

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5981-“I’m finally back, Mount Martialis!”

James stood before Mount No. 3, looking at the “home” he had left behind. At that moment, several familiar figures suddenly appeared in the hall.

“You’re finally back, General! Great!”

“I heard you were trapped, Master! Are you alright?”

“It seems you’ve grown stronger. Are you already at the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank’s Sixth Tribulation?”

“Did they make things hard for you?”

After listening to everyone’s concerns, James gave them each a hug.

He never expected Xzavion, Stephen, and Truett, who had participated in the group was reunited once again.

James looked at them and replied, “I’m fine, but you guys look otherwise.”

The group looked at each other, troubled.

James asked, “How’s everything? Did you guys pass the third test at the Demon Region?”

Xzavion, Stephen, and Truett lowered their heads at his question.

James frowned and asked, “What’s wrong? Don’t tell me none of you passed?”

“I passed!” Truett raised his head.

“With your strength, it’s expected.” James patted his shoulder, looked at the other two, and said, “It’s alright. There’ll be another chance.”

Stephen suddenly raised his head and said with teary eyes, “We would have passed, but...”

He suddenly paused, then gritted his teeth. He clenched his fists, and anger flashed on his face.

Seeing Stephen's abnormal behavior, James looked at Xzavin and said, "Tell me."

Xzavion snarled, "The Demon Region isn't what we expected. We weren't asked to kill demons, but living beings from the Dark World!"

Startled, James asked, "Living beings from the Dark World?"

"Yeah..." Xzavion replied, slightly choked up, "Most of them were humans at the Yuraeceon Rank or Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank. They tried their best to resist, but they succumbed and were massacred."

While speaking, Stephen had tears streaming down his face, "I witnessed it with my own eyes. Tens of thousands of humans were massacred by a disciple of the Timeaus Sect who was at the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Fifth Tribulation.

Even though the humans were weak, they bravely fought back.

"It was tragic. The humans knew they were outmatched but did not back down."

"I tried to help but could not overpower the man killing them. If Truett and Stephen didn't arrive in time, I would've died."

James could almost picture the incident after listening to Xzavion and Stephen's stories. The countless humans killed one after another by the man's attacks. It must have been a horrifying battle.

Just like the disciples of the Timaeus Sect, the Dark World's living beings were also lives, yet they were slaughtered mercilessly like animals.

Xzavion looked at Truett and sighed, "Truett isn't from the Dark World, but even he couldn't bear to kill them. He already planned to give up but met an elder from the Dark World. The elder used a Dark Inscription to help him pass the test."

James looked at Truett, nodded, and said, "Thank you."

Truett sighed with intense indignation about the situation. Then, he said, "The Timaeus Sect is the Righteous Alliance's core, but they make their disciples undergo such tests. They are literal demons."

After speaking, Truett said, "I'm planning to leave the Timaeus Sect, James."

Let's head back to Skynet with the Saintess. This sect is full of hypocrites and isn't worth staying for."

James patted his shoulder and said, "Since you think that way, could I ask you for a favor?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5982-Truett looked at James and said firmly, "I'll even risk my life for you! What do you need me to do?"

James raised his hand and created a Soundproof Barrier around the group.

Then, he summoned the Grimlore Map.

Truett looked at the Grimlore Map in shock and said, "How is this in your possession? It's one of Skynet's most valuable treasures."

"Your father gave it to me," James replied, then pointed to the connecting area of Skynet District and the Dark Genesis World. "Skynet controls such a vast district. I'm sure you guys have a way into our world, right?"

"I need you to send my friends back to the Dark Genesis World."

Truett, Stephen, and Quattro widened their eyes, surprised by James' request.

"You want US to return to the Dark Genesis World?"

"Why do you want US to go back, Master?"

Xzavion, on the other hand, looked at James and said, "I see. You're planning to create a secret passage in the Dark Genesis World that leads to the Ancient Genesis World?"

"Yes." James nodded, then explained his plan.

The Dark Genesis World and the Three Thousand Great Genesis Worlds were supposed to be one. However, the Righteous Alliance's different forces trapped them, making it impossible for them to make a move.

If a passage linked to the Ancient Genesis World could be made, the Dark Genesis World would no longer be isolated. Then, he could collect many resources and provide them to the talented cultivators in the Dark Genesis World. This would help them improve rapidly and increase their world's overall strength.

After hearing James' plan, the group exchanged shocked glances.

Stephen immediately agreed, "I'll go back, Master. Even if my body perishes, I'm willing to do what it takes to help the Dark Genesis World."

Xzavion also looked at James and said, "Me too. Although a few of us have grown stronger after leaving the Dark Genesis World, our strength alone isn't enough. We'll have to improve the Dark Genesis World's situation and help them grow. Only by doing so will we be considered powerful."

After agreeing to James' plan, the two of them turned to Quattro.

Quattro murmured warily, "Why are you looking at me? You two already expressed your willingness to go back. If I didn't do the same, I'd look horrible.

However, I have one question. Will we be able to come back?"

Stephen slapped the back of Quattro's head and said, "You stupid piggy. Master is asking US to go back to choose some talented cultivators. Of course, we'll have to come back!"

Quattro nodded and said, "Good! Then, I'll also go back too! But on one condition! I must be an army commander with at least a few billion troops!"

James ignored his request and turned to Truett.

Truett mused, "Hmm...How about setting aside an area at the edge of Skynet and the Ancient Genesis World to temporarily accommodate the living beings from the Dark Genesis World?"

"Then, I can think of a way to transport some cultivation resources from Skynet to them. We'll let them settle there and adapt to the Three Thousand Great Genesis Worlds first. We'll make plans after a few of them reach the Yuraeceon Fifth Rank."

James looked at him in astonishment and asked, "Is that possible?"

Truett said smilingly, "I'm pretty close with the two elders guarding the Dark Genesis World's borders. They'll do that much for me. However, it'll be hard to obtain enough cultivation resources."

James squinted and said, "Leave the cultivation resources to me. As long as you can get this done, I'll agree to whatever condition Skynet wants."

Truett suddenly asked, "Can you let US into the Dark Genesis World?"

James frowned and asked, "If that's the condition, then I'll have to take care of this personally. Will the timing conflict with the Forladtt Trial?"

Truett shook his head and answered, "Nope. The Forladtt Land opens every two epochs. Before it's open, there will be a strange phenomenon. Nothing has been spotted yet, and it'll most likely take at least thirty epochs more."

James slightly narrowed his eyes and said, "Okay. Then, let's not wait any longer. We set off now."

After speaking, James wrapped up the group with his Genesis. Then, he used his Zen to select a location on the Grimlore Map. The next moment, they had vanished from the spot.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5983-Skynet's Demon Dungeon neighboured the Dark Genesis World. Countless restrictions and formations were set up in the area. Within the vast universes were numerous powerhouses at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank standing on guard.

James and his friends teleported through the map and arrived at the Demon Dungeon. Truett immediately met up with one of the elders guarding the dungeon.

After a quick conversation, Truett successfully obtained permission to clear an area for living beings from the Dark World to stay.

Now that accommodation was settled, James used the Judgment Scythe and called upon evil power to forcibly slice a narrow passage from the Demon Dungeon to the Dark Genesis World.

At the same time, he cast Franciscus' Curse Magic to crack the formations at the borders of the Dark Genesis World. Then, he cast a Eight Trigram Formation that consisted of the Eight Doors—Life, Harm, Rest, Obstacle, Scenery, Death, Fear and Open.

The Eight Doors served as the entrances and exits connecting the two worlds.

James also cast Curse Magic in the area. By doing so, only living beings from the Dark World can pass through the passage.

Meanwhile, other living beings would have to obtain Dark Inscriptions, otherwise, their souls would be obliterated.

With the Seal Boundary that Franciscus had set up, the Dark Genesis World would be safe.

James stood in the passage and explained the plan to Xzavion, Stephen and Quattro before sending them back to the Dark Genesis World.

"Your Supernatural Power is amazing, James." When Truett saw James walking out of the passage, he smiled and gave a thumbs up.

James sighed softly and said, "That's all I can do now. Let's go see your father."

Truett immediately distanced himself from James and looked at him warily.

James asked suspiciously, "What's wrong? Don't you miss your father?"

Truett exclaimed, "You're not trying to betray me, right? If my father knows I did this, he'll peel off my skin."

James sighed and said, "Do you think we can hide it from him? He's the leader of Skynet, a powerhouse at the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation. We won't be able to hide it from him."

Truett sighed softly, "You've already thought of this, haven't you?"

James rolled his eyes and said, "Of course. How could I let you shoulder the blame alone? Let's go."

After speaking, James disappeared from the area with a flash.

Truett shook his head and hurriedly followed after him.

Meanwhile, Yegot was sitting inside a garden behind the Skynet's headquarters.

He poured a glass of Qhairos, pushed it forward, and poured himself a cup.

After preparing the drinks, he gulped down the contents in his glass.

At that moment, James and Truett approached hurriedly.

James shouted, "I'm here to thank you, sir!"

Truett hid behind James and cast a secret glance at Yegor, feeling guilty.

"Sit." Yegor did not seem surprised by their visit.

James sat down opposite him. He looked at the drink that had been poured, picked it up and gulped it.

"Good wine!"

"Bring a few jugs with you when you leave." After speaking, Yegor looked at Truett, who was casting wary gazes at him.

Truett immediately fell to his knees and kowtowed.

Yegor put down his wine glass and said calmly, "Come and drag him down! He is to be punished with three hundred spiritual whips!"
