

The Almighty Dragon General

Chapter 6221

Chapter 6221

"Put some strength into it, will you? Don't you want the elixirs tonight?"

"You two over there! Pick up the skins and seeds on the ground! If you miss even one, I won't let you have an elixir for an epoch!"

Quattro slumped on his golden throne, enjoying a massage from two beautiful women.

At the same time, another two stunning women stood aside, feeding him grapes.

He spat out the grape seeds and skins on the floor, and a few women scrambled around, picking them up hurriedly.

Quattro acted overbearing and arrogant.

He looked like a dandy king who only knew how to enjoy.

James arrived at the Mighty Palace, which symbolized the highest power that ruled over the universe's Dark Beings.

He stood outside the main hall speechlessly after witnessing his behavior.

James was surprised Quattro had already reached the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Third Tribulation.

At that moment, one of the beautiful women asked, "Who will you have to accompany you tonight,

Marshal?"

Quattro was stunned momentarily by her question.

He chuckled, then said, "That'll depend on your performance.

Who's already at the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Fifth Tribulation?"

"M-Me!"

An attractive woman raised her hand.

Another woman said excitedly, "Me too!"

Quattro laughed and said, "Alright. Then, you two it is. Let's have fun tonight."

Their waves of laughter filled the main hall.

James, who was standing outside, suddenly raised his hand, and a beam of Amethyst-Gold Power struck the throne.

The throne crumbled after the loud bang.

Quattro fell to the ground and rolled down the high platform with a grunt.

Startled, the women immediately drew their weapons and shielded in front of Quattro, scanning their surroundings vigilantly.

Quattro got up from the ground and roared, "Who is it? Who the hell dared to attack me? Show yourself!"

Immediately afterward, James' voice resounded from outside the hall.

"Sorry, Marshal. It was a mistake."

Quattro glared toward the entrance and shouted, "A mistake? Who are you fooling? Show yourself right now! There isn't anyone stronger than me in this world.

How dare you destroy my throne? I'll beat your ass!"

Just as he finished speaking, James walked into the hall with a smile.

As soon as Quattro saw James, his anger disappeared, and his eyes widened in shock.

James said smilingly, "What an arrogant marshal you are.

Now that you've been given authority, you abuse it? You're quite a proud one, aren't you?"

The beautiful women immediately surrounded James furiously.

One of them growled, "Bold maniac! How dare you insult our marshal? Do you have a death wish?"

Another one shouted, "Kneel, or else we'll destroy you!"

"Shut up! All of you, shut up!"

Quattro reprimanded them, then rushed over to James.

His eyes glittered as if he had seen a valuable elixir.

Faced with Quattro's enthusiasm, James raised his eyebrow and asked, "Should I kneel to you,

Marshal?"

Chapter 6222

"General!" Quattro roared without any warning, then suddenly hugged James.

The sight instantly dumbfounded the women. In their eyes, Quattro was like an untouchable god. It's too abnormal for him to lose his composure in front of others.

Quattro clung onto James with tears and a runny nose. He cried, "We missed you so much, General. | thought you would never come back!"

"Do you know what we've gone through all these years? | could hardly eat and sleep, worried about your safety."

"We've sworn to live and die together. There had been no news from you after leaving for the Forladdt Land. We even erected a memorial tablet and set up a tomb for you. | never expected your miraculous return."

Hearing Quattro's exaggerations, James pushed him away and said, "What kind of nonsense are you spouting?"

Quattro wiped his tears and said, "Nonsense? We missed you but had no idea where to search. Moreover, we bear the heavy responsibilities you've delegated to US."

"You missed me?" James pointed to the women around them and asked, "Was | in your thoughts more than them?"

Quattro frowned and looked at the women. He suddenly realized what James was implying and quickly lode said, "You've misunderstood, General. It's not what it looks like."

James asked playfully, "What else could it be? You should know the boundaries I've set, right?" Quattro said hurriedly. "Of course, of course! | never forced them into anything. They act on their free will."

"Did they sleep with you willingly?" James rolled his eyes.

Quattro was unable to answer confidently to his question.

The group of women, however, quickly surrounded James and expressed their dissatisfaction.

"Who are you? How dare you talk to our marshal like that? Of course, we're with him voluntarily. So many others wish for the chance but aren't lucky like us."

"Our Marshal is so handsome. Although you're also quite charming, you shouldn't be disrespectful toward him. That's rude!"

"He worked so hard for his current accomplishments. He saved US from the Dark World and allowed US a better opportunity in life. We're thankful toward him."

"That's right. We're honored just being able to be with him. We'd agree without hesitation if he'd asked US to be his cultivation partner."

James was stunned by their loud shouts.

Quattro raised his hand and slapped each of the women. In just an instant, the women's cheeks had bright slap marks. "Presumptuous! How dare you behave so rudely toward him?! Do you have a death wish?"

aden

The group of women hurriedly knelt on the floor.

James waved his hand at Quattro and said, "Hey. There's no need to get angry." After speaking, James walked over to a chair and sat down. "Since they speak of you so high, it shows your prestige here is pretty high. That's good."

Quattro hurriedly approached James and said, "They're trying to kill me.

I've never thought about claiming any achievements. I..."

James said smilingly, "We're brothers. Explaining makes it seem like we're not that close. How many people are out of the Dark World, and who's in charge?"

Quattro raised his hand, and a dozen recording orbs appeared before James.

James shook his head and said, "I don't care about these details. Instead, tell me how many of our Dark World acquaintances are already here?"

The Almighty Dragon General #Chapter 6223 - Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6223

Chapter 6223

Quattro took a deep breath and said, "Maxine, Jurryt, Hershya, Talvelai, Taran, Qairo, Xezal, and a few others are already here."

James frowned and asked, "What about Zavis, Yardos, Henry, Yemima and Xeraiah? These are powerhouses that sacrificed in the battle against Xayal but were resurrected. Do they not meet the requirements yet? Also, where's Wyot? What's up with him?"

Seeing James' dissatisfied expression, Quattro hurriedly explained, "They're helping Xzavion and Stephen select cultivators to bring over here. That's not an easy task after all."

James squinted and said, "Alright. So, Xzavion and Stephen are working hard while you just sit here and enjoy the fruit of their labor?"

Quattro fell on his knees and said tremblingly, "General. About that..."

James said solemnly, "I've already made arrangements before leaving. Xzavion has extensive knowledge and is the most suitable candidate to be in charge of the Demon Dungeon and communicating with Skynet.

Meanwhile, you and Stephen were to pass on my order that cultivators at the Yuraeceon Fifth Rank have to be gathered outside Tai Chi Eight Door Formation to await the selection process.

"You three are at the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Seventh Tribulation, and there's no need to go deep into the Dark World or compress your cultivation ranks."

lode

James glared at Quattro and said coldly, "You must've done something and left them no choice but to compress their cultivation ranks to return to the Dark World to personally carry out the selection process."

After listening to James' words, Quattro immediately lowered his head and said, "You're good at predicting things, General. I, uhm, accidentally broke the Tai Chi Eight Door Formation. We couldn't use it to complete the selection process, so..."

James interrupted him, saying, "You were tempted by the elixirs supporting the formation's operation and took them, right?"

Quattro lowered his head. His silence proved James' guess had hit the mark on the nail.

Greed, lust, laziness and selfishness were some of humanity's vices. All of them could be seen in Quattro.

Initially, James thought Quattro's flaws would not be much of a problem. After all, he was loyal and could play a big part in crucial situations.

However, Quattro's behavior worsened overtime, and his actions started to affect their overall plan. James realized he could no longer tolerate Quattro's behavior, otherwise, Quattro would stir up a lot of trouble, and the Jademora Empire's future might be ruined.

After thinking for a while, James looked at Quattro and said, "Gather Maxine and the others."

aden

Seeing that James was not holding him accountable for his mistake, Quattro hurriedly stood up and left.

James looked at the beautiful women kneeling on the ground and asked, "Have you all slept with Quattro?"

The women had grasped James' status after watching his interaction with Quattro. They lowered their heads and trembled in fear.

James urged, "Answer me."

"N-no," the women replied in unison.

One of the taller girls raised her head, mustered up her courage, and replied, "G-General, he never forced US to sleep with him. He's just teasing us and has been encouraging US to improve. In fact, he simply rewards US elixirs at night."

Another woman said with trembling lips, "He is a good man and never forced US into anything."

After hearing this, James thought to himself, 'He's not that bad after all. But he's a little stupid.'

Soon, Quattro returned with a few people.

The moment the group saw James, they rushed over excitedly. Maxine, Hershya, Qairo and Xezal surrounded James. One after another, they gave him hugs and were overjoyed beyond words.

Chapter 6224

After chatting for a while, James verified the truth.

Wyot and the others had stayed in the Dark World because they were helping Xzavion and Stephen with the selection process. As for Taran, Talvelai and Jurryt had brought a group to hunt down monsters as training experience.

James learned about the situation of the group of Dark Beings who had arrived in the Genesis World from his old acquaintances.

He also heard that Quattro made some contributions.

Quattro had organized the Dark Beings that had arrived in the Genesis World into ten armies, each with millions of troops.

The army commanders were Quattro, Maxine, Hershya, Jurryt, Taran, Xezal, Talvelai, Qairo, Hetsema and Xainte.

The total amount of troops in the two armies added up to hundreds of millions, making them a considerable force.

After having a clear picture of the situation, James suggested that everyone migrate into the Forladtt Land, and it was unanimously approved.

To avoid any hiccups along the way, James contacted the guardian of the Demon Dungeon, Zakaria, asking him to send the Skynet Army to escort the ten elite armies from the Dark World to the lustus lea Sect's border.

The hundreds of millions of troops secretly moved toward the Forladtt Land.

In addition to the hundreds of powerhouses at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation's peak from Skynet and the Iusus Sect, Lyla, Rebella, Xitlaly, Wylie, and Yancy also followed them like shadows.

After getting close to the Forladtt Land, James took out the Courageous Tower. A black and white light shot out, and a vast gap formed in the formation. Then, the troops advanced through the formation. cancel Yancy and Wylie were shocked when they saw James' supernatural Power. They realized that the Forladtt Land they feared had acknowledged James as its master, and the reason why he had been trying so hard to make a passage through the Sanctum Genesis World and Xyndaros Genesis World was that he wanted to migrate Dark Beings to the Forladtt Land.

After the last batch of living beings from the Dark World entered the Forladtt Land, James looked at Yancy and Wylie, saying smilingly, "Do you two want to come in to look around?"

Wylie asked in astonishment, "C-Can |?"

Yancy's said firmly, "Master, the Galeat Wind blows violently within the Forladtt Land. If you're not careful, your soul will be obliterated..."

"If you don't have the courage, then forget it." James said a few words, then entered Forladtt Land. aden Yancy and Wylie looked at each other with embarrassed expressions.

Standing beside them, Lyla turned to Xitlaly and said, "It's time for US to head back. Your wedding is our priority right now."

Xitlaly sighed, "When will James come out again?"

Rebella replied, "He has to make sure they are settled down."

Yancy looked at them and asked, "Sorry to interrupt. I just wanted to ask if the Galeat Wind is really gone from the Forladtt Land?"novelbin Nobody answered his question.

Lyla waved her hand, and everyone except Yancy and Wylie disappeared from the area.

Chapter 6225

Wylie was slightly frustrated. She looked at Yancy and cursed, "Man up!

Let's go in there!"

Yancy said hesitantly, "You have to be patient! It might be a trap! What if we can't leave?"

Wylie snorted, then thought to herself, 'A trap? He already has control over your soul and can crush you at any moment. Why would he lay a trap out for you?"

After seeing that the Forladtt Land's formation was about to close, Wylie suddenly bit her teeth and rushed through it.

Yancy sighed as he watched the Forladtt Land's formation close, feeling slightly regretful for his reaction.

James sneered, "You're much braver than him."

Wylie scanned the area with a frown. After a while, her eyes brightened, and she said, 'There's no Galeat Wind here anymore. The Genesis is so potent. It's a paradise!"novelbin

James smiled lightly and raised his head, and all the universes in the Forladtt Land began to rotate and transform slowly. At that moment, the numerous universes gathered into ten worlds and hovered in the void.

Then, James divided the ten elite armies into different worlds.

Wylie gasped and asked, "Are you the Forladtt Land's owner now? Can you change everything here at lode will?"

James replied calmly, "The Forladdt Land is independent of the Gensiss Worlds. Although smaller, the cultivation resources here are enough to support most of the living beings of the Genesis Worlds. "Moreover, it's a new beginning here. The strength here is balanced, and everyone has an equal chance to grow."

After hearing this, Wylie knelt to the ground and said, "Master, | have a favor to ask..."

James interrupted him, saying, "| know what you're thinking. We'll talk about the Sanctum Sect moving into the Forladdt Land in the future. You must first ensure the passage is safe for now."

Afterward, James helped her and said, "Since you're already here, look around. However, don't touch those high-level monsters."

Wylie hurried off to explore.

Suddenly, a beautiful figure appeared in front of him.

Maxine looked at James. She had a lot to say but could not find the right words. Ultimately, she asked, "Are you in complete control of this place?"

James nodded in response.

Maxine said, "You've accomplished so much in this advanced world. | can't see through your cultivation rank. You're at least at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank, right?"

James smiled faintly and replied, "Instead of this topic, I'd like to know more about the Dark World." oder

Maxine sighed, "There's nothing major going on. It's just some trivial stuff. However, there is something | think you should pay more attention to."

Surprised, James asked, "What is it?"

Maxine rolled her eyes and said, "Your children. You like pursuing the high road toward cultivation. Yet, you had so many children. Did you have them just to deal with US?"

James felt ashamed. He was indeed not the best father to his children. Thea, on the other hand, had been absent from their lives for long periods. As parents, they had neglected their responsibilities. Even so, James cared about them deeply and wanted to know how they were doing. He inquired about their recent lives.

Maxine folded her arms and sighed, 'The other children have been quite well-behaved. However, your child with Yemima needs to be disciplined.'

James frowned and said, "What's wrong with Hetsema?"

Maxine snorted, "He is not the strongest, but he is very scheming and has a lot of ambition."

James was shocked after listening to Maxine.

Hetsema had abused his authority to train up his own force within the Dark World. In the past, he had plotted many schemes against his siblings.

He did not even spare his youngest brother, Noel, and almost caused his death twice. Jacopo had been giving into him, which made him even more bold.

After a long silence, James slowly raised his head and asked, "Have you guys been unfair toward him?"

Rubella snorted, "We would've felt guilty if it were that case. However, we've been practically allowing him to do as he pleases.

"He was a disciple of Zavis and should've been focusing on cultivating. However, he had been slacking off. He would instead come to interfere with the Dark World's affairs, trying to recruit other races to fight against us."

Maxine replied, 'To be honest, we would've killed him a long time ago if he were not your son?'

lode

James fell silent.

Maxine looked at James and asked, "We thought after we brought him out of the Dark World, he would become more restrained. However, we never expected him to be still so cunning and dishonest. He curried favor with Quattro and got a position at an elixir dispenser facility. Afterward, he boldly began to bribe other people to work with him."

After listening to Maxine's ranting, James barely heard a good word about Hetsema. It seemed that his son was a huge troublemaker.

James understood there was no need for Maxine to slander his son deliberately. If it were anyone else, they would not dare to speak ill of his child in front of him. Wanting to know more about his son, he looked at Maxine and said, "Help me keep an eye out for him. Let me know if he makes any moves." Maxine asked anxiously, "Are you not going to do anything about him? We're in a new place, and everyone needs to seize the opportunity to improve. We don't have the time to babysit him."

James was silent.

Rebella said, "Two choices. Either you kick US out of the Forladtt Land back to the Dark World or kick him out so we don't have to worry about him causing trouble."

James sighed, "How about this? Call everyone over first. After I hear everyone's opinion, I'll make a decision. Alright?"

Maxine snorted, then entered one of the ten worlds.

Chapter 6226

Soon, Maxine returned with a group of people.

Upon seeing James, everyone's faces lit up with excitement.

James looked at them tenderly but also a little bit of guilt. His children were all grown up. Judging by their cultivation strength, they had been doing well for the past years.

Winnie, Jacopo, Noel and Xainte were in the middle grade of the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Eighth Tribulation, middle grade of the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation, middle grade of the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Eighth Tribulation and the peak of the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Eighth Tribulation.

Hetsema, on the other hand, was at the peak of the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation. His achievements were the most outstanding among his siblings.

James smiled at them and said, "Even though your mother and I have not been around much, you kids grew up well. I'm really sorry."

His children immediately knelt on the ground.

James sighed. "No, please get up. We don't have such customs in our family. Don't kneel all of a sudden."

Afterward, James said, "Whether you're grateful or angry at me, I still need you guys to follow a few things while in the Forladtt Land.

Iodenovelbin

"Firstly, you must never reveal your identity as my children.

"Secondly, you do not have any special privileges here. Everyone will have an equal status and footing. Even if you break the rules, you'll be punished accordingly, as everyone else.

"Thirdly, I need you all to reach the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank within an epoch."

James put his hands behind his back, scanned their faces, and said solemnly, "Whoever isn't able to comply with any one of these conditions will be sent back to the Dark World and never allowed back here again.:

His children gasped in shock at his words.

Noel said with dissatisfaction, "Aren't you being too hard on US, Dad? We've come this far through our own efforts. We never relied on-"

Xainte reprimanded him, "Shut up, Noel." Then, she looked at James and said, "Don't you think we'd need some motivation first? We're not asking for any privileges, but shouldn't you at least give US some gifts after being away for so long?"

James broke his stern character and chuckled. He nodded and ruffled Xainte's hair, saying, "Aren't you a clever little one?"

After speaking, James raised his hand, and ten energy balls with potent Genesis appeared in front of his children.

James said tenderly, 'Two for each person. It'll be your capital. It's the only time I'll make an exception.

aden

As for training resources in the future, you'll have to acquire them by killing monsters on your own. I won't provide anything more."

"Okay, that's all. Go back and get dressed. We have a wedding to attend. Perhaps we might encounter some boons along the way."

His children nodded excitedly and left. However, James stepped in front of Hetsema, preventing him from leaving.

Hetsema frowned and asked, "Is there anything else?"

James raised his hand, and an Amethyst-Gold Power quickly enveloped Hetsema.

Hetsema screamed in pain.

Maxine, who was standing aside, said anxiously, "I asked you to discipline him, not torture him!" James did not reply to her and continued using his power on Hetsema.

Hetsema growled in pain, and his face distorted. Suddenly, a Soul Energy Ball appeared above his head.

James' Zen entered the energy ball and scanned for the evil deep within Hetsema's soul.

After analyzing the Soul Energy Ball, James was in utter shock.

Chapter 6227

Hetsema's soul, organs and bones were filled with evil and karma. If it were not for his flesh, he would have most likely become a demon.

"Stop it, James!" Maxine rushed over but was knocked away by James' power.

Suddenly, James disappeared with Hetsema. The next moment, they arrived on the battlefield on Forladdt Land's fourth level.

James retracted his Amethyst-Gold Power, and Hetsema collapsed to the ground.

A red light emerged, and Lesia materialized in front of them.

James asked, "You're quite knowledgeable, right? Do you know what this is?"

"Soul Consuming Spell. A lowly being like him practiced such an evil Supernatural Power. How audacious." Lesia's sweet voice resounded.

James frowned and asked, "Soul Consuming Spell? What's that?"

Lesia muttered, "Legend goes that Morgott created three Supernatural Powers. The Soul Consuming spell is one of them.

"It's a spell that is much more terrifying than your Curse Magic. The spell is cast on one's soul, gradually eating them up."

James took a deep breath and asked, "How do I dispel it?"

Lesia looked at the unconscious Hetsema and sighed, 'There isn't a way to dispel it. We can only suppress it for now. Fortunately, he had only just begun cultivating it."

James asked, "How do we suppress it?"

As soon as Lesia raised her hand, a red light enveloped Hetsema and teleported him into the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell.

A startlingly terrifying burst of black light emerged from James' gloves.

'This treacherous son of mine has already gone so far down the wrong path?' James sighed heartbrokenly.

Hetsema was a complete accident. However, James could not just let him be. After all, he was still his son.

Unfortunately, Hetsema was severely influenced by the Doom Race. His resentment was deep, and his heart contained evil. Initially, James thought putting him under Zavis would help him turn over a new leaf. However, things had turned out for the worse.

At that moment, James received a message from Jacopo.

"We're ready, Dad. Where are you?"

James slowly raised his head and asked, "How long do you need, Lesia?"

Lesia asked, "Does he have to attend with you?"

James nodded and answered, "Yeah. Perhaps Yegor's righteous aura could resolve the Soul Consuming Spell."

aden

Lesia chuckled and said, "Alright. Are you planning to have him become Yegor's disciple?"

James asked unsurely, "Do you think it's appropriate?"

Lesia replied smilingly, "I don't care. After all, it's up to Yegor to decide whether to accept him. Plus, would it not cause more harm than good?"

James stayed quiet.novelbin

"Give it a go," Lesia answered, then black smoke emerged from James' black gloves. The next moment, Hetsema appeared in front of them.

Hetsema had regained consciousness and was looking around confusedly.

James did not speak. He walked over, covered him with a blue cloak, and teleported out of the area together.

Chapter 6228

Chapter 6228

James brought Hetsema to the entrance of the Forladtt Land's first level. Upon arriving at the formation, James noticed Maxine was standing with his children. He asked, "Are you going as well?"

Maxine glanced at Jacopo and the others, then replied, "I didn't want to go, but the children insisted I come together, saying..."

She paused, looked at James, and said resentfully, "They were scared a certain someone might leave them behind again. The Genesis Worlds are full of powerhouses, and if they were to fall into the hands of our enemies, they would be in dangerous situations."

James was certain his children would never think that way and assumed Maxine was just expressing her dissatisfaction about his behavior in their name. However, there was little he could do. He already owed his children so much. Listening to complaints was better than them beating him up.

After coughing a few times, James said, "Alright. There is still some time before the wedding. I'll bring you guys on a tour around the Genesis Worlds and explain the forces here."

James raised his hand, and his powers wrapped around everyone, including Wylie, who was still wandering around the Forladdt Land. The next moment, they disappeared from their spots.

Meanwhile, the news about Truett and Xitlaly's wedding had become a hot topic in the Genesis Worlds.

After all, the bride and groom were Skynet's Young Master and the Iusus Sect's Saintess.

The wedding was far from ordinary. It was a union between two of the Ancient Genesis World's most powerful forces. It was a significant event that would influence the power structure of the Great and Micro Genesis Worlds.

Moreover, rumors had spread that countless high-grade elixirs and treasures would be distributed as gifts during the wedding. Additionally, Skynet had promised to open the Telhervo Holy Site to outsiders to seek treasures for three hundred epochs.

According to myths, the Telhervo Holy Site was where Tai Chi cultivated in the past. Numerous treasures from his era were said to have been left behind, including various cultivation resources at the Daeclon Rank and some historical secrets.

With Skynet's power, nobody dared to set foot into the Telhervo Holy Site. Now that they openly invited others to enter, the Genesis Worlds were in a commotion.

However, they had to have the qualifications to enter Skynet first before having the chance to enter the Telhervo Holy Site. First, they had to have an invitation. Nobody was allowed access because of connections or relationships.

Skynet and the Iulus Sect had teamed up and created a special invitation infused with Yegor's righteous aura. Nobody would be able to duplicate their invitation.

The invitations were divided into four types.

The first type was transcendent invitations given to powerhouses at the Daeclon Rank, senior authorities of major sects, and powerful rogue cultivators. Because of their important status, Yegor and Mattaniah personally delivered these invitations.

The second type was supreme invitations given to the top ten major forces within the Ancient Genesis Worlds. The senior elders of Skynet and Iulus Sect were dispatched to deliver the invitations.

The third type was VIP invitations for sect leaders and world lords throughout the Genesis Worlds, which were handed out by Skynet and Iusus Sect's regular elders.

The fourth type was ordinary invitations. The numbers were given out according to the strength of each sect. However, only cultivators at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation's peak were eligible.

The different sects and forces held internal competitions and tests to obtain these invitations.

Numerous cultivators fought intensely, and it stirred up a lot of conflict.

Chapter 6229

Chapter 6229

Out of all the major forces, the conflict within the Timaeus Sect was the worst. Although Gladwin was not the official leader, he was in charge of their sect's affairs and exercised the power equal to their leader.

Meanwhile, the Timaeus Sect's leader, Xachary, had been unable to leave seclusion for a long time and no longer held much power.

The ordinary invitations were already hard to distribute, but deciding who would take the supreme invitation was even more challenging.

Inside the Timaeus Sect's main hall, an intense debate over who would take the supreme invitation had begun after Xachary had made a reappearance.

Hundreds of great elders at the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation, as well as the Guardian and senior elders, knelt on the ground silently.

Gladwin sat in the highest glowing seat belonging to the sect leader with a gloomy expression.

Xachary and Thea sat below the highest platform, emitting potent auras.

Gladwin's eyes met with Xachary, and a smile immediately replaced his gloomy face. He stood up and asked, "Why did you leave seclusion so suddenly, Xachary."

Gladwin had addressed Xachary by his name and did not bother being respectful. It was clear Gladwin had no intentions of handing the sect over.

Xachary, however, was unfazed. He said smilingly, "Did I leave seclusion at a bad time and ruin your plans, Great Protector?"

Gladwin laughed and said, "No, of course not. We were just having a discussion. Yegor and Mattaniah certainly have ulterior motives and are scheming something. We're trying to come up with a countermeasure against them."

Xachary smiled silently in response. Then, he stood up and ascended the stairs to the highest platform.

Thea followed closely behind him.

Everyone kneeling on the floor in the hall was horrified. It was evident Xachary had returned to claim his title back. However, Gladwin had no intention of backing down. Instead, he simply smiled as he watched Xachary approach.

They wondered whether the two peerless powerhouses of their sect were about to compete over the position. If that were to happen, they would be dragged into their conflict. Regardless of who won in the end, their lives would be put in danger during the process.

Suddenly, the main hall fell silent. It was like the calm before the storm.

Xachary reached out to the glowing invitation next to the seat and said, "You've worked hard, Great Protector."

Before he could reach the invitation, Gladwin grabbed the invitation.

Xachary frowned and asked, "What do you mean by this, Great Protector?"

Gladwin said smilingly, "Yegor personally delivered the invitation to me, and I happily agreed to attend the event."

Xachary questioned, "Is that so? Is the invitation not for the leader of the Timaeus Sect?"

Gladwin responded, "I've never heard of that before. Moreover, whoever goes will be the representative of our sect. With your current strength, do you think it's appropriate for you to attend such a grand event?"

Chapter 6230

Gladwin's words had evident provocation.

If Xachary insisted on fighting over the invitation, then his current cultivation rank would be revealed.

Xachary was a sly and cunning man, so he could easily understand the hidden meaning within Gladwin's words.

He chuckled and said, "Why are you so anxious, Great Protector? I just want to see what's written on the invitation." Gladwin said domineeringly, "That's rude and disrespectful toward Yegor." Xachary's face darkened ever so slightly after seeing Gladwin's attitude worsening.

However, he forced a smile, nodded, and said, "I see.

Our Great Protector has secrets now." After speaking, Xachary shook his sleeve and turned around.

He scanned the powerhouses in the hall and said, "Everyone has worked hard while I was gone.

Now that I've returned, the burden I've left on you all will be relieved significantly." Xachary looked at Gladwin again and said, "You've worked even harder and have achieved a lot, Great Protector.

Use this opportunity to have some time off.

You'll be our sect's representative in attending this grand event.

"I'll take over the sect's affairs from here.

Otherwise, I'd find it hard to explain myself to our ancestors if something were to go wrong." After speaking, Xachary signaled Thea with his eyes.

Then, the two descended the stairs.

Gladwin stood up furiously from his seat.

He could no longer maintain his composure, and his face twisted in anger.

He initially thought that Xachary would forcefully try to snatch the invitation.

After all, whoever attended the event was equivalent to being the controller of the Timaeus Sect.

However, Xachary slyly played a different card, allowing him to have it.

Not only did Xachary deliberately mention their two ancestors to threaten him, but he also regained control over the sect's affairs.

Gladwin and his subordinates were left dumbfounded.

After Xachary and Thea left the main hall, Gladwin clenched his fists and shouted, "Why are you all still kneeling? Get up." Everyone below him immediately stood up.

After a long silence, a powerful woman stepped forward and said, "Great Protector, I'm afraid we can't stay here any longer now that the sect leader is back.

How about we return to the army camp first?" The other powerhouses agreed and began echoing her words.

Gladwin squinted and nodded, saying, "That's a good idea.

Although we're in a temporary truce, we must be prepared for a sudden attack by the new alliance."

Gladwin's thoughts contradicted his words.

He knew both alliances were on a fence.

The powerhouses were afraid now that Xachary was out of seclusion and wanted to avoid getting involved in the conflict.

Hence, they were coming up with excuses to leave.

It seemed they wanted to wait for the battle's outcome to be decided before choosing a side.

From their attitude, Gladwin understood that despite his extreme talent, his prestige simply could not compare to Xachary's.

Meanwhile, James, Maxine and his children stood atop a spiritual mountain.

James pointed at the Sanctum Genesis World, then said, "I've conquered these lands for you.

These two Genesis Worlds belong to us.

"They're the passages to Skynet, the Dark World, and the Forladtt Land.

For the Dark World's beings to arrive at the Forladtt Land, they must use this passage."