

Read The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5426-Yered returned to eliminate the Thirty-six Umbraguards of the Yeftero Race.

James and the others exchanged glances.

“What do we do now?” Maddox asked.

James looked at him and said, “You’re a mysterious guard of the Mevryee Race, and no one in the outside world knows of your existence. This mission’s failure won’t implicate the Mevryee Race. You should go back.”

“Alright.” Maddox did not say much and vanished into the darkness.

“We should plan our next move now,” James said, furrowing his brow. “Yui is too powerful. Although we couldn’t kill him this time, he inflicted severe injuries. The Yeftero Race will surely seek revenge. We need to think about another plan. In my opinion, we need to find a place to hide and observe for some time. Let’s see what moves the Yeftero Race will make.”

Jadranka frowned as she said, “The Yeftero Race’s intelligence network is formidable. Where can we hide?” James suggested, “Let’s head to the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion headquarters.

We have to search for the primitive inscriptions of the other races. Once we find them, we can recover Qairo. He’s at the peak of Quasi Bliss Rank. We won’t fear the Yeftero Race anymore as long as he recovers.”

“However,” he changed the subject and continued, “Let’s go check another place. See if Yered can kill the Thirty-six Umbraguards of the Yeftero Race. If he manages to do so, it’ll still count as a heavy blow to them, and the mission won’t be a complete failure.”

“Alright.” Qiyana nodded.

They quickly left and headed toward the location where they had set up the first formation.

Their speed was much slower compared to Yered. When they arrived, the area had already collapsed, and all Thirty- six Umbraguards of the Yeftero Race were dead. Only Yered remained there.

Yered was covered in wounds, and his aura was weak. He appeared before James and the others.

Seeing Yered in this state, James asked, "Are you alright?"

Yered shook his head slightly. "I won't die easily. Although I couldn't kill Yui this time, I managed to kill the Thirty-six Umbraguards. The Yefteros will surely retaliate. I can't go back to the Flammae. My return would implicate them. I need to find a place to hide and heal."

"Hmm," James nodded gently.

Looking at James, Yered asked, "What are your next plans?"

James replied, "I plan to go to the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion headquarters. The Yeftero Race can't reach there even if they're strong."

"In that case, see you around," Yered clasped his hands and then disappeared from the spot.

James looked at Qiyana, Jadranka, and finally at Thea, saying, "Come with me, Thea. This matter won't implicate the Mevryee Race if you come with me. If you go back, this matter will surely affect them."

Thea nodded lightly and said, "Okay."

"I need to go to the Central Plane before heading to the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion. I had brought some powerhouses from the Endlos Plane when I left this time. They're currently in seclusion at the Central Plane's Dieux Academy.

It's not a secret that I'm from there. I need to take King Marciais and the others before the Yeftero Race reaches the academy. If they fall into the hands of the Yeftero Race, the Endlos Plane will be exposed. At that time, our relationship will be completely exposed, not only implicating the Mevryee Race but also dragging the Endlos Plane into it."

This mission failure disrupted all of James' plans. He needed to make a quick trip to the Central Plane before heading to the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion headquarters. They did not linger in the dark space and quickly left the Dark World, heading towards the Central Plane in the outside world.

The Thirty-six Umbraguards of the Yefteros were an extremely powerful and mysterious assassination force. Each of them possessed a soul lamp.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5427-The Yeftero Race knew immediately when they died.

The main hall of the Yeftero Race gathered many elders, with Halianor seated at the forefront. His face was solemn as he said, "The Thirty-six Umbraguards are dead. This means an unexpected situation on the side of Saint Yui.

However, we have been unable to establish contact with him, and I don't know how things are on his end."

Numerous elders of the Yeftero Race were assembled in the main hall.

However, none of them spoke.

After a while, an elder said, "Although Saint Yui is only in the early stage of Holy Celestial Rank, he has mastered many martial arts skills. He should be fine."

Halianor's face was somber as he said, "I hope so. If something were to happen to him, none of those involved in this matter would survive."

Currently, the Yeftero Race could not contact Yui. They had no choice but to wait at the Yeftero Race headquarters.

Meanwhile, Yui was fleeing in injury. He was worried that Yered would chase after him. He dared not linger and quickly returned to the Yeftero Race.

Boom! Outside the entrance to the Yefteros' territory, Yui descended from the sky, landing and crushing the ground beneath him.

Many guards realized and hurriedly rushed forward to help Yui up. At this moment, Halianor and several Yeftero Race elders appeared.

"Sir Yui."

Halianor immediately checked Yui's injuries. "You used the Tethralis Art. Even with that, you're heavily injured. Who was the powerhouse that took action?"

A solemn expression appeared on Halianor's face. After using the Tethralis Art, Yui was no match for his opponent, and now he was severely wounded.

Halianor brought Yui back to the main hall.

Yui sat in a chair, his face dark and terrifying. He swung his hand, and scenes from earlier appeared. The powerhouses of the Yefteros also learned of the entire incident.

"A living being at the peak of the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank from the Flamma Race. When did the Flammae give birth to such a formidable powerhouse?" Halianor frowned.

Yui replied, "This may not be a living being from the Flamme. If they truly had such a powerhouse, they wouldn't act so low-key. This living being claims to have joined Theognostos when his cultivation base was weak. He is serving as the protector of Theognostos' Saint."

"Sir Yui, tend to your injury first. You don't need to worry about this matter,"

Halianor's face showed a grave seriousness.

The Yefteros must investigate the matter thoroughly. Halianor would personally pay a visit, whether to the Flamma Race or the Dieux Academy in the Central Plane.

"Thea has not been located yet," Yui leaned on the chair, his face extremely pale, and said weakly, "I must find her as soon as possible. She is the key to my breakthrough.

Without her, my cultivation advancement will be slow, and I may be stuck at the peak of the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank. With her, I can strive for the Quasi Bliss Rank or even reach the Transcendental Bliss Rank."

Yui was still thinking about Thea even while severely injured.

"Don't worry, Sir Yui. I'll unite the forces of the Four Ancient Races to investigate Thea's whereabouts," Halianor said.

He was unaware that this was a trick played by the Mevryee Race and James, and that Thea was not abducted but chose to leave with James willingly.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5428-James and the others swiftly navigated through the darkness. When passing through a Primeval's area, James suddenly came to a halt and said, "Having too many people is a bit conspicuous. Here's the plan, all of you wait for me at the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion in this area. I'll go to the Dieux Academy at the Central Plane of the outside world." James intended to discreetly go to the Dieux Academy and bring back Gaius, Gorgen, Zavis, and Taran.

"Alright." Thea nodded. The others had no objections.

"Don't reveal your true identity. Change your appearance and aura," James instructed before handing the token given by Xoel to Thea.

After making brief arrangements, James quickly departed, disappearing into the dark space. Once he left, the others wasted no time and swiftly headed towards the world ahead, waiting for James at the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion branch of this area.

James unleashed a Boundarybreaker Rune. Upon reappearing, he found himself at the edge of the Dark World beyond the Central Plane. He then cast another Boundarybreaker Rune, swiftly returning to the Central Plane.

Upon reaching the Central Plane, he urgently made his way to the Dieux Academy. This time, he assumed the appearance of Forty-nine. He drew the attention of many disciples as soon as he appeared at the Dieux Academy entrance.

"Mr. Caden," they respectfully greeted him, while some powerful ones looked disdainful. In their eyes, James was not qualified to be an elder of the Dieux Academy.

James ignored them and swiftly headed to Mount Caden.

"Forty-nine has returned."

"He finally came back after disappearing for so long."

"During this time, the Valiant Alliance has been continuously exerting pressure on the Dieux Academy to hand over Forty-nine."

The news of James' return quickly spread. James did not know that since he seized an eighth-level plane from the Valiant Alliance, they had been pressuring the Dieux Academy to surrender him and the plane. In James' absence, the academy had been stalling. James was unaware of these and he did not want to care. He directly came to Mount Caden.

"Mr. Caden."

"Elder."

Many disciples of Mount Caden called out to James.

However, he paid no attention to them and went directly to the back mountain, to the secluded place where King Marciais and the others were in seclusion.

They had been in seclusion within the time formation since James left, never venturing out. James had provided them with a lot of cultivation resources and many secret Supernatural Arts before his departure.

As soon as James returned, they sensed it.

"James is back?" Zavis spoke first, saying, "While you were away, we focused on cultivating diligently. I've now reached the peak late stage of the Petit Celestial Rank, just one step away from the great peak." Taran asked, "Where have you been all this time?" Gaius spoke up, "Even in seclusion, we caught wind of your victory in acquiring an eighth-level plane from the Valiant Alliance at the Supremus Museum. The news of the Supremus Lotus being seized has spread across countless planes."

James interrupted with a slight wave of his hand, saying, "A lot has happened during this time. Dieux Academy is no longer secure, and I must take you back to the Endlos Plane."

Hearing this, Zavis asked, "What happened?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5429-James briefly recounted the events.

Upon hearing this, all of them looked dumbfounded. They never expected so many hidden secrets in the boundless darkness. The revelation that Thea hailed from one of the Four Ancient Races, the Mevryee Race, and was even a princess of that race surprised them. What shocked them even more were James' experiences during this period.

‘The Dark World is stronger and more terrifying than you can imagine. The failed assassination of the Yeftero Race’s Saint means that they’ll soon trace it back to the Dieux Academy. So, all of you need to leave. I’ll take you back to the Endlos Plane, and it just so happens that there are powerhouses needed to protect,”

James said.

“Will this involve the Dieux Academy? The Yefteros are formidable, and it should be easy for them to destroy the academy.”

Few of them expressed their concern.

James replied, “Maybe not. The Dieux Academy is insignificant for the Yeftero Race. They won’t harm the academy. They’re here just to investigate me and the Theognostos I created. With my current strength, I can’t stop them even if they want to destroy the academy.” At this point, James had no concern for the fate of the Dieux Academy, especially since the academy had Lemuel.

Lemuel would surely return if he learned of these events. With his power, even if he could not contend with the Yeftero Race, he should be able to resist the powerhouses sent by them to investigate.

“Let’s go.” James did not want to waste any more time. The others nodded in agreement as they prepared to leave.

At that moment, a disciple from the main peak appeared. ” Mr. Caden, Sir Xhemal wants you to go to the apex main hall.”

Hearing this, James furrowed his brow slightly. He then said, ‘Y’all leave first. I’ll go and see what’s going on and catch up with you later.”

“Alright.”

Zavis and the others did not dare to be careless and quickly left. James then headed towards the main peak of the Dieux Academy.

In the main hall of the academy’s main peak, many powerhouses had gathered, led by the headmaster, Xhemal, and the Great Elder, Jorah. All of them were powerhouses at the peak late stage of the Martial Celestial Rank.

At that moment, James entered.

As soon as he stepped into the main hall, he surveyed the surroundings before finding a seat and sitting down. He said, "I don't know why the headmaster is looking for me. If there's something, just say it. I'm busy."

James' attitude displeased many elders.

"Forty-nine, mind your attitude. Is this how you talk to the headmaster?"

"Forty-nine, do you realize the trouble you've caused outside? Did you actually hijack a plane from the Valiant Alliance?"

Several elders began to scold him.

"Forty-nine, hand over the plane you took from the Valiant Alliance. Let bygones be bygones," an elder spoke up.

James glanced at him. This elder had a new face, someone James had not seen before. However, the elder exuded a powerful aura. He had reached the late stage of the Martial Celestial Rank.

"Who are you?" James cast a glance at him.

"I'm Hyrum Noe, the Great Elder of the Valiant Alliance," the elder said while stroking his beard.

Before James could respond, Xhemal smiled and said, "Mr. Hyrum, I've also heard about this matter. This plane was won by our academy's elder from the hands of a Valiant Alliance disciple. Many powerhouses witnessed it at the Supremusmuseum. Your attempt to reclaim it now seems unreasonable."

Hyrum had been at the Dieux Academy for quite some time. His purpose was to force James to return to the eighth-level plane. However, James did not come back, and he could only wait at the academy. During this time, the Valiant Alliance had been pressuring the Dieux Academy. Now that James had returned, Xhemal naturally sided with him.

"Hmph," Hyrum snorted and said, "This brat tricked our Valiant Alliance disciple."

In that case, I can bet with him and win back the plane too."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5430-An eighth-level plane was no small matter. It provided a constant stream of cultivation resources. After Hadran lost the eighth-level plane, Thorqua and some core elders of the Valiant Alliance were angry. This plane must not fall into the hands of the Dieux Academy or James.

The Valiant Alliance continuously exerted pressure on the Dieux Academy and even dispatched Hyrum to reclaim the plane.

“Mr. Hyrum, you’re being petty,” said Jorah, the Great Elder of the Dieux Academy. “Considering both yours and Mr.

Caden’s realm, isn’t this a form of bullying?”

“Hmph,” Hyrum snorted and said, “Didn’t he do the same when he gambled with Hadran? Taking advantage of the ignorance of the outside world’s living beings regarding his strength, he deceived Hadran of our Valiant Alliance into gambling with him.”

“You’re so verbose,” James said impatiently.

Although he had been cautious upon his initial arrival in the Central Plane, he no longer deemed the Central Plane or even the countless planes significant after visiting the Dark World. Despite his inability to eliminate these veteran powerhouses, it was equally impossible for them to kill him.

“Old man, what kind of bet are you proposing? I’m game,” James said. He did not want to cause undue trouble for the Dieux Academy. If he could handle the situation independently, he preferred to resolve the issue and depart sooner. Moreover, he had some grievances with the Valiant Alliance, but now was not the time to settle old scores.

“Brat, I’ll engage in a battle with you. If you lose, you’ll have to hand over the plane,” said Hyrum as his gaze fixed on James.

James agreed, saying, “Fine, but the manner in which we fight is up to me.”

“As you wish,” Hyrum said with a pleased expression as James agreed to battle.

“Mr. Caden, don’t be reckless,” Xhemal warned. “You won it fair and square.

Even though the Valiant Alliance is overbearing, they can’t do anything to you as long as you don’t give in. This applies even to the Valiant Alliance.”

Jorah added, "Sir Xhemal is right. We're right in this matter, and no one can change that." The headmaster and the Great Elder stood on James' side, while the other elders preferred to settle the matter peacefully, as it offered them no benefits. If they fall out with the Valiant Alliance over this, the Dieux Academy disciples could face ongoing hostility whenever they travel outside.

James stood up, raised his hand slightly, and said, "No worries. I'll accompany him if he wants to fight." "Haha, how lively," a playful laughter echoed at that moment.

"Who's there?" Many powerhouses in the main hall stood up. Whoosh!

A white remnant light descended from the sky, converging to form a beautiful woman. The woman adorned in a white dress, possessed an elegant figure and a stunning appearance. Her presence radiated an aura that surpassed everything.

Upon seeing her, James frowned slightly.

"Lady...Lady Wikolia." Many powerhouses in the main hall gasped in shock.

Lady Wikolia was a top-tier powerhouse renowned in the Central Plane and even across countless planes. She had disappeared for a long time. Now, she had reappeared unexpectedly.

"James Caden." Lady Wikolia's gaze lingered on James, and she smiled faintly.

"I didn't expect you to have already recovered your strength. Even more surprisingly, you've hidden in the Dieux Academy. You made it challenging for me to find you."