

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6121-James asked, "Are you here on Xachary's behalf?"

Lyla sighed softly, "He's stronger than Timaeus Sect's Leader, Xachary, now. He's probably trying to win us over to help him overthrow Xachary.

James immediately looked at Lyla and said, "Win us over? If he has enough to offer, why not?"

Lyla was speechless. After a while, she said, "The Timaeus Sect is not like it used to be. Now that Xachary has dropped to the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation, chaos will break out pretty soon."

James exclaimed, "Wait a minute. What did you just say? How is he still the sect leader when his cultivation rank dropped?"

This time, James did not communicate telepathically. Instead, he said it out loud for Gladwin to hear as well.

Before Lyla could answer, Gladwin smiled and said arrogantly, "You're right. The Timaeus Sect's Leader must be at the Quasi Daelcon Rank. Now that his cultivation rank has dropped, he should surrender his position.

"Moreover, he schemed to have you enter the Forladtt Land and seal you away to be killed by the Galeat Wind so you can never reincarnate. It was a cruel and vicious plan."

James looked at Gladwin and said, "Weren't you also part of it, older man? You sent us into the Forladtt Land."

Gladwin said slowly, "That's right. However, I was deceived by Xachary. He believed you were from the Dark World and had to be eliminated.

"Although I'm the Timaeus Sect's Great Protector, my position is below him. Thus, I could only obey his orders."

Gladwin looked at Lyla, sitting beside James, and said, "Didn't he also deceive you? He asked you to select a few powerhouses at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank to enter the Forladtt Land, then ordered you to kill Forty-nine. Fortunately, he was strong enough and had encountered great boons. Otherwise, the consequences would've been unpredictable."

Lyla looked at Gladwin and said coldly, "You don't have to waste time trying to win me over. You two are birds of the same feather."

Gladwin replied calmly, "I know you're disappointed in Xachary, and it made you disgusted with the Timaeus Sect. However, there's a secret I'd like to tell you."

James and Lyla exchanged glances without saying a word.

Gladwin sighed, "Do you remember Goldwein City? Xachary told you that a group of Dark Beings from the Dark World massacred everyone in the city, and you were the only one that survived. He said your whole family died at the hands of Dark Beings. He couldn't bear to see you freeze and starve to death, so he brought you back to the Timaeus Sect. He repeatedly claimed he was the reason for your success, right?"

Lyla looked at him and said indifferently, "Stop beating around the bush."

Gladwin said solemnly, "Dark Beings didn't massacre the city. The main perpetrator was Xachary."

Lyla immediately stood up and shouted, "Do you have proof?"

"Are you familiar with this?" Gladwin raised his hand, and a round jade pendant appeared.

Lyla's eyes widened after she saw the pattern carved onto the jade pendant. In disbelief, she said, "That's my family's heirloom, the Taen Pendant."

Gladwin nodded, saying, "Your whole family and citizens died because of this pendant. All because there is a trace of Historial Power within it."

Lyla was aghast by the information.

James frowned and asked, "So, to obtain the Historial Power within it, he killed an entire city?"

Gladwin nodded, saying, "It was a massive city with millions of citizens. Your father was Goldwein City's Lord. However, the city's overall cultivation rank was too low, and they were located at the edge of a Micro Genesis World."

James looked at Lyla and asked, "For the sake of some Historial Power, he took millions of lives. Is that what someone righteous would do?"

Lyla glared at Gladwin and said, "Give it back!"

Gladwin smiled faintly, then waved his hand, allowing the jade pendant to float toward the colorful lights.

James reached into the barrier, took the jade pendant and examined it.

The jade pendant was beautiful, and its pattern was extremely eye-catching.

Moreover, he could sense the majestic Historial Power contained within it.

James raised his head and met with Lyla's gaze. Seeing her expression, he quickly handed it over.

Lyla took the pendant, held it like a treasure and gently wiped it. While looking at it, her eyes became teary.

Gladwin sighed, "It's unfortunate you've been used by the person who destroyed your family. Xachary pretends to be kind but is, in fact, a sinister and cunning person. He's not worthy of being the Timaeus Sect's Leader."

Lyla ignored him and continued scrutinizing the jade pendant in her hand.

Gradually, tears rolled down her beautiful face.

James watched silently, unsure of how to comfort her. After all, the jade pendant being here meant Xachary did indeed murder her entire family and exploit her. It was a horrible humiliation.

Gladwin looked at James and said, "Forty-nine."

James replied playfully, "Yeah? I'm listening. Do I have some sort of enemy that killed my family as well?"

“No, no. Of course not.” Gladwin shook his head and said smilingly, “However, the grievances between you and Xachary are worse. He wanted you to die in the Forladtt Land. Don’t you want revenge?”

James shook his head and said firmly, “Nope! I’d actually like to thank him.”

Gladwin was at a loss after James refused to play along to his tune. He smiled and said again, “Don’t you want to return to the Timaeus Sect? The Saintess that you care about the most is still there.”

James squinted when he heard his words. If there was anyone he cared about in the Timaeus Sect, it was the Light Heavenly Path.

Although she was not his wife, she was still equivalent to a clone of Thea.

After spending time together in the past few years, he did feel attached to her.

More importantly, he could not help Thea in the future without the Light Heavenly Path.

James stared at Gladwin and asked, “Let’s negotiate. What are the benefits of me returning to the Timaeus Sect?”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6123-Thea had not recovered her past memories, so she could not care less about James. In her eyes, cultivators at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank’s Ninth Tribulation were simply resources to her.

James thought he could reunite with her after finding her reincarnation.

However, it seems that not meeting her was the best option. Otherwise, he would have to die.

He looked at Lyla and asked, “What do you think about Gladwin’s proposal?”

Lyla asked coldly, “Do you also want to become his pawn?”

James sighed, “I’m just worried about the Saintess.”

Lyla was stunned by his reply. After a brief moment, she said, “Gladwin doesn’t have her. Xachary hid her somewhere, and nobody knows where she is now.

“I think she wouldn’t be in danger for now. After all, she has already mastered the Light Heavenly Path. With Xachary’s character, he most likely wants to use her for something bigger.”

Lyla looked at James and said, “Gladwin was simply trying to use us to achieve his goal. He wanted the position of the Timaeus Sect’s Leader. That’s simply wishing thinking. Not only would he have to get the approval of the different lords of the seven mountains, but the Chief Elders would also have to give their permission. Even so, he’ll have to get through the two ancestors.”

James said smilingly, “You underestimate him too much. Why do you think he’s trying so hard to win us over? For our strength?”

Curious, Lyla asked, “Is there anything else?”

James smiled, not replying to her. However, he was well aware of the situation.

‘Gladwin probably already knew about his relationship with Yegor and Truett.

‘If he wins me over, he thinks he would have Skynet’s support, which would secure his position as the Timaeus Sect’s Leader.’ While Gladwin wanted James’ connections and resources, James converted his cultivation strength.

At that moment, a heart-wrenching scream came from the Hudde Passage, James and Lyla turned around and saw Yunleiv being blasted through the air.

He struck into the Forladtt Land’s barrier with a loud bang and spat out a mouthful of blood.

Yunleiv was already beyond recognition, and his body was covered in blood.

Lyla said anxiously, “You promised to let him go!”

James smiled teasingly, “You’re worried about him?”

Lyla immediately explained, “No. But I owe him my life, and I came so he would be released...”

James said smilingly, “There’s no need to rush. My friends know when to stop. They won’t kill him.”

James looked at her and said smilingly, "When they're done practicing, I'll let him go. I'm a man of my word."

Lyla rolled her eyes and said, "Then am I next as their practice subject?"

James shook his head and said smilingly, "Of course not! With your strength, I'd say you're ranked in the top ten among all the powerhouses at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation peak. They won't stand a chance against you.

So, for now, you'll be my practice partner."

'Practice partner? That's all I can ever be, it seems. To him, I'm not even comparable to a hair on his friend's head.' Disappointment flashed across Lyla's beautiful face.

"Stop messing around. I need to announce something important!" James left the Hudde Passag

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6124-James looked at them and shared Gladwin's proposal with them. However, everyone was against taking his offer.

"The Timaeus Sect is a hellish place. No matter what kind of benefits they offer, I don't want to return."

Galdwin is just trying to use us to help him seize the Timaeus Sect's Leader position. Fundamentally, he's just like Xachary."

"I won't go back. I don't want to live in fear. I don't know when these people will kill me."

"I'll listen to you, Master. If you want to go there, I'll come with you. If you don't want to, I won't have objections either."

"In my opinion, you don't have to bother with him. We're happy here in the Forladtt Land."

After listening to most of their opinions, James turned to Truett with a smile and asked, "Why are you so silent today?"

Truett looked at James and sighed, "I understand what you're thinking, James.

You must be worried about Thea, right?"

Everyone immediately fixated their gaze on James.

James raised his head and smiled calmly. "It would be a lie to say I'm not worried. I'd like to know where she is."

Truett said calmly, "Even if we return to the Timaeus Sect, there's no guarantee we'll find her. Instead, we'll be putting ourselves in the crossfire and allowing ourselves to become pawns in a power struggle.

"If you really want to save her, you must have the power to do so. Only with strength can you overpower the ancient forces.

After speaking, Truett pointed to the Forladdt Land and said, "You're the Forladdt Land's master. There are a lot of cultivation resources here. Moreover, there is an indestructible barrier around the place. It's the best place to build a sect."

Xitlaly looked at James and agreed hurriedly, "Yes, I agree. We should create our own sect. We'll be independent and able to make our own decisions."

cultivation rank. We'll let them join us as long as they are like-minded people.

Hypocrites and scheming people won't be allowed!" "I agree as well. We should settle down in the Forladdt Land and wait for a good opportunity to strike."

Rebella nodded.

Xatia looked at everyone and said, "It's up to Master to decide. With Xachary's sudden drop in cultivation rank. Galdwin is ambitious to take over. It will be internal strife over control of the Timaeus Sect."

"They'll lose a lot of strength in the process, and the so-called Righteous Alliance will crumble."

Xatia took a deep breath and said, "After the Genesis Worlds lost the leadership of the Timaeus Sect, a chaotic battle will break out."

Truett looked at Xatia and said, "Don't forget about the new alliance led by the Yauis Sect. They will likely replace the Timaeus Sect and become the new leader of the Genesis Worlds."

Rebella shook her head and disagreed, "They won't be able to do it. Although the Primeval Saint is strategic, he doesn't have enough prestige. He won't be able to lead the new alliance to replace the Timaeus Sect."

"They united into an alliance because Xachary had been suppressing them for the past few epochs, leaving them no choice but to fight back."

Rebella looked at the group and said, "Once the Timaeus Sect falls into internal strife, it will suffer losses. The new alliance, on the other hand, will lose its main enemy. Thus, it will disperse sooner or later. The major forces have their foundation and capital. Nobody would want to rely on others."

Everyone nodded in agreement, then turned to James and waited for his decision. After all, James was their leader right now.

To their surprise, James suddenly raised his head and asked, "What do you think?"

A cold voice came from the Hudde Passage, saying, "I'm just a practice partner."

Do I have the right to speak?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6125-Everyone looked at the sound, and their expressions changed drastically.

"It's her! The Timaeus Sect's law enforcement elder!"

"Why is Elder Lyla here?"

"How is this possible?"

"She's one of the strongest powerhouses at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation."

While everyone exclaimed, James raised his hand and struck the restriction of the Hudde Passage with a black-and-white light.

A door opened, and Lyla quickly approached them under the horrified gazes.

The group immediately felt intimidated, as if facing a formidable enemy.

James chuckled and said, "Relax. She's one of us now."

Everyone else was silent. No matter how they thought about it, it was hard to believe James had subdued a powerhouse like her.

James said, "If we're going to establish our own sect, we'll need a peerless powerhouse. Of course, your opinion is very important."

Lyla said, "As long as we don't return to the Timaeus Sect, I'm in for anything."

James looked at everyone and said, "Alright. Since everyone agrees, let's do it."

The group immediately burst out laughing in joy.

Truett chuckled and said, "What about our sect name? The name is really important. It'll be our banner!"

destroying the Timaeus Sect?"

Rebella said, "James has entered the Forladtt Land and cultivated a Golden Body. I suggest the Daelcon Sect."

"The Daelcon Sect? What if we break through that rank in the future? I don't like the name."

James suddenly said, "The Jademora Empire."

Everyone fell silent and looked at James in shock.

James said solemnly, "I'll leave the other affairs to you all to decide, but I'd like to decide on the name."

Everyone exchanged glances, then nodded at him.

Truett smiled and said, "You're our leader. You have the final say on our sect's name. Then, it's settled. We'll be called the Jademora Empire."

"The Jademora Empire!" Everyone said simultaneously.

At that moment, none of them would have imagined how much impact their sect would have on the world.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6122-Gladwin was not expecting James to be so straightforward. He laughed and said, "You're quite forthright, aren't you? I'll cut to the chase. If you two return to the Timaeus Sect and work with me, I can offer you three benefits. You can choose either one."

James smiled but said nothing. Meanwhile, Lyla seemed utterly uninterested.

Gladwin suppressed his smile and said seriously, "The first offer is the position as the Great Protector and law enforcement elder. You can control the sect's internal affairs and dominate the Genesis Words with your strengths.

"The second offer is that I can provide you with enough resources and give all my support if you decide to create your own force.

"Lastly, you can rejoin Mount Martialis and become its master. I will also give my full support."

James looked at Gladwin, not masking his disappointment in the offers.

He seemed to be giving great benefits, but he was making sure they were still under him and could be used at his disposal.

Gladwin could sense James' disappointment, so he quickly smiled and said, "Of course, we can still negotiate this. There's no need to rush..."

James nodded and said, "Sure, but talking while separated by a barrier doesn't seem sincere. How about you come inside, and we chat over drinks?"

Gladwin was silent.

James put on a harmless expression and said, "You're already at the Quasi Daeclon Rank. Are you terrified two weaklings like us can hurt you?"

Gladwin coughed in embarrassment and said, "I've never had any grievances with the two of you, nor do I hold any grudges. I simply admire your talents, that's why—"

“That’s why I’m inviting you inside,” James interrupted him, saying, “The Forladtt Land contains countless treasures. Not just anyone can come inside as they please.”

“I.” Gladwin was put on the spot.

Before he could finish his sentence, a loud noise came from the sky.

Gladwin raised his head, and his face darkened. Then, he said angrily, “She is causing trouble again. There’s no end to it. Let’s talk next time. I have to deal with this first.”

After speaking, Gladwin transformed into a golden light and rushed toward the Daemon Prison.

James said disappointedly, “What a pity. I must’ve pushed him too much. It would’ve been great if I could’ve gotten him into the Forladtt Land.”

Lyla was speechless after seeing James’ wicked expression.

Not only did he imprison the Timaeus Sect’s Saint and herself, but he also wanted Gladwin, a powerhouse at the Quasi Daeclon Rank.

James looked toward the Daemon Prison and asked, “Why is he so nervous?

What kind of being appeared in the prison?”

Lyla replied coldly, “It’s the Dark Heavenly Path. She has been constantly coming to the Daemon Prison. Each time, fierce battles would break out. She had been growing stronger every time she visited. At the same time, she’s been rescuing a lot of Dark Beings. It seems Gladwin had become her sparring partner.”

James was surprised by the information. Thea had not yet mastered the Dark Heavenly Path, but she was already so powerful.

He thought, ‘Can’t you slow down a little, Darling? You’re making me feel incompetent.’ James said excitedly, “Let’s go watch?”

Lyla immediately stopped him, saying, “Don’t. She’s a demon without morals now. She has been specifically absorbing powerhouses at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank’s Ninth Tribulation. She has already devoured about ten recently.

“Moreover, Gladwin is in the Daemon Prison. Once we leave, he might never be able to return.”

Thea was incredibly powerful. James felt shivers down his spine after recalling the two elderly cultivators he encountered in the Forladtt Land.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6126-A beautiful woman in a white robe sat atop a white sacred lotus in a mysterious place of the Timaeus Sect. Her eyes were closed, and her body emitted a holy light.

The countless lotus flowers behind her fluttered, exuding powerful force.

At that moment, a bright golden light gathered before her and formed into a man.

Xachary appeared with his hands behind his back. He stared at the beautiful woman before him, squinted and said, “Your Heavenly Path Power is getting stronger.”

Thea slowly opened her eyes and said, “I’ve also learned a lot of things.”

Xachary said smilingly, “You were bound to find out sooner or later. Don’t worry, though. I won’t make things difficult for you. To me, you’re just like my daughter.”

Thea stared at Xachary and said, “I just want to know one thing. Is Forty-nine still alive?”

Xachary shook his head and said, “I don’t know! My Zen can’t penetrate the Forladtt Land and Dark World.”

“Then I have nothing to say to you.” Thea slowly closed her eyes again.

Xachary stared at Thea and said, “I hope you can help me reach the Quasi Daelcon Rank again. I’ll let you go look for Forty-nine if you do it.”

Thea closed her eyes and remained indifferent toward him.

Xachary clenched his fists furiously and shouted, “I picked you up from the Forladtt Land and raised you until today! You’ve been pampered and treated with respect! Can’t you even agree to this?”

Thea remained silent.

Xachary was livid and swung his fist at her. A potent Genesis swept toward Thea but was quickly absorbed by the lotus flowers around her.

“The Heavenly Path Power isn’t anything special anyway!” Xachary launched a series of attacks.

The tens of thousands of lotus flowers behind Thea collapsed under the attacks.

Thea spat out a mouthful of blood, and her face turned pale.

Xachary shouted furiously, “Are you really not afraid of death? Even though you’re the Heavenly Path and can’t die, you’ll forget Forty-nine after reincarnating.”

Thea slowly raised her head, wiped the blood from her lips and said smilingly, “If we’re meant to be, we’ll find our way back together.” “You’re stubborn and stupid.” Xachary stretched out his hand, and explosions occurred everywhere in the area. Wherever his powers passed, it would cause mass destruction.

Xachary was berserk and on a rampage. His cultivation rank dropped, and not only did that mean he lost absolute strength, but his position as the Timaheus Sect’s Leader was in jeopardy. The title represented dignity and honor.

He could not accept the situation. Thus, he wanted to use his trump card, Thea.

She understood the Heavenly Path and knew how to help him retrieve his strength.

However, he never expected Thea to be so infatuated with James. She was unwilling to help him, even as a way to repay him for raising her.

Xachary was furious about the ungrateful juniors he had raised. First, it was Rebella, then Lyla and Gladwin. Now, even the Light Heavenly Path refused to help him.

‘Why are these people betraying me? Is it because I’m no longer at the Quasi Daeclon Rank?’ he fumed inwardly.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6127-Xachary was furious, but his reasoning told him the Light Heavenly Path would still be his most helpful trump card, and he should keep her.

After venting his anger, Xachary raised his head and closed his eyes. A golden light shot out, and hundreds of elixirs at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation.

Xachary said coldly, "Use it to heal your wounds. I'll find someone you like to accompany you."

As he spoke, he grabbed the void, and a golden light appeared to form a teleportation formation.

The next moment, a beautiful figure walked out of the teleportation formation dumbfoundedly.

Sitting on the white sacred lotus, Thea suddenly opened her eyes and called out, "Lucille!"

"Thea?" Lucille walked out of the formation and looked at Thea in surprise. After recomposing, she quickly rushed over.

Seeing Thea's pale face, Lucille could tell she had suffered countless internal injuries. She turned around and shouted at Xachary, "You bastard! You're a heartless monster!"

Faced with Lucille's furious scolding, Xachary simply closed his eyes and remained indifferent.

Lucille shouted, "You've been despicable and shameless for most of your life, and look where that brought you? Now that your position as the Timaeus Sect's Leader is in danger, you're venting on other people? You're disgusting!"

Xachary's lips twitch at her insults. He opened his eyes and said, "I'm your father..."

Lucille interrupted him, barking, "I don't have a father! It's a disgrace to have a father like you!"

Xachary shouted angrily, "You! Do you think you'll have it easy if my position is stripped from me? If I lose, you'll die as well!"

Lucille retorted, "I wanted to die long ago. Try me! Let's see who will dare to self-explode right now!"

Seeing Lucille about to strike herself, Xachary panicked, waved his hand, and said, "Wait! Wait!"

Lucille said sarcastically, "You're scared? You cherish your life more than anyone else. Let's not talk about dropping in cultivation rank. You'd still be the same if you were to return to your hyena form. It's always about yourself."

Xachary waved his hand and said hurriedly, "Calm down! If you commit suicide, you'll never see Forty- nine again! He's the only person you care about, right?"

Lucille frowned at his words.

Xachary explained nervously, "I brought you two here for one reason. Gladwin is plotting something, and I was afraid he would do something to you two. This place is the safest within the Timaeus Sect. I created this space myself. You two can settle down here for now. It's absolutely safe."

After taking a deep breath, Xachary said, "I know the two of you want to find him. I'll do my best to bring him here.

"But I also hope you two can help me. No matter what, I'm still..."

"Enough," Thea interrupted, saying, "As long as you bring him to me alive, I'll help you."

Xachary was overjoyed. He nodded and said, "Alright! We've got an agreement."

After speaking, Xachary immediately disappeared.

Lucille looked at Thea and said, "He's insane."

Thea sighed. "He's not insane. He's obsessed with power. It's sad to see him like this."

Lucille frowned and asked, "How can you still sympathize with him?"

Thea said softly, "After all, he raised me. Perhaps it's my fate."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6128-After James and the others founded their new sect In the Forladdt Land's first level, they set up time formation to cultivate.

However, James noticed Rebella wandering outside the formation, seemingly watching out for the group.

James frowned and said, "You don't want to improve further?"

After being stunned momentarily, Rebella sighed. "I've already gone through many tribulations. I'm afraid..."

James interrupted her, asking, "Are you worried about dying in the Deti Heavenly Tribulation? Or are you scared about still being under my control after reaching the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation?"

Rebella shook her head and replied, "It's nothing like that. I just."

Before she could finish, James walked over to her.

Rebella panicked as their eyes met, and James squinted.

"I know exactly what you're thinking. I have to remind you that if your thoughts are too complicated, you'll surely die in the Deti Heavenly Tribulation?"

"I." Rebella was speechless.

James raised his hand, interrupting her. Then, his Genesis wrapped around her.

The next moment, James' withdrew the Curse Inscriptions from her body and put them away.

Rebella looked at James in shock, not expecting him to lift her curse.

Immediately afterward, James unleashed a ray of light into the void and her soul contract with him was burnt by Wraithflame.

A Quasar Light flashed across her body, and her soul regained freedom.

Rebella was utterly dumbfounded by the sudden turn of events.

James said calmly, "I've already lifted the curse and nullified the soul contact.

However, I can't solve what's deep within your heart. If you keep having such thoughts, it'll not end well."

Rebella lowered her head in frustration, completely aware of what James meant.

James sighed, "You can go. I'll send you out of the Forladtt Land. There's a vast world out there. With your strength, you can go anywhere."

"Are you chasing me away?" Rebella looked at him in disbelief.

James said softly, "Staying will only torture you. It'll only be bad for you." Rebella growled, "That's up to me to decide! Lyla has never gone through a life-and-death situation with us! Why can she stay, but I can't?!"

James looked at the furious Rebella and said helplessly, "She's a powerhouse at the peak of the Yuraceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation. She—"

Rebella interrupted him, saying, "I can do it as well! I'll reach the rank very soon!"

After speaking, Rebella flew into the sky and sat in a lotus position. She swallowed a few high-grade cores, then closed her eyes to cultivate.

James found her stubbornness to be quite cute.

Rebella had already experienced many tribulations but still had many distracting thoughts. It would be fatal for her to endure the tribulation in such a condition.

He had to push her a little; otherwise, reaching the Yuraceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation would be hopeless.

Afterward, James set up a time formation around her.

At that moment, Lyla walked over and stared at James.

James asked, "Do you want to talk about Yunleiv?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6129-Lyla said solemnly, "He has already suffered enough. Could you..."

James turned to Lyla and asked, "What if I use him to trade for Thea?"

Lyla shook her head and said, "That's impossible. He could always have another son if Yunleiv dies. Thea, on the other hand, was crucial to his survival. He would never trade her for his son."

James narrowed his eyes, then stretched out into the Hudde Passage. His black-and-white powers spread out and dragged Yunleiv to them.

Seeing James stretch out his hand and grab Yunleiv's head, Lyla shouted anxiously, "You promise to let him go, Forty-nine! If anything happens to him, you'll be waging war against a formidable opponent."

"Even if Xachary is no longer at the Quasi Daelcon Rank, he's still at powerhouse at the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation."

Gladwin might not necessarily succeed in overthrowing him, and he might continue as the Timaetus Sect's Leader."

James stared at Lyla, then increased his grip on Yunleiv. An intense black-and-gray light emerged and was accompanied by the sound of bells. The forces wrapped around Yunleiv, causing him to scream in pain.

Lyla shouted anxiously, "You're breaking your promise?!!"

James quickly drained Yunleiv's Genesis despite her pleas.

Yunleiv transformed into a hyena and fell to the ground, lying motionlessly.

Lyla barked, "You're a devil! You're worse than Xachary and Gladwin! You!!!"

James took off his gloves and asked, "Have you never killed before? Why are you pretending to be innocent?"

Lyla glared at him and replied, "Of course, I've taken lives before! However, I've only killed opponents on the battlefield! You and Yunleiv have no grievances, so how could you."

James interrupted her, saying, "He wants to kill my friend. That makes him my enemy."

Lyla was stunned by his words. After a while, she rushed over to Yunleiv and checked on him. She was relieved after finding out that Yunleiv was not dead.

"He's still alive. Can you let him go?"

James raised his hand, and a black force wrapped around Yunleiv.

Yunleiv was tossed into the Hudde Passage like trash.

Lyla gasped at the sight. She could not believe James was such a cruel man.

James shrugged and said, "I've done what you promised. So, what can you do for me?"

Lyla frowned and said, "Do you want to absorb my Genesis until I return to my original form?"

"If you're okay with it, why not?" James shrugged.

Lyla approached James angrily and said, "You're a nasty bastard, Forty-nine."

After speaking, she raised her hand and swung at James.

However, James caught her wrist and said, "Tell me why Gladwin is staying so quiet. Even if he doesn't continue trying to win us over, he should be trying to stir up trouble in the Timaeus Sect."

Lyla was confused by James' words and could not find the right answers.

James tossed away Lyla's hand and said, "It seems we've underestimated Gladwin. His plan is on a much bigger scale than we thought."

"What do you mean?" Lyla looked at him puzzledly.

James said coldly, "He's not doing anything to overthrow Xachary now and is only secretly recruiting forces. He wants the Timaeus Sect to stay united so they can suppress the new alliance led by the Yaquis Sect. After their victory, he could take credit and overthrow Xachary without resistance."

Lyla took a deep breath and asked, "Is that possible?"

James turned around, squinted, and said, "We'll have an important mission after leaving the Forladtt Land."

After speaking, James flew to the Forladtt Land's fourth level without waiting for Lyla to even speak.

Lyla pouted, "H-How is he so smart? He figured out what Gladwin is planning?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6130-Soon, the group within the Forladtt Land left seclusion one after another.

They all achieved considerable breakthroughs with the abundant cultivation resources and the time formation set up for them.

the Marciais Combat Power to resist their respective tribulations and successfully entered the lower grade of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation.

Xitlaly, who no longer had to go through tribulations, easily reached the upper grade of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation. Now, she was only one step away from reaching the peak.

Rebella was the only person who had not left seclusion. She sat in the void with a time formation around her. Everyone was the most worried about her.

At that moment, gray Tribulation Clouds were gathered above her head.

Eventually, it grew even more denser and had about eighty-one layers.

Lyla watched in shock and gasped, "A Destruction Heavenly Tribulation?"

The rest of the group immediately grew anxious after hearing her words.

"Shouldn't it be a Deti Heavenly Tribulation for those entering the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation? Why did the strongest tribulation appear instead?"

"James mentioned she had gone through many tribulations. I never expected her to endure such a terrifying and powerful tribulation."

“The Destruction Heavenly Tribulation is one of the three worst nightmares for cultivators. No powerhouses have been able to overcome it yet. She’s in danger.”

“You have to help her, Master. Otherwise, her soul will be obliterated.”

Unlike the panicking group, James calmly made his way to the gray clouds above Rebella’s head. He arrived at the eighty-one layer and stood face to face with a powerful man in a white robe who wielded an imposing weapon.

The young man sneered, “We meet again. It seems she’s pretty important to you. The Yin governor must be blind.”

James stood with his hands behind his back. He stared at the man and said coldly, “Our grudges have nothing to do with her. You shouldn’t hurt her to get back at me.”

The Yang governor snorted, “Are you begging me? Shouldn’t you have a better attitude when trying to ask for help? Moreover, you’re talking to a god right now.”

James squinted and asked coldly, “What do you want?”

The Yang governor said furiously, “Kneel and kowtow to me! I’ll reduce her tribulation by a layer for each ten thousand times you do it. It’s a pretty good deal, right?” James’ brows furrowed. The Yang governor laughed and said, “If you refuse to kneel, I promise this will only be the beginning. From now on, everyone acquainted with you won’t ever get through my tribulations. I will make you watch them die miserable one after another in my tribulations. There will be nothing you can do about it.”

Amid the Yang governor’s laughter, a red light emerged from James’ body, and Lesia’s petite body appeared on his shoulder.

“You’re such a despicable being. How did the Tai Chi give birth to someone like you?” said Lesia.

The Yang governor’s face darkened, and he said, “How dare you, a spiritual body, speak like that to me.”

As he spoke, he reached out and unleashed a terrifying power at Lesia.

Just as James was about to take action, Lesia dashed forward and swallowed the Genesis. Then, a red light burst out from her.

The Yang governor was surprised.

Even James was dumbfounded by the sight. He thought to himself, 'Does she eat everything?'
