

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5996

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5996-Xitlaly was aware of James' strength. However, she did not expect him to become so ruthless after cultivating him for a few years.

After killing two crucial people, James turned to Xitlaly and the others with the Judgment Scythe in hand. The women trembled in fear after meeting his gaze.

Their faces paled, and they quickly squeezed together.

Xitlaly suppressed the fear in her heart and knelt on one knee, saying, "We're willing to submit to you. Please don't kill US."

The group of women behind her also followed suit.

Truett, who had finished confiscating the valuable items from Behaterm Sect's disciples, rushed over and said, "Let's not kill the women. Forty-nine. It's..."

"Are you willing to become my friend's wife?" James stared at Xitlaly.

Xitlaly was startled by his words.

Truett also looked at Xitlaly nervously.

Thea stood aside and said teasingly, "He is a pretty extraordinary person. You won't suffer if you marry him, saintess."

Xitlaly bit her red lips, raised her head and said, "I'll only marry a human!"

James immediately pushed Truett over, saying, "Sign a soul contract right away."

Truett turned around and looked at James speechlessly. He looked at Xitlaly, kneeling on the ground and said, "If you're not willing to sign it, it's fine. I'll talk with him."

Xitlaly sighed, seemingly having thought it through. She waved her hand, and a soul contract appeared in the void. Afterward, she integrated her Soul Zen into it.

“Are you sure about this?” Truett’s lips trembled ever so slightly. Even though he seemed to be trying to persuade her to reconsider, he did not hesitate to pour his Zen into the contract.

The soul contract emitted a dazzling glow, signifying that it was signed and in effect.

Immediately afterward, James placed inscriptions on the other women’s bodies.

The women let out screams and toppled to the ground. The whole group rolled on the ground, wailing in pain.

Xitlaly asked anxiously, “What did you do to them?!”

James squinted and said, “You’ve also been to the Zephyria World. You should know what I did.”

Xitlaly looked at her comrades’ miserable state, and fear welled up in her heart.

James had cast the Curse Magic he had inherited from Franciscus. She thought to herself, ‘He used Curse Magic to control them? Is it to keep everything a secret? If I had refused the marriage just now, would I also face the same fate?’ Xitlaly looked at James with a pale face.

Thea was also shocked by James’ actions. She never expected him to be so ruthless.

Suddenly, James looked at Thea and said, “You also need one.”

“No! I don’t want one!” Thea’s face became pale, and she hurriedly hid behind Whitaker and Truett in fear.

“She’s your partner, Forty-nine.” Truett looked at James puzzledly.

James replied solemnly, “It’s because she’s my partner that she must accept the inscription.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5997-Whitaker also protected Thea, saying, "She's the Timaeus Sect's Saintess, Forty-nine. I respect your strength, but..."

Before he could finish speaking, James raised his hand and struck Whitaker with dense Curse Inscriptions.

Whitaker screamed in pain, covered his head, and fell to the ground.

Thea was immediately frightened by the scene.

Truett stared at James in shock and asked, "Are you crazy? What are you doing?!!"

James did not explain himself. He raised his hand and used his Genesis to bring Thea close.

Faced with Thea's fearful eyes, James calmly took out the memory inscription.

Thea shouted, "Do you want to control me as well, Forty-nine?!!"

James said endearingly, "This is for your own good, Thea. We've been separated for too long. I hope you can remember me, our past, and that I'm your husband."

After speaking, James thrust the memory inscription into Thea's forehead.

Suddenly, a white light burst out from Thea's body and knocked James away.

The memory inscription James had tried to insert into Thea's forehead was also repelled.

James stabilized himself and looked at Thea in disbelief.

'How is this possible? Is she not Thea's reincarnation? Why did the memory inscriptions repel?

Even if she was being monitored by Lyla, a powerhouse at the Yuraeceon Daalm Rank's Ninth Tribulation, her powers should be ineffective in the Forladtt Land. This was why James wanted to use the chance to integrate the memory inscription into her.

However, the memory inscription seemed incompatible with her.

James thought to himself, 'Is she not Thea? Then why do they look exactly the same?' His heart was shattered into pieces. He went through so many hardships to travel out of the Dark World to find her reincarnation so that he could return the memory inscription to her and reunite with her.

James' hopes were shattered when the memory inscriptions were repelled.

At that moment, Thea slowly rose into the sky with a light surrounding her. She looked at James disappointedly, and tears rolled down her cheeks. She never expected the man she liked so much that she sacrificed her title to have mistreated her.

She questioned whether the boons in the Fordlatt Land were really that important to him that he threw away all his feelings. Initially, she was slightly uncomfortable with Truett calling her James' partner. However, she gradually accepted it. She never expected things to end this way.

Thea was disappointed in James. He had forsaken his feelings and rationale just for some boons within the Forladdt Land.

She flew into the sky and shouted tearily, "You're a cruel man, Forty-nine! I must've been blind! From now on, you and I have nothing to do with each other!

Pretend we never met!"

Afterward, Thea disappeared from the sky.

James shouted, "Thea!"

However, his calls to her were in vain.

At that moment, the entire area fell silent. Everyone, including Truett and Whitaker, looked at James warily.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5998-At that moment, James was like a heinous demon who could devour them at any time.

"Argh!!!" James suddenly growled, then rapidly slashed out with his Judgment Scythe.

Countless dark Sword Energies spread out, slashing the surrounding plants in half. Everything that came in contact with the Sword Energies began to wither rapidly.

The Behatarm Sect's disciples, who had been robbed, did not have the time to escape and were obliterated.

One after another, they succumbed to the Sword Energies, and their souls perished.

Truett quickly protected Xitlaly and other women from the lustus Sect, quickly moving them to safety.

Seeing James take his anger out on the trees and plants, Truett rushed over worriedly.

Truett grabbed James and shouted, "Forty-nine! Get it together! You've succumbed to your Inner Demon."

However, James had already lost rationale and could not stop. He repeatedly slashed out the Judgement Scythe and unleashed Sword Energies.

The Sword Energies pierced through the void, causing sand and gravel to fill the air. The surrounding trees were not spared and were sliced in half. Immediately afterward, they withered away.

Meanwhile, Lesia, who was within James' Golden Body, suddenly opened her eyes. She stared at the black lotus that had appeared and was enlarging before her. Her expression immediately changed, and she murmured, "The Dark Lotus? Has my master's heart been corrupted?"

The Dark Lotus suddenly charged at her with terrifying and evil power.

"Damn it!" Lesia cursed, and quickly dodged the attack.

The Dark Lotus, however, changed its attacking trajectory and chased after her.

Lesia stretched out her arms, and a golden light immediately wrapped around her body.

This time, Lesia did not evade the Dark Lotus. Instead, she bravely charged forward and threw tens of thousands of punches.

The Dark Lotus burst out with a black glow and began circling rapidly.

“Damn it! Why were you born? Are you here to cause a catastrophe?” Lesia cursed, then grabbed the Dark Lotus. She pressed it to the ground and rubbed it violently. Then, she swung her fists and threw a few kicks.

“I-I’m sorry!” the Dark Lotus suddenly let out a painful cry.

Lesia stepped on the Dark Lotus and reprimanded, “You’re not allowed to come out, or I’ll beat you up all day and night!”

The Dark Lotus emitted a dark glow, and agreed immediately.

Afterward, Lesia grabbed the Dark Lotus and used it as her cushion. She sat on it in a lotus position and focused on cultivating again.

Gradually, the Dark Lotus dimmed after being overpowered by Lesia’s golden light for some time.

James, who had been acting insane, also calmed down.

Truett shouted, “What is wrong with you? Are you trying to kill me too?”

James snapped out of it and saw Truett standing in front of him with his hands clamping tightly onto the Judgment Scythe. He frowned and asked, “Was my mind corrupted just now?”

Truett replied anxiously, “Yes! You even tried to control the saintess with Curse Magic! You were acting insane!”

James explained frantically, “I wasn’t trying to control her. I wanted to integrate a memory inscription into her. It’ll help her remember her past life, and that I was her husband.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5999-Truett’s eyes widened in shock, and he let go of James.

James took out Thea’s memory inscription again and said, “Have a good look.

It’s a memory inscription, right?”

Truett observed for a while and immediately realized. He replied, "Why didn't you explain it properly? You made her mad and disappointed. I'm afraid she might have already left the Forladtt Land."

James sighed and said, "She can't leave. The Teleportation Formation hasn't been opened."

Truett said anxiously, "Then she is in greater danger. A woman like her has to face the other sect's disciples and the plants of the Forladtt Land. More importantly, we don't know how many powerhouses of the new alliance have snuck in here. If she were to encounter someone at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank..."

James sighed and said, "There can't be that many of them here. Besides, she might not be the person I'm looking for."

Truett was stunned. He asked, "H-How is that possible? When you showed me the portrait, I recognized her at a glance. Didn't you claim that she was your wife?"

James sighed and said, disappointed, "Many people look similar. Perhaps it was just a coincidence. Otherwise, the memory inscription would've integrated into her soul without a problem."

Truett thought for a while and asked, "Could the memory inscription have been repelled because she was unwilling to accept it?"

James shook his head and said, "That's impossible. Before we came to the Forladtt Land, I didn't try to integrate it back into her because Lyla was monitoring her soul. Once I return the memory inscription to her, Lyla will learn about everything, putting her in great danger."

"However, it's a different case here. The Forladtt Land is completely isolated from the outside world. Regardless of what kind of extraordinary Supernatural Powers Lyla has, it'd be impossible to continue monitoring Thea in the Forladtt Land."

"Yet, the memory inscription failed to merge with her. There must be a problem somewhere."

Truett stared at James and said, "We still should find her and explain the situation. Are you not going to worry about her just because you have doubts about her identity? No matter what, she's..."

James interrupted him, saying, "Of course I'm worried! However, she needs some time to calm down. She's the Timaeus Sect's Saintess and pretty powerful. There aren't many who can stand against her."

Truett asked anxiously, "Aren't you afraid that the Yaquis Sect will capture her?"

James squinted and said, "That would be even better. I'd know her precise location."

After speaking, James ignored Truett's confused expression and checked his surroundings.

He discovered that the plants he had sliced apart when he was corrupted had already withered. Moreover, the roots of these plants had holes in them, and shining treasures were hidden in them.

Intrigued, James walked over and found that there were about three to five cores in each of the root's holes with qualities even better than elixirs refined by Mount Elixir.

The plants within the Forladdt Land's first level could attack people and contain treasures. After the discovery, James waved his hand and gathered the cores into the void.

Truett was stunned to see the numerous cores floating into the sky. Xitlaly and her comrades were also dumbfounded.

James looked to Truett and said, "Take them."

"You did the hard work. How can I keep them?" said Truett.

James rolled his eyes and said, "Because we're friends."

Truett was rendered speechless. He stopped arguing and collected them into his bag.

Finally, James turned to Xitlaly and the others.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6000-Xitlaly's face turned pale after meeting his gaze. She quickly led her comrades to kneel and said, "We're here to serve you, Master."

James sighed softly, "I'm sorry for scaring everyone, but please understand. If my secret gets out, my life will be on the line. Apart from my best friend here, all of you are the only ones who know about it."

"I placed the curse not to control you but to ensure my secret doesn't get out. otherwise, you would have to bear the consequences if word got out."

After a brief shock, Xitlaly nodded and said, "Please give US your order, Master."

James released his Zen and scanned the Forladtt Land's map. Then, he said calmly, "Let's look for the Calidum Spiritual Tree together."

Xitlaly asked surprisedly, "The Calidum Spiritual Tree? The treasure of the Forladtt Land's first level?"

"I heard the Calidum Spiritual Tree blooms and bears fruit every ten entrapochs."

Eating one Calidum Spiritual Fruit can increase your cultivation rank to unimaginable heights."

James nodded, saying, "It seems you know quite a lot. Alright, let's head southwest."

Xitlaly nodded in agreement and winked at her comrades. Then, she led the group forward.

Truett immediately murmured, "How can we let the girls lead the way?"

After speaking, he immediately chased after them.

James said smilingly, "Has he already fallen so deep? I hope they don't end up like Thea and me, always going through separations. They should become a great couple and have a good life."

At that moment, Whitaker slowly got up from the ground and followed them like a zombie. Along the way, the group killed many vines and plants that could devour living beings.

James also learned more about the Forladtt Land's mysteries from his new comrades. Once the plants of the Forladtt Land devour a person, they will never have the chance to be reincarnated again.

The Forladtt Land's plants were divided into different territories and strengths.

From birth until maturity, the weakest plant was at the Yuraeceon Fifth Rank.

Next, there would be plants at the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank, followed by the most potent plants at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank. Correspondingly, they could obtain verifying amounts of cores from these plants' roots by killing them and waiting for them to wither.

James and his group worked together to kill many plants, most of which were at the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank, and obtained abundant cores of the same rank.

James was surprised that out of the cores at the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank they had collected, even the lowest grade was much better than the elixirs from Mount Elixir.

It was no wonder many people were crazy about entering the Forladtt Land, even if it meant risking their lives. Even low-grade items from the Forladtt Land were priceless outside.

After getting rid of plants for several years, James and his comrades harvested many high-level cores.

They saw a towering tree when they got close to a red field. It emitted fiery flames and dazzling lights. The tree bore fruit, which also had colorful flames.

Xitlaly exclaimed, "It's the Calidum Spiritual Tree! We found it!"
