

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5845 - 5850

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5845-James fell into contemplation. After thinking for a while, he said, "What if we set up a barrier that blocks the aura around the Genesis Core sale mountain? Could we then take action?"

Thora glanced at James and said, "I advise you not to take risks. With your low cultivation base, the barrier you set up won't be useful against super powerhouses."

"Not necessarily," James replied with a faint smile. "We come from the Dark World and are proficient in all inscriptions of the Dark World. A barrier with the Dark World inscriptions may be easily broken, but it can definitely block the dispersion of aura. As long as it can hold for a while, we can succeed."

"I think we can give it a shot," Stephen said after some thought. "However, we can't be hasty. We need to take it slow and be meticulous."

After considering it, James replied, "I'll go to the Genesis Core sale point again and take a look at the Formation Boundaries of the Genesis Cores. Then, I'll understand these formation inscriptions and see if I can break them. We can make a plan if I'm able to break them instantly. If not, we'll have to abandon the idea."

"Okay," Quattro exclaimed excitedly.

"Come with me, Stephen!" James stood up, spoke a sentence, and then left.

They went to the Genesis Core sale point spiritual mountain again.

They visited some high-grade Genesis Core sale shops.

James stared at the cabinets filled with Genesis Cores. On the surface, he seemed to be inspecting the cores. In fact, he was scrutinizing the Formation Boundaries attached to the cabinets.

James paid careful attention, and a beautiful woman patiently explained the quality of the Genesis Cores while Stephen took advantage of the situation to engage in various discussions.

After observing for a while, James proceeded to the next counter. He appeared to be casually wandering and observing. In fact, he was memorizing these inscriptions to study them later when they returned. The spiritual mountain also had a formation, and James carefully observed and sensed the formation inscriptions.

After strolling around for a while, they returned.

As they reached, Quattro could not help but ask, "How is it, Sir?"

James smiled faintly and replied, "I've carefully observed. Although the Formation Boundaries on the Genesis Core cabinets are strong and mysterious, I should be able to easily break them with some dedicated study. As for the formation of that spiritual mountain, I can also break it and make the formation fail at a critical moment."

"That's great!" Quattro shouted excitedly.

Thora looked at James with a strange expression and asked, "These are the Formation Boundaries set up by powerhouses at the Daelm Rank grade. You're merely at the Yuraeceon First Rank. Can you really break them?"

"Of course!" James smiled and continued, "I'll go into seclusion to study and break the formation inscriptions. Meanwhile, you guys continue to gather information, thoroughly understand the situation in the spiritual mountain, and devise an escape plan."

James went into seclusion after saying this. Meanwhile, Xzavion and the others gathered to discuss their plan.

"According to my plan, we can set up a Teleportation Formation in advance. We can immediately use it to leave as soon as we get what we want," suggested Quattro.

"Feasible, but how do we deal with the powerhouses and the formidable guards in the spiritual mountain?"

They gathered to discuss.

"This is truly insane!" Thora had a headache. Initially, she thought they were just joking around, but they were actually serious. Was this not madness?

After some discussion, they continued to the Genesis Core sale point to gather more information, scout the area, and investigate the situation. They also determined the number of guards and the identity, cultivation realm, and habits of the powerhouses guarding the place.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5846-In the upcoming days, Xzavion, Stephen, and Quattro continuously made their way to the Genesis Core sale point of the Yaquis Sect within the Celestial Genesis World.

They scouted the area, collecting various pieces of information, aiming for flawless preparation before taking any action. Soon, they had a clear understanding of the situation on this spiritual mountain.

After gaining this knowledge, Xzavion started frequenting the spiritual mountain.

He discreetly left behind some inscription sigils of the Dark World each time.

These sigils seamlessly integrated into the void. Only living beings well-versed in the inscription sigils of the Dark World could sense their existence.

In the blink of an eye, an epoch passed, and James had spent a long time secluded within the time formation. He emerged from seclusion after an epoch had passed in the outside world.

On the mountaintop of a certain spiritual mountain in the Celestial Genesis World, several people and a pig gathered.

“How’s it going, Sir?” Quattro asked eagerly with anticipation as he saw James emerge.

Looking at them, James asked, “Are you guys ready on your end?” “Yes,” Xzavion responded, “I discreetly set up a formation around that spiritual mountain during your seclusion. Once the formation is activated, anything signals from within the formation won’t be able to reach the outside. However, as this is the most important shop for the Yaquis Sect, there is a powerhouse stationed there to guard it. The formation will be instantly broken if even the slightest issue arises.”

Stephen added, "We've also silently left a Teleportation Formation within the spiritual mountain. We can instantly enter the gray space through the Teleportation Formation." "The powerhouse guarding the Genesis Core sale point has a cultivation base of the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation. According to the information we've gathered, he'll leave the Celestial Genesis World for the Ancient Genesis World in some time to acquire a new batch of Genesis Cores," said Quattro.

"His departure presents the perfect opportunity for us to act."

Xzavion continued, "Although there are other powerhouses within the spiritual mountains of Yaquis City, the outside world won't sense anything as soon as the formation is activated. We need to strike the moment the formation is activated, and our only task is to retreat afterward."

Stephen said, "We've calculated that we have a chance by momentarily freezing the world with a Curse Magic and the use of Time Path. However, the time is extremely brief.

Once the guards within the spiritual mountain dispel the Curse Magic and break the time freeze, we won't be able to escape."

They gathered and discussed the entire plan.

"There are risks."

"We can give it a try."

"It'll be worth it if we succeed."

The folks exchanged words back and forth.

"Alright, let's do it!"

James was also determined and decided to take the risk. After making this decision, they went to scout again.

This plan could only succeed, failure meant paying with their lives.

Nevertheless, success could save them from the arduous years of cultivation and the lengthy process of searching for monsters in the spatial rifts.

The opportunity finally arrived after waiting for some time. The powerhouse guarding the spiritual mountain left and went to the Ancient Genesis World.

The day for the inventory check of the Genesis Core sale spiritual mountain arrived. In the process, the mountain was closed to outsiders.

Soon, it was time for the inventory check. Inside the spiritual mountain, James, Xzavion, and Stephen casually strolled around while secretly communicating.

“If everything goes as planned, the guards will start driving out the guests from the spiritual mountain in about an hour. We’ll go last, and we’ll make our move when they clear everyone out,” James conveyed quietly, giving instructions.

“Xzavion, you’re in charge of activating the formation hidden around this spiritual mountain. Stephen, you handle the Teleportation Formation. I’ll take care of snatching the goods.”

James organized the operation, even though they had prepared for it for a long time and were familiar with the looting process. It was essential for him to provide instructions.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5847-“Sorry, folks. It’s time for an inventory check, and we won’t be open to the public today.” The guards began clearing out the guests from the spiritual mountain. These guests were aware of the routine checks that occurred every few periods. So, they left.

James and the others also pretended to depart. They moved slowly and leisurely towards the exit until all other guests had left.

At that instant, the three of them exchanged glances. Xzavion activated the formation hidden around the spiritual mountain, and James employed the Curse Magic as the formation opened.

His Curse Magic instantly triggered the Curse Power within the many guards’ bodies, causing them to collapse to the ground.

James’ Curse Magic proved even more effective than Franciscus’. Franciscus had cursed Three Thousand Great Genesis Worlds and countless Micro Genesis Worlds, with the deepest corners of every living being’s souls bearing the imprint of his curse. Now, James utilized the Curse Magic and prompted the deep-seated curses within their souls to activate.

However, James' power was limited, and he could not completely kill the guards.

Still, rendering them temporarily powerless posed no issue.

James activated the Time Path to freeze time instantly at the moment when the Curse Magic was spreading among all living beings on the spiritual mountain.

He moved in the frozen moment.

He dashed to some counters on the spiritual mountain at an incredible speed, instantly deciphering the barrier formation on the counters, and swiftly seized all the Genesis Cores. In a flash, he looted every single Genesis Core from the counters.

Boom!!!

In that instant, the formation was broken, and the time restraint disappeared.

The guards instantly suppressed the Curse Magic erupting within them.

"How dare you!"

A terrifying voice echoed.

A Teleportation Formation appeared in front of James as the voice reached. He entered the formation without hesitation, followed by Xzavion and Stephen simultaneously.

Once again, they were in the vast gray space. Although they had left, a formidable pressure emanated from the Teleportation Formation.

"Hurry, retreat!" urged James. "With the strength of the Yaquis City, they'll catch up soon. Let's split up and escape.

We'll regroup once it's safe."

Leaving behind these words, James withdrew quickly. He employed the Blithe Omniscience to escape within the gray space.

Quattro and Thora stood on the spiritual mountain's peak at a certain location outside Yaquis City. They sensed a formidable fluctuation of aura coming from within the city.

"Did they succeed?" Thora's face showed astonishment. " This... they actually succeeded. This is the territory of the Yaquis Sect. Being able to steal things from them is truly remarkable."

Quattro said with a smile, "It was bound to succeed with Dragon General taking action. Let's go! We should leave too. We'll regroup with them later after ensuring their safety." Quattro laughed heartily and left the spiritual mountain.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5848-After an extensive period of scouting and careful planning, James and his group succeeded.

They successfully raided a base of the Yaquis Sect in the Celestial Genesis World, seizing a large quantity of Genesis Cores. They made their escape once they secured their loot.

They had carefully mapped out their escape route. By the time the Yaquis Sect reacted, they had already slipped away.

Boom!!!

James sensed a terrifying surge of power at the end of the Teleportation Formation as he entered the gray space. The force attacked within the gray space through the formation.

Upon his immediate appearance, James swiftly employed the Blithe Omniscience to evade the impact of the force.

He continued his evasion.

They headed towards the agreed-upon meeting point once they were sure there were no pursuers. They had arranged to rendezvous in a place called the Quintessence World.

The Quintessence World held an important position among the Three Thousand Great Genesis Worlds, securing a spot within the top ten. It was an essential waypoint on the journey to meet Juanne.

After reaching the Quintessence World, James used inscriptions to contact Xzavion and Stephen. Soon, they established communication.

A spiritual mountain within the Quintessence World was surrounded by formation.

“Sir, quickly... quickly take them out, let me see our gains,” eagerly asked Quattro.

Thora was curious about the number of Genesis Cores James had plundered from the Yaquis Sect this time.

James revealed all the Genesis Cores he had seized. When he saw the cores, Quattro’s eyes nearly popped out in astonishment.

“The Yaquis Sect is truly rich. This is just a sale point in one world. We’d truly become rich if we were to raid their headquarters,” spoke Xzavion.

James smiled as he counted the spoils.

“More than ten thousand first-grade Yuraeceon Rank Genesis Cores.”

“Roughly the same for second-grade Yuraeceon Rank Genesis Cores.”

James began to take stock of the spoils. The quantities of cores ranged from first-grade to ninth-grade Yuraeceon Rank, each hovering around a million.

However, the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank level cores were fewer, with only about a thousand for first-grade ones.

The quantity decreased as the quality increased. There were merely eight of the ninth-grade Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank Genesis Cores.

At this selling point, the most prized were the ninth-grade Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank Genesis Cores. There were no Genesis Cores of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank, as these cores were unique and exclusive to the Ancient Genesis World.

“Fantastic!” Quattro could not help but howl, saying, “Sir, let’s divide them and then go into seclusion to refine and absorb the Genesis Cores.”

“Do I get a share?” Thora felt tempted too.

Each Genesis Core was exceptionally rare. Obtaining one meant that one’s own strength would experience a significant boost upon absorption and refinement.

“No, you don’t.” Quattro stared at her and said, “You opposed it before, and now that we have the loot, you want a share? No way!”

James divided the spoils into several portions, with Stephen receiving the most.

The Genesis Cores obtained by Stephen were all eighth-grade and above Yuraeceon Rank because his cultivation was at the Yuraeceon Eighth Rank, and absorbing lower-quality cores would not contribute much to his strength.

“Here are a few for you.” James generously gave Thora some Yuraeceon Eighth Rank Genesis Cores.

“Thank you so much!” Thora smiled radiantly.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5849-Although it was just a few cores that may seem insignificant compared to the spoils of James and his group, it was still quite commendable.

Subsequently, he set up a time formation around the spiritual mountain and began seclusion within it.

On the mountaintop of the spiritual mountain, James extracted a first-grade Yuraeceon Rank core. As he gazed at the sparkling golden core, he focused his thoughts, and a potent force enveloped the core, initiating the absorption of its energy.

A potent Genesis Power emerged from this golden Genesis Core. It permeated James’ entire body through his pores and transformed into the purest energy after refining it.

James' strength slowly increased. A first-grade Yuraeceon Rank core was not enough for James to break through. After absorbing the first core, he continued to absorb the second.

At the same time, at the headquarters of the Yaquis Sect in the Ancient Genesis World.

"Heck!" A middle-aged man in a golden robe sitting in the main hall roared angrily. "Who dares to provoke my Yaquis Sect after all these years? This audacity is too great.

Whoever it is, whatever force it is, declare war immediately once identified."

The Sect Leader of the Yaquis Sect, Yaquis Holiness, bellowed in anger. With a cultivation base at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation, he was a renowned powerhouse in the Ancient Genesis World.

Sitting in the main hall, he waved his hand, and a powerful force emerged. The events in the Celestial Genesis World appeared.

In a fit of rage, he spat out a mouthful of blood as he sensed that the Genesis Core robbery at the sale point was orchestrated by living beings with a cultivation base not even reaching the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank.

"This is truly shameful! Only two living beings at the Yuraeceon First Rank and one at the Yuraeceon Eighth Rank have raided the Genesis Core sale point."

The Yaquis Holiness clutched his chest and lamented.

Many powerhouses had gathered in the main hall, and none of them dared to say a word.

"This guy can trigger curses and instantly render many guards powerless. He must be the human who obtained Franciscus' inheritance, the one we were chasing before, James Caden and his group."

The Yaquis Holiness spoke coldly, "Spread the word! Hunt down James Caden and his group. Whoever provides clues will be generously rewarded by the Yaquis Sect."

"Alright."

In the main hall, many powerhouses spoke in unison.

The news of James and their raid on the Yaquis Sect's Genesis Core sale point quickly spread.

In a certain Orthodox in the Genesis World.

"What?!" Wayra exclaimed upon hearing this from a disciple. "James and his group raided the Yaquis Sect's Genesis Core sale point in the Celestial Genesis World?"

"Yes," the disciple truthfully replied. "It's now widespread. The Yaquis Sect has issued a kill order to hunt down them worldwide. The sect even offered a reward for anyone providing clues about them."

"This brat has some guts, and he actually succeeded," Wayra said with a smile on his face.

At this moment, those genius powerhouses who had crossed paths with James in the Zephyria World also learned of the news. They were first shocked, then filled with admiration.

"Daring to provoke the Yaquis Sect's attention, this guy is amazing!"

"He's only at the Yuraeceon First Rank, yet he raided the Yaquis Sect's Genesis Core sale point. That's powerful!"

"Is he strong, or is the Yaquis Sect just weak?"

Living beings from various worlds discussed this matter.

Meanwhile, James and the others had already hidden away for seclusion and cultivation. His speed in refining Genesis Cores was fast. Unconsciously, he broke through and entered the Yuraeceon Second Rank. This breakthrough significantly enhanced his strength.

With the escalation of his strength, James unleashed the Martial Path, advancing to the Marciais Combat Form, making his power even more formidable.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5850-James broke through into the Yuraeceon Second Rank. Upon reaching this realm, he temporarily stopped and did not hastily absorb more Genesis Cores.

This was because his physical body had not undergone a breakthrough although his realm had advanced. He did not want to improve his cultivation blindly. Instead, he aimed to enhance his physical strength while advancing in the cultivation realm.

A Genesis Core contained the purest Genesis Power. This power could not only enhance his strength but also be used for tempering his body.

James continued by taking out a first-grade Yuraeceon Rank Genesis Core, absorbing its power, and channeling it into every part of his body for physical refinement.

Simultaneously, he used the Genesis Power to enhance his bloodline power.

Time seemed to pass like an eternity, yet also like a fleeting moment.

As time passed, James unknowingly elevated his physical body and bloodline to the Yuraeceon Second Rank.

Yuraeceon Third Rank!

Yuraeceon Fourth Rank!

Yuraeceon Fifth Rank!

Supported by a large number of Genesis Cores, James' cultivation base reached the Yuraeceon Fifth Rank. At once, his physical body, bloodline, and soul had also advanced to this realm. Although his cultivation was not high, it was stable.

After reaching the Yuraeceon Fifth Rank, he had depleted all the low-quality Genesis Cores. The ones he currently held were all fifth-grade Yuraeceon Rank and above.

James paused temporarily, stretched his muscles, and felt the majestic power coursing through his body. A faint smile graced his lips as he glanced around.

Quattro, Xzavion, and Stephen were still in cultivation.

Thora had stopped cultivating and appeared outside the time formation. She sat at the cliff, gazing into the distance, lost in contemplation.

James walked over and sat beside her.

“What are you thinking?” asked James.

“Have you finished your seclusion?” Thora glanced at him, sensing his cultivation realm. She asked, “With the Genesis Cores in your hands, it should be easy to reach the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank. Why not continue your seclusion?”

James smiled and replied, “I would love to reach the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank sooner, but cultivation cannot be rushed. I’ve reached around the Yuraeceon Fifth Rank. I’ll advance gradually once my state stabilizes. Rushing too quickly might lead to an unstable realm. In the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank, there’s a risk of failure with this situation.”

“You’re right.” Thora nodded.

Then, she looked towards the time formation, sensing Stephen’s aura, and said, “He’s about to break through. If he successfully crosses the tribulation, he’ll smoothly enter the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank.”

Before entering seclusion, Stephen was at the Yuraeceon Eighth Rank. At this moment, he had reached the pinnacle of the Yuraeceon Ninth Rank, prepared to breakthrough.

At that moment, Stephen disappeared from his original spot, reappearing in the gray space outside the Quintessence World. As he appeared, a Tribulation Cloud formed in the gray space.

This was the Heavenly Tribulation.

One must undergo the Heavenly Tribulation to enter the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank. Furthermore, every subsequent breakthrough would also bring about the Heavenly Tribulation.

The tribulation was terrifying and challenging to overcome.

James also observed Stephen facing the tribulation.

Whoosh!

A thunderbolt struck down. Although Stephen attempted to resist the Heavenly Tribulation forcefully, his power was instantly shattered. He quickly activated his protective energy, but even so, his body was riddled with injuries when the Heavenly Tribulation landed on him.

“Phew!” After he observed this scene, James took a deep breath and said, ‘This is truly terrifying! I wonder if he can endure it.”
