The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5408-“A new ranking of the Dark World and the outside planes’ Supernatural Powers has been released. The first on the list is Forty-nine’s Tressencia Completare Art.” All the Primevals had heard about the new Supernatural Powers ranking published by the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion. Nobody was surprised by the Supernatural Powers ranked second to ten. However, the Tressencia Completare Art, which was ranked first, attracted much attention.

“What’s Forty-nine’s background?”

“Isn’t he the guy that fought in the Yefteros’ arena?”

“His Tressencia Completare Art topped the list?”

‘That’s outrageous.’

The release of the new ranking became a hot topic in the Dark World. Those who had made it into the ranking found it unreasonable that the Tressencia Completare Art was above them.

James, who was in the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion, also learned about the ranking from XoeL “Congratulations, Forty-nine. From now on, you’re no longer a nobody. Instead, you’re the creator of the strongest Supernatural Art. You’ve become a household name in the Dark World.”

James replied with a frown, “Is the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion trying to push me into fire? After publishing this new ranking, countless powerhouses will come to challenge me. With my current strength, how am I going to fight them?”

XoeL answered smilingly, “It was a decision made by the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion after careful consideration. It was unanimously decided that the Tressencia Completare Art is qualified to top the list.”

Qiyana, who usually had a cold expression, said smilingly,” Congratulations.

You’re going to be very popular in the Dark World.” James shook his head lightly, not wanting to think about it. The ranking was not of significance right now. Instead, he had to focus on how to lure Yui into his trap.

Suddenly, James thought of something. He turned to Xael and asked, "By the way...Does the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion have information about Yui? Is there a way for me to lure him out?"

"We've not performed a detailed investigation on him. If you'd like, you can use one of the three inquiry chances I've given you. We'll do our best to investigate him. However, you should think it through since your chances are limited."

"Investigate him," James replied without hesitation.

Getting to know Yui was necessary to successfully lure him into the trap.

"Alright. I'll inform the headquarters to order thorough investigations on him."

Xael stood up and left.

Latrusse also stood up and said, "I won't be able to help you this time. Lea and I will take our leaves."

"Alright." James nodded lightly.

Latrusse said again, "I believe you'll succeed. With your potential, you'll become one of the best in the Dark World sooner or later. I'm looking forward to that day."

After speaking, Latrusse left with Lea.

Qiyana was the only one who remained.

James looked at her and asked, "How is Qairo doing?"

Qiyana shook her head and replied, "His injuries are too serious, and he hasn't regained consciousness. It might be hard for him to awaken. Perhaps we'll really need the five Elemental Curses to wake him up." James sighed and said, "I was planning to use Qairo against Yui."

Qiyana frowned. After thinking for a while, she said, "It might be possible for us to help Qairo wake up and regain his strength. If we succeed, at least, he'll be of some help in killing Yui."

"I used to be proficient in medicine but I've neglected it. There's nothing I can do about his injuries."

Qiyana suggested, "How about we go to the Medical City?"

"The Medical City?" James was surprised.

Qiyana explained, "There's a rumor that the Medicuse Race's leader was originally born as an Empyrean Spiritual Root that evolved into a living being. She is unparalleled in medical skills and can heal any kind of injury. Our race brought Qairo to see her in the past, but she couldn't cure him.

However, treating his current injuries shouldn't be a problem."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5409-James nodded and said, "Okay. After the Mevryees' secret guard appears, we'll visit the Medicuses."

After speaking, James headed to the backyard. He set up a formation and planned to use the extra time to improve his Feimsurge Art.

The Feimsurge Art was useful to him. The Feimsurge Art's fifth stage was Immortality, and the sixth stage was Eternity.

The minimum requirement for cultivating the fifth stage was the Petit Celestial Rank. James had already reached the Petit Celestial Rank's late stage and met the condition to enter the Feimsurge Art's fifth stage.

James sat down inside the time formation, and several Feimsurge Inscriptions circled him.

The Feimsurge Inscriptions Lemuel created were very mysterious. They contained mysterious powers and the truth, which were hard for ordinary living beings to understand.

Fortunately, James had no difficulty comprehending them. All he needed was some time before he could completely understand them.

James focused on his cultivation.

The fifth stage was about one's physical body. It was a magical state, allowing one to integrate power into one's body to achieve immortality. It allowed one to gain greater physical strength on top of the Feimsure's physical enhancements.

James easily mastered the Feimsure Art's fifth stage. However, his biggest problem now was that his physical body was too much stronger than his cultivation rank. Thus, the Feimsure Art's fifth stage's effects were insignificant.

Fortunately, if he were to improve his cultivation rank, the effects would also improve.

The Feimsure Art's sixth stage represented eternal power. On top of the Feimsure's power enhancements, it allowed one to achieve greater power.

James immersed himself in his cultivation. Soon, he mastered the Feimsure Art's fifth and sixth stages.

He restrained his auras, opened his eyes, and looked into the distance thoughtfully. It had been a while since he had entered the Dark World. He had gone through many experiences, and it made him realize how weak his cultivation rank was. As the feeling dawned on him, he became even more determined to become stronger.

"I'm only at the Petit Celestial Rank's late stage. It'll be hard to move around in the Dark World if I don't enter the Holy Celestial Rank. I wonder when I'll reach the Holy Celestial Rank." James sighed troubledly.

He dispersed the time formation and meditated in the backyard.

Sometime later, the sound of footsteps came from a distance.

James raised his head and saw a beautiful woman walking toward him.

'The Mevryees' secret guard has arrived."

When Qiyana finished speaking, a man in a black robe appeared. His face was blocked by a mysterious power, preventing James from seeing his true appearance. His aura kept changing, and it was hard to identify which one was real.

"I'm Maddox Dustin. From now on, I'll serve your orders until Yui dies."

"Okay," James nodded and said, "I haven't heard about Yui from the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion yet. Let's go to the Medicuses first."

James took the lead and walked away.

Qiyana and Maddox followed behind him.

Xoel sat on a boulder in front of the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion's spiritual mountain and watched as James disappeared from his sight. He solemnly murmured, "The Dark World is going to change significantly. I wonder what kind of chaos will erupt after Yui's death?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5410-James, Qiyana, and Maddox headed straight toward the region where the Medicuses were located.

"I heard the Medicuses stopped treating outsiders." Maddox's voice resounded in the darkness.

Qiyana asked, "What happened? The Medicuses have always been friendly toward other races and rarely turn down anyone who asks for help. Why did they stop treating outsiders?"

Maddox explained, "It's a very long story. Many years ago, a magical herb was stolen from their Medical Valley. I heard it was an Empyrean Spiritual Root that was about to evolve into a living being. If it successfully evolved, it would've become a powerhouse at the Holy Celestial Rank.

'There are rumors that some powerhouses appeared in the Medcuses' territory and stole the Empyrean Spiritual Root.

"I'm not sure about what really went down. I'm just an assassin who hides in the dark, so I don't pay much attention to theis kind of stuff. I merely heard that after the incident, the Medicuses began to despise other Primevals."

James said, "It doesn't matter. Let's try to visit them first."

The Medicuses were James' hope of recovering Qairo's injuries. If Qairo woke up, his success rate in killing Yui would improve significantly.

The three quickly traveled through the darkness. Soon, they arrived outside the Medical City. The formation outside the city blocking outsiders from entering immediately caught their attention.

After seeing the formation, Maddox said, "It seems the rumors are true. The Medicuses no longer wish to interact with other races."

'What should we do now?' Qiyana looked at James.

‘We’ll have to try,” James said, then approached the formation. He clasped his hands and shouted, “My name is Forty-nine. I’m here to see the Medicuses.”

His voice echoed throughout the area. Soon, a few guards showed up. Although the guards had human forms, their bodies emitted the fragrance of medical herbs. James could tell they were living beings that evolved from Empyrean herbs.

“Beyond this point is the Medicuses’ territory. We’ve already sealed off this area, and outsiders aren’t allowed to enter. Please leave.” The guards immediately chased them away.

‘What if I insist on entering the Medicuses’ territory?” James ‘ face darkened.

Swoosh!

The guards drew their weapons.

Sensing the tense atmosphere, Qiyana quickly stepped forward and said, “I’m the Glacies’ princess. My late father was on friendly terms with the Medicuses’ Leader. Please help me inform her about my visit.”

‘The Glacies?” The guards were surprised since the Glacies were supposed to be wiped out by the Four Ancient Races a longtime ago.

“Wait here.” The guards exchanged glances at each other and left to report the incident.

James’ group waited patiently outside the city.

Soon, a crack appeared in the formation, and a beautiful woman walked out.

She looked at Qiyana and said calmly, ” Follow me.”

“Let’s go,” said Qiyana.

James nodded slightly in response.

They followed the woman to a valley where the Medicuses resided. The valley’s environment was peaceful and full of Spiritual Energy. A variety of Empyrean herbs could be seen growing throughout the valley.

The beautiful woman led them to a simple wooden house and asked, "What do you need?"

Qiyana replied, "I'm here to ask for your help, Saintess."
