The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5696-After James and Xayvion died, the Hagios Sect led the group of powerhouses to victory. However, they had suffered a great loss to wipe out the Morro Sect.

The Dark World survived, but the Anceralos World was shattered into several floating spaces.

A woman came to one of the shattered spaces, which was completely deserted.

She wore a red robe and had long black hair.

She held a long sword in her hands and murmured, 'You asked me to bury this sword in place of you.' Hershya looked at the Supremusse Sword sentimentally. After recomposing herself, she dug a hole in the ground and buried the Supremusse Sword. Then, she turned around and left the area.

Not long after Hershya left, a Wyot and Yemima appeared at the grave.

Yemima had already recovered her memories from before she arrived in the Anceralos Era. She also remembered everything from her previous life, including her relationship with James.

Wyot walked toward the grave and stared at the tombstone. He sat down, took out a jug of wine, and leaned against the tombstone. Then, he said sorrowfully, "I can't believe it. How could you just leave like this?"

Yemima stood aside silently, waiting for Wyot to grieve.

After some time, she asked, "Shall we go back?"

"Go back?" Wyot looked at her and asked, "Where are you referring to? Back to the Hagios Sect or the Dooms?"

Yemime said softly, "To our era. We don't belong here."

Wyot replied, "Not yet. He'll be lonely in this era by himself. He sacrificed to protect this era. I'd like to stay and watch over him for a while."

Yemima nodded lightly and said, "Okay. I'll stay with you."

James did not belong to the Anceralos Era, yet he sacrificed himself. After his passing, many of his acquaintances came to pay homage to him.

However, he was gradually forgotten over time.

A long time later, many different incidents occurred, and his contributions were forgotten. Wyot also left after guarding over James' grave for some time.

Nobody knew where he had gone.

During the battle, James had integrated his soul into the formation. After it was shattered, it formed into countless inscriptions and disappeared into the darkness.

Hershya also followed through with James' request and buried the Supremusse Sword.

James had already integrated some of his Soul Genesis Aura onto the sword.

The inscriptions had some weird magnetic power, pulling in some inscriptions from the Dark World.

The inscriptions slowly floated toward James' grave. Ultimately, they came together and formed a skeleton.

After James' formation was shattered, the inscriptions scattered throughout the Dark World.

A long time after his passing, the Supremusse Sword began attracting the formation of inscriptions from the Dark World.

The inscriptions floated in the darkness and disappeared into a dark rift.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5697-Many years later, the energy from the Dark World gradually evolved into planes.

The space where James' tomb was located also became part of a certain plane.

However, a powerful formation covered the space, and ordinary living beings could not approach it.

Over time, these planes merged into a massive world.

One day, Zella and Stephen showed up to retrieve the Supremusse Sword buried inside the grave.

A white skeleton had already formed within the supposedly empty coffin when they arrived.

The skeleton was formed by inscriptions and had no life force. Although James had already integrated his Divine Soul, the skeleton was still incomplete, and he had not awakened.

For James to resurrect, all of the scattered inscriptions from his formation must be collected to complete his Divine Soul.

His skeleton was almost complete.

After the Supremusse Sword was taken away, the inscriptions hidden in the Dark World quickly moved toward the grave.

The inscriptions submerged into the skeleton and slowly completed it.

Suddenly, the skeleton seemed to have awakened. The inscriptions looked alive and flowed rapidly through the white bones, unleashing a dazzling glow.

Flesh and veins formed on the skeleton. Soon enough, it transformed into a complete body. The man sat up from the coffin, and countless memories flashed through his mind.

Everything from his childhood, Thea saving him from the inferno, the earth regaining its Empyrean Spiritual Energy, and even the twelve universes. All these past events flooded his mind.

James murmured, "Great. I avoided perishing because of the Ritual Rank. I wonder how much time has passed and which era I'm in. It's time I return to where I came from."

He stood up from the coffin and stepped out. Then, James began to sense his cultivation rank.

James had successfully avoided the Ritual Rank's fate by integrating his soul into inscriptions and letting them float throughout the Dark World.

During this period, his Divine Soul had been nourished by the surrounding energy of the Dark World. After his reawakening, his soul was very strong.

After avoiding the Ritual Rank, James naturally entered the Transcendental Bliss Rank's first stage.

Stephen immediately appeared in front of James.

Stephen had not completely mastered the Endlos Plane's Genesis Path when he left seclusion last time. After dealing with the Endlos Plane's crisis, he returned to seclusion and finally succeeded.

Moreover, he had improved to the Quasi Bliss Rank's peak.

"Master?" After sensing the abnormal aura, Stephen rushed over. He was confused when he saw the man who had stepped out of the coffin. "What are you doing here, Master?" Stephen was surprised.

"Stephen?" James smiled upon seeing the familiar face.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5698-James was surprised to see Stephen right after he was resurrected.

After seeing Stephen, James immediately knew what era he had awoken in. He had been dead for a long time and returned to his original era.

"Why are you here, Master?" Stephen asked doubtfully, "Didn't you go after Xayvion and enter the River of Time?"

"Don't tell me the skeleton inside the coffin belonged to you?"

"It's a long story. By the way, what happened after I left?" asked James.

Stephen replied, "After you chased after Xayvon, the Dark World's major races gave up resistance. Qiyana also took the opportunity to avenge the Glacies.

Except for the Mevryees, the other three of the Four Ancient Races were eliminated. The Four Ancient Races have ceased to exist.

"After that, the Dark World and the Endlos Plane had been in peace, and nothing significant occurred, including war.

Stephen briefly explained the past events.

James was relieved that everything had returned to normal. The sacrifices he had made were worth it. After learning of the current situation, he said, "Let's go."

Stephen was curious as to what had happened to James. However, he did not pry since James did not bring it up.

The two left the area and arrived at the Endlos Plane's Elysium Hall.

"No, I refuse."

"You fucking pig! You better give up the Elysium Hall today! Look how many ridiculous things have happened while you were in charge of the Elysium Hall?"

As soon as James arrived at the main hall, he overheard a heated argument.

"What's going on?"

Xeraiah and Quattro's quarrel was interrupted by a sudden voice.

Everyone immediately turned to the entrance and saw two men walking toward them.

James and Stephen approached.

Stunned, Quattro exclaimed, "G-General? You're not dead yetr Xeraiah also asked, surprised, "James? Y-You're back?"

"Yeah." James nodded lightly, scanned the hall, and saw many familiar acquaintances.

Qiyana, Qairo, Jada, and her sister were in the hall.

“James!” Qiyana rushed over and said smilingly, “You’re back!”

Qiyana explained, “Xeraiah is fighting Quattro over the position as the Elysium Hall’s Lord.”

Quattro said innocently, “During the last battle, I gave it my all and almost died.

It contributed greatly to the new plane. I should be the Elysium Hall’s Master.”

Xeraiah refuted, “I did not want to interfere, but this fucking pig has been causing a lot of trouble in the new plane!”

James said calmly, “That’s enough. It’s not even worth fighting over.”

Then, he turned to Quattro and said, “You should behave.”

“I’ve been well-behaved,” Quattro said innocently.

Qiyana asked curiously, “Since you’re back, does that mean Xayvion is dead?

Did you kill him?”

“Yeah.” James nodded lightly.

While in the Anceralos Era, James integrated his soul into the formation, and he self-destructed. Even Xayvion, a powerhouse at the Transcendental Bliss Rank’s sixth stage, was obliterated.

“Good.” Qiyana sighed in relief.

“You guys continue whatever you were doing. I’ll return to the Heavenly Court,”

James bid farewell, then left the main hall.

As soon as James was gone, everyone stared at Stephen curiously.

After the previous battle, Quattro was allowed to rule the Elysium Hall. However, he had not mastered the new plane’s Genesis Path. Stephen, on the other hand, had mastered it.

Logically, Stephen was the new plane's lord.

Xeraiah looked at Stephen and said angrily, "Say something, Stephen! This stupid pig has been causing so much trouble while in charge of the Elysium Hall."

Stephen smiled and said, "It's fine as long as he doesn't cause too much harm."

Who stays in charge of the Elysium Hall doesn't matter. Speaking of which, didn't you always want to enter the Prison World? Now that James is back, you can ask him to bring you."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5699-Quattro smiled triumphantly and said, "Stop fighting with me, Xeraiah. Don't worry. I won't let anything happen to the Elysium Hall while in charge."

James appeared outside the Human Race's Heavenly Court. He stood at the South Heaven Gate and looked at the guards stationed sentimentally. He never thought chasing after Xayvion would lead to so many things.

He was curious about what had happened after his death and why the Halycon Road disappeared. He still had yet to unravel why records about the Halcyon Road were limited in their current era. Also, the reason why Xezal reincarnated was still a mystery.

James murmured, "A vaster place outside of the Dark World 99 A guard suddenly shouted, "Who's there!"

Several guards surrounded James.

"This is the Human Race's Heavenly Court. If you've no business, hurry up and leave."

James looked at the guard calmly and did not embarrass them.

“J-James?!!”

At that moment, a general approached. He had tan skin and donned shiny armor.

Henry stared at James with disbelief. Then, he quickly rushed over and shouted happily, “James is back!!!”

His voice resounded through the Heavenly Court.

Swoosh! Swish! Swoosh!

Several light rays descended in the area. A few humans had arrived outside the South Heaven Gate after hearing about James’ return.

“Dad!”

“James!”

Many people showed up with delighted expressions.

James’ eyes swept over them, one by one.

After the new plane was born, all of them had been blessed, and their strengths had improved by leaps and bounds.

Now, they were at the Holy Celestial Rank.

Many had even entered the Martial Celestial Rank and the Holy Celestial Rank.

James said smilingly, “It won’t be long before more opportunities arise. You guys must make good use of it.”

“More opportunities?” Everyone was stunned.

James nodded and said, “Yes. Our current plane is a part of the former Ancestral Site. Soon, I will merge it with the Prison World to restore the Ancestral Site. Once the process is successful, countless boons and opportunities will come.”

Everyone was overjoyed by the news. At their cultivation ranks, it was really hard to improve. If there were an opportunity, they would want to take advantage of it.

James came back to reunite with everyone and share the good news.

After he stayed in the Heavenly Court for some time, he left and headed for the Mevryees in the Dark World. He knew Talvelai had also entered the Ritual Rank and wanted to check his condition.

Those who entered the Ritual Rank would perish and return to the darkness.

Most importantly, James wanted to know if Xayal existed in their era. If so, Talvelai would be doomed.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5700-James left the new plane and headed to the Mevryees' territory. Now that he had entered the Transcendental Bliss Rank and mastered countless primitive inscriptions, he could travel at much greater speeds. He no longer had to rely on Boundarybreaker Runes, as his traveling speed was superior.

Soon, he arrived where the Mevryees were located.

In the past, the Dark World had the Four Ancient Races. However, the Yefteros, Suuntelis, and Zoltrumns were destroyed in the previous battle.

Out of the Four Ancient Races, the Mevryees were the only ones that remained.

However, the Mevryess had yet to become the strongest race of the Dark World.

Instead, the Dragon Race reemerged and surpassed the other races.

The Dragon Race's Leader was the Shadowers' Leader.

James appeared outside the Mevryees' spiritual mountain. Although a formation protected the territory, he could easily passthrough it.

Without even having to touch the formation, James teleported to the other side.

After locating Talvelai, he immediately disappeared from the spot.

There was a strange place at the back of the Mevryees' main mountain.

Talvelai sat in a lotus position on the ground, and powerful force emitted from his body.

As soon as James appeared in the area, he sensed the potent pressure of the Dark World. It was so powerful and seemed to be attempting to devour Talvelai.

Talvelai struggled to resist being engulfed by the force.

Veins bulged on his face, and his expression distorted in pain. He had already mobilized his strength, but the pressure gradually grew stronger. His body began to tremble, showing signs of losing to the force.

James' brows furrowed. He wanted to observe to learn more about the Ritual Rank. However, Talvelai was evidently at his limits.

He quickly stepped forward and intervened. With the wave of a hand, countless inscriptions materialized to form a small world and block out the Dark Power.

After being wrapped Inside the Inscription World, Talvelai panted heavily. He wiped the sweat on his forehead. Then, he looked at James and said gratefully, 'Thank you.' James waved his hand and said, 'I only used some inscriptions to form this space to temporarily sever the connection with the Dark World. Once the inscriptions disperse, you'll be devoured.'

"Damn it!" Talvelai cursed, "As my strength increased, the power swallowing me grew. I've read through countless ancient books but still do not know what is happening."

James explained, "It's an incredibly bizarre rank. Only some living beings that have acquired great boons will enter this rank. Unfortunately, after entering the rank, the Dark World will devour you and return you to the darkness."

He had been thinking about the Ritual Rank. When he first heard Xzavion speak about it, he was incredibly puzzled. Why did the Ritual Rank appear, and why did some living beings have to be sacrificed back to the Dark World? He thought about the possibility of the Dark World having a consciousness. However, he could not get to the bottom of it, no matter how hard he tried to think about it.

"What should I do now?" Talvelai looked at James and asked, "I'm helpless.

During this period, I've had to stay in seclusion and resist the Dark Power. I would've been doomed if you didn't show up just now."

James said, 'There's a way out.'

James knew how to avoid perishing in the Ritual Rank.

However, James had no idea whether Xayal existed in their era.

Talvelai would die if Xayal could secretly pull strings from the dark.

"What is it?" Talvelai asked worriedly.

"You stay in this world for a while. I must do some stuff and verify something first. After I integrate our plane with the Prison World, I'll tell you what to do," replied James.

"Okay."
