

THE ALMIGHTY DRAGON GENERAL

Chapter 6271

Yegor and Lady Herodias calmly rose from their seats as they could see how displeased the grand patriarchs were. Yegor began in a steely voice, “Everyone, James is an important guest of mine. He’s also Truett and Xitlaly’s matchmaker.

We do not wish to see any of you giving him a hard time.” “All of you are famous and respectable figures.” Lady Herodias frowned slightly.

“Isn’t it a little inappropriate for you all to pick a fight with a young cultivator like him?” As the grand patriarchs and other guests were about to make their retort, the noises of Dark Thea fighting with the three mysterious cultivators came in through the door.

Those men were shocked and livid when they saw how Dark Thea effortlessly dealt with her opponents. “Mr. Caden!” The red-haired grand patriarch turned his eyes to James.

“We want to borrow your divine tools as we need them to remove that evildoer for good! So, how could you selfishly decline our request?” A lady cultivator let out a scoff.

“He’s right. That vile woman absorbs others’ cultivation and Genesis Power whenever she wants to. Without the divine tools, many will die in her hands!”

“We merely want to maintain peace across the Genesis Worlds.

How could you be so selfish?" "why bother arguing about this with him? Those divine tools are all lost treasures that once belonged to different groups or sects.

It's only natural that we ask for those items back from him." "Are you going to give us our divine tools? Or are you going to help that evildoer?" "He shared a table with the evildoer earlier.

He must be on her side." "He must have stolen these divine tools from our groups.

This man and that evil woman are accomplices!" James curled his lips as he slowly looked at the men around him. Those cultivators were gradually revealing their true intentions.

At first, they pressured James to lend them the divine tools with a noble purpose.

Then, they started threatening him to surrender those items.

Just as those men began moving closer toward James, Herodias let out a low cry and released her Qrohm.

The men gathered around James were swept a few steps backward by a sudden wave of Qrohm.

Then, Yegor and Herodias teleported and reemerged beside James.

"Yegor! Herodias!" The red-haired grand patriarch's eyes bulged with rage.

"Are you going to go against all the other Genesis World's beings for that man?" "Exactly!" Another grand patriarch yelled grumpily, "That guy is clearly the evildoer's accomplice! Do you really want to protect a man like him?!" Yegor snorted.

"I don't care if he's the evildoer or the evildoers accomplice. "This man is my son's good friend. He's also the person who has introduced my son to his bride.

We welcome him as an honored guest in Skynet." Lady Herodias added, "Those who wish to harm our guest will have to take us on first." "That includes me!" Mattaniah teleported and reappeared next to Yegor and Herodias.

"The lustus Sect and Skynet are on Mr.

Caden's side." The others had looks of bewilderment on their faces now that three Quasi Daelcon Rank cultivators had stepped up to protect James. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

"Very well.

We won't harm that man since the three of you insist on protecting him.

"However, we would like to exterminate that evildoer right here today. We hope that none of you will try to get in our way.

Otherwise, you'll be making all other Genesis Worlds your enemy."

Then, Xaiden turned around and strode toward the door. The other grand patriarchs and cultivators quickly followed him out of the Telhervo Hall as well. Mattaniah snorted.

“How can they act so brazenly?” “They have always been like this.” Yegor said frigidly, “On the surface, they are the virtuous and respected grand patriarchs belonging to different sects.

You'll see they are all hypocrites when the situation involves something they are after.” Herodias cast her gaze at James.

“You won't be able to stop them since there are too many of their men here today, James.

“The three of us can protect you from these men.

However, we won't be able to do the same for her since she's made too many enemies up to this point.” James smiled faintly. “Lady Herodias, | am grateful for your help, and | understand that you are all in a tough spot now.

I've given this serious thought.

The worst thing that can happen is just me dying and losing all my powers.” Mattaniah's brows lifted.

“Do you still plan to help her?! What exactly is your relationship with the Dark Heavenly Path?” Yegor directed his gaze at James.

“If you insist on doing it, Skynet will help you with your plan!” Herodias snapped, “Yegor, you're not helping! Do you seriously want to see James risk his life?!” “Well, who's the cause of all this?” Yegor glared at her.

"If it weren't because you had stubbornly insisted on having this grand ceremony, would we have ended up in this situation?" Herodias was rendered speechless.

Yegor stared into the distance and said slowly, "I simply want to return the favor after receiving so much help from him. Moreover, I'm also a human and a leader..." "Mr.

Yegor!" James called out to him, "I am happy that you are willing to do so much for me.

However, I must decline your offer this time.

"I have befriended you and Truett since we share the same ambitions and beliefs.

I have never expected anything in return from our friendship.

"I will do what I believe is right.

No one can force me into doing anything.

"Even though I am not powerful enough, I have not once bowed down to my enemies.

I have experienced and survived various challenges with my grit and persistence." Yegor had a stern look on his face. "Do you know what it means if you insist on doing this?" James beamed.

"I would feel like a failure if I chose to run away just to stay alive." "You could sacrifice yourself for the love of your life." Yegor argued, "Then, why can't we do the same for you, who's our loyal friend?" Suddenly, James got down on his knees.

"James, what are you doing?" Yegor exclaimed.

Herodias and Mattaniah were surprised as well.

James lifted his gaze and said firmly, "We are different.

You need to consider the hundreds of millions of Skynet's members who follow your lead. "You also need to look after your family and our fellow humans.

On the contrary, I don't have such concerns.

Moreover, I have every reason to step up at a moment like this." "You have concerns too!" Yegor fumed, "You have your children and the Jademora Empire to consider about." "I've made all the necessary arrangements for the Jademora Empire," James continued, "As for my children and Maxine, I hope you, Lady Herodias and Sir Mattaniah can watch over them in my stead. Chapter 6273

Upon hearing those words, Yegor lifted his head and heaved a deep breath. His body was shaking a little.

Beside him, Mattaniah and Herodias closed their eyes almost simultaneously. They knew what it meant if they were to agree to James' requests.

They would have to stand and watch as James sacrificed himself.

They would be losing a brave and noble friend soon.

Obviously, James and the Dark Heavenly Path had zero chance of winning against the dozens of superb cultivators and grand patriarchs waiting outside.

They could hardly escape from that crowd alive.

Yegor, Herodias, and Mattaniah felt extremely conflicted as they considered James' request. Lady Herodias began, "James, the Dark Heavenly Path is not her sole identity.

You probably already know that she has another identity too.

"Even if she dies now, she will be reborn again.

She will get a chance to start over again.

"It's different for you, though.

You might lose the Ultimate Golden Body and all of the cultivation you have accumulated so far. You might not even get the chance to be reborn again!"

James lifted his head and smiled slightly. "I know, but I'm willing to do it."

Herodias dropped her jaw in disbelief upon hearing his words. "Seriously! Why are you like this?!" Mattaniah sounded extremely agitated.

"How could you be so stubborn!" "Please accept my request!" James bowed his head low again. Yegor slowly balled his fists.

His gaze fell on James.

"I promise to do what you've asked of us.

However, you must promise that you will try your best to stay alive." James met Yegor's eyes and gave a slight nod. Then, James stood up.

He activated the Third Marciais Combat Form and the Ultimate Golden Body.

James transformed the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell into an armor secured over his body.

As two Tai Chi diagrams appeared under his feet, James started rushing toward the door.

Mattaniah let out a sigh as he watched James hurry out of the hall.

“Why is he doing this? Why on earth...” “That's his wife out there.” Yegor's voice trembled slightly.

“How could he just watch and do nothing when his wife is being cornered?

“Moreover, James is a brave and honorable man. He's been searching for his wite all this time.

She is his purpose and the light of his life.” “Isn't she lucky to have a man like him as her husband?” Herodias lamented, “Well, we should at least go outside and cheer for him. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

“Also, I want to see how those shameless men outside will try to twist the truth and fabricate lies to achieve their goals. We'll get rid of them one by one afterward.” Without 2 word, Yegor headed for the door with big strides.

Mattaniah and Herodias followed closely behind him.

Outside the Telhervo Hall, collisions of the Genesis Power, Historial Power, and a purplish- pink light could be seen high up in the air. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Dark Thea conjured numerous black lotuses, which formed purplish -pink gigantic hands and caught hold of Core God, Tool God, and Daemon. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

With those three severely wounded, Dark Thea pretty much had the upper hand at that point.

Suddenly, numerous cultivators appeared in a circle around her.

The men channeled their powers simultaneously as they tried to put up a Sigillare Formation around Dark Thea.

She was trapped in that space, unable to move a single muscle.

Just then, James arrived below the almost-finished formation.

He swiftly transformed into a purplish-gold sword energy.

The sword energy shot toward the eye of the formation and destroyed it instantly.

At the same time, James managed to retrieve a divine tool from the formation.

Then, he zoomed across the sky, piercing through the bodies of two Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation cultivators.

Before the men surrounding them could react, James' sword energy form had headed for those three cultivators seized by Dark Thea.

"shit! Someone's aiming for a sneak attack!" The middle-aged cultivator trapped in one of the gigantic hands yelled. In a flash, James had transformed into a purplish-gold sword and pierced through one of the lady cultivators body. Everyone was stunned by how quickly it all happened.

On the other hand, Dark Thea mused, "You're quite the daring man, handsome." The purplish- gold sword made a turn and shot toward the other two cultivators, piercing through the center of their bodies.

Then, it stopped next to Dark Thea. Those three cultivators held captive by Dark Thea had been worn out and lost all will to fight.

In addition, they were shocked by how James, who only achieved the peak of Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Eighth Tribulation, was able to deal critical damage to Quasi Daelcon Rank cultivators like them.

"Did I perform well?" James asked smilingly.

He had assumed his original appearance.

"You were brilliant, and you looked cool." Dark Thea giggled.

"You know you can't win against these old people with your cultivation. So, you used the Marciais Combat Form and did those swift attacks.

"Unfortunately, you've got yourself into big trouble now.

You might die and lose all your powers today." "It will be my pleasure if I can fight and protect my wife, even if that'll cost my life." James grinned proudly.

Dark Thea paused briefly.

"Are you calling me your wife?" James cast her a sidelong glance.

"Of course.

Who else would I sacrifice my life for?" Dark Thea burst out laughing upon hearing his reply. She responded a moment later, "I am very pleased to hear that.

It's a shame we won't get to spend our first night together, though." "That could change." James curled his lips as he slowly glanced at the people around them.

"If you are willing to follow my lead, we may be able to survive this one-sided battle." Dark Thea was intrigued. "These men around us are some of the strongest cultivators well-known across the various Genesis Worlds. You shouldn't lie or boast about your abilities." James' grin broadened.

“Just tell me whether you are willing to follow my lead or not first?” “Sure!” Dark Thea agreed chirpily, “If we make it out of here alive, I’ll spend countless nights with you and have dozens of kids. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Once they grow up, we will bring them along and beat up these old men!” James laughed heartily. A cold light flashed across his eyes as James turned his eyes to the others. “You are all famous, respected figures in our society. Chapter 6275

The others stared with scorn at James. Their following comments dripped with mockery and sarcasm.

“An evildoer like you don’t deserve to have the Ultimate Golden Body!” “Even if he has the Ultimate Golden Body, a Yuraeceon Daelm Rank’s Eighth Tribulation cultivator like him can’t possibly defeat us.” “I promise to spare your life if you are willing to hand over the powers of the Ultimate Golden Body and all the divine tools.

How does that sound?” “All the Genesis Worlds can benefit if you just hand over the divine tools to us.” “Why bother reasoning with him? We can just work together and kill him.

The first person gets the Ultimate Golden Body.” “He’s right. Still, | just want to retrieve the divine tools that once belonged to my sect.” “Me too.

The two grand patriarchs from the Timaeus Sect can have the Ultimate Golden Body instead.” “Why should they have it?! What about the rest of us?” James and Dark Thea exchanged a knowing glance and smiled faintly as they listened to those cultivators arguing amongst themselves for the divine tools and the Ultimate Golden Body.

James said in a low voice, “What are the cultivation ranks of those three cultivators you've captured?” “They are all on the Quasi Daelcon Rank.” Dark Thea looked at James.

“Why? Do you want those three?” “How about you let me absorb their powers?” James grinned.

“I'll give you a divine tool in exchange.” “One only? You're stingy.” Dark Thea shook her head.

“| want at least five.” “Do you know how to use them?” James arched his brow. Dark Thea snorted.

“I'm sure | can learn how to use one very quickly.

That includes transcendent divine tools!” James directed his gaze to the cultivators surrounding them. Those men were still bickering with each other.

“I'll pass you a transcendent divine tool.

You need to help distract these men and buy me time.” “What are you planning to do?” There was a hint of uncertainty in Dark Thea’s voice.

“Just do as I say if you trust me.

We can both get out of here that way,” James said flatly.

Dark Thea gave a slight nod upon hearing those words.

James produced a transcendent divine tool that was emanating lights of ten colors the next instant. He raised his arms and swung the sword heavily at the seals trapping Dark Thea.

With a loud boom, the seals around Dark Thea were destroyed.

She swiftly grabbed onto the transcendent divine tool passed to her and shot up into the sky.

The cultivators were in a state of shock as they saw what happened.

“A transcendent divine tool! That’s the decachrome lights from a transcendent divine tool!” “The evildoer still has a trump card up her sleeve! She has a transcendent divine tool!” “This is bad news.

The powers generated from a transcendent divine tool are not to be taken lightly.” At that very moment, Dark Thea calmly swung the sword in a certain direction.

Her movement sent a wave of bright sword energy traveling outward.

The grand patriarchs and cultivators standing in the path of the sword energy hurriedly conjured multiple Genesis Shields for protection.

Boom! Boom! As the loud explosions died down, most of the grand patriarchs managed to protect themselves from Dark Thea’s attack.

However, many Yuraeceon Daelm Rank’s Ninth Tribulation cultivators were severely injured.

“Gramps, I’m going to make you all regret doing this today!” Dark Thea flashed them a contemptuous smile.

She gave the sword a full swing this time.

In a flash, a wave of sword energy emanating ten colors swept across the air.

The cultivators and grand patriarchs near Dark Thea quickly moved behind and put up their Genesis Shields again.

The Tirta Grand Formation glowed as its barriers were hit by the decachrome lights.

Almost all of the buildings found within the grounds of Skynet’s headquarters collapsed due to the vicious sword energy. Furthermore, five Yuraeceon Daelm Rank’s Ninth Tribulation cultivators were exterminated during this round of attack. When the sword energy had moved past them, the grand patriarchs and cultivators immediately started attacking Dark Thea. Violent blasts of Genesis Power and Historial Power were hurled at Dark Thea.

However, she managed to dodge all of them.

This time, Dark Thea did not try to fight her opponents head-on.

Instead, she would avoid their attacks while aiming her attacks on Yuraeceon Daelm Rank’s Ninth Tribulation cultivators whenever she spotted the chance.

With the transcendent divine tool, Dark Thea’s attacks were even more ruthless and vicious.

It fueled her spirits to fight and tear apart her enemies.

Meanwhile, James had transformed his armor back to the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell.

He placed the bell over him and the three heavily wounded captives.

A peal of bells rang out.

The cultivators and grand patriarchs nearby were greatly affected by the loud ringing sound.

Those men quickly backed away from the bell.

On the other hand, James had begun absorbing the Genesis Power and Historial Power from those three cultivators inside the bell. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

On the other hand, the three cultivators beside him had lost nearly all of their life force. Above the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell, 108 layers of tribulation clouds were formed.

The number of cloud layers was still increasing rapidly.

Heavenly Tribulation Lightning zoomed in and out of the cloud layers from time to time.

The sounds of thunder rumbling were terrifyingly loud.

Chapter 6276

“It's the Destruction Heavenly Tribulation!” Mattaniah’s eyes bulged with shock.

“Why did he trigger the Heavenly Tribulation at a time like this?” “It’s not just the Destruction Heavenly Tribulation.” Herodias said with a grim expression, “The Bone-crushing Heavenly Tribulation and Annihilation Heavenly Tribulation have been triggered as well.” “Aren't those the Upper Three Calamities created by Tai Chi?” Yegor asked in a raised voice, “James is only moving from the Yuraeceon Daelm Ranks Eighth Tribulation to the Ninth Tribulation.

There’s no way this will trigger the calamities! “This must have been deliberate! Tai Chi is trying to get her revenge by doing this.” Yegor shot into the air and flew upward quickly.

With a frown on her forehead, Herodias swiftly went after Yegor. Both were heading toward the thick tribulation clouds. “what is he doing?! Does he have a death wish?” Mattaniah’s voice shook.

Meanwhile, Dark Thea gave her all to hold up against her opponents by using the transcendent divine tool she received from James.

Just then, Yaquis Holiness and Gladwin, who had stayed out of the battle all this while, joined in.

With the addition of those two Quasi Daelcon Rank cultivators, the group of men finally managed to hold Dark Thea down by blasting their Historial Power at her.

Dark Thea swayed a little as several bloody holes were made through her body.

Gladwin spotted an opening.

He performed the Historial Dragon's Breath.

In a flash, the sky above shone with a golden light.

Dark Thea could sense an overwhelming pressure coming down upon her, causing her to slow down at the same time. The men around her swiftly cast blasts of Genesis Power and Historial Power aiming for her.

In that split second, it dawned on Dark Thea that this might be the end for her.

"Sometimes, it does feel quite lonely to fight alone." Dark Thea glanced at the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell which was still spinning quickly over her shoulder.

"However, I am not alone in this battle.

I will buy you more time even if I am forced to sacrifice myself by exploding my body." She got into a seated position in the air. A huge black lotus appeared under her.

In the blink of an eye, thousands of black lotuses bloomed around Dark Thea.

The lotuses formed a dark shield radiating a purplish-pink glow.

The blasts of Genesis Power and Historial Power reached the dark shield a few seconds later.

The black lotuses were blown apart almost instantaneously.

Cracks appeared on the Genesis Black Lotus beneath Dark Thea.

The lady sustained severe injuries and vomited blood right away.

From the south, thousands of huge, golden swords shot through the air, heading in Dark Thea's direction. She curled her lips as she stared at the glistening swords.

"I'll drag all of you along if I'm meeting my end here today." Dark Thea closed her eyes.

The lady shone all over with a purplish- pink light the next instant.

Just as she was about to channel her powers and blow up her own body, the spinning Yuraeceon Genesis Bell teleported and covered Dark Thea within its walls. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Deafening crashes could be heard as those gigantic golden swords struck the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell. The bell shone with a gray light as its wall deflected the Historial Power.

The dispersed Historial Power was so powerful that it even destroyed the Telhervo Hall.

As Dark Thea opened her eyes, she caught sight of a handsome face.

“Huh?!” She paused briefly.

“We shouldn’t be joking around anymore.

Let's talk about how we can get you out of here first.” “What do you mean?”

Chapter 6277

“There will be a short window of three seconds.

| will send you out of here, where the Heavenly Tribulation will happen, by using the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell. You should get away as fast as you can,” said James.

Dark Thea raised her brows.

“What about you then?” “Yegor, Lady Herodias, and Mattaniah will protect me.” James smiled.

“These men won't harm me.

They just want the divine tools.” “You're lying.” Dark Thea's face darkened.

“What they want the most is the Ultimate Golden Body.” James' smile broadened.

“Even so, did you think Yegor and the others would let those men get their way?” Dark Thea's gaze drifted to the side. “You have a point.” “Let's wait for the first lightning bolt, then.

Meanwhile, you should heal your injuries as much as possible.” James conjured two energy balls in mid-air. Dark Thea widened her eyes as she examined the energy balls with her Zen.

“The Calidum Spiritual Fruits?” On the other hand, James had sat down and closed his eyes.

He could not afford to waste any more time.

James had to get ready to face the deadly Heavenly Tribulations soon.

The biggest concern he had was about Thea's safety.

James did not mind losing his life and his powers if he could help her get out of there safely.

Above all the thick tribulation clouds, a human-like form made of black and white gases was waving its hands. The form was performing an incredible skill to attract more tribulation clouds.

Just then, Yegor arrived at the top of all those tribulation clouds.

He scrunched his face when he spotted the strange-looking figure.

“Yehria, are you going to insist on doing this?” As he was saying that, the black and white figure had managed to add dozens of new layers of clouds to the existing bunch.

The figure turned to face Yegor.

“Herodias, stop!” Yegor tried to stop her.

Chapter 6278

Tai Chi steadied herself and slowly turned around.

The black and white gases that constituted her current form circulated quickly as her anger flared up.

“You're still so hot-tempered and unreasonable after all these years.

I've always been patient with you, but not this time.” Herodias was about to rush at Tai Chi again, but Yegor quickly stopped her.

“Let go!” Herodias yelled at him, “I must exterminate that shameless thing so that she couldn't...” “Herodias, enough!” Yegor warned in a stern voice, “You might end up making James lose every chance to survive this instead.” Upon hearing his words, Herodias looked at Yegor with rounded eyes.

“The two of them made a bet.” Yegor explained, “Whether James could make it through the Heavenly Tribulations will decide Yehria’s life and death.

“Only one of them is allowed to live, and they are bound by a soul contract.” Those words came as a shock to Herodias. She never could have imagined James and Tai Chi would be involved in a bet like that.

On the other hand, Tai Chi lifted her hands and separated the many tribulation clouds into three distinct layers. The bottom layer consisted of black tribulation clouds, which gradually transformed into 6400 mini black Tai Chi diagrams. The layer stretched across the sky above Skynet’s headquarters.

In the middle layer, 3200 mini white Tai Chi diagrams were formed from white tribulation clouds.

On the highest level, gray tribulation clouds gathered to form 1600 huge gray Tai Chi diagrams.

Each of those Tai Chi diagrams spun and floated within their respective layers.

As those tribulation clouds of three distinct colors were fully formed, Herodias clutched onto Yegor's arm.

"Even you and I might perish while going through the Upper Three Calamities. Is there really no other way we can help James?" Yegor narrowed his eyes as he stared at the human-like figure. "There is a way.

We can attack Tai Chi by using the Tirta Power.

"We might be able to prevent her from initiating the Upper Three Calamities in full force.

However..." "Well, what is it?" Herodias asked impatiently.

Yegor replied slowly, "If we do that, it will be considered as a violation of the Law of Path.

We will never be able to enter the Daelcon Rank." "That's it?" Herodias frowned.

Yegor raised his brows.

"You don't mind that?" "We're married to each other." Herodias let out a soft sigh.

"We may fight often, but I know how you will feel about this.

"If James dies here today, you will forever be haunted by a deep sense of regret.

You will never be happy again.” Yegor was momentarily stunned.

He never expected that his feisty and assertive wife would be so understanding.

“Let's do it!” Herodias beamed.

Yegor’s face broke into a smile.

He lifted his hand and cast a blast of righteous aura toward the black-and-white figure.

Tai Chi was boiling with rage. She extended her hands and blasted the Tai Chi Power upward to push back against the Tirta Power.

Tai Chi channeled her powers to block the powerful wave of attack. Simultaneously, she produced a ball of light swirling with black and white colors. Then, she flicked it toward the huge gray Tai Chi diagrams.

In an instant, those Tai Chi diagrams started spinning quickly.

Multiple lightning bolts started traveling toward the ground.

Thunder crashed in the sky as the Destruction, Bone-crushing, and Annihilation Heavenly Tribulations were simultaneously activated.

Herodias seethed, “Yehria, you vile woman!” She teleported and joined Yegor in attacking Tai Chi. An immense battle broke out between three exceptional cultivators above the tribulation clouds.

Below the clouds, James could sense multiple Tribulation Lightning coming down from the sky even from inside the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell.

He looked at Thea, who sat facing him. “Get ready to leave.” As Thea opened her eyes, James had teleported out of the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell. With the Ultimate Golden Body activated, James stepped on a Tai Chi diagram on each foot.

He called aloud, “Those who want the Ultimate Golden Body, I’m right here!” The grand patriarchs and cultivators who were attacking the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell stopped immediately.

All of them rushed after James with greedy looks in their eyes.

With great force, James slammed his hand against the wall of the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell.

He sent the bell moving toward the entrance of Skynet’s headquarters.

Suddenly, the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell was forced to stop in the distance as it crashed into an invisible wall.

It appeared someone had put up a super sealing formation around where the battle was happening.

“Damn it!” James cursed.

He conjured a huge formation around all the cultivators and grand patriarchs coming toward him the next instant. Quasar Lightning and dekachrome fire were produced within the formation almost instantaneously.

Those cultivators immediately performed their signature skills to block the attacks.

At that very moment, Lesia materialized in the formation and transformed into a ball of sword energy.

She zoomed through space and destroyed everyone's Genesis Divine Light within James' formation in a matter of seconds. Meanwhile, Fennec released the Galeat Wind.

The rough winds made it difficult for the cultivators to see and stay on their feet.

James also conjured the violet-gold evil spirit, which started battling several grand patriarchs simultaneously.

While the battle ensued, James was aware that his formation could only hold the grand patriarchs and cultivators for a short while.

During that time, Dark Thea had to destroy the formation blocking her route and escape this place.

Fortunately, the grand patriarchs and cultivators were so fixated on obtaining the Ultimate Golden Body that they did not realize the Heavenly Tribulation was about to be fully formed.

Once the Tribulation Lightning started striking, any person who remained within its attack range would become a target. They could easily lose their life and powers during Heavenly Tribulations of this level.

Those men had yet to notice the impending danger.

To buy themselves more time, James performed the Historial Great Curse.

Most of them had a taste of Franciscus' terrifying curse magic. Moreover, James' inscriptions seemed more intimidating as they glowed with a purplish-gold light.

On the other hand, Dark Thea was about to exit the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell to destroy the sealing formation when she heard deafening thunder coming from the sky. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

In the blink of an eye, numerous thick black lightning bolts had struck and shattered the formation. "Haha! You're doomed, old men!" Dark Thea laughed.

Then, she transformed into multiple balls of purplish- pink lights, flew out of the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell, and headed for Skynet's main entrance. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

James noticed that almost instantly. He quickly summoned the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell and transformed it into armor.

With the armor draped over his body, James could finally go all out this time.

Chapter 6280

Just then, countless large black lightning bolts came down from the sky. There were so many of them that it seemed as though the lightning bolts were about to engulf everything in that space. The cultivators and grand patriarchs were either stunned or shocked out of their wits upon catching the sight around them.

“No! It's the Destruction Heavenly Tribulation!” A white-haired grand patriarch immediately conjured several light shields, but they were shattered by the black lightning bolts in an instant.

“That cunning man is trying to kill us by using the Heavenly Tribulation!” Xaiden fumed, “Everyone, get out of here now!” Unfortunately, Xaiden's warning came too late.

Almost half of their men were severely injured after being struck by the first round of black lightning bolts. Only seasoned grand patriarchs remained. However, they could only manage to protect themselves from being harmed by the Tribulation Lightning.

At that moment, James, who had withstood the black lightning bolts by wearing the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell as his armor, directed an attack at those men.

He lifted his left hand and channeled the evil power to form black sword energies.

Then, James blasted the sword energies at his targets.

Most cultivators were focused on protecting themselves against the attacks of the Destruction Heavenly Tribulation. These men could not spare any energy to block James' attack and were wounded by the sword energies.

Some cultivators were even exterminated as they had sustained critical injuries.

Xaiden was completely infuriated.

“You! You're the real evildoer from the Dark World!” He swiftly conjured a gigantic hand to catch James.

Before the hand could reach its target, Lesia transformed into a red ball of sword energy and sliced through the hand. With a loud noise, the huge hand was cut into two.

Xaiden let out a groan in pain and stumbled backward.

As he was temporarily distracted by the attack, numerous black lightning bolts and the Quasar Lightning happened to land on Xaiden at that moment.

Huge, red cracks appeared all over his body.

At that point, the other cultivators and grand patriarchs could not even be bothered about James.

Almost all of them were disheveled and wounded.

They were busy trying to defend themselves from the lightning bolts produced by the Destruction Heavenly Tribulation. Still, the Destruction Heavenly Tribulation's attacks were mainly focused on James.

More than half of the attacks were directed at him as James performed his signature skills.

Soon enough, the armor on James' body fell apart.

His Ultimate Golden Body shone with a blinding black and white light.

Just then, James coughed up some blood.

He seemed like a demon lord who had just crawled out of hell in his bloodied state.

“The Destruction Heavenly Tribulation isn't that big of a deal! I'll show you that I have control over my own destiny!” James bellowed.

James transformed into a sword energy emanating black and white lights.

Then, he shot up toward the 3600 small Tai Chi diagrams spinning in the air.

As the sword energy flew past those Tai Chi diagrams, each of them exploded.

All buildings erected within the grounds of Skynet's headquarters were destroyed. Numerous beings were wiped out by the overwhelming energy.

The Tirta Grand Formation glowed as the force hit its barrier.

Gradually, cracks formed over the sturdy formation as well.

The sounds of the explosions had also reached Truett and Xitlaly, who were situated at their new home. They were shocked as they looked up in the direction of the noise. "That...

That's James!" Xitlaly called out frantically.
