The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5531-What's the matter? Are all of you mute?" Hacathra's voice rang throughout the main hall.

At this moment, an elder stood forward. Cautiously, he said, "Sir Hacathra, it's highly likely that this matter is related to James. James has the support of Theognostos. He's a true powerhouse in the Transcendental Bliss Rank. In my opinion, the only people who can kill Saint Yui are the powerhouses in the Transcendental Bliss Rank. Sir Halianor must have known that the trip to the Central Plane this time was a dead end. That's why he went into hiding instead of going there." "That's right."

Other elders agreed.

"Sir Hacathra, aren't there powerhouses in the Quasi Bliss Rank in our race?

Why don't we let them out of the mountain?"

Hacathra fell into deep thought.

He scanned the elders in the main hall. Although he was furious, he did not blame them.

The Yeftero Race had ruled the Dark World for many years. None of the races dared to go against the Yeftero Race. Now that Saint Yui was dead, it was normal for the living beings in the race to panic.

Yui died in the Central Plane, so who would dare to go to the Central Plane?

Hacathra's body turned into a light and disappeared from the main hall.

When it appeared again, it was already on a spiritual mountain of the Yeftero Race.

This spiritual mountain had a high status in the Yeftero Race. A powerhouse of the Yeftero Race lived on this spiritual mountain.

The powerhouse used to be an elder. After entering the Quasi Bliss Rank, he never showed himself again. He lived and meditated in seclusion, upon entering the highest rank, he wanted to reach the top of the pyramid.

This elder of the Yeftero Race was Trevelyan Yeftero.

Trevelyan was famous in the history of the Dark World. Since he disappeared many years ago, many races of the Dark World forgot that there was such a powerhouse in the Yeftero Race.

The leader of the Yeftero Race, Hacathra, appeared at the top of the spiritual mountain.

There was a forest at the top of the mountain.

In the forest were several strange trees. At the end of the forest was a wooden house.

Hacathra walked up to the house and greeted, "Sir Trevelyan, I, Hacathra, wish to see you."

Creak!

The wooden door opened. Then, a weary voice sounded, "Come in."

Hacathra entered the house.

The layout of the wooden house was simple. There was only a bed and nothing else.

An elder was seated on the floor before the bed with his legs crossed.

The elder wore a gray robe. He looked old. His face was full of wrinkles. He opened his eyes, and they looked dull. Glancing at Hacathra before him, he asked, "What do you want?" "Sir Trevelyan, something happened."

With a heavy expression, Hacathra recounted everything that happened.

"Now that Sir Halianor has disappeared, many powerhouses don't want to go to the Central Plane to investigate. I hope you can come out of seclusion and go to the Central Plane because I have to stay in the race to take charge of the overall situation in place of Sir Halianor."

Hacathra was straightforward about his motive.

He wanted to ask Trevelyan to come out of seclusion.

“Theognostos?”

After hearing all that, Trevelyan’s dull eyes gleamed. “Could the people who entered the Halcyon Road have come out? If they’re out, why didn’t they show themselves? Why did they make the younger generation show up instead?”

Hacathra shook his head and said, “I’m not sure. If it’s true, the powerhouses of our race who entered the Halcyon Road must have also entered the Transcendental Bliss Rank. I don’t know the truth. So, I hope you can take a trip there in person.”

Trevelyan stood up and stretched his back. Lazily, he said, “It has been a long time since I walked around the Dark World. I wonder if there are living beings in the Dark World who remember me.”

Hurriedly, Hacathra said, “If you come out of seclusion, even if they have powerhouses in the Transcendental Bliss Rank, they won’t act rashly.

Please call the shots and apprehend the murderer who killed Saint Yui.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5532-There were Quasi Bliss Rank powerhouses in the Yeftero Race.

The leader of the Yeftero Race, Hacathra, had meditated in seclusion for many years. He had also entered the Quasi Bliss Rank. During the previous strife, a powerhouse of the Yeftero Race in the Quasi Bliss Rank did not go to the Halcyon Road.

Including Trevelyan, there were three powerhouses who did not go.

Besides, this was only the strength shown by the Yeftero Race.

No one knew how many powerhouses were hiding in the dark.

Trevelyan looked at Hacathra and said, “Our ancestors paved the way for our race and made our race the strongest race in the Dark World. Our race has ruled the Dark World for a long time. No one can shake our race’s status. Even the force created by a powerhouse in the Transcendental Bliss Rank can’t do that.”

After saying that, his body disappeared.

Shorru received the news the moment Hacathra went to meet Trevelyan.

He immediately informed James about it.

When James learned about it, he could not help but smile. He said, "I didn't expect Halianor not to show up out of fear. Since the Yeftero Race sent a powerhouse in the Quasi Bliss Rank here, I won't let them leave." Right away, James met up with Quattro and found Qairo.

"Dragon General, what is it?" "James, did something happen?"

Both Quattro and Qairo asked.

James answered, "I received news from the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion. Sir Halianor of the Yeftero Race realized that the trip to the Central Plane would be dangerous, so he went into hiding. The leader of the Yeftero Race sent a powerhouse in the Quasi Bliss Rank to come here." "Quasi Bliss Rank?"

Quattro frowned.

James glanced at Quattro and asked, "What's wrong? Are you scared?"

Quattro said, "I'm not scared. Even though I can't kill a powerhouse in the Quasi Bliss Rank, I won't die. Dragon General, since the Yeftero Race sent out a powerhouse in the Quasi Bliss Rank, I can't help you."

James looked at Qairo and said, "I can only depend on you now."

James knew how terrifying the powerhouses in the Quasi Bliss Rank were.

In Prison World, Gustav, who was in the Quasi Bliss Rank, fought against five powerhouses alone.

He fought against five powerhouses in the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank and defeated all of them. If it was a life-or-death battle, the five powerhouses would have died.

Qairo frowned and said, "I'm not sure I can defeat them. Although I'm at the peak of the Quasi Bliss Rank, the Yeftero Race is the lord of the Dark World.

The Yeftero Race has many supernatural signature skills. There's a gap between the power of the initial and late stages of the Quasi Bliss Rank.

However, the gap can be narrowed by learning supernatural signature skills.

Besides...”

He paused before continuing, “Even if I can kill him, the level of the Central Plane is too low. Even though it’s a tenth-level plane, it can’t handle the fight between two powerhouses in the Quasi Bliss Rank. If we fight, the Central Plane may collapse.” “The Central Plane can’t collapse,” James said. “The fight must be controlled within the universe where Elysium Hall is.” “That’s a bit difficult,” Qairo said. “If the powerhouse of the Yeftero Race in the Quasi Bliss Rank insists on expanding the area of the fight, I can’t do anything to stop him.” Thinking for a while, James said, “The only way now is to trap the powerhouse of the Yeftero Race, who’s heading over to the Central Plane, and kill him.”

Qairo shook his head. “It’s too difficult to trap a powerhouse in the Quasi Bliss Rank.”

James glanced at Qairo and said, “You have mastered the primitive inscriptions of the Glaciem Race. You have also cultivated them to the highest rank. I will teach you the primitive inscriptions of the other four races. You will cultivate the Elemental Curses. With your cultivation rank, if the five elements fuse, even a powerhouse in the Quasi Bliss Rank will be injured.” “Is there enough time?”

Qairo was worried.

“I believe in your talent and comprehension. If we set up a time formation, we should have enough time,” said James.

“Alright.” Qairo nodded.

James looked at Quattro and said, “Quattro, make some preparations.

Once the powerhouse of the Yeftero Race comes close to Elysium Hall’s area, activate your supernatural skill. Move away all the living beings in the universe where Elysium Hall is. I don’t want the battle to implicate innocent living beings.”

“No problem. Leave it to me.” Quattro nodded.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5533-Then, James set up a time formation.

In the time formation, James and Qairo sat in a lotus position.

James began to teach Qairo the paths.

Even though the gap between his and Qairo's cultivation rank was huge, the latter was best at comprehending inscriptions.

He explained the relationship between the five elements in detail. He continued to develop the Elemental Inscriptions and Elemental Power. James repeatedly demonstrated them to help Qairo comprehend and master them more quickly.

"I think I got it," said Qairo.

James only stopped once Qairo spoke up.

Qairo started to comprehend the inscriptions of the other four races.

At first, it was easy. Soon, he faced difficulties. He asked James for help, and James explained things to him patiently.

With James' explanation, Qairo comprehended the inscriptions quickly.

Days flew by in the formation.

Gradually, Qairo mastered the primitive inscriptions of the four races. He cultivated the primitive powers of the four races. Now, he was trying to fuse the Elemental Powers.

He failed over and over again.

Nevertheless, he did not give up.

"Be patient. The five elements are incompatible. Once you become anxious and fail to control the powers, you won't be able to fuse them. Currently, you're only relying on your powerful cultivation to control the Elemental Powers forcefully.

You shouldn't do this. Instead, control the Elemental Powers from their roots."

Patiently, James explained.

Under James' explanation and guidance, Qairo slowly mastered the Elemental Powers. He managed to fuse the Elemental Powers.

He was a prodigy. James only needed to guide him a little for him to comprehend them.

In the time formation, Qairo sat with his legs crossed.

Elemental Powers emerged from his body.

The Elemental Powers gathered before him, forming a strange Elemental Wheel.

It was the Elemental Inversion James showcased before. At that time, the Elemental Inversion was formed by the fusion of the Elemental Paths.

Now, Qairo formed the Elemental Inversion using the Primitive Elemental Inscriptions.

"What a strong power."

Qairo sensed the power of the fusion of the Elemental Powers before him and could not help but be shocked.

"Continue cultivating. Try your best to get used to the Elemental Powers. I'll go out and have a look," said James.

"Alright." Qairo nodded.

James got up and left the time formation. He appeared at the main hall of Elysium Hall.

Quattro sat in the main seat with a beautiful lady in his arms. The lady was Jada of the Medicuse Race.

When James appeared, Jada quickly got out of Quattro's embrace.

Standing to the side, she called out in a soft voice, "James." "Mm-hmm."

James nodded. Walking over, he sat beside them and asked, "Did anything happen?"

Quattro answered, "Nothing happened."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5534-Upon hearing that nothing happened in Elysium Hall, James breathed a sigh of relief.

At once, he used an inscription to contact Shorru. He asked, "Shorru, how's the situation in the Yeftero Race right now? Which powerhouse did the Yeftero Race send to the Central Plane?"

Soon, Shorru's voice sounded in James' mind.

"I only know that Hacathra, the leader of the Yeftero Race, sent a powerhouse in the Quasi Bliss Rank. I don't know who it is and where he is right now. However, the powerhouse of the Yeftero Race should have arrived in the Central Plane by now."

When James was contacting Shorru, an elder appeared on the border of the Central Plane of the Dark World.

The elder looked old. He wore a green robe, and his face was full of wrinkles.

He took a step forward and entered the Central Plane. He sensed the space of the Central Plane and was disdainful.

"After the Ancestral Site collapsed, the levels of the planes formed by energies are too low. It can't even be compared to the world of a primitive race."

The elder who entered the Central Plane was Trevelyan.

Trevelyan used to be a prodigy of the Yeftero Race. He suppressed an era. In his era, all prodigies of any race were suppressed by him.

He was confident and conceited.

He was in no rush. He moved forward slowly.

After some time, he finally appeared in the universe where Elysium Hall of the Central Plane was. He entered the universe. Taking a step forward, he arrived at the entrance of Elysium Hall.

"Is this Elysium Hall?" He mumbled.

Then, he took another step. The formation of Elysium Hall was just a decoration to him. The power he exuded broke the formation.

“He’s here.”

In the main hall of Elysium Hall, Quattro got up.

James also sensed the aura of a powerhouse. Then, he sensed that the formation of Elysium Hall had been broken. Timely, he contacted Qairo, who was meditating in seclusion and instructed, “Hide in the dark and don’t act rashly. Find an opportunity and give a critical hit to the powerhouse of the Yeftero Race. Even if you can’t kill him in one blow, you need to injure him severely and make him unable to fight.” “Got it,” responded Qairo.

Then, Quattro disappeared from the main hall. In the next second, he appeared before Trevelyan and blocked his way. Dully, he questioned, “You’re in Elysium Hall. Who are you? How dare you trespass Elysium Hall. Do you want to die?”

Then, James also showed up.

Looking at Trevelyan ahead, James sensed his aura and frowned.

“Haha.”

Trevelyan laughed. He scanned Quattro and James. In an instant, he knew their cultivation ranks.

“The Consummation Great Celestial Rank and the initial stage of the Holy Celestial Rank? Did Saint Yui die here? If he died in the hands of a living being in the initial stage of the Holy Celestial Rank, he deserved to die,” said Trevelyan dully.

He thought the living beings guarding Elysium Hall were powerful. He did not expect their cultivation to be so weak.

“Who’s James?” He looked at Quattro and James.

James stood forward and said, “I’m James. You should be a powerhouse from the Yeftero Race. Tell me your name.” “You don’t deserve to know my name.

Since you’re James, please come with me. As for you...” Trevelyan glanced at Quattro and said, “You will die.”

Then, he attacked Quattro.

He waved his hand, and a mysterious and ancient inscription appeared.

The inscription contained mysterious power. The power rushed toward Quattro.

Instantly, Quattro's body was blown away from the attack. Countless wounds appeared on his body.

His body landed in the main hall of Elysium Hall, causing the architecture to shatter
