can think of."

James said grimly, "Yui must die no matter what. I can't have a direct confrontation with the Yefteros yet. I can only kill Yui first, so they cancel the wedding. Even if they decide to marry her to someone else, I'd have more time." After taking a deep breath, James calmed down. He immediately used the inscription to contact Yuvin and inquire about the situation.

Yuvin replied, "Our leader hasn't left seclusion yet. Me and Thea are about to depart to the Yefteros to discuss the wedding."

"I want to kill Yui. Do you have any suggestions?" James went straight to the point.

Yuvín was with Thea in the Mevryees' headquarters when James suddenly contacted him. After hearing James' plan, Yuvín frowned. He looked at Thea and said, "I need to settle something first, Thea. I'll be right back."
