The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5521-Soon, Quattro's voice resounded in his mind. "He hasn't shown up yet. It's already been so long. I'm getting impatient. I want to rush over the Yefteros right away."

After gaining an update from Quattro, James found a safe area. Then, he set up a time and isolation formation. For now, he just had to wait for news from the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion. Once he successfully contacted the Shadows and acquired their support, it would finally be the time to deal with the Yefteros.

While waiting, James did not neglect his cultivation. He had mastered a magical formation that could absorb all kinds of inscriptions. The more inscriptions he comprehended, the stronger his formation would be.

In the Prison World, he obtained the primitive inscriptions born alongside Quattro. He also acquired the Aboda Race's primitive inscriptions. However, he never had the chance to study them. Since he had some time on hand, he seized the opportunity to comprehend them.

Time passed day by day. James' comprehension of the Aboda and Aveswine Race's primitive inscriptions had grown deeper. Soon, he was highly profound in the primitive inscriptions. Although he had not completely mastered them, it was enough to integrate them into the formation.

Just when he was about to continue studying the Aveswines' primitive inscriptions, he sensed a reaction from one of the runes in his body. Shortly after, Shorru's voice resounded in his mind.

"I've made contact with the Shadows, James. I'm on my way to the Dark World. Let's meet in a Dragon Abyss in the Dark World."

A map of the Dark World appeared in James' mind, and he quickly located the Dragon Abyss.

The Dragon Abyss was quite far from his current location. He stood up, dispersed the formation, and cast the Boundarybreaker Rune to leave the area.

Not long later, James appeared in the Dragon Abyss.

Shorru had already arrived before him.

After James spotted Shorru, he asked, "Why did we have to meet here? This place is a forbidden zone."

Shorru answered, 'The Shadows are a mysterious force. If it were the elders of any other race, we would've easily found a way to contact them. However, nobody knows where the Shadows' Great Commander is. I utilized some connections and found a subordinate of the Shadows' Great Commander. She made arrangements for us to meet here.'

James scanned the surrounding space and said, "I know this place is classified as a forbidden zone. What's the story about it?"

Shorru explained, "It's a ruin of the Dragon Race. They used to be a compelling race. Unfortunately, they chose the wrong side during the past strife. After their defeat, they were wiped out."

However, the Dragon Race was powerful, and many of their powerhouses survived. They scattered and hid within the territory of major races. It's why we can still find traces of the Dragon Races within the Dark World and the outside planes."

James replied, "I see. Alright, let's get going."

Shorru nodded in response.

The two advanced into the Dragon Abyss.

James immediately sensed a potent pressure sweeping toward him. Even though he was at the Great Celestial Rank's Consummation and had an unparalleled physical body, he still struggled to endure it. He marveled, "As expected from one of the forbidden zones, this place is terrifying."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5522-The Dragon Abyss was listed as one of the Dark World's Ten Dangerous Regions.

James and Shorru entered the Dragon Abyss together.

Swoosh!

An invincible force swept over them, oddly resembling a Sword Energy.

Shorru waved his hand, and a powerful force materialized to block the power.

However, he could not completely withstand it and stumbled a few steps backward. Surprised, he said, "The space fluctuation here is incredibly potent."

James frowned and said, "Someone must've ambushed us."

Shorru refuted, "I doubt so. The power is from the heaven and earth."

James glanced around the area.

The space ahead of them was full of frightening power.

These powers that existed within heaven and earth fluttered in the air. Some took on the form of Sword Energies, blades, and a portion gathered to form a terrifying space turbulence.

Shorru summoned a protective barrier before him to resist the attacks. Then, he slowly advanced.

James marveled, saying, "You're so strong. As expected from someone at the Holy Celestial Rank's Consummation."

Shorru smiled faintly, not replying to James' flattery.

The two gradually walked deeper into the Dragon Abyss. After traveling for a while, they noticed white mists had surrounded them.

The mist contained mysterious power. After they entered the mist, they were unable to unleash their Zen. Both of them were clueless about how far the mist extended.

The two were lost in the white mist.

"Messenger! You asked to meet here. Now that I've arrived, why are you still hiding?" Shorru's voice echoed throughout the Dragon Abyss.

"Unfortunately, you won't be qualified to see our great commander if you fail to escape the mist, Mr. Shorru," a cold female voice answered him.

James sensed the surroundings and tried to identify where the voice was coming from. However, his efforts were in vain. Her voice was illusionary, seemingly coming from all directions.

Shorru looked around with a frown and said, "It's most likely a formation. Since you're proficient in formations, can you try to break it?" Surprised, James replied, "It's a formation? I didn't sense any formation inscriptions."

Shorru replied, 'They are hidden within the white mist.

However, we can't unleash our Zens while we're here. The area we can detect is really limited. It's why you can't sense the formation inscriptions."

James said solemnly, "How will I break the formation when I can't even sense the formation inscriptions?"

Shorru answered, "Let's walk around and try to find clues."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5523-"Okay." James nodded.

The two began to wander in the white mist. Soon, James sensed the fluctuations of formation inscriptions around them. He reached out, grabbed at the white mist before him, and successfully caught an inscription."

The mysterious inscription was composed of countless lines and looked chaotic.

However, it was rotating in an organized manner and with rules.

James scrutinized the inscription for a while. His brows furrowed, and he said, "This inscription is really complex. There are countless rules and forms. It's most likely not a primitive inscription of Primevals.

"Why do you say so?" asked Shorru.

James explained, "I've seen quite a lot of primitive inscriptions. Regardless of race, primitive inscriptions usually come with a magical power. However, they don't have rules. The inscriptions in this area contain the rules of the Dark World's Heaven and Earth.

Shorru shot down the possibility, saying, 'That's impossible. I wouldn't be surprised if we're talking about the rules of outside planes. The outside planes are relatively weak, so it's easy to master the rules of their Heaven and Earth.

However, the Dark World is boundless. Countless races exist in the Dark World, but nobody can master the rules of the Dark World's Heaven and Earth." "I can't be wrong," said James.

Shorru fell into thought. After a while, he said, "If you're right, then the Shadowers' Great Commander must be hiding here. If he has mastered the rules of the Dark World's Heaven and Earth, he's truly a terrifying existence."

James' expression became solemn, questioning whether it was the right choice to look for the Shadowers' Great Commander. However, since things had already come to this, he had no intention of retreating.

Shorru asked, "Can you break the formation?"

James replied, "I should be able to. As long as I can decipher the operational rules of the formation, we'll be able to leave the white mist."

"That's not going to be easy. To master the formation's operation rules, you'll have to learn the rules of the Dark World's Heaven and Earth." Shorru looked at James in disbelief.

James smiled and said, "I've mastered a Supernatural Power, making it easy to learn inscriptions. No matter how mysterious an inscription is, I can figure it out.

That includes the inscription rules of the Dark World's Heaven and Earth."

The Supernatural Power James spoke of was the Primal Mantra he had obtained in the Endlos Plane. He could disintegrate all kinds of inscriptions.

Moreover, he had mastered a unique ability that allowed him to convert anything into rules. Everything that existed was composed of rules, including Heaven and Earth.

James looked at the magical inscription of him and began to disintegrate it.

Soon, the inscription had transformed into hundreds of millions of rules. Then, they slowly simplified into their basic forms.

"It's a primitive inscription of the Human Race."

Seeing the simplified inscription before James, Shorru frowned. He said surprisedly, "I can't believe you obtained a rare primitive inscription belonging to the Human Race. Moreover, you already have some primitive inscriptions belonging to the Human Race.”

James looked at him and asked, ‘The Human Race’s primitive inscriptions? How do you know it belongs to the Human Race?’ Shorru explained, “The Heavenly Secrets Pavilion’s ancient books have records about it. The Human Race’s primitive inscriptions are the simplest but the most magical. Each of the Human Race’s primitive inscriptions contains a powerful Cultivation Path. Although I’ve never seen one before, I could guess their origins from how simple they are.

James fell into thoughts, ‘So the Primal Mantra contains the Human Race’s primitive inscriptions?’ It had been a very long time since James had obtained the Primal Mantra, and it allowed him to understand primitive inscriptions of the other races easily.

James took a deep breath and said, “I didn’t expect the Primal Mantra to contain the Human Race’s primitive inscriptions. It seems the Endlos Plane isn’t as simple as I thought. The human who had left behind the Primal Mantra must be a mysterious powerhouse. Or perhaps he obtained the humans’ primitive inscriptions by coincidence. He must’ve been unaware these were primitive inscriptions of the Human Race, hence the name Primal Mantra.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5524-Regardless of what the truth was, James had benefited significantly.

James converted the inscription into its simplest form.

Then, he stimulated the inscription to evolve into a complex form again.

The inscription went through rapid changes. During the process, James tried to understand its rules.

Soon, the formation inscription had reached its ultimate form.

James had gained a rough understanding of the inscription rules. However, the formation had hundreds of millions of inscriptions, and he was still far from breaking the formation.

Fortunately, James would not have to comprehend all of the formation inscriptions. He only needed to understand a portion of them. Then, he could use the Primal Mantra to deduce the remainder and break the formation.

Shorru watched James with a surprised expression and said, "Amazing. I never knew inscriptions could go through such a process." "It's no big deal," James replied with a humble smile.

Then, he reached out and grabbed another inscription. He repeated the process and studied its inscription rules.

James deployed a time formation around himself and began to comprehend the inscriptions.

One after another, he gained more knowledge of the formation of inscriptions.

After successfully comprehending a few formation inscriptions, James tried to combine them to interpret the entire formation.

After many attempts, he finally understood the formation's operation rules and successfully cracked the formation.

Once they left the formation, the scenery changed drastically. It was no longer a desolate land but a beautiful landscape with a vast mountain range and beautiful streams.

A woman in a red dress stood in front of them. She was tall and beautiful but had an icy expression. The woman almost looked like an emotionless puppet.

She watched as James and Shorru walked out of the formation. Her gaze stopped on James, and then she said, "When did a genius who has mastered the Human Race's primitive inscriptions appear in the Dark World?"

Although her voice was rather cold, it was filled with surprise.

James walked over, clasped his hands, and said, "I'm James Caden. Who are you?" The woman replied, "I'm Saeylla Haebril."

Shorru looked at her and asked, "Are you the Shadowers' messenger?"

Saeylla nodded lightly and answered, "Yes."

"I'm here to introduce this guy to the Shadowers' Great Commander." Shorru wasted no time to state the reason for his visit.

Saeylla looked at James and said, "A low cultivation rank but exceptional physical strength. You've mastered the Human Race's primitive inscription and created the Tressencia Completare Art. Alright, you're qualified to meet our Great Commander."

After James stated his name, Saeylla immediately recognized him.

James' name had become a hot topic in the Dark World. Even though Saeylla lived secluded from the world, the Shadowers had a powerful intelligence network. Thus, she knew most of the significant events happening in the Dark World.

Saeylla looked at Shorru and said, "You stay here. He can come with me."

Shorru had a nonchalant expression, not bothered by the request. It was not his intention to meet the Shadowers' Great Commander anyway. All he had to do was bridge a connection for James.

Shorru looked at James and reminded him, "Be careful." James nodded lightly

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5525-Saeylla walked ahead and said, "Let's go."

James followed behind her and went deeper into the mountain range.

Saeylla stopped at the foot of a spiritual mountain and turned around. She looked at James and said, "Wait here for a moment. I'll inform the Great Commander. He'll decide whether or not to see you."

"Okay." James motioned for her to proceed.

Saeylla disappeared from the foot of the mountain. The next moment, she was already at the spiritual mountain's apex where a lonely manor could be seen.

A middle-aged man wearing a yellow robe was inside the manor. He sat in a lotus position, floating a hundred meters above the floor. Many yellow inscriptions surrounded his body. The inscriptions gathered together and wrapped around him like dragon scales.

Saeylla entered the manor and called out, "Father."

The inscriptions around the man's body disappeared. The man restrained his aura and slowly landed on the floor. A chair immediately materialized behind him, and he sat down. He smiled and said, "Come here. Have a seat."

He casually waved his hand, summoning another chair and table.

Saeylla walked over and sat down.

The yellow-robed man asked, "You haven't been here for a while. Did something big happen in the outside world?"

The man's name was Jurryt Haebril. He was none other than the Shadowers' Great Commander, one of the most mysterious figures of the Dark World.

Besides a few core elders, the other elders have never met him.

"Mhm," Saeylla nodded lightly and said, "In recent years, there have been quite a few major events in the Dark World."

Saeylla told him about the Dark World's recent events.

Jurryt was surprised after hearing the Yefteros' Saint, Yui, had been killed in the Central Plane. He exclaimed, "The Yefteros are the leaders of the Four Ancient Races. They are the rulers of the Dark World. Who was bold enough to kill him?"

Saeylla shook her head and said, "I'm not sure who did it. By the way, a human named James Caden is outside waiting to see you. He went through the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion to find me and requested that I introduce you to him.

Some time ago, the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion published a ranking of Supernatural Powers. He's the creator of the Tressencia Completare Art, which topped the list. It ranked even higher than our Supernatural Power."

"Is that so? Interesting." Jurryt was intrigued.

"Also, he has mastered the humans' primitive inscriptions," said Saeylla.

Jurryt's body jerked in shock, and then he asked, "The Human Race's primitive inscriptions? Those inscriptions appeared for a short moment in the Dark World.

Are you sure?"

"Not really. The Heavenly Secrets Pavilion's Deputy Pavilion Master claimed so," said Saeylla.

While James and Shorru were trapped inside the formation, she overheard their conversation and learned that James had mastered the Human Race's primitive inscriptions. However, she could not confirm whether his words were true. The Human Race's primitive inscriptions appeared very briefly in the Dark World.

Even major races did not have records of the Human Race's primitive inscriptions.

"Let him in," said Jurryt.

"Alright." Saeylla nodded, then disappeared.

Saeylla reappeared before James, saying, "Our Great Commander has agreed to see you."

"Okay." James nodded lightly, then followed Saeylla up the spiritual mountain.

Soon, they arrived at the spiritual mountain's peak.

James followed into the manor and spotted the Shadowers' Great Commander.

He expected the Shadowers' Great Commander to be some sort of sinister being. However, the middleaged man before him was elegant and had a very aristocratic aura.

James clasped his hands and said, "I'm James Caden. It's an honor to see you, sir."
