The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5561-Soon, James heard back from the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion.

“The Yefteros’ powerhouses have returned to their headquarters. They’ve decided to close off their spiritual mountain and ignore outsider affairs for now.

“In the past eons, the Yefteros occupied many worlds. Now that they’ve chosen to close off their spiritual mountain, it’d be equivalent to abandoning these conquered worlds. The Dark World’s races will start fighting over them very soon.”

After receiving the news, a satisfied smile emerged on James’ face. Things had progressed in the direction he wished. Even though they failed to annihilate the Yefteros, they had caused tremendous damage to them. Finally, the Yefteros had lost their status as the Four Ancient Race’s leaders. Now that the Yefteros’ rule was over, a new era was about to begin.

James’ next goal was to rectify the Central Plane and merge all planes into one.

The Dark World’s various races would be busy fighting over the Yefteros’ abandoned worlds and would not pay much attention to the Central Plane. Even if they insisted on intervening with his plans, they had to be sure they were strong enough.

The Dark World was shocked after James led many powerhouses to attack the Yefteros.

Meanwhile, Talvelai left the Central Plane’s Elysium Hall and returned to the Mevryees. As soon as Talvelai returned to the Mevryees, he dispatched their powerhouses to occupy the vacant worlds abandoned by the Yefteros. The Mevryees were one of the Four Ancient Races and were already a potent force.

Talvelai wanted to gain as much territory as possible to improve their overall strength.

After Talvelai left, Yered also returned to the Flammae, wanting to seize the opportunity to strengthen their race.

Concurrently, the Shadows were also on the move. After staying hidden for such a long time, they finally resurfaced in the public eye and were also looking to take over the Yefteros' abandoned land.

Powerful races such as the Suuntelis and Zoltrumms did not stay idle either.

James's attack on the Yefteros broke the Dark World's power structure.

Countless races had emerged, including some hidden for a long time, hoping to share a piece of the pie.

The Dark World's various were competing for hegemony.

James stayed in the Central Plane but kept an eye out for the Dark World's situation. The Heavenly Secrets Pavilion kept James updated about the Dark World's movements.

Everything was going according to James' plan. Now that the Dark World was in chaos, nobody would have the time to care about him rectifying the Central Plane. For James to successfully merge all of the planes, he must first master their Genesis Paths.

However, James' Genesis Path Scripture only recorded the Genesis Paths he had collected in his previous life. After his reincarnation, many new planes had formed. Thus, he did not have the chance to learn these planes' Genesis Paths.

What he had to do now was to collect these plane's Genesis Paths.

He ordered the Elysium Halls' patrollers to gather these Genesis Paths to prepare for the integration of the planes.

James had his hands free for now. In the battle against the Yefteros, he was severely injured. After leaving all the Elysium Hall's affairs to Quattro, he went into seclusion.

There were two purposes for his seclusion-to recuperate and try to break into the Martial Celestial Rank.

After the battle, James realized how weak he was. There was a massive gap between his strength and the top powerhouses of the Dark World.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5562-ames realized his lack of strength and decided to cultivate. He came to the Elysium Hall's back mountain and set up a time formation. Then, he sat in a lotus position.

During the fight against the Yefteros, he was severely injured. If it were not for the Glacies' Ulus in his body, his flesh and soul would have perished. His survival was also owed to his exceptional body, which was made of countless practically immortal as long as his physical body was not destroyed instantly.

Although he survived this time, he suffered serious trauma. It would take some time before he fully recovered.

James sat in a lotus position in the back mountain of the Elysium Hall and focused on treating his injuries. His powers flowed through his body and healed his wounds. At the same time, he tempered with his body to enhance its strength.

His injuries were gradually healed, and his physical strength improved.

Afterward, James attempted to break into the Martial Celestial Rank. He mobilized all his power, and his aura skyrocketed. Soon, he sensed the existence of a realm barrier.

James gathered his aura into a shadowy figure and commanded it to attack the realm barrier.

Boom!

As soon as the realm barrier was shattered, the invisible shackle in his body disappeared. The Empyrean Spiritual Energy in the environment was absorbed through his pores and converted by his body into power.

James' aura skyrocketed.

"Finally!" James restrained his aura and smiled.

He stood up, stretched his body, and sensed the power flowing within his body.

"Even though I've reached the Martial Celestial Rank, I'm still weak. I can only use my physical strength until the Holy Celestial Rank." Although James had improved his cultivation rank, he was not satisfied. The Martial Celestial Rank was considered quite powerful in the Central Plane, as well as other planes. However, his strength was nothing impressive in the Dark World.

However, James could still crush an opponent at the Holy Celestial Rank with the addition of his countless Supernatural Powers.

Moreover, he knew it was no use in rushing to improve. It would be much more beneficial if he improved step-by-step.

After reaching the Martial Celestial Rank, the Holy Celestial Rank did not sound that far. With his mastery of inscriptions, he firmly believed that it was only a matter of time before he reached the Holy Celestial Rank.

James dispersed the time formation and headed to the Elysium Hall's front mountain.

He immediately sensed a powerful aura and hastened his steps.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5563-Many living beings were gathered in the main hall, including Quattro, Qiyana, Qairo, Jada, and Xeraiah.

Inside the main hall was a woman who looked identical to Jada. She had a mesmerizing face, and her body emitted an herbal fragrance.

'There you are,' Quattro stood up and introduced the woman to James, "This beauty here is Jada's sister. I saved her from the Yefteros' herb garden. Back then, she was still an Empyrean herb. Jada helped evolve her into a living being."

"Mhm." James nodded lightly, then he sat down. His eyes fixated on Xeraiah, also known as Emperor Raiah.

In the Endlos Plane, there were countless legends about Emperor Raiah. James would have felt like he had met an idol if he were in the past.

He had only recently discovered Emperor Raiah had another identity. Xeraiah was, in fact, the reincarnation of the Heavenly Secrets Pavilion's Master.

In Xeraiah's past life, he was from the Tribunal Race. However, he was not imprisoned with his family in the Prison World.

He had dreams of rescuing his race's powerhouses from the Prison World. After reaching the Quasi Bliss Rank, and claiming to be the Dark World's Lord, he snuck into the Yefteros and stole the oil lamp.

However, he was injured while escaping and was left with no choice but to reincarnate into the Endlos Plane. That was how his new identity, Emperor Raiah, came into existence.

Now, Xeraiah had already recovered to the Quasi Bliss Rank.

James looked at Xeraiah and asked, "When did you arrive?"

Xeraiah replied, "A few years ago. I saw you were in seclusion, so I refrained from disturbing you."

"Did you come to join forces with me?" asked James.

Xeraiah smiled and said, "Not really. Although I was reincarnated into the Endlos Plane and technically am from the same plane as you, I was still a member of the Tribunal Race in my past life. My goal is to save my race's powerhouses. I need to enter the Prison World, but the oil lamp is with you."

James replied, "Even if I were to give you the oil lamp, it'd be useless. You can enter the Prison World, but you won't be able to bring anyone out."

Xeraiah answered, "I'm aware. I'd simply like to check out the Prison World's situation first."

James explained, "I've already been to the Prison World. There's nothing abnormal there, and the various races live in harmony. However, powerhouses at the Quasi Bliss Rank were sealed away. I am gathering some materials to bring into the Prison World. Seraphiel, who is inside the Prison World, can craft some powerful Boundarybreaker Runes that neutralize formations. With these runes, those trapped inside the Prison World will be able to leave."

Xeraiah thought for a while and asked, "How about we join forces to capture the powerhouses of the different races and force them to break the Prison World's formation?"

Xeraiah suggested the quickest way he could think of to save his race's powerhouses.

With James' forces, they could force the different races of the Dark World to send a representative to break the formation.

James shook his head and said, "I'm afraid that won't work. After the strife, many of these races were wiped out. Their primitive inscriptions have also disappeared."

"Even if they still existed, you're suggesting war against the entire Dark World. I don't have the strength to fight, nor will the powerhouses around me agree to it."

Previously, James exhausted many of his resources to get powerhouses to help him destroy the Yefteros. Apart from his enticing offers, these powerhouses only agreed to get involved because they stood to benefit.

They would not agree to help him gather the different races' powerhouses to open the Prison World's formation.

Xeraiah sighed helplessly.

James said with a smile, "Don't worry. I've already been to the Prison World.

The Tribunal Race is fine. I even met Gustav Terrell. He gave me an inscription, which played a huge part in the attack on the Yefteros."

"What's your next plan?" asked Xeraiah.

James replied, "I want to merge the countless planes to form a powerful world.

Only by doing so can we stand against the Dark World's major races."

"Can I help you with anything?" asked Xeraiah.

James replied, "Definitely. Even after I master all of the different plane's Genesis Paths, merging them won't be easy. During the fusion process, there will be great resistance. I need some powerhouses to help me with the resistance."

"Alright. If you ever need help with anything else, just let me know. I only have one request. Next time when you enter the Prison World, take me with you."

"Sure.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5564-Now that James had recovered from his injuries and his cultivation rank had improved, it was time to integrate the planes.

However, James had to learn the Genesis Paths of the planes he had not mastered yet.

While he was in seclusion, the Elysium Hall's patrollers had headed out to some newly formed planes and seized their Genesis Paths.

About 10,000 Genesis Paths were collected and brought back to the Elysium Hall. James did not expect so many planes to be born after his reincarnation.

Although they were low-level planes, they were crucial to forming a major world.

"I'll be entering seclusion again to comprehend the new Genesis Paths."

After leaving a few words, James headed to the Elysium Hall's back mountain.

He set up a time formation again and began comprehending the newly acquired Genesis Paths.

James had already mastered numerous primitive inscriptions from the Dark World and had also cultivated the Primal Mantra.

The Primal Mantra contained the Human Race's primitive inscriptions, the core of all primitive inscriptions. Thus, it was easy for him to master the Genesis Paths of low-level planes. He would easily become profound if he spent some time studying them.

James very quickly mastered the Genesis Paths inside the time formation.

Then, he immediately left seclusion.

He contacted the Shadowers' Great Commander, Jurryt, and requested him to come to the Central Plane to help merge the planes.

However, Jurryt was busy in the Dark World, leading the Shadowers' powerhouses in the fight over the Yefteros' abandoned worlds.

The Mevryees were also entangled in the competition over territory.

The only available powerhouses were Qairo and Xeraiah.

The other powerhouses were not in the Central Plane.

James thought about it for a while. Eventually, he concluded that Qairo and Xeraiah should be able to withstand the resistant force from the fusion of planes.

Inside the Elysium Hall's main hall, many powerhouses gathered.

Quattro said excitedly, "Are you ready to merge the planes, General? Are you about to create an invisible world?"

'Yeah.'" James nodded lightly.

Quattro approached James and asked eagerly, "After you succeed, what position will I be given? I want to be the Lord of the new world. Meanwhile, you...you should go behind the scenes."

James glared at Quattro.

Quattro said frantically, "At least let me be the deputy lord!"

James could not be bothered listening to Quattro's nonsense. He looked at Qairo and Xeraiah, then said, "I'm ready to merge the planes. It will be a complicated process, and some potent force will emerge. I need you two to help me keep these forces under control. Also..."

After briefly pausing, James said, "I'm worried the Dark World's races will intervene. If they do, I need you two to help me kill them."

Although most of the Dark World's major races were busy fighting over territory, James was still concerned some would show up to cause trouble.

"Sure, no problem," Qairo and Xeraiah replied simultaneously.

"Mhm." James nodded.

"What about me? What do I do?" asked Quattro.

James replied, "Stay here and don't cause trouble."

After speaking, James disappeared. The next moment, he was already in the Central Plane's void. He hovered in the void, and a potent aura rose from his body.

Countless Genesis inscriptions materialized around him.

James needed these Genesis Inscriptions to merge the countless planes with the Central Plane. His aura permeated the void and swept the Central Plane.

The living beings in the Central Plane instantly took notice of the aura.

"What's happening?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5565-"What a potent aura.

"It's coming from the universe where the Elysium Hall is located. Is something happening there again?"

Powerhouses from all over the Central Plane were puzzled. They quickly released their Zen, trying to sense what was happening in the Elysium Hall. All of them ended up noticing James in the universe's void.

"It's James!"

"What exactly is James trying to do?"

The Central Plane's powerhouses were surprised.

Meanwhile, Lemuel had been in seclusion in a holy site of the Dieux Academy's back mountain. Ever since his return from the Dark World, he had been recuperating. He had already recovered but remained in seclusion to cultivate.

After the previous battle, he realized his shortcomings. Even though he had strength at the Holy Celestial Rank's Consummation, he still struggled against a real powerhouse at the Holy Celestial Rank's Consummation. In a prolonged battle, he would surely be defeated miserably.

He had encountered many powerhouses at the Quasi Bliss Rank this time and was aware of how terrifying the rank was.

While in seclusion, Lemuel sensed the powerful aura fluctuations coming from the universe where the Elysium Hall was located. He immediately released his Zen to check out the situation.

“This guy...”

After sensing the Genesis Paths emerging from James’ body, Lemuel knew he was about to merge the planes.

“I wonder what kind of world will be born after all the planes merge with the Central Plane?” Lemuel was looking forward to the outcome.

All of the Central Plane’s powerhouses were paying attention to James.

However, only Lemuel of the Dieux Academy knew what James wanted to do.

Everyone else was completely oblivious to what James’ goal was.

“Go!” James suddenly shouted.

His voice resounded throughout the area, and the countless Genesis Paths spread out. The Genesis Paths slowly merged into the planes around the Central Plane.

James controlled the planes with the Genesis Paths.

At that moment, the countless planes slowly moved and merged toward the Central Plane.

The Central Plane’s living beings were dumbfounded.

“W-What is he doing?”

“Is he trying to merge the planes?”

“That’s crazy!”

Everyone was surprised.

James mobilized the Genesis Paths to forcibly move these planes toward the Central Plane. One of the planes got very close to the Central Plane.

Immediately, there were signs of fusion. However, a bizarre force emerged after they came in contact.

The force was similar to Karma Power but was more bizarre.

At that moment, James was struck by a backlash, and he suffered an injury.

His physical body was at the Holy Celestial Rank's late stage, but he was still injured.

"The backlash power is so potent." James frowned.

He had merged planes before but never sustained a backlash. Thus, it came as a surprise. His actions seemed to have attracted some kind of forbidden power.

However, James was not about to give up after getting so far. Otherwise, everything would be in vain.

"Come on!" James' face darkened.

An area of the plane began to fuse with the Central Plane. The area in which the two planes had interlapped suddenly split apart. The living beings in those areas were instantly killed.

Many living beings died tragically.

James, however, could not be bothered with them for now. With his strength, he could easily resurrect them later.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5565-The first to merge with the Central Plane was a ninth-level plane.

James knew he must merge the Central Plane and the ninthlevel plane's Genesis Paths. Only by doing so could he successfully fuse the two planes.

At that moment, James activated the ninth-level plane's Genesis Path and merged it with the Central Plane's Genesis Path.

He could even fuse the Elemental Primevals' primitive inscriptions. Thus, merging the two Genesis Paths was relatively easy.

As the Genesis Paths merged, the two planes gradually began to connect.

However, the backlash also grew stronger.

James forcibly endured the intense pressure.

“I won’t let you do as you please, James!” Suddenly, a potent aura came from the plane. Then, a powerhouse at the Martial Celestial Rank rushed out.

The plane was the foundation of this powerhouse’s existence. Losing the plane would mean losing his title as a Plane Lord. As a result, he would lose countless cultivation resources.

“Get lost.” Before James could even respond, Quattro knocked the powerhouses away.

James ignored them and continued the merging process.

Qairo and Xeraiah were not idle either. Their task was to watch the Dark World and prevent its powerhouses from intervening. At the same time, they had to help James with the resistance force from the merging of planes.

While merging the two planes, James sustained some backlash. However, he was still able to endure it. Thus, there was no need for Qairo and Xeraiah to intervene.

Qairo and Xeraiah stood outside the Elysium Hall.

Xeraiah turned to Qairo and asked, “What do you think about the world that will be born after the countless planes are merged with the Central Plane?”

Qairo shook his head and replied, “I don’t know. I heard all the planes were initially core pieces from the Ancestral Site. No matter how strong this new world is, it won’t compare to the Ancestral Site.” Xeraiah said thoughtfully, “The current Prison World is the former Ancestral Site’s ruins. After James merges the countless planes with the Central Plane, then with the Prison World, he can restore the Ancestral Site.”

“Restore the Ancestral Site?” Qairo murmured thoughtfully.

To him, the Ancestral Site was a legend that existed only in ancient books. It was destroyed a long time ago. If it were restored, it would become a historical event.

Qairo and Xeraiah were looking forward to the future.

At that moment, the ninth-level plane rapidly merged with the Central Plane. The two powerful planes overlapped, and countless areas were destroyed.

“Fuse!!!” James used all his strength to urge the fusion of the two planes.

A mysterious force emerged and crushed James. His knees bent, unable to fully withstand the force.

Qairo took notice and immediately helped James.

With Qairo’s assistance, the pressure on James’ body subsided significantly.

James focused on merging the two planes and was met with success shortly after. The Central Plane had grown more extensive, and its Genesis Paths more potent.

After fusing the ninth-level plane with the Central Plane, James gained some experience.

He moved on to fuse the next plane. This time, he chose a low-level plane and faced no backlash. The process was relatively smooth and fast
