

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5851 - 5860

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5851-Thora said, "He has to hold up against the Heavenly Tribulation on his own. No one can help him with this."

Stephen sustained multiple injuries.

He quickly produced the Human Race's primitive inscriptions. Those inscriptions flowed out of his palm and formed a layer over his skin.

Meanwhile, the lightning bolts created by the Heavenly Tribulation continued to strike Stephen.

There were several times when it seemed like Stephen was about to be annihilated. James was worried as he watched all this happen from the side.

Gradually, more and more lightning bolts fell from the sky. At some point, the lightning bolts rained down on Stephen nonstop.

The wounds on Stephen's body were repeatedly healed and reopened in the process.

At long last, Stephen survived the Heavenly Tribulation.

However, he was in a bloodied and disheveled state. The wounds on his body were so deep that others could even see part of his bones. The lightning bolts also left marks on his exposed bones.

After the Heavenly Tribulation was over, Stephen returned to the time formation to treat his injuries.

Once his wounds were healed, Stephen came out of the formation with a big grin on his face. "I'm glad I've learned many different signature skills. Otherwise, I probably wouldn't have been able to make it through the Heavenly Tribulation of the Yuraeceon Rank."

James gave a slight nod. "Instead of improving your cultivation rank, you should work on enhancing the strength and resilience of your body now."

"Mhm."

Stephen nodded. "I'll continue with my training, then."

He stepped back into the time formation. Then, Stephen began absorbing the Genesis Cores to enhance his physical condition, soul, and bloodline power.

At the same time, Xzavion and Quattro were still conducting their closed-door meditations.

The abundant amount of Genesis Cores they possessed helped them level up faster.

They moved from the Yuraeceon First Rank up to the Yuraeceon Ninth Rank at a relatively stable speed.

When they were about to enter the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank, both of them encountered the Heavenly Tribulation as well.

Their situations were similar to that of Stephen's. Xzavion and Quattro were almost killed during their respective Heavenly Tribulations.

The experience made them realize the intensity of Heavenly Tribulations at the Yuraeceon Rank.

Consequently, they swiftly decided to focus on training their bodies instead of boosting their cultivation rank.

James and the others stayed on that spiritual mountain for a long time.

An entrapoch had passed in the outside world while an even longer time went by inside the time formation.

After reaching the Yuraeceon Fifth Rank, James took a break and visited several places in the Quintessence Genesis World.

He returned to the mountain several epochs later and continued training.

Soon enough, James advanced to the Yuraeceon Ninth Rank. His body, soul, and bloodline power were also enhanced to the same level as his cultivation rank.

Xzavion, Quattro, and Stephen had all achieved the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank.

They had also trained their bodies to reach the levels of the Yuraeceon Ninth Rank.

“That’s enough.”

Thora was getting impatient after waiting for around an entrapoch. She said, “Let’s meet up with Juanne and look for the Shahrzad Treasure.”

James undid the time formation, and the others ended their meditation at once.

“Haha!”

Quattro gave a hearty laugh. “If we hadn’t robbed the Yaquis Sect, it would have taken us forever to reach the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank.”

Quattro felt so confident about his powers. He could imagine himself doing whatever he wanted, no matter where he went in the three thousand Great Genesis Worlds.

He looked at Thora. “Is the Shahrzad Treasure more valuable than our haul from the Yaquis Sect? If it isn’t, then I am not going. I’m thinking of planning another heist.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5852-Quattro preferred this method way more. He could quickly obtain large amounts of materials for cultivation by robbing others.

Moreover, it was easy for them to do that now since all of them had improved in terms of their powers and cultivation rank.

Thora cast him a sidelong glance. “How could you even think of comparing the Genesis Cores we got from one of the Yaquis Sect’s distribution points to the Shahrzad Treasure?”

Quattro’s eyes widened in excitement. “So, you’re saying that the Shahrzad Treasure has even more precious items than what we’ve found at the Yaquis Sect?”

“Of course!” Thora nodded.

“Alright! I’m coming too!” Quattro smiled from ear to ear. James suggested, “We’re pretty much ready. Let’s go now.” Soon enough, they left the Quintessence Genesis World and headed for the rendezvous point Thora and Juanne had chosen.

The place was located in a Micro Genesis World found not too far away. After traveling across the gray space for some time, James’ group arrived at the Micro Genesis World.

All of them had put on a disguise. Even Quattro was no longer in his swine form.

Instead, he assumed the appearance of a handsome man.

“Thora, where is the place?” Quattro walked pompously at the very front of their group. It seemed as though those following behind Quattro were his servants.

Thora replied, “We’ve agreed to meet in this micro Genesis World. I’ll contact him now.”

Thora tried to reach Juanne by using an inscription. A short while later, she got a reply from him.

“He’s waiting on one of the planets here. Let’s head over there right now,” Thora said.

After that, Thora followed Juanne’s instructions and led the others to the specified location.

Eventually, they arrived outside a spiritual mountain protected by a formation.

“This is it.”

Thora pointed to the mountain. “Juanne had been staying on this mountain all this time while waiting for me.”

Just as she was about to walk toward the formation, an opening formed over the formation’s barrier.

A young, refined-looking man in a white robe walked out of the formation. He beamed a sunny smile as he spotted Thora. “You’re finally here, Thora.”

Then, the man raised a brow as his gaze fell on James and the others. "These people are?"

Thora explained, "I'm not sure why but the members of the Yaquis Sect tried to kill me. Luckily, these men saved me from those people. So, I promised to share the Shahrzad Treasure with them." Juanne merely took a glance at James' group. Then, he said, "You should come inside first."

The group of them followed Juanne into the formation and headed toward the spiritual mountain.

Quattro whispered to James, "Dragon General, I find that man, Juanne, quite suspicious. He's probably planning to steal Thora's map."

Xzavion knocked Quattro on the head. "Do you think everyone thinks the same way as you do?"

"Enough with the chatters," Stephen said.

A brief moment later, they arrived inside a manor built on the mountain.

Juanne began eagerly, "Thora, hurry and show me the map you have. Let's combine our maps and check for the location of the Shahrzad Treasure."

"Why are you in such a hurry?" Quattro said nonchalantly, "Only you and Ms.

Thora knew about the maps, yet the Yaquis Sect's members went after her.

Don't you think you owe her an explanation for that?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5853-Juanne's face darkened upon hearing Quattro's words." What do you mean by that, sir?"

"Do you have to make me say it out loud?" Quattro said flatly, "I'm saying that you've leaked information about her whereabouts and gotten those men to come after Ms.

Thora."

“How dare you!” An enormous amount of aura emanated from Juanne as he bellowed furiously, “If it weren’t because you had helped Thora, I would have killed all of you by now!”

“Enough! Let’s not start a fight now.” Thora raised her hand.

Juanne stopped releasing his aura.

“That’s all in the past now.” Thora went on, “It doesn’t matter who shared information about my whereabouts. The most important thing for me now is to locate the treasure and rebuild the Shahrzad Empire. Only then will I be able to exact my revenge.”

Thora produced the treasure map she had, followed by Juanne.

The two halves of the map floated in the air and fused to form a complete treasure map.

James and the others studied the map carefully as well.

“What is this place?” Quattro stared hard at the map but could not make out any useful information. He was not familiar with the locations of the three thousand Great Genesis Worlds and the countless Micro Genesis Worlds.

‘The Haelios Sea.’

Thora knitted her brows as she stared at the marked area displayed on the map.

“What’s the Haelios Sea?” Quattro asked.

Juanne heaved a deep breath. “It is an ancient forbidden zone and a dangerous area found in the Ancient Genesis World. Rumor has it that anyone who enters the Haelios Sea will die. No one has ever made it out of the Haelios Sea alive.”

“I never thought that our grand patriarch would hide the treasure at the Haelios Sea.”

Thora let out a sigh. “It may be a very dangerous place, but I will have to visit the Haelios Sea regardless. Moreover, a safe path has been indicated on the map. It should be alright if we just followed the path.”

“Did you bring the key to unlock the Shahrzad Treasure’s realm, Thora?”

Juanne asked.

“Mhm. I have it with me.” Thora nodded.

“What does the key look like? Can I have a look at it?” Juanne’s eyes shone with eagerness.

Thora simply put her map away and said, “Let’s depart now. You’ll get to see it once we’ve found the realm.”

“Sure,” Juanne replied smilingly.

“Don’t forget that you are giving us half of the treasure!” Quattro reminded Thora.

“Of course!” Thora flashed a smile at him.

Juanne glanced at James’ group again and asked, “Thora, you promised to give them half of the treasure?”

“Mhm.” Thora gave a slight nod. “I’ll give you thirty percent of the treasure as we’ve agreed. The rest is enough for me.”

The Shahrzad Treasure was a spatial rift originating from the Shahrzad Dynasty.

Countless monsters could be found inside that spatial rift. Those monsters each carried a Genesis Core within their bodies.

Yet, those Genesis Cores were only a part of the Shahrzad Treasure.

Thora had not told anyone about the real treasures of the Shahrzad Treasure, which were what she needed to build an empire again.

She did not need those monsters or their Genesis Cores. Thora was more than willing to give them away.

Meanwhile, Juanne merely cast a sideways glance at James and his companions after hearing Thora’s explanation.

A short while later, all of them departed for the Ancient Genesis World.

The Ancient Genesis World was the central area of the three thousand Great Genesis Worlds and countless Micro Genesis Worlds. Numerous skilled cultivators resided in the Ancient Genesis World.

James' group was extremely curious to see what it was like in the Ancient Genesis World.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5854-The group then traveled quickly through the gray zones and arrived at the Ancient Genesis World eventually.

As soon as they entered the Ancient Genesis World, James and his companions could sense the superiority of that place.

All of them could detect the stability of space and the immense amounts of Genesis Power that existed in the Ancient Genesis World. These aspects of the Ancient Genesis World were unsurpassable by the other Great Genesis Worlds.

"As expected of the Ancient Genesis World, a seemingly endless amount of Genesis Power exists in this space. I wonder if they'll punish those who try to absorb the Genesis Power for their training here?" "Yeap." Thora replied, "Various factions had come up with rules to prohibit any beings from absorbing the Ancient Genesis World's Genesis Power. Those who are caught will be executed immediately."

Quattro grumbled instantly, "The Genesis Power exists naturally! They do not belong to anyone! Who are those people to make these decisions?" "Stop complaining. You shouldn't be dwelling over this." Xzavion nudged him with his elbow.

"Let's head straight to the Haelios Sea." Thora moved to the front to lead the group.

They traveled past numerous universes and zones before arriving at a place with chaotic space.

Before them, James' group could see countless destroyed, incomplete universes floating around in a mysterious- looking sea. The view was both shocking and spectacular.

“This is the Haelios Sea.” Thora inhaled deeply. “This place has existed since a long time ago. The Haelios Sea holds a strange power that can attract incomplete universes found in the Genesis Worlds toward it. Those universes would gradually move toward this area and end up in the Haelios Sea.” Juanne added, “The space inside the Haelios Sea is very unstable and chaotic.

Common cultivators would not be able to survive in that space. Furthermore, there are many whirlpools formed in the Haelios Sea. Those that get sucked into these whirlpools will most likely perish immediately.”

“Come this way.”

Thora checked their surroundings and pointed in a direction. Then, she took the lead.

Thora had memorized the map and knew which path they should take to reach the Shahrzad Treasure safely. With the information they had, Thora managed to guide the others through the Haelios Sea without much difficulty.

Eventually, they arrived at their destination deep in the Haelios Sea.

‘This is it.’ Juanne stared at the area before him. “According to the map, the treasure was hidden at this spot.”

He looked at Thora. ‘Thora, where’s the key? You should use the key to unlock the hidden space and access the treasure.’

However, Thora took a few steps backward and stood beside James’ group.

She said, “Kill him, and I’ll give you his share of the treasure.”

James and his companions were slightly shocked to see the sudden change in Thora’s expression.

Juanne fixed Thora with an intense gaze. “What is the meaning of this?”

Thora had a cold look in her eyes as she snickered, “Only you knew about my whereabouts, yet the Yaquis Sect’s members somehow found out about that and came after me. What do you think that means?”

“You’re suspecting me?” A deep frown drew Juanne’s brows together.

"I knew it was you." Thora said monotonously, "Even if it wasn't you, I would still kill you to make sure no one would ruin my plans."

'Why you...'

Juanne pointed at Thora and laughed contemptuously. "You think these guys are strong enough to kill me? Aren't you just too naive?"

He gave a loud clap the next instant.

Suddenly, a group of men appeared in the distance and started walking toward them.

"I was simply trying to test you." Thora said frigidly, "Who knew you would give up your act this quickly."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5855-"Hmph!" Juanne scoffed. "It doesn't matter anymore. Just hand over the key to me, and I'll consider sparing your life. Those guys, however..." Juanne cast a stony gaze at James' group. "I want them dead."

James and the others slowly backed away.

Juanne's helpers consisted of hundreds of Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank cultivators.

"I hope you're not lying to me, Juanne. Otherwise, I'll exterminate you with my own hands."

An elderly man stepped forward whilst looking at Juanne. Then, he turned his eyes to James and his companions. He said flatly, "I'll take care of these guys."

"Be careful. He's reached the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Third Tribulation."

Xzavion frowned slightly.

Quattro had conjured his weapons and gotten ready to attack the elderly cultivator.

"Step back. I'll handle him," James called out to him.

Quattro asked, "Are you sure, Dragon General? You've only reached the Yuraeceon Ninth Rank, but that old man is a Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Third Tribulation cultivator."

"You guys take care of the others. I'll fight him." James was feeling rather excited.

After reaching the Yuraeceon Ninth Rank, James had yet to engage in any actual battles. He was curious to check how much he had improved in terms of his powers.

On the other hand, Thora swiftly moved further away from Juanne's men. She shouted to James and the others, "You guys can have Juanne's share if you can help me get rid of them!"

Thora had only achieved the peak of Yuraeceon Eighth Rank. She stood no chance against those Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank cultivators.

Meanwhile, Stephen and Xzavion had conjured their weapons. An immense amount of aura radiated from both men.

James stared at the elderly man, who was the strongest among the bunch.

"Your opponent is me."

James teleported and reappeared before the elderly man in a flash.

"Get lost!"

The elderly cultivator gave a light wave of his hand. A vicious blast of energy was generated and directed toward James.

James clenched his fists and crossed his arms before his chest. He braced himself to receive the elderly cultivator's attack.

James was swept back by the powerful blast, but fortunately, he did not sustain any injuries.

At that moment, he activated the powers of the Martial Path and unleashed the third form of the Marciais Combat Form.

James' aura grew exponentially. His hair turned gray. At the same time, others could see mysterious, grayish-white sparks of light floating around James' body.

A faint smile flickered across James' face as he sensed the primitive power flowing through his body.

James' body, soul, bloodline power, and cultivation rank had all synchronized to the Yuraeceon Ninth Rank. On top of that, the Marciais Combat Form boosted his powers even more.

"What?!"

The elderly cultivator from the Yaquis Sect widened his eyes in bewilderment as he noticed the change in James' condition. He said biting, "The third form of the Marciais Combat Form!"

'That's right.' James curled his lips. "Have a taste of my power!"

James teleported toward the man and swung his fist forcefully at his target.

The elderly cultivator held his fist up to counter James' attack as well.

Crack!

The elderly cultivator's arm was dislocated due to the force. He was sent flying in the air by James' attack.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5856-There was a huge difference between James and his opponent in terms of their power and cultivation rank.

The powers of a Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank cultivator were on a completely different level. Their powers would also increase by one-fold each time they survived a Heavenly Tribulation.

However, it turned out that the elderly man, who was a member of the Yaquis Sect, could not withstand the force of James' attack.

The elderly cultivator was blasted away by James' hit. As he steadied himself in the distance, the elderly cultivator coughed up a mouthful of blood.

Upon seeing that, Xzavion and Stephen felt slightly relieved. Then, they proceeded to rush toward the other Yaquis Sect's members.

A fierce battle erupted almost instantly.

"You bastard!"

The elderly cultivator wiped off the blood from his lips. His eyes burned with malevolence.

The man generated his powers and conjured a spear. Then, he lifted the spear and pointed at James.

"You're dead meat!"

The elderly cultivator teleported and reappeared before James. He stabbed the spear at James' abdomen.

Meanwhile, James stood at the same spot and raised his hand. He had generated a ball of grayish-white energy at the center of his palm.

James used the ball of energy to block his opponent's attack. Even though the elderly cultivator tried to channel more of his strength, he could not seem to push his spear forward at all.

On the contrary, the elderly cultivator was slowly getting pushed backward by a growing force coming from the strange ball of light. Cracks appeared on the places the elderly cultivator had placed his feet as he tried to hold up against the immense pressure.

Snap!

The spear held by the elderly cultivator snapped eventually.

At the same time, James vanished and reappeared right behind the man. He threw a heavy punch on the elderly cultivator's back. The force of his punch made a bloody hole through the man's body.

"Shit! Damn it..." The elderly man cursed and quickly went after James.

However, James was moving at a much faster speed than him.

As if he were a cat that was toying with a mouse, James managed to dodge every one of the elderly cultivator's attacks. On the other hand, the elderly cultivator was sustaining more and more injuries because of James' swift attacks.

At a corner of the battlefield, Juanne was shocked to see what James was capable of doing.

"What is with that guy? He is only in the Yuraeceon Ninth Rank, but his skills are more superb than a Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Third Tribulation cultivator's. As expected of the powers of the legendary Combat Form..."

Juane inhaled deeply. He had silently moved to the periphery of the battlefield in the meantime. Juane was ready to flee the scene if things went south all of a sudden.

'This is it for you.'

James' voice resounded through the space.

He had a rough idea about his renewed powers through the battle.

James had achieved the peak of the late stage of the Yuraeceon Ninth Rank.

However, with powers of the third form of the Marciais Combat Form, James' powers had surpassed that of a Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Third Tribulation cultivator.

He could probably even take on those who made it to the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Fourth Tribulation.

James conjured a black sword the next instant.

A dark aura emanated from James. Along with the gray sparks floating around his body, James appeared to radiate an unsettling, evil aura.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5857-James tightened his grip on the handle of the Judgment Scythe. Then, he teleported and re-emerged before the elderly cultivator.

James swung the scythe down at the man forcefully.

“No...”

The elderly cultivator's eyes bulged with horror.

He could sense the intensity of James' attack, and he wished to dodge it. Yet, it was too late.

The Judgment Scythe landed on the elderly cultivator's head.

With James' incredible strength, he managed to cut the man's body in half.

Simultaneously, the man lost all his life force, and his soul was completely destroyed.

The elderly cultivator was exterminated with that hit.

“He's too weak.”

James looked down at the Judgment Scythe and said nonchalantly, “I should be able to defeat even Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Fourth Tribulation cultivators if I were to unleash my full powers.”

James had just performed the third form of the Marciais Combat Form.

If he could achieve the legendary fourth form, James would become even stronger.

On the other hand, Xzavion and the others were still fighting with the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's First Tribulation cultivators.

Although they were outnumbered, Xzavion, Stephen, and Quattro were nonetheless capable of holding those men back. Therefore, James merely stood at the side and watched them.

Just then, Thora hurried to James' side and said anxiously, “Juanne snuck away! You need to catch him. Otherwise, he might leak information regarding the treasure to the others. By that time, we might have trouble obtaining the treasure.”

James had also caught sight of Juanne running away the moment he managed to kill that elderly cultivator just now.

He went after Juanne immediately.

Unfortunately, the Haelios Sea was a place with various unpredictable hazards and changes. James soon lost sight of Juanne since he dared not travel through the area recklessly.

He went back to Thora.

"I lost him." James shrugged. "It's too risky to use any teleportation skills in this place. I might end up falling into one of the whirlpools instead."

"Never mind, then." Thora's face drooped.

She could tell that Juanne was bound to return here with more powerful helpers.

He might even spread the word about the Shahrzad Treasure to get others to come looking for the treasure.

"We should get rid of those people as soon as possible and unlock the realm of the Shahrzad Treasure. We'll be safe once we are inside the realm," Thora said.

"Don't worry." James turned his gaze toward Xzavion and the others. "The Yaquis Sect's members might have outnumbered us, but the three of them would have no problem taking out their opponents."

"Enough dawdling! Get rid of those guys now!" James shouted.

Upon hearing James' voice, Xzavion, Stephen, and Quattro picked up their speed and unleashed their full powers.

With an immense amount of aura, he teleported swiftly through the area and killed all the cultivators standing in his way.

In a matter of seconds, all the Yaquis Sect's members were exterminated.

Thora muttered in a low voice after witnessing what had happened, "They're like monsters..."

Xzavion, Stephen, and Quattro teleported and re-emerged before James.

Thora stared at them with rounded eyes. "Who are you people? Not only did you take out so many opponents of the same cultivation rank, but James also managed to kill someone more superior than him in terms of the cultivation rank.”

Thora still had no information about James and his companions’ background or origin even after being with them for so long.

“We come from the Dark World,” Quattro said chirpily. Upon seeing the look of bewilderment in Thora’s eyes, Quattro smirked. “That’s right. I’m talking about the forbidden Dark World. The one alienated by all the Great Genesis Worlds and Micro Genesis Worlds.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5858-“The Dark... The Dark World?!” Thora stuttered.

As far as she knew, the Dark World was one of the three thousand Great Genesis Worlds. Yet, no beings from the Dark World had ventured out of their realm before.

She took a glance at James’ group. Then, she said, “Well, I don’t really mind which world you’ve come from.”

Xzavion asked, “Is this where we can find the entrance to the Shahrzad Treasure?” “Mhm.” Thora nodded. “According to the map, the entrance to the Shahrzad Treasure is found somewhere here.

However, we need a key to access the realm since it is hidden.”

“Well, hurry up and unlock the realm then.” Quattro grumbled impatiently, “You’re talking too much, lady.”

Thora stepped forward and stared into the distance. Then, she initiated a secret art.

As her pulse quickened, multiple inscriptions started forming in the blood coursing through Thora’s veins.

Those inscriptions moved out of Thora’s system and gathered before her.

Gradually, those inscriptions formed a unique pattern levitating in mid-air.

As Thora channeled her powers to the pattern, it slowly moved in a certain direction.

“Follow the pattern,” Thora said.

Then, she took the lead and followed the pattern. James and the others walked right behind her.

A short while later, the group of them arrived at a spacious area.

They could see the pattern slowly fade away. Then, a huge door materialized before them.

“That’s the entrance. Let’s go.” Thora smiled brightly.

As soon as she said that, all of them were transported into the Shahrzad Treasure’s realm through the door. Then, the door slowly disappeared.

Meanwhile, James and the others had arrived on the top of a mountain inside a mysterious realm.

“Is this it?” Quattro glanced around curiously.

“Mhm.”

Thora nodded. “Before the Shahrzad Dynasty faced its downfall, my predecessors had made various preparations and hid this space. They reared countless Genesis Monsters here, including Yuraeceon Daelm Rank monsters.

You can obtain Genesis Cores of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank by killing those monsters.”

“How do we do that, though?” Quattro knitted his brows.” With our powers, we can hunt monsters of the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank’s First Tribulation at most. We can’t possibly handle monsters of higher cultivation ranks.”

Thora explained, “Reared monsters are different from the wild ones. You have to kill wild monsters to acquire their Genesis Cores. However, reared monsters have seals embedded in their bodies.”

She continued, “Once the owner activates the seal, those monsters die and leave behind the Genesis Cores. At the same time, the other body parts of the monsters break down and return to this realm before being used to produce new monsters.”

Quattro felt much relieved after listening to Thora’s explanation.

“Follow me.”

Thora led them to a peculiar-looking ocean. They could see countless bubbles floating around in the ocean.

The bubbles each contained a vast, beautiful world. Various monsters could be seen inhabiting those worlds.

‘This is how we rear monsters back in the Shahrzad Dynasty. Each of those bubbles is a spatial rift. You can keep thousands of monsters inside each spatial rift. I’ll initiate a secret art passed down by my ancestors to kill the monsters and obtain their cores.” Thora raised her palm and conjured a sigil.

As soon as she channeled her powers, the monsters found in those bubbles were killed. Then, the Genesis Cores from those monsters floated out of the bubbles.

In a flash, the skies were filled with innumerable Genesis Cores.

No data found.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5860-James and his companions exited the Shahrzad Treasure’s realm and reappeared in the Haelios Sea.

“What do we do now, Dragon General?” Quattro asked.

“I’m not sure either.”

James had a troubled look in his eyes. “I left the Dark World to search for Thea’s reincarnation. Yet, there are three thousand Great Genesis Worlds and countless Micro Genesis Worlds. It’s difficult for me to find her when I only have an inscription Thea had left behind.”

James took out the inscription.

Thea had told him that she would regain her memories of the Dark World once he found her reincarnation and let the inscription infused into her body.

However, the inscription merely carried a soul's memories. It did not contain any hints of Thea's reincarnation or her whereabouts.

"Let's get out of here first," James stored the inscription securely and announced.

Their group slowly navigated their way out of the Haelios Sea.

Just as they had made it out of the Haelios Sea, James' group sensed the tremors caused by a sudden spatial distortion.

A group of around ten thousand men materialized in the distance. The man leading the group was none other than Juanne, who escaped earlier.

"Dammit, it's the Yaquis Sect's members again!"

James' group could see the word "Yaquis" embroidered on those men's robes.

"Those are the people I've told you about just now."

Juanne pointed at James' group and said furiously, "They've obtained the Shahrzad Treasure!"

Then, he took a few steps forward and asked in a steely voice, "You over there!"

Where is Thora?"

James did not answer Juanne's question. Instead, he was staring at the Yaquis Sect's members Juanne had brought along this time.

Those men were all cultivators with cultivation ranks in and above the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Fifth Tribulation.

A middle-aged man standing beside Juanne had even reached the peak of Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation.

Although James' group consisted of members with exceptional powers, they were nonetheless unable to hold up against so many competent cultivators.

Quattro cried out angrily, 'That woman was a fraud! She made us help kill her enemies. When we were all distracted, she unlocked and entered the Shahrzad Treasure's realm alone!'

'That's right!' Xzavion added, 'It was so unfair! We should have killed her in the first place if we had known that she would do something like this.'

"Hmph!"

Juanne's eyes blazed with rage. "You think I'll buy that?"

He turned to look at the middle-aged man and bowed slightly. Juanne said, "Sir, we should seize them directly and check their soul memories to find out what happened!"

The Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation cultivator came forward and cast James and his companions a sideways glance. He began, "Are you going to seal your powers yourself? Or should I do it for you?"

Meanwhile, James was transmitting his voice to Xzavion and the others.

"I will put all of you into my spatial treasure. Then, I'll find a way to escape from here."

James' side couldn't win a battle against this many skilled cultivators. Also, they would probably get caught if they were to take off separately.

James could summon the tombkeeper to help him get rid of all these men, but he figured the situation did not call for it. Moreover, James wanted to keep the existence of the tombkeeper, who was his trump card, a secret for as long as possible.

Currently, the only way left was for James to bring his members along and break away from this crowd.

A brief moment later, James lifted his gaze and said, "Fine. We have been to the Shahrzad Treasure's realm and obtained its treasures. We are willing to share the treasures with you guys. Would you let us leave afterward?"

Upon hearing that, Juanne's face lit up. "Stop blabbering and show us the treasures first!"