The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5541-Naveen stood up and looked at the powerhouses. He said, "Since almost everyone is here, let's set out." A flying battleship appeared outside the main hall of the Yeftero Race as his voice echoed. He flashed and appeared on the battleship, followed closely by Hacathra. Numerous Yeftero Race powerhouses boarded the battleship, and powerhouses from other races followed them.

The flying battleship seemed like a grand spectacle as it was filled with powerhouses. It swiftly departed, leaving Yeftero World and entering the vast Dark World toward the Central Plane.

However, all of this unfolded under James' watchful gaze.

As the Yeftero Army departed, James swiftly sought out the numerous powerhouses who were immersed in discussions and exchanging ideas.

Upon arriving, he overheard the Leader of the Mevryee Race explaining the Ritual Rank. Other powerhouses were puzzled hearing about the Ritual Rank.

They wondered if this rank existed.

"The Yeftero Army has departed," James declared after revealing himself. "Let's prepare. First, seize the opportunity to secure the Yeftero World and prevent the leakage of Zens. We have to delay their return." The Yefteros' Grand Patriarch and Clan Leader had already headed to the Central Plane. Still, the actual number of Yeftero Race powerhouses remained unknown. This battle could either be easy or arduous, and it might require a significant amount of time. James could not risk the Yefteros' Grand Patriarch receiving any messages, as the latter would be able to return swiftly, considering his strength as a Quasi Bliss Rank powerhouse.

"I'll go," said the Shadows' Great Commander, Jurryt Haebril. "Once they're far enough, I'll deploy the formation around the Yeftero World. While it may not prevent the living beings inside from leaving, it'll stop the Zens, thereby cutting off any communication with the Yefteros' Grand Patriarch through runes."

"Mhm." James nodded.

He was confident with the intervention of the Shadows' Great Commander.

Even Saeylla from the Shadows had grasped a hint of the rules of Heaven and Earth of the Dark World. Thus, the Great Commander's strength naturally surpassed that of Saeylla.

powerhouses within the Yeftero Race. This will be a challenging battle," James instructed.

"Okay." The powerhouses presented all nodded.

James left the area and moved to the rear of the spiritual mountain, where he sat in a lotus position on a rock. He began using inscriptions to contact Shorru from the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion.

"Mr. Shorru, can your Heavenly Secrets Pavilion confirm whether there are still Quasi Bliss Rank powerhouses in the Yeftero Race?" James asked.

"Certainly, many years have passed since the last upheaval until now. The Yeftero Race controls most of the cultivation resources in the Dark World.

Several geniuses have emerged within the race during this period of time. They disappeared after reaching a certain level of cultivation. I guess that they are likely meditating in seclusion within the Yeftero Race," Shorru's voice sounded in James' mind.

"Oh yeah," Shorru continued, "I've checked the information of the Yeftero Race gathered by the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion and found that since the last turmoil, the Yeftero Race has birthed at least ten Consummation Holy Celestial Rank powerhouses, including Trevelyan Yeftero. However, there's one individual worth noting, and that's Xayvion Yeftero."

"Xayvion Yeftero? What's special about him?" James inquired.

"He's Hacathra's youngest son. According to the records in the pavilion, his talent surpasses even Yui's, and he possesses a rare constitution called the Obsidian Body," said Shorru.

"In our records, he rarely appears in the Dark World. Even when he does, he doesn't display any terrifying strength. However, he's recognized as a genius within the Yeftero Race. Currently, his whereabouts are unknown. The information shows that he disappeared after reaching the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank, and my guess is that he's in seclusion within the Yeftero Holy Land. I believe he has reached at least the Quasi Bliss Rank by now."

Shorru provided a detailed explanation of the current situation within the Yeftero Race.

“So, even if Naveen, the Yefteros’ Grand Patriarch, and Hacathra, the Yefteros’ Clan Leader, go to the Central Plane, there are still at least three Quasi Bliss Rank powerhouses remaining within the race. You need to be cautious,” Shorru warned.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5542-Regardless of how many powerhouses remained within the Yeftero Race, James was determined to annihilate them because he had prepared for a long time. Only by eradicating the Yeftero Race could he proceed to organize the Central Plane and the countless planes.

After a conversation with the Pavilion Master of the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion, James returned to the main hall on the spiritual mountain to coordinate with the powerhouses. Jurryt had already gone to set up the formation.

Setting up a formation to prevent the dispersion of Zens in the realm where Jurryt resided was a simple task. Soon, he returned.

James looked at him and asked, “How did it go?”

Jurryt replied, “Well, the formation has been set up. It’s just not activated yet.

We’ll activate it when the time is right.”

Quattro was impatient. He asked, “Many Yeftero Race powerhouses have left.

When are we going to take action?” James said, “Let’s not rush. We’ll strike when the Yeftero Army is far away from their world. I have the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion monitoring their movements.

Once they’re out of this region, it’s our time to act.”

Then, James waited patiently, while the other powerhouses present focused on adjusting their states.

The day flew by, and soon, James received a message from Shorru of the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion. “The Yeftero Army is approaching the Central Plane.

It's almost time to take action. They'll quickly return once they reach the Elysium Hall and find it empty. Now is the perfect opportunity."

James stood up after receiving the message from the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion.

"It's time to act," his voice echoed.

The powerhouses in the main hall stood up simultaneously at his announcement.

"Shall we go straight to the Yeftero Race's base camp?" asked Yered.

"Yes." James nodded.

Then, he left and flew to the spiritual mountain where the Yeftero Race resided, with other powerhouses following closely behind him.

The Yeftero Race had been the leader of the Four Ancient Races and the overlord of the Dark World for countless ages. Their land of spiritual mountains was vast.

James appeared outside the Yeftero Race's spiritual mountain. He stood in midair, overlooking the mountains and land ahead.

"Let me take the lead," Quattro spoke first. "I need to save Jada's sister."

James did not mind who took the initiative.

Quattro erupted with a powerful aura before James could speak. As he raised his hands, a formidable force manifested and attacked the Mountain Formation around the Yeftero Race spiritual mountain.

Boom! The world trembled. Upon being attacked, the Mountain Formation of the spiritual mountain was revealed. There were countless inscriptions covering the entire mountain.

A powerful force swept in, causing Quattro to retreat slightly.

"What a powerful formation." Quattro was shocked.

Right then, an alarm rang out within the Yeftero Race.

“Someone is attacking the Mountain Formation.”

“Assemble quickly.”

Countless disciples and elders guarding the Yeftero Race quickly assembled.

On the peak of the Yeftero Race spiritual mountain, some powerhouses rose into the air, standing in the void.

“This is the Yeftero Race. How dare someone act out here? Capture them,” an elder said coldly.

“He’s so noisy.” Quattro’s expression turned grim. The fur on his body transformed into an invisible force, converging into a blade that traversed the void, heading directly for the elder who spoke.

Although this elder possessed a strong cultivation base that reached the middle stage of the Holy Celestial Rank, he had no chance to retaliate against Quattro’s attack. He disintegrated, and his soul scattered after being struck by the blade.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5543-This scene left the other elders bewildered.

“Set up the formation.”

At that moment, many elders gathered and formed a powerful formation.

James issued the command instantly, “Attack! Break through this formation.”

This time, Qairo moved. With a single step, he appeared in front of James. He smiled faintly as he looked at the formation formed by the Yefteros’ elders.

He raised his hands, and a powerful palm sigil materialized and descended.

Boom! The void exploded instantly.

The formation set up by the Yefteros’ elders was annihilated in an instant, and their souls scattered.

This was the terror of a powerhouse at the peak of the Quasi Bliss Rank, which was capable of effortlessly killing numerous Yefteros’ elders.

The commotion within the Yeftero Race gained the attention of many powerhouses in the Yeftero World.

“What’s going on?” “Why is there such a formidable battle fluctuation from the Yeftero Race spiritual mountain?”

“Who’s bold enough to act there?”

Many powerhouses in this area were puzzled. They immediately released their Zens to sense what was happening on the spiritual mountain.

They were dumbfounded upon sensing numerous living beings outside the spiritual mountain.

Boom!

In that instant, a powerful force erupted. The Mountain Formation of the Yeftero Race shattered instantly. The residual shockwaves swept through like ripples in water and covered the entire world.

The living beings in the world were left dumbfounded. At this moment, panic set in.

‘The world is about to change.’

“Somebody is attacking the Yeftero Race. No way, this is the first time in countless ages.”

“Retreat! The Yeftero World is definitely going to be destroyed.”

Many powerhouses were panicking and fleeing.

James and the others paid no attention to those fleeing living beings. Their target was only the Yeftero Race, not the innocents.

Numerous Yeftero Race disciples were in a panic as the Mountain Formation of the Yeftero Race spiritual mountain shattered. Some weaker disciples cowered on the ground, afraid to move.

‘The audacity! Just who’s responsible for this?!’

A shout echoed from deep within the Yeftero Race spiritual mountain.

A violent force swept through following the shout. Then, a golden light shot up into the sky. The light converged to form a middle-aged man in a golden robe.

The man stood in the void, his face filled with anger.

“Our Mountain Formation has shattered. Those in seclusion, come out immediately.”

He projected a mysterious sound wave from his mouth, and this sound swept across the entire Yeftero Race spiritual mountain.

As the sound echoed, powerful forces gradually emerged from certain areas within the mountain.

One, two...

In a short moment, dozens of powerful auras emerged.

They were all Yeftero Race powerhouses. They were in seclusion and had closed off their six senses. Under normal circumstances, they would not sense external events unless forcibly awakened by a powerhouse.

At this moment, a Yeftero Race powerhouse came out from seclusion and forcibly awakened the others. Dozens of powerful auras appeared in an instant along with the powerhouses. All of them had reached the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank.

Seeing this scene, James remained unaffected and calmly said, “Is this all the powerhouses the Yeftero Race has?”

There’s only one in the Quasi Bliss Rank. They seem a bit weak.”

James’ voice echoed. It was not that he looked down on the Yeftero Race, but the displayed strength of the race at the moment was not impressive.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5544-As the Mountain Formation of the Yeftero Race was shattered, it awakened a Quasi Bliss Rank powerhouse. He used a powerful sound wave to forcefully awaken many powerhouses who were in seclusion within the Yeftero Race spiritual mountain.

Many powerhouses were awoken. Judging from their auras, all of them had reached the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank, yet none had stepped into the Quasi Bliss Rank. There was only one Quasi Bliss Rank powerhouse.

They appeared simultaneously in the sky of the Yeftero Race and stood before the awakened powerhouse.

They gazed at James and the others in the distance and furrowed their brows after sensing the powerful aura emanating from them.

“What’s going on, Grand Sect Elder?”

‘Why is there an attack on our race?’

These recently awakened powerhouses all frowned as they looked at the powerhouse at the forefront, who was an old man draped in a gray robe. He appeared elderly, and his face carried a sense of solemnity and indifference.

Glaring at James and the others, he asked coldly, “Who are you? Why are you attacking us?”

James remained composed as he spoke calmly, ‘Which powerhouse of the Yeftero Race are you? State your name.’ According to the information provided by the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion, there might be more than three Quasi Bliss Rank powerhouses within the Yeftero Race. However, only one appeared so far.

James speculated that there might be hidden powerhouses within the Yeftero Race who had yet to reveal themselves, including the Yefteros’ prince with the Obsidian Body.

The first to be alarmed was the Yefteros’ Grand Sect Elder, formerly known as the Yefteros’ Great Elder. He was a powerhouse who had existed since ancient times.

He was already at the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank during the previous upheaval in the Dark World. Then, he disappeared from the public after the Yeftero Race became the overlord of the Dark World. His name was Corrado Yeftero.

His strength was formidable. In the previous Dark World upheaval, even Quasi Bliss Rank powerhouses did not dare to confront him directly, though he had not reached that rank.

"I'm Corrado Yeftero from the Yeftero Race," Corrado replied coldly. "Today's matter will be considered settled. Leave our race immediately, or else, don't blame me for being impolite."

He could sense the terrifying strength of the approaching powerhouses. Even if the Yeftero Race won the battle, the losses would be staggering. It was better to avoid a fight if possible.

James looked around, and his Zen enveloped the Yeftero Race spiritual mountain. He furrowed his brows as he could not sense the presence of any other powerhouses.

The Yeftero Race powerhouses present differed from the information he had received. However, he could not worry too much at the moment.

He looked at Qairo and then at Jurryt, saying, "The two of you deal with Corrado Yeftero. Make sure you kill him in the shortest time possible."

"Understood." Qairo nodded.

"No need to join forces." Jurryt spoke, "I can handle him alone. You guys should quickly defeat the other powerhouses to avoid further trouble."

Jurryt was confident in his own strength. The Yefteros' Grand Sect Elder was not worth anything in his eyes.

James and the other powerhouses quietly discussed who would deal with whom. This scene left the Yeftero Race powerhouses with grim faces.

"Damn it!" Corrado cursed loudly, "No one is leaving today. Attack! Annihilate these intruders."

The powerhouses' auras instantly skyrocketed under Corrado's command. The immense aura they exerted affected the entire area, even disturbing the space itself. ' All living beings in the Yeftero World were left dumbfounded and stunned as these powerful auras surged out.
