The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5545-The auras are terrifying.”

“Are these the Yeftero Race powerhouses?”

“Who could be so audacious to attack the Yeftero Race? They’ve completely drawn out the hidden powerhouses of the race.”

‘The Yeftero World is sure to be shattered. Let’s retreat quickly.”

The living beings of this world were all stunned by the dreadful auras. They left swiftly and headed beyond the Dark World, where they observed the battle outside the Yeftero Race.

On the Yeftero Race spiritual mountain, the auras of the powerhouses were radiant. They stood in a line, with Corrado standing at the forefront.

Corrado’s expression was dark and dreadful as a powerful aura surged from him. With a mere thought, mysterious inscriptions appeared around him. These inscriptions were intricate and unpredictable.

James instantly grasped the situation and cautioned, “Be careful. He wields the primitive inscriptions of at least five Primevals.”

“Go to hell.”

Corrado’s aura reached its peak in an instant. He raised his hand, and numerous inscriptions around his body converged to form a formidable power.

This power transformed into a dazzling longsword. He exuded an invincible aura as he held the sword. With a swing, a substantial burst of Sword Energy erupted.

The power of this Sword Energy was extremely terrifying, to the point where even those at the Quasi Bliss Rank would hesitate to confront it. However, right then, Jurryt swiftly appeared on the battlefield. He said in a cold tone, “Old man, I’m your opponent.”

He employed the Grand Supernatural, forcefully taking on this fearsome sword and guiding Corrado to engage in battle in another area.

Corrado was led away.

Jurryt displayed formidable strength as he made a move. Corrado did not dare to be careless and fought with all his might.

A battle erupted in an instant with the two superpowerhouses fighting. Other Yeftero Race powerhouses joined the fray.

On James' side, Talvelai, Yered, Lemuel, and Quattro also moved immediately, confronting the powerhouses of the Yeftero Race at the peak of the Holy Celestial Rank.

Qairo was about to join the fight, but James stopped him timely, saying, "Hold back for now, Qairo. Stay with me."

Now, the only Quasi Bliss Rank powerhouse was entangled by Jurryt. The remaining Consummation Holy Celestial Rank powerhouses were all engaged. James worried that there might be hidden powerhouses, so he kept Qairo by his side to confront any unexpected situations.

Lemuel, Yered, Talvelai, Saeylla, and the five superpowerhouses of the Shadows all joined the battle.

An intense combat erupted in the area, and the powerful shockwaves of the battle swept through, causing the space to continuously collapse. The region around the Yeftero Race spiritual mountain began to collapse towards the outside world.

Soon, the powerful shockwaves of the battle swept through the entire Yeftero World. Many living beings within the Yeftero World had already evacuated.

Otherwise, the auras emitted by these powerhouses would have been enough to kill them numerous times over.

Countless living beings gathered in the dark space outside the universe, watching the battle in the world ahead. They all trembled in fear after sensing the terrifying battle aura.

"The world is going to change."

"The Yeftero Race will suffer heavy losses even if they win this battle. After this, they probably won't be able to dominate the Dark World anymore." "Yes, the Yeftero Race might lose countless powerhouses in this battle. The leader of the Four Ancient Races is probably going to fall.”

Many living beings gathered and communicated secretly.

They were pleased to witness this scene because the Yeftero Race had dominated the Dark World for too long. The Yeftero Race had always been domineering, and it would be a welcome change if a force could overthrow them

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5546-A powerful battle erupted in the Yeftero Race’s spiritual mountain.

Numerous Yeftero disciples met a grim demise in the dreadful shockwaves of the battle from the very beginning of the fight. Some had evacuated even before the battle began. However, they could not contact Hacathra, Naveen, and other powerhouses who had left because they did not have inscriptions for communication.

Those living beings who departed could only watch anxiously as the powerful shockwaves of battle destroyed the Yefteros’ spiritual mountain.

James did not bother with these weak Yefteros. His Zen swept across them as he kept an eye on them. He would instruct Qairo to forcefully eliminate any living beings at the Martial Celestial Rank or higher who attempted to leave.

He observed the entire battlefield.

The most intense battle was between Corrado and Jurryt. Corrado was formidable and terrifying, having mastered at least five types of primitive inscriptions and refined them to the utmost.

He used these inscriptions to transform into a sword containing formidable power. Even Jurryt, who wielded a trace of the power of the Dark Heavenly Path, found it challenging to fight against Corrado.

Other battles were evenly matched.

Only Yered and Talvelai were at ease because they were both at the Quasi Bliss Rank. Talvelai could even be said to surpass this rank. However, their opponents were not weak. They were at the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank.

Though they could overpower them, it was impossible to kill them in a short period.

Perhaps, Talvelai was holding back and had not exerted his full strength.

James' Zen swept around the entire battlefield.

At this moment, Quattro broke free from his opponent and entered the interior of the Yeftero Race spiritual mountain. Although his opponent was formidable, he could not do anything to stop Quattro. Seeing Quattro escaping, he joined forces with other Yeftero Race powerhouse to confront Lemuel.

Lemuel was only at the middle stage of the Holy Celestial Rank. Although he could battle against a Consummation Holy Celestial Rank powerhouse with his numerous martial arts skills, the fight was tough for him. Now, another powerhouse attacked him, and he was instantly injured.

"This piggy." James could not help but curse, "He messed up at such a crucial moment."

James looked at Quattro and found that he was heading towards the Yeftero Race's herb garden.

"This piggy is unreliable," James scolded in frustration.

Quattro ran to the herb garden at this critical moment.

He saw that Lemuel was now at a disadvantage, injured, and showing signs of defeat. He instructed Qairo beside him, "Help Lemuel and eliminate a Consummation Holy Celestial Rank powerhouse of the Yeftero Race quickly."

James knew that if Qairo did not join the battle, Lemuel would be defeated, and there might even be a possibility of him falling.

"Okay." Qairo nodded and swiftly joined the battle.

The pressure on Lemuel instantly decreased with Qairo joining.

James surveyed the entire battlefield and observed the dynamics.

Corrado noticed that James was directing the attack on the Yeftero Race. While he was locked in a fierce battle with Jurryt, he displayed a powerful martial art skill to forcefully repel Jurryt.

In that instant, he appeared in front of James. His bizarre sword was already slashing towards James at the moment he appeared.

Jurryt had been forced to retreat. By the time he reacted, Corrado had already appeared in front of James. He wanted to rescue him, but it was too late.

“Go die! You wretched brat!” Corrado cursed fiercely.

The cursing echoed, and his sword had already appeared at James’ chest.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5547-A residual light appeared in front of James at this critical moment. A man in a white robe manifested with the emergence of the light. He forcefully intercepted the formidable strike from Corrado.

This man was none other than a Quasi Bliss Rank powerhouse from the Prison World, and a Tribunal Race living being. Back in the Prison World, he had fought against five Consummation Holy Celestial Rank powerhouses and defeated them.

James asked him for a treasure before leaving, and he gave James an inscription that could summon his clone after using it.

The clone had the same combat power as the main self, but the inscription was one-time used and had a limited duration. It would disappear once the time was up.

‘This brat has a trump card.’ Seeing this scene from a distance, Jurryt breathed a sigh of relief.

Gustav appeared in front of James, blocking the fatal attack from Corrado.

At this moment, Jurryt attacked Corrado once more, and Corrado had no choice but to confront the attack.

However, Gustav did not pursue but stood in front of James, looked at him, and asked, “What’s going on? Didn’t I ask you to come out for materials? How did you end up fighting here? Where is this?”

Gustav had given James an inscription that acted as a clone connected to his main self’s thoughts.

James smiled and replied, "The materials needed for refining the Boundarybreaker Rune are too much and too scarce. I had no choice but to come and snatch them. This is the Yeftero Race, the leader of the current Four Ancient Races. I plan to wipe out this race and plunder their treasures."

"I see," Gustav realized and said, "My clone can't last for too long. Just tell me if there's anything you need me to do. My clone can at least eliminate a Quasi Bliss Rank powerhouse if it goes all out."

James raised his hand slightly and said, "We currently have the upper hand.

You don't need to take action for now. Just stay by my side to protect me. I'm worried that there might be hidden powerhouses within the Yeftero Race."

Although James had other means and cards, he did not intend to use them so soon. The Karma Power sealed within his body was a lifesaving measure that he wanted to keep for now. It was not the time to use it yet.

"Alright." Gustav nodded lightly and stood beside James, scanning the entire battlefield.

Qairo joined to assist Lemuel on the battlefield. They quickly overwhelmed their opponents, and Qairo did not intend to linger with the Yeftero Race powerhouses. Instead, he unleashed a powerful martial art skill, the Elemental Curses.

The Yeftero Race powerhouse at the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank was no match with the Elemental Curses. Affected by the power of the curses, half of his body disintegrated, and his soul weakened significantly. At this moment, he felt the threat of death and had no intention to continue the fight. He planned to escape.

Seeing the powerhouse attempting to flee, Qairo flashed behind him. With a raised hand, he manifested the power of the Elemental Curses in his palm.

The terrifying force born from the fusion of the Elemental Curses attacked the back of the Yeftero Race powerhouse. The powerhouse took a hit, and his back started to collapse.

Boom!

Immediately after, his entire body exploded. At this point, a Yeftero powerhouse at the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank fell, marking the first Yeftero powerhouse to succumb in battle.

With the death of a powerhouse, Lemuel let out a sigh of relief. He was already injured at this point. He quickly retreated to the area where James was.

As soon as Lemuel appeared, he could not help but scold, "You brat, you almost got me killed. I wouldn't have joined in if I had known that all the Yeftero Race powerhouses were at the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank."

James smiled and replied, 'The chances of winning this battle are high for us.

Go heal yourself. The fight has just begun. There will surely be brutal battles ahead "

He speculated that there were still true powerhouses within the Yeftero Race who had not revealed themselves yet.

These powerhouses might not have appeared for various reasons, but they would inevitably emerge as the battle escalated.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5548-The most intense battle outside the Yefteros' spiritual mountain was between Corrado and Jurryt.

Corrado had reached the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank even before the previous upheaval of the Dark World. After the Yeftero Race dominated the Dark World, he secluded himself to comprehend the primitive inscriptions harvested in battles. By now, he had mastered various primitive inscriptions.

His strength was formidable. Jurryt could only contend with him, even though Jurryt wielded a trace of the power of the Dark Heavenly Path. Killing him proved to be a daunting task, and signs of Jurryt's defeat were becoming evident in the ongoing battle.

James saw this and immediately instructed Qairo, Talvelai, and Yered, "Don't hold back any longer. Give it your all. First, eliminate the opponent. Then, assist Jurryt in defeating Corrado."

Following James' orders, they unleashed their full power, making it challenging for even the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank powerhouses.

However, reaching the Consummation Great Celestial Rank was terrifying, and killing someone at this rank posed difficulties.

James shifted his attention to other areas of the Yeftero Race. Despite most regions being ravaged, some remained intact. These areas contained potent barrier formations that resisted the destructive aftermath of the fierce battle because they were mysterious.

In the Yefteros' herb garden, James noticed that Quattro had stolen numerous Emphyrean herbs. Currently, Quattro was heading towards the area where the Yeftero Race's library was located.

Arriving at the library, Quattro faced a powerful formation that rendered him helpless. Forced to give up, he then rushed towards the Yeftero Race's treasury but could not open it. He cursed in frustration, turning to search for treasures scattered across the spiritual mountains.

"Damn piggy! He is out looking for treasures while others are in the midst of battle," James could not help but curse.

At that moment, a dazzling radiance emerged in a distant spiritual mountain of the Yeftero Race, followed by an unparalleled aura.

"Who dares to be so audacious in my race?" A voice filled with supreme pressure echoed through the area.

This voice left many battling powerhouses disoriented, their minds blank, and their spirits in disarray.

"This is quite powerful." Gustav beside James sensed the aura and furrowed his brows. He said, "Such strength is rarely seen, even in the former Dark World." James' gaze fixated on the distance and he murmured, "Is the strongest powerhouse of the Yeftero Race finally making an appearance? I wonder who that is. Could it be the Yefteros' prince, Xayvion Yeftero?"

James continued to gaze into the distance. Battles in other areas ceased, and numerous powerhouses separated.

Qairo, Yered, Talvelai, Saeylla, other Shadows powerhouses, and Jurryt appeared beside James. However, apart from Qairo, Yered, Talvelai, and Jurryt, other powerhouses were injured.

Nevertheless, the Yeftero Race powerhouses were more severely wounded, with one even being killed. Now, another powerhouse from the race had emerged. He exuded a terrifying aura. Even powerhouses like Yered, Yuvin, and Jurryt felt the pressure.

“Has he reached the Transcendental Bliss Rank?” Qairo furrowed his brows, his expression growing solemn. He said, ‘The aura of this Yeftero powerhouse is terrifying, even surpassing mine. I experienced such an aura only when I crossed the Transcendental Bliss Rank Tribulation, and it was during that time that I had such a formidable aura.’

Upon hearing this, James’ expression also turned serious.

In the far distance, countless radiance gathered, followed by a figure soaring into the sky. The illusory figure gradually solidified into a young man dressed in a white robe. He had a handsome face and an aura distinct from ordinary living beings.

Standing atop myriad radiance, the brilliance beneath his feet dimmed. Floating in the void, he looked down upon James and the others from a high vantage point.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5549-It’s the prince.” ‘The prince has come out of seclusion. These anomalies are doomed.’

Many Yeftero powerhouses were excited. Although they spent most of their time in seclusion, they were aware of the birth of powerhouses within the race.

Xayvion Yeftero, the Yefteros’ prince and the youngest son of Hacathra, possessed a rare constitution known as the Obsidian Body.

He stood in the void, adorned with mysterious inscriptions circulating on his body. James instantly sensed numerous types of inscriptions from various races. Although he had not seen or studied them, he could feel the quantity of inscriptions, numbering at least twenty Primevals.

‘This is terrifying.’ James furrowed his brow.

“Your Highness.” Corrado appeared before Xayvion. He was disheveled and fierce-looking. He said, “These anomalies have attacked our race and seek our destruction. Today, let us join forces and eliminate them right here.”

Xayvion remained calm. He swept his gaze to James and the others in the distance, a faint smile playing on his lips as he said, "Death is too merciful for them."

Xayvion was confident in his abilities. He sensed the strength of James and the other with just a gaze.

"All of you are formidable." He looked at them and continued, "You could wipe out any race in the Dark World. Unfortunately, you've picked the wrong target.

You shouldn't have stirred trouble in the Yeftero Race."

On James' side, everyone's expressions turned grave. Xayvion's aura was overwhelming until it crushed all living beings present.

"Could he have truly broken through and reached the Transcendental Bliss Rank?" Talvelai spoke solemnly. His rank was above the Quasi Bliss Rank but beneath the Transcendental Bliss Rank.

However, he felt that Xayvion was powerful and surpassed his aura. The only rank that could surpass him was the Transcendental Bliss Rank.

James glanced at Qairo and asked in a low voice, "What are your chances against him?"

Qairo furrowed his brow and replied, "Probably less than thirty percent."

Hearing this, James' expression became serious. He was stressed at the moment.

James knew Qairo's strength. He was at the peak of Quasi Bliss Rank, only a step away from Quasi Bliss Rank.

Elemental Curses. Even with all this, his odds against Xayvion were only thirty percent. The impending battle was indeed formidable.

"Why are you attacking us?" Xayvion asked as he looked at James and the others in the distance. At this moment, he sensed Quattro scavenging treasures throughout the Yeftero Race spiritual mountains.

His expression darkened, and he waved his hand. A powerful force materialized, lifting Quattro into the sky and delivering a seemingly casual palm strike.

Despite its casual appearance, the palm harbored formidable power. Quattro's body instantly ruptured and suffered from severe injuries. An illusory palm sigil materialized as Xayvion made a move, forcefully pulling Quattro.

Sensing the imminent threat of death, Quattro could not help but cry out, "Save me, Dragon Emperor..."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5550-The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5550-Quattro was forcefully captured by Xayvion while searching for the Yefteros' treasures. In critical condition and injured, he was dragged by Xayvion, unable to resist even though his strength was formidable.

Quattro sensed the threat of death at this moment. This time, he was truly afraid. It was the first time he felt fear since becoming the Primogenitor of the Aveswine. James was the only one who could save him.

Xayvion's illusory hand gripped Quattro, staring coldly at James and the others in the distance. He questioned, "Now, I'll give you a chance. If you answer my question honestly, then I can spare his life temporarily."

Xayvion had come out of seclusion, but he was not very clear about what had happened and why powerhouses were attacking the Yeftero Race.

"Who are you, and why are you attacking us?" His voice echoed in this area.

James' expression became solemn. He felt a sense of urgency seeing Quattro's life hanging by a thread. Quattro was someone he had called for, and he could not let him die here.

In that instant, he summoned Trevelyan that was sealed. Gripping Trevelyan, he looked at Xayvion in the distance and said coldly, "Try laying a finger on him."

"Sir Trevelyan?"

Some Yeftero powerhouses in the distance became anxious.

"Your Highness, Sir Trevelyan must not die. He has reached the Quasi Bliss Rank. It'll have a significant impact on our race if he dies," said an elder.

Xayvion's face was darkened. Since the last upheaval in the Dark World, the Yeftero Race had become the overlord of the Dark World, and no living beings dared to threaten them. Now, they were threatened and attacked.

'Death.' Xayvion's eyes were filled with a certain ferocity. In his eyes, James and the others were already dead.

James held onto Trevelyan. At the same time, he communicated secretly with Qairo and the others. "Qairo, Talvelai, Jurryt, and Yered, do you have confidence to join forces to deal with the Yefteros' prince?"

Qairo transmitted to James, "We can give it a try."

Talvelai also transmitted a message, "There's no turning back at this point."

Yered added, "We'll go to deal with the Yefteros' prince."

What about the other Quasi Bliss Rank powerhouse and the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank powerhouses? You won't be able to resist if they attack you."

Jurryt looked at Saeylla beside him and secretly transmitted, "We'll join forces to deal with the Yefteros' prince, and you lead the five Shadowers powerhouses to resist the Consummation Holy Celestial Rank powerhouse."

Saeylla asked through transmission, "What about Corrado? He is also a Quasi Bliss Rank powerhouse. Who will deal with him?"

Jurryt did not have too many worries because James had another Quasi Bliss Rank powerhouse by his side.

James looked at Gustav in front of him and secretly transmitted, "Gustav, can you change Corrado at the cost of your life?"

"I'll give it a try. Even if I can't change him, I can at least severely injure him and make him lose his combat effectiveness."

James had planned detailed battle plans in a short time.

Xayvion held Quattro in the distance. After contemplating for a while, he released Quattro.

Quattro appeared by James' side as he broke free. He took a deep breath, pulled out a healing elixir, and swallowed it. Then, he scolded loudly in a carefree manner.

Xayvion said coldly, "Brat, I've already let him go. Now, it's your turn. Release Sir Trevelyan."
