

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5880

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5880-The Timaeus Sect was shocked by James' successful overcoming of the Quasar Heavenly Tribulation. However, their leader had prohibited anyone from leaking the incident. Hence, the disciples under the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation had their memories erased.

Meanwhile, the elders and peak masters who knew about the truth were ordered not to speak of the incident or even to try to snatch James from Mount Martialis.

Afterward, a group of powerhouses at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation worked together to reform the shattered formation around their sect at the expense of countless resources.

News about the incident was suppressed and controlled almost instantly. Only a small group of people were aware of it, and everyone continued as if nothing had happened.

However, the Saintess, who had personally experienced the tribulation alongside James, kept thinking about the incident.

At the highest peak of Mount One, the Timaeus Sect's Leader paced back and forth with his hands behind his back. For an experienced and mature cultivator like him, seeing him anxious and angry was a rare sight. The cause of it was the Timaeus Sect's Saintess.

The Saintess had always been well-behaved and obedient. Yet, she wanted to give up her position as the Timaeus Sect's Saintess and join Mount Martialis as an ordinary disciple.

The Timaeus Sect's Leader felt like the Saintess had gone crazy. She was the revered Saintess of the Timaeus Sect and wanted to forsake her endless resources to join Mount Martialis.

It was the first time the Timaeus Set Leader had gotten angry at her. He drove her out of the main hall.

Unexpectedly, the Saintess was determined with her decision. She knelt outside the hall and refused to leave, preventing him from leaving.

At that moment, a beautiful woman wearing a black and white robe entered the hall.

"Sir!"

"Elder Lyla?" The Timaeus Sect's Leader turned around and asked in surprise, "Aren't you guarding the Daemon Prison? What are you doing here?"

Lyla answered, "How could I not return after such a big incident happened in our sect? What's with the Quasar Heavenly Tribulation?"

The Timaeus Sect's Leader frowned at her question.

"You heard about it even from the Daemon Prison?"

Lyla nodded and said solemnly, "The Quasar Heavenly Tribulation spread everywhere within our formation.

Naturally, we saw it happen. The imprisoned demons were also affected and began worshipping the Quasar Tribulation Clouds.

"A few of them acted very bizarrely. It has been ages since such a major event happened."

The Timaeus Sect's Leader took a deep breath and said, "The demons were worshipping? Could it be that young man is..."

The Timaeus Sect's Leader had a terrible premonition in his heart.

Among the demons being suppressed in the Daemon Prison, the weakest was at the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Fifth Tribulation. There were also some powerful ones at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Eighth Tribulation.

The demons trapped inside the Daemon Prison would be enough to wreak havoc in the Timaeus Sect and cause chaos in the Three Thousand Great Genesis Worlds. Once someone controls them, it would be a major catastrophe for the Genesis Worlds.

The Timaeus Sect's Leader grabbed Lyla's hand and said, "You're my most trusted elder. Although you're the youngest, you're the most savvy and capable elder.

"You should understand how much trust I have in you since I gave you supervision over the Daemon Prison, which is independent of the other seven mountains.

Lyla nodded and said, "Of course, sir. I won't let anything happen in the Daemon Prison. However, you should at least let me know what happened."

Faced with Lyla's questioning gaze, the Timaeus Sect's Leader turned solemnly and put his hands behind his back.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5881-The Timaeus Sect's Leader recounted James' Heavenly Tribulation.

After hearing everything, Lyla had a surprised expression.

"A cultivator at the Yuraeceon Ninth Rank went through a Quasar Heavenly Tribulation and had a golden body?"

The Timaeus Sect's Leader nodded solemnly and said, "What's even more surprising is that he cast the Second Marciais Combat Form, the Divine Form.

It's not something even powerhouses like you and me can achieve."

Lyla gasped and said, "Incredible. Can I meet him?"

The leader frowned and answered, "There's no need to. I didn't sense any dark or evil energy from him. But judging from what happened in the Daemon Prison, he must have something connection with the Dark World."

Lyla said with a murderous intent, "Since you're suspicious, we should seal him away and throw him into the Daemon Prison. We can't be too careful if it's related to the Dark World. I'd rather make a mistake by killing an innocent than allow the chance of a tragedy to befall us."

The Timaeus Sect's leader paced back and forth in front of Lyla with his hands still behind his back.

"Let's wait for a bit before making a decision. I've already informed Skynet's Yegor Sadler. I hope he can come up with a better solution."

When Lyla was about to reply, a voice came from outside the hall.

"Why are you kneeling here, young lady? Is your sect leader abusing you?"

"Get up, and come with me."

"Sigh. Why are you so stubborn? That old man isn't that scary."

After speaking, a burly figure appeared within the hall.

The middle-aged man wore a python robe and had an imposing temperament.

He emitted a powerful aura, which made him seem very domineering.

The Timaeus Sect's Leader immediately clasped his hand and said, "Good to see you again, Yegor."

Yegor immediately reprimanded him, "You old man! What did the young lady do? How can you let her kneel outside? Don't you know she's injured?"

After expressing his dissatisfaction, Yegor walked over to a chair and sat down.

Then, he said, "We had an agreement, Xachary. The Timaeus Sect will raise her, but you're not allowed to torture her!"

The Timaeus Sect's Leader, Xachary Thornton, said helplessly, "She's our Grand Patriarch's favorite. Who would dare to torture her?" Yegor questioned fiercely, "Then why is she kneeling out there? She didn't even budge when I told her to get up."

Xachary explained the series of events.

After hearing everything, Yegor had a meaningful expression.

Xachary pointed at Yegor and said, "How is it my fault? If your son didn't steal your token and bring these guys into my sect, this would've never happened!"

"We haven't figured out the guy's background yet, but he stole our saintess' heart first. Tell me, who should be blamed for this?"

Yegor touched his nose, embarrassed, and said, "Hmm, about this matter..."

Xachary kept pointing at Yegor and said, "Don't try to deflect responsibility. Your family caused this! You're also responsible! If our Grand Patriarch hears about it, you must also take responsibility!"

"You're too noisy! I'm going deaf!" Yegor pushed Xachary away, then pointed at Lyla and said, "Aren't you close with the Saintess? You should talk to her and convince her to go back and treat her injuries. We'll talk about the rest later."

"As for her request, we'll discuss it! It's not impossible!"

Xachary said furiously, "You!"

Lyla nodded respectfully and then left the hall.

Xachary shouted, "Seriously, Yegor? This is the Timaeus Sect, not Skynet! How dare you give orders around here?!"
