

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5986-Yegor took a deep breath, put his hands behind his back, and said, "I know I can't change your mind, but take my silly son with you."

James refused decisively, "The Forladtt Land is extremely dangerous. He shouldn't be there. Many other opportunities will arise in the future."

After speaking, James opened up the Grimlore Map and disappeared from the spot.

Yegor was about to speak but swallowed his words after James left.

At that moment, Truett limped in, covered in bloodstains.

When he saw that Yegor was the only one standing in the garden, he frowned and asked, "Where did my friend go. Dad?"

"He left," Yegor sighed deeply.

Truett frowned and said, "He left? He didn't wait for me? How can he be so unfaithful?!!"

Yegor glared at him and reprimanded him, "Nonsense. He's the most righteous person I've seen in a long time."

Truett noticed something was wrong with his father's expression and immediately knew something was off. He ignored the pain in his body and rushed over.

"What did you do tell him. Dad? Did you disagree about opening up a passage connecting Skynet and the Dark Genesis World?"

Seeing Truett worried, Yegor reached out to wipe the bloodstains on Truett's face with a tender expression.

"If there's a chance your friend doesn't return, will you still go to the Forladtt Trial with him?"

Truett replied without hesitation, "Of course. We promised to die for each other."

Yegor squinted and said, "You're not just going to die. Your soul might be destroyed, and you'll not be able to reincarnate."

As soon as these words came out, Truett trembled all over.

"Do you still want to go?" Yegor stared at him.

"Yes," Truett said with determination.

Yegor asked, "Why?"

"Because he is my friend!" After Truett finished speaking, he suddenly gritted his teeth and disappeared.

Truett's reply was tacky, one that very few could truly put into practice. After all, not many would willingly die for another.

Yegor was happy his son had such a righteous heart and to have met a friend like James. At the same time, he felt pretty helpless about his son's decision.

However, he was unable to stop him. As a father, he had mixed feelings.

At that moment, a shout came from outside the door.

"Master, Yaquis Sect's Leader has come to visit."

Yegor frowned and said, "He finally showed up..."

With that said, Yegor hurried toward the door.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5987-After James left Skynet's headquarters, he robbed another small sect of the Ancient Genesis World for resources. Then, he used the Grimlore Map to teleport to the Timaeus Sect. His disgust toward the Timaeus Sect peaked after he learned about the truth.

When he returned to Mount Martialis, he made sure nobody saw him. Then, he set up a time formation and began cultivating his Golden Body.

With Lesia's guidance, James upgraded his Golden Body to the second stage.

Previously, he lacked information about the Golden Bod, but after Lesia explained it, he had a clearer picture.

His Golden Body was from the Marcial's Combat Form and was divided into four stages—Primeval Golden Body, Genesis Golden Body, Holy Golden Body and Ultimate Golden Body.

James had already reached the second stage, the Genesis Golden Body. He could unleash powerful attacks and defenses comparable to those of a powerhouse at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's First Tribulation.

At that moment, James' Genesis Divine Light also appeared. Although it was still weak, it was much stronger than others at his rank. After all, he had the enhancement of the Golden Body and the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell. With them, he felt slightly more confident in the Forladtt Land, which was full of dangers.

Soon, a strange phenomenon appeared in the skies and the Forladtt Teleportation Formation was opened. The Timaeus Sect's disciples who were chosen to participate in the trial gathered outside the main hall's entrance.

The person presiding over the trial was a powerful man with long hair. He wore a gray robe and a mask covering his face. His aura was powerful and oppressive.

He looked at the participants as if they were a swarm of ants.

Even a powerhouse like Lyla, who accompanied him, stood behind him warily.

James looked at him, then pulled a random person next to him closer and asked, "Is that our sect leader?"

The man turned around, evidently annoyed by the situation. Just when he was about to get mad, he swallowed his words after seeing it was James. He quickly made some distance between them as if James was a virus.

James' brows furrowed.

At that moment, a woman's voice resounded.

"He's not the sect leader. He's our Great Protector."

James turned around, surprised that Thea had come to participate in the Forladtt Trial.

Faced with James' surprised expression, Thea put her hands behind her back.

Then, she looked at James and blinked at him playfully.

James' brows furrowed together, and he asked, "What are you doing here?

You're our sect's saintess."

Thea said proudly, "The Forladtt Trial was prepared for me. Of course, I have to be here."

Confused, James thought to himself, 'Prepared for her? The Timaeus Sect not only wants to destroy my soul and prevent me from reincarnating, but they want to eliminate Thea as well? If so, why would they bother bringing her back from the Forladtt Land and making her their saintess?' James was even more startled when he saw another familiar figure approaching him. "It's Truett! He came as well?"

Truett looked at James and said, "You've finally left seclusion?"

James whispered, "Didn't you already quit the Timaeus Sect? What are you doing here?"

Truett replied smilingly, "The Forladtt Trial only happens every two entrapochs.

Of course, I have to come! Even if I had to quit the sect, I'd do it after the trial."

James sighed and said helplessly, "You can participate, but you must listen to me!"

Truett smiled calmly and said, "Of course! We're friends that will die for each other!"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5988-Thea suddenly interjected, saying, "We're not friends, but I'm willing to die with you too."

James thought, 'With the two of you here, there's a high chance we die together.' At that moment, the masked man standing on the steps of the main hall finally spoke.

"Danger and great treasures coexist within the Forladtt Trial. Everyone should work together to make the Timaeus Sect proud."

"If the other sects provoke you, kill them without mercy. Those who manage to kill other sect's participants will be rewarded handsomely. However, our sect will not avenge you if you're killed.

"Our sect has always valued strength. Everyone here is the best selected from trillions of disciples from the Timaeus Sect. I strongly believe everyone will be able to encounter great boons of your own."

After speaking, the masked man waved his hand. At that moment, radiant energy balls appeared in front of each participant.

The masked man said coldly, "Each of you get a hundred elixirs at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank. After entering the Forladtt Land, it's up to you to survive."

"Don't forget when the Forladtt Teleportation Formation closes. I'm sure your masters and elders have already briefed you, so I won't repeat it here.

"Now, I'll give you all some time to form teams. It will be best to have four in a group so that you can watch out for each other."

The participants looked around and began forming their groups.

Thea approached James and asked, "So what do we do? Will our group only have the three of us?"

Truett looked at James and said smilingly, "Forty-nine will surely be mad if you team up with someone else."

Healing this, Thea looked at James happily.

James nodded and said, "We can be in a group. However, when we enter Forladtt Land, you two must listen to my orders."

Thea murmured, "You're being bossy. Don't you remember I'm the saintess?"

Sensing James' frustration, Thea immediately said, "Fine. I'll listen to you." At that moment, the man who had avoided James walked over hesitantly.

"Can I join your group?"

James, Truett and Thea turned to him.

Thea looked at the man approaching and said, "Didn't you always look down on Mount Martialis and Forty-nine, Whitaker? Why do you want to join US now?"

Whitaker rubbed his nose embarrassedly, then replied, "I changed my mind after seeing him fight Mount Elixir's Master at Beauregard."

With that said, Whitaker bowed to James and said, "I'm sorry, Forty-nine."

James smiled calmly and said, "I never felt that anyone owed me an apology.

You managed to score a six-star at the Beauregard Test. You're really outstanding. With your strength, many will be willing to team up with you guys."

Whitaker said firmly, "But I prefer to fight alongside the strong."

Truett said smilingly, "Since he already apologized, let him join US."

James looked at Whitaker, nodded, and said, "Alright. I'll count you in."

At that moment, the masked man waved his hand, and a powerful force enveloped the participants.

"Is everyone ready?"

The participants shouted in unison, "Yes!"

The masked man laughed, lifted the participants with his powers, and teleported them away.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5989-James and the other participants appeared in an unfamiliar gray void, similar to the Halcyon Road. The surroundings were dark and depressing, making the participants shudder.

James looked around and saw the countless living beings from the other Genesis Worlds waiting in the area.

Unlike them, James and the others from the Timaeus Sect stood in the highest spot and had a bird-eye view of the entire area.

Truett murmured, "Didn't they say there is a Teleportation Formation? Why is the area so dim?"

Thea replied, 'Why are you so impatient? The Teleportation Formation hasn't opened yet. We've only seen the abnormal phenomenon before its opening.'

Whitaker pointed forward and said, "Look at that beam of light."

James and the others raised their heads and saw a sudden flash of light ahead of them. It slowly grew and became a massive cosmic light cluster.

A living being in the front exclaimed, "The Forladdt Teleportation Formation has finally been activated."

The enormous cosmic light cluster expanded but was suddenly blown away by a violent wind.

The wind permeated the area, sweeping many living beings off the ground.

Some of them could not withstand the force, and their body parts were severed apart.

In the sky, many broken limbs could be seen flying around.

Everyone panicked after realizing the danger.

James, on the other hand, quickly stepped in front of Thea and Truett. Then, he also pulled Whitaker behind him.

Just as he was about to activate his Golden Body, he felt a majestic power coming from the sky. Shortly after, a thick light formation formed around them.

James turned around and saw that the masked man had taken action. He rushed in front of the twenty participants from the Timaeus Sect. Then, he stretched out his hand and unleashed a powerful Genesis Qrohm. His powers clashed with the strange wind, causing loud explosions.

At the same time, James discovered other powerhouses from other major Orthodoxes had also sprung into action.

They used similar methods to protect the participants of their sects and resisted the strange wind with their Supernatural Powers.

The weaker cultivators from smaller sects and those who had come alone were not as lucky. Without the protection of a powerhouse, they were swept away by the strange wind and their bodies were destroyed. Even their souls were tragically obliterated.

In fact, the major forces had deliberately allowed them into the Flordtt Land to be used as shields.

After some time, the strange wind calmed, and the area returned to peace.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5990-Truett murmured, "Why do I feel like I've walked straight into the tiger's den?"

Thea replied, "You can go back if you're afraid."

Truett sighed helplessly and said, "I'll bear your sarcasm just because you're my friend's lover."

Thea was rendered speechless. She secretly glanced at James and did not refute the identity given to her.

The different participants from the significant Orthodoxes gradually passed through the Forladtt Teleportation Formation. After a while, it was finally the Timaeus Sect's turn.

The order they entered was not an act of generosity by the Timaeus Sect.

Instead, it was an extremely sinister plan.

Whitaker explained that the sooner you enter, the faster you die. The Galeat Wind had not completely calmed inside the Forladtt Land, so the last batch of living beings who entered had a higher chance of survival.

They must survive the Forladtt Land's dangers to acquire great boons and treasures. It was a special privilege of the Timaeus Sect as the largest force in the Ancient Genesis World.

Thea urged, "It's our turn. Let's go."

James took a deep breath. He was placed in the forefront of the Timaeus Sect's disciples. Behind him were Whitaker, Truett and Thea.

When they came close to the cosmic light cluster, a powerful force pulled them in.

James opened his eyes and felt himself falling extremely fast. At the same time, some magical force seemed to have sealed the Genesis in his body. He immediately activated the Third Marciais Combat Form and used his powers to protect Truett, Thea and Whitaker. As for the others, he did not have the time to care about them.

While they rapidly fell through the void, another terrifying wind emitting a bright light swept over.

Thea reminded, "That's Yorean Wind. It'll test everyone's cultivation base.

Anyone who exceeds the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation will have their cultivation base lowered.

James saw a living being from the Timaeus Sect, enveloped by the wind, but soon released a painful scream and exploded.

"What happened?" James frowned.

Whitaker explained, "He tried to use his Genesis to resist the Yorean Wind and imploded.

James gasped at his words. 'Is the Forladtt Land really that terrifying? A Teleportation Formation was a hundred times more terrifying than the Halcyon Road.

After falling for some time, James and his group landed on the ground. The surrounding flowers, plants, and even the sky were red. The area looked very suffocating and oppressive.

James murmured, "Are we in hell?"

Thea explained, "This place is called the Red Purgatory. According to ancient records, the first level of the Forladdt Land is called the Red Purgatory. Although there aren't any powerful living beings here, the plants are deadly."

James withdrew his powers and looked at the red forest ahead. He saw a few cultivators who had entered the Forladdt Land before them already entangled, screaming in agony.

Truett asked, "Can't we use teleportation skills here?"

Thea looked at him and said, "You can. But your soul will be destroyed, and you won't be able to reincarnate."