The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5506-Quattro's sword had penetrated through Yui's body, causing a bloody injury.

Yui quickly retreated away. Although he was injured, it was not lethal. After getting to a safe distance, he inspected his wound in disbelief.

James' companions also watched in surprise. However, James remained calm since he had already witnessed Quattro kill a powerhouse at the Holy Celestial Rank with just one attack. He knew how strong Quattro was. The others, however, were astonished by the sight.

Quattro said nonchalantly, 'You're quite impressive. Any other cultivator at the Holy Celestial Rank's middle stage would've been obliterated after being struck by my attack. You've exceeded my expectations. I'll spare your life if you become my follower.'

"Damn it." Yui's face was terrifyingly grim. As the Yefteros' Saint and future leader of the race, he could not bear such mockery. Suddenly, his body underwent abnormal changes.

James exclaimed, "Tethralis Art!"

Previously, Yui managed to fight against Yered because he had the Tethralis Art.

Quattro frowned as he watched Yui's transformation.

Yui cast the Tethralis Art, and his aura kept improving. A dark force from the Dark World surrounded him and absorbed into his body. His strength was boosted significantly, and he was much stronger than when he fought Yered.

"Piggy, you've successfully angered me. Today, this place will be you die."

Yui's face was grim.

"Is that so?" Even though Yui emitted a potent aura, Quattro said calmly, "I wonder if you've heard of a Supernatural Power...What was it called again? Oh, right! It's the Heavenly Sacrifice."

“T-The Heavenly Sacrifice? Is it the one that ranked sixth on the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion’s Supernatural Power ranking?” Yui was slightly startled.

Quattro smiled and replied, “Exactly. You’re from the Yefteros and just cast a Supernatural Power to absorb Dark Power to enhance your strength. I’m guessing that was the Tethralis Art, which came in tenth on the ranking, right?”

After Quattro left the Prison World, his first stop was not the Central Plane.

Instead, he went to some Primevals and learned about the Dark World. He knew it was necessary to understand the new world to survive. While gaining information, he learned about the Supernatural Power ranking. Thus, he knew James’ Tressencia Compleare Art had topped the list.

“Hmph!” Yui snorted and said, ‘The Heavenly Sacrifice is the Aboda Race’s Supernatural Power. It’s a Supernatural Power their Primogenitor had created from their race’s primitive inscriptions. However, the Abodas perished a long time ago. You should stop these scare tactics, Piggy.”

Yui doubted that Quattro could cast the Heavenly Sacrifice.

In the distance, James said in surprise, ‘This piggy sure is terrifying. I can’t believe he’s already mastered Heavenly Sacrifice, which ranked sixth on the Supernatural Power ranking.”

Quattro looked at Yui, analyzing him. After a while, he said while smiling, ‘The Tethralis Art is indeed impressive. It allows you to connect your body with the Dark World and continuously absorb Dark Power. It’s a pity...”

He paused, shook his head lightly, and said, “It’s a pity you’ll have to die today.”

“Fucking arrogant pig!” Yui snorted, then summoned a long sword.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5507-A long black sword with some mysterious inscriptions carved on the blade manifested in Yui’s hand. The sword hummed, and a powerful force emerged.

Yui brandished the sword, and potent Sword Energies gathered to form a Sword Formation.

The Sword Formation was strong enough to instantly obliterate a powerhouse at the Holy Celestial Rank's middle stage.

However, Quattro calmly raised his hand and pointed toward the void. A mysterious force emerged from his fingertips and shattered Yui's Sword Formation.

Then, magical inscriptions materialized and circled Quattro.

"That..." Qairo said surprisedly, "I've read in ancient books about how scary the Heavenly Sacrifice is. Once cast, a world would have to be sacrificed as an offering. Is he going to offer the entire Central Plane as a sacrifice?"

James also felt that Quattro was about to sacrifice the Central Plane to obtain greater strength. Although he had also acquired the Aboda Race's primitive inscriptions, he had not cultivated them. After he left the Prison World, he was focused on comprehending the five Elemental Curses and had not learned the Heavenly Sacrifice.

He turned to Qairo and asked, "What will happen to the Central Plane if it's used as a sacrifice?" Qairo answered, "It'll perish."

At that moment, Quattro's aura affected the Central Plane and other planes.

Some power from the Central Plane and the other planes gathered, then submerged into Quattro's body.

"It'll only take one move to kill you." Quattro looked at Yui with a calm and conceited expression. He raised his hand and pointed at Yui. Powerful Sacrificial Power emerged and caused the space around Yui to collapse.

Yui's body and soul were wiped out in the blink of an eye.

"Why does this power seem so similar to Taran's Death Power?" James' brows furrowed.

The Sacrificial and Death Power seemed similar, but they had slight differences.

Taran could summon the evil in the hearts of living beings to form Corrupted Power and Death Power. However, the power that Quattro had used was not evil thoughts of living beings. Instead, it was some other kind of mysterious power. James could not wrap his head around what Sacrificial Power was.

Even though James had witnessed the whole process of Quattro performing the inscriptions. He released his Zen and found that the Central Plane was perfectly fine.

“Was nothing sacrificed?” James frowned.

Quattro dispersed the Supernatural Power and approached James. Then, he smiled brightly and said, “The Aboda Race’s primitive inscriptions are powerful.”

James promptly said, “Stay away from me. There are many powerhouses secretly keeping an eye on me. I don’t want others to know that we’re acquainted.”

Quattro said smilingly, “Don’t worry. I blocked out other people’s Zen from this area.”

Qairo stared at Quattro and said, “The power of offering, sacrifice, and faith.”

Quattro nodded and said, “It’s something like that. Every race and living being will pay homage to their ancestors. It requires one to have respect for their lineage. When they pay homage, it’ll produce incredible power. However, the power is invisible and almost impossible to control. It has always existed within our heaven and earth. Miraculously, the Aboda Race was capable of handling this power. They could use their Sacrificial Art to control this power, called the power of faith.

“However...” Quattro paused and said, “I’ve only used the lowest level of Sacrificial Art. The highest form of Sacrificial Art is incredibly terrifying. It’ll use the entire Central Plane as an altar and provide me with supreme power.”

Qiyana took a deep breath and said, ‘The Aboda Race’s Sacrificial Art sure is terrifying.”

Jada asked, “So, is Yui dead?”

Quattro nodded and said, “Of course he’s dead. His soul was destroyed. Unless that wasn’t his main body, otherwise, he’s already dead.”

Then, he looked at Jada and said proudly, “Now that you’ve witnessed how strong I am, it’s still not too late to become my wife.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5508-Soul Halls were significant places. Each race had a Soul Hall, and the Yefteros were no exception. Inside these Soul Halls were the soul lamps of important members. These soul lamps were made with a trace of each member’s Soul Power. Once one’s soul was destroyed, one’s soul lamp would extinguish.

Saint Yui’s soul lamp was placed in an important area of the Yefteros’ Soul Hall.

Suddenly, the soul lamp flickered.

At that moment, a disciple guarding the Soul Hall turned pale with fear and scrambled toward the Yefteros’ main hall.

“T-There’s bad news! Horrible news!” The disciple rushed into the hall and stumbled a few times.

“Where are your manners?” Hacathra, the Yefteros’ Leader, sat in the highest seat. His face immediately darkened, and he asked, ‘What’s the matter?’

“S-Sir! I-It’s Saint Yui’s soul lamp! It extinguished!” ‘What?!’ Hacathra immediately stood up and disappeared in a flash. The next moment, he appeared inside the Soul Hall.

The Yefteros’ Great Elder, Halianor, and the other elders appeared almost simultaneously.

All the other soul lamps were lit inside the Soul Hall except the one belonging to Yui.

“Ah!!!” Hacathra roared. ‘Who?! Who was it?!’

Halianor and the other elders were silent with solemn expressions.

Everyone knew how strong Yui was. Yui was a genius of the Yefteros. He had mastered many Supernatural Powers and even their race’s Tethralis Art. He had already entered the Holy Celestial Rank’s middle stage. If he cast the Tethralis Art, his combat strength was almost unparalleled. Who could even kill him?

“Whoever it was, I want him dead! I want his entire race destroyed!” Hacathra roared with bloodshot eyes.

“Sir Hacathra,” Halianor stepped forward and said, “This is a crucial matter. We should investigate as soon as possible.”

“Let’s discuss in the main hall,” Hacathra ordered, then returned to their main hall.

Inside the main hall, Hacathra ordered, “Inform the other three Ancient Races to visit us as soon as possible. There’s something important we must discuss.” With the order issued, a few disciples were dispatched to notify the other three Ancient Races.

The many elders were silent in the main hall. Nobody dared to speak, knowing Hacathra was furious. If they were to say the wrong thing, they would be doomed. It was better for them not to speak at a tense moment like that.

Halianor frowned and said, “Saint Yui was at the Holy Celestial Rank’s middle stage. He has mastered countless of our race’s Supernatural Powers, even the Tethralis Art. Who in the Central Plane could’ve killed him?”

Veins bulged on Hacathra’s face, and he said coldly, “Recently, we’ve refrained from moving in the outside world, and these races in the Dark World think we’ve lost our edges.”

Halianor suggested, “You should ask our young prince to deal with his matter.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5509-The Yefteros’ young prince?

Many elders in the hall trembled after hearing Halianor’s suggestion.

Among the Yefteros, the most talented person was, in fact, not Yui. Instead, it was Hacathra’s youngest son, Xayvion Yeftero. However, he was like a myth to most. Even core elders had only met him a few times. It had been a long time since he had last made an appearance. Nobody knew where he was or what cultivation rank he had reached.

“Xayvion is still in seclusion,” said Hacathra.

“But...” Halianor tried to persuade Hacathra, “Now that Saint Yui is dead, out of all the other princes, Xayvion is the most suitable to succeed you. He has shown great talent but disappeared for a long time. We should give him the chance to contribute to the race. Otherwise, some elders would disapprove of him as the new successor.”

Hacathra looked at Halianor and said, “You handle the investigations.”

“Understood. I’ll get to it right away.” Halianor did not dare to disobey orders.

Although he was the Yefteros’ Great Elder, he was not part of their royal lineage.

He was just a subordinate of Yeftero’s royal family.

Halianor clasped his hands, turned around, and left the main hall. Then, he departed to the Central Plane to investigate Yui’s death.

Meanwhile, Quattro had set up a formation around the Elysium Hall, making it impossible for the Zen of other living beings to penetrate. He sat in the highest seat of the Elysium Hall’s main hall, whereas James and the others stood below him.

At that moment, a message was sent to the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion’s token.

After James read it, he frowned.

Qairo, who was beside him, sensed that something was off about his expression, and he asked curiously, “What’s wrong? Did something happen?”

James said, “I received information from the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion that Yui is dead. The other three Ancient Races were called to the Yefteros to discuss important matters. Also, the Yefteros’ Leader has left seclusion. He has already sent Halianor, the Yefteros’ Great Elder, to the Central Plane to investigate Yui’s death. The Heavenly Secrets Pavilion warned me to be careful.”

“If the Yefteros’ Great Elder comes, I’ll kill him as well,” Quattro said calmly.

James reminded him, “Don’t be careless. As the Yefteros’ Great Elder, he is incredibly powerful. Rumors outside say he is at the Holy Celestial Rank’s late stage. However, nobody knows about his real cultivation rank. Perhaps he might’ve already reached the Holy Celestial Rank’s Consummation.”

“So what?” Quattro was unbothered.

In the past, Qiyana, Jada, and the others would have doubted him, thinking he was overestimating himself. However, they believed him this time after they witnessed him kill Yui.

Qiyana looked at James and asked, “What will you do?”

James frowned and said, “I wasn’t expecting the Yeferos to send Yui to take over the Elysium Hall. I didn’t know they would intervene so soon. My original plan has been disrupted. If I leave right now, and the Yeferos’ Great Elder arrives here, then things will get out of hand. All of my plans would be in vain.”

James’ initial plan was to attack the major forces of the Central Plane one by one, slowly attracting the Primevals behind them to the surface. He was not expecting the Yeferos to take action so soon.

He fell into thought. After a while, he looked at Quattro and asked, “How confident are you in trapping Halianor?”

Quattro said calmly, “I’m the Primogenitor of the Aveswine. I was born with primitive inscriptions of my own. Plus, I have the Aboda Race’s primitive inscriptions. I also learned the Elemental Primeval’s primitive inscriptions.

Halianor won’t pose as much of a threat. However, if you want me to stay in charge of the Elysium Hall, I want her to stay with me.”

Quattro pointed at Jada.

“Me?” Jada was stunned. She said, “I can stay, but after everything is over, I want you to save my sister from the Yeferos.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5510-Jada’s goal for following James was to save her sister, who had also evolved from an Empyrean Spiritual Root into a living being. The Yeferos captured her sister and planted her in their herb garden, using her powers to improve their strength.

After Jada had witnessed Quattro’s capabilities, she wanted him to help save her sister.

“Sure.” Quattro smiled broadly. The next moment, he flashed before Jada and wrapped his hands around her waist.

“From now onward, you’re the Elysium Hall’s lady,” Quattro said with a bright smile.

Jada did not refuse his affection but instead consented to it.

James looked at them and said, “Since you’ll be staying in the Elysium Hall, keep an eye out for the Yefteros’ Great Elder, Halianor. If he shows up, do your best to keep him here and not let him leave. In the case that he insists on leaving, make sure he doesn’t leave unscathed.”

Quattro asked, “What about you? What’s your plan? Are you heading straight for the Supremusseum? Also, shouldn’t you give me some rewards since I’m doing so much for you?”

James summoned the Genesis Paths of ten thousand planes and said, “Here’s the Genesis Paths of ten thousand planes. Although they don’t compare to the primitive inscriptions of Primevals, they are still quite useful.”

Quattro happily accepted the Genesis Paths and replied smilingly, “Your business is my business, General.”

James then turned to Qairo and said, “You should stay, too.”

Qairo frowned and said, “Me? But the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion said that Primevals are behind the Central Plane’s major forces. The Supremusseum is no exception. Although you were its founder, Primevals must’ve already approached Quirijn after he took over. If there are Primevals from the Dark World within the Supremusseum right now, I’m afraid you’ll...”

James waved his hand and said, “Before I reveal my trump cards, the Primevals won’t send their top powerhouses to deal with me. Even if they decide to dispatch powerhouses at the Holy Celestial Rank, I’m not afraid. Naturally, I need you to stay here for a reason. If, by any chance, Quattro fails to keep Halianor here, I need you to take action.”

Ever since James learned about Halianor coming to investigate Yui’s death, a crazy idea had popped into his mind.

James said, “Qiyana, you come with me.”

“Okay.” Qiyana nodded.

James reminded Qairo not to expose his identity, and then he left the Elysium Hall with Qiyana. Afterward, James used an inscription to contact Shorru.

“Which race is the backbone of the Supremusseum?” “The Zoltrumms.”

James had learned that the Zoltrumm Race, one of the Four Ancient Races, was supporting the Supremusseum.

Unfortunately, James did not have much contact with the Zoltrumms and was unsure how strong they were. However, he assumed they were powerful since they were among the Four Ancient Races.

James asked, “I need some materials. Can you help me collect them?”

“What do you need?”

James gave Shorru a list of materials required to refine an invincible Boundarybreaker Rune.

After Shorru learned the materials, he said, “These materials are so rare. We can only collect one set. Speaking of which, what are you trying to make?”

James replied honestly, “I want to refine a Boundarybreaker Rune that can ignore all formations. It’s a rune created by the Fatescribe’s Founder, Seraphiel, who is trapped inside the Prison World. Unfortunately, the materials to make it are too rare.”

James briefly explained the events of the Prison World.

Shorru exclaimed, “Quattro sure is bold. However, he is indeed powerful. I can’t believe he so easily killed Yui.”

“Help me collect these materials. Then, I’ll bring them to the Prison World and ask Seraphiel to craft a few more runes. I can bring a few more powerhouses out of the Prison World with them.”

Shorru fell into thought.
