

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6318

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6318-Facing the evil power, the elder with white hair turned into a huge hyena.

He consumed the evil power thus increasing his ability.

His entire body was engulfed by black-and-violet-pink light.

Meanwhile, when the illusionary palms made up of countless evil powers reached the Demon Region, the golden net that covered the Demon Region was destroyed first.

Then, countless Forbidden Boundaries exploded.

In the Demon Region, countless living beings from the Dark World trembled in fear.

They cried out painfully.

They felt despair and helpless.

However, when countless evil powers engulfed them, they were surprised.

Since they were engulfed by the evil power, their ability and cultivation improved quickly.

In the violet-pink-and-black light, the living beings from the Dark World trapped in Demon Prison cheered happily.

Soon, the evil power was consumed by the living beings from the Dark World trapped in Demon Prison.

Then, the powerhouses from the Dark World, whose ability had increased, flew to the sky.

When they were about to escape, two figures exuding golden light appeared in the void.

The two surrounded them.

“Lyla.”

One of the powerhouses from the Dark World shouted, “You have withdrawn from the Timaeus Sect.Are you still going to stop us?”

“Of course.”

Exuding golden light, Lyla said coldly, “Although your abilities have increased, you aren’t Rebella’s and my match.”

Upon hearing that, the powerhouses from the Dark World were shocked.

On the other end, Rebella activated a screen of thousands of light-years.

There were countless ice needles in it.

Whoever collided against it would die.

“You’re vicious.”

One of the powerhouses from the Dark World roared angrily, “The Timaeus Sect has been destroyed, yet you still refuse to let us go.What did we do wrong?”

“You didn’t do anything wrong.”

Lyla sighed and said, “But we have received an order from Master.We need to take you to another place.”

“Master?”

A female powerhouse from the Dark World asked, “Who’s your master?”

“The controller of the Jademora Empire, who’s also the Lord of the Dark World.”

Lyla said, “You don’t have the right to ask so many questions.You only have one choice.Come with us.The living beings from the Dark World in Demon Region must come with us.”

In the void, countless powerhouses from the Dark World exchanged glances.

They didn’t know what to do.

At this time, Lyla pulled out a shining tower.

Suddenly, a trace of power emerged.

The tower's black-and-white light shot toward the mysterious boundary of the Forladdt Land.

In the next second, the mysterious boundary of the Forladdt Land opened a huge door.

There were countless rich Genesis Powers inside.

When the countless powerhouses from the Dark World surrounded in the void saw this scene, they were stunned.

"Do you want us to enter the Forladdt Land?"

"The Forladdt Land is dangerous. We will die if we enter."

"Please change to another place to torture us. You guys from the righteous sects are immoral."

They chased the living beings from the Dark World and forced them into the huge open door.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6319-At this time, Rebella appeared beside Lyla.

"I wonder how are Master and the others doing. Timaeus Sect has been destroyed. The fight must be huge."

"We only need to follow Master's orders."

Lyla glanced at Rebella.

"Guard the Forladdt Land well. The rest is none of our business."

"The Genesis World will change entirely."

Rebella said, "I wonder if Xachary is still around."

‘We will have the chance.’

Lyla sighed and said, “Right now, we need to manage the Forladtt Land well. The group of living beings from the Dark World who have just escaped from Demon Region absorbed a lot of evil powers. They must be controlled.”

Rebella nodded before entering the Forladtt Land with Lyla.

At the same time, in the sky above the Timaeus Sect, Dark Thea ignored everything else and summoned the evil power forcefully to destroy the Ancient Genesis World.

Finally, when countless illusionary hands disappeared, she spat out blood.

The violet-pink lotus had also dispersed.

She stumbled as she was severely injured.

After stabilizing herself, she headed toward the amethyst-red light that engulfed James.

James was lying in the amethyst-red light.

He didn’t exude any aura.

His Ultimate Golden Body bloomed a faint black- and-white light.

Upon seeing that, Dark Thea rushed over and hugged James.

“Please wake up. You said that we would be together after this battle and give birth to several children to fight those living beings. There’s no need to do that anymore. The living beings have been annihilated. We only need to teach our children how to cultivate properly. By then, we can also hold a grand wedding.”

“James! Wake up!” she sobbed.

However, no matter how much Dark Thea shouted, there was no reaction from James.

His eyes were closed as if his soul was already gone and only his body was left behind.

At this time, outside the amethyst-red light, the three Grand Patriarchs rose again with their skeletons.

“She is also severely injured.If we attack her one last time now, we can annihilate her,” said one of them.

“Kill them.Currently, our power is enough to kill them,” insisted the last one.

The three gold powers surged over to James but were stopped by a light orb formed by terrifying Murderous Energy.

Not only did the light orb stop the gold powers shot out by the three skeletons, but it also engulfed the amethyst- red light.

“Clayton, are you going to interfere with this?” one of the skeletons shouted.

“We have already severely injured them.We have followed your rules.You can’t go back on your words,” said another one.

“You’re the number one powerhouse of the Genesis World.How could you go back on your word?” the third one protested.

Upon hearing that, Clayton snorted.

“I didn’t kill you guys, but I didn’t say you could kill them.I didn’t go against my words.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6320-At this time, Clayton looked at the three skeletons.

“It has been so many years, yet none of you has improved.He doesn’t even have half of the ability Franciscus had back then, but he managed to put you in such dire straits.Do you think you have the right to survive in the future?”

Facing Clayton’s mocking, the three skeletons clenched their fists but couldn’t do anything.

“We aren’t in this state because of him,” one of the white skeletons said, “The Dark Heavenly Path summoned the dark power forcefully...”

“Don’t forget,”

Clayton sneered and said, "The Dark Heavenly Path can summon the dark power Franciscus sealed and so can he. To protect his wife, he was hit by you. Otherwise, if he merges the Historial Great Curse and evil power, the three of you will become puppets and slaves instead of skeletons."

Upon hearing that, the three skeletons were at a loss of words.

Clayton waved his hand and said, "Alright. Stop embarrassing yourselves here. Go and find a physical body. I find it weird looking at you like this. If you fight again next time, you might not be so lucky."

The three skeletons exchanged glances before disappearing.

With how severe their injuries were, a powerhouse in the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation could take their lives.

They should leave now.

After making the three skeletons leave, Clayton looked at the sky with his hands behind his back.

Suddenly, he shouted, "Tai Chi, come out and have a chat."

In the next second, in the void, the black-and-white gas surged.

A Tai Chi pattern appeared and rotated slowly.

"The Ancient Genesis World had collapsed. How could you display the Tai Chi pattern?"

Clayton snorted and said, "It's time for you to fulfill your promise."

Coldly, Tai Chi said, "When did I promise you anything? Clayton, don't think that you can scare people because you have the Heavenly Mystical Power and the ability to know everything." Clayton smiled.

Then, he raised his hand to hit the black-and-white gas.

Following a loud sound, explosions happened in the Tai Chi.

At the next moment, a large amount of blood fell from the black-and-white gas.

The black-and-white gas began to tremble.

Tai Chi was severely injured.

“Clayton, you’ve gone overboard,” roared Tai Chi again.

“What makes you stop me from going overboard?”

Arrogantly, Clayton said, “Stop playing dumb. The soul contract between you and Franciscus’ descendant should be fulfilled now. Don’t think you can fool me like you did to him last time.”

“Do you know what’s our bet?”

Unconfidently, Tai Chi shouted, “How dare you talk big?”

Clayton laughed and nodded.

“It seems that I need to let you bleed more.”

When he was about to attack Tai Chi again, a ray of Holy Light engulfed him.

Upon sensing that, he frowned.

“Wesley, are you going to interfere?”

“You’ve misunderstood me.”

Wesley’s voice sounded from the void.

Clayton raised his eyebrows.

“Alright. I’ll let you deal with him.”

In the black-and-white gas, Tai Chi was extremely furious.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6321-With a wave of Clayton’s hand, a Tai Chi Tribulation Envoy stranded in the Forladdt Land was immediately summoned back.

“The Forladdt Land is no longer under our control from now on. Whoever enters it, the Earth Forest will no longer be governed by the Law of Tai Chi,” said Clayton.

The Tribulation Envoy was taken aback for a moment, then immediately bowed in obedience, and turned into ashes in an instant.

“One more thing,” said Clayton coldly.

“Don’t think you can evade the past.”

“You’re not him,” roared Tai Chi.

“What gives you the right to seek justice for him?”

Clayton burst into laughter.

“Your words are rather displeasing.”

“Tai Chi,” the Law of Paths suddenly commanded.

“You have to fulfill the wager.”

Tai Chi sighed deeply and instantly sent a black and white beam toward Clayton, penetrating his space, directly enveloping James within it, and then disappeared.

This beam was the Mystrolux Light.

Henceforth, James would no longer need to undergo tribulations.

“I’ve completed my task,”

Tai Chi bellowed angrily.

“May I go and restore my world now?”

“With what will you restore it?”

Clayton laughed mockingly.

“The Yin governor is absent and the Yang governor is severely injured. Do you intend to play all your little tricks and the Sylverstar Eight Trigram?”

Facing Clayton's ridicule, Tai Chi thundered with anger.

"Clayton Sindward, you made a solemn oath. After this full exertion, you swore to sheath your blade for eternity, never to engage in true combat again. If I find you breaking this vow, I'll ensure your soul is scattered to the winds."

With that, she disappeared in an instant.

Simultaneously, a massive Holy Shield appeared in the void.

This was the Law of Paths, still lingering, as if there were a thousand words it wanted to express to Clayton.

"You don't need to tell me so much."

Clayton shook his head.

"I know what you want to say. It's impossible."

"You've fulfilled all your wishes," said the Law of Paths leisurely.

"I pass on my position of the Law of Paths to you. What more do you want?"

"There's still one request I haven't fulfilled."

Clayton sighed lightly.

"Let's talk about our affairs after I fulfill this request."

The Law of Paths sighed deeply.

"Is it also related to this brat?"

"It seems you've finally learned to use your brain,"

Clayton chuckled.

"Something doesn't add up," replied the Law of Paths.

"The Chosen One was chosen by you," Clayton sneered.

"Now you want me to clean up the mess for you. Is that fair?"

The Law of Paths burst into laughter.

“Alright, I owe you this favor. Attend to your business, I’ll wait for you on the Thirty- Three Heavens.”

With that, the Law of Paths flashed with Holy Light and suddenly disappeared.

He sighed deeply.

“This is just the beginning. The real show is yet to come. You’ve brought this upon yourself, Tai Chi.”

With that said, he stepped into the void, retracting the Sylverstar Power, and swiftly disappeared.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6322-As the evil power of destruction subsided, peace returned once more to Skynet Headquarters.

The Celestial Sages appeared atop the newlywed spiritual mountain.

With a gesture, they withdrew the Celestial Formation that had enveloped Truett and Xitlaly.

Immediately after, Truett and Xitlaly dashed out like startled rabbits.

“Seniors, how is James?”

“Where is James? Is he alright?”

At their words, the Celestial Sages exchanged a glance, then sighed lightly in unison.

“Tell us!”

Truett’s anxiety flared.

“Xitlaly.”

Earthly Sage lifted her head.

“You should be more concerned about your parents now.”

At those words, Truett felt like he was struck by a bolt out of the blue.

His parents? With their high cultivation and formidable strength, could they also have been seriously injured? If that were true, did it mean James had fallen completely? At this thought, Truett grabbed Celestial Sage's collar.

"Please explain everything!"

Seeing Truett's agitation, Celestial Sage sighed deeply.

"You probably need to go to the Telhervo Holy Site and ask them yourself."

The Telhervo Holy Site? Upon hearing those words, Truett immediately pulled up Xitlaly and vanished from the spot.

Clayton arrived in the void of the Tirta Grand Formation with a majestic and vast aura of Murderous Energy, instantly shrouding the entire formation.

The Celestial Sages' faces changed abruptly, and they flew out of the Tirta Grand Formation one after another.

"Greetings, Mr.Clayton!"

"How are you, Mr.Clayton?"

Seeing the reverence of the Celestial Sages, Clayton clicked his tongue.

"We're old friends, there's no need to be so formal."

Formal? The Celestial Sages looked at each other but felt bitter.

"Your Quixotic Energy is more effective for healing.Please take care of it," said Clayton as he lifted his hand.

Instantly, the heavily injured Dark Thea and James appeared in the void.

The Celestial Sages were surprised upon seeing them.

"Are they both heavily injured?" asked Celestial Sage.

"Why bother with me interfering if they are so powerful?" replied Clayton sternly.

With a swift move, Earthly Sage immediately caught the heavily injured Dark Thea.

However, Celestial Sage looked somewhat hesitant as he glanced at Clayton.

“Mr. Clayton, what about Yegor and Herodias’ matters...”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6323-“I know.”

Clayton nodded.

“It’s just a matter of confinement. I’ll explain things to Wesley, you just lead the way.”

Celestial Sage hesitated, then gestured for Clayton to follow into the Tirta Grand Formation.

Truett and Xitlaly knelt on the ground outside the Telhervo Holy Site, facing the sacred radiance covering the holly site.

Both of them appeared deeply remorseful, even speechless.

They had seen the imprisoned Yegor and Lady Herodias here.

The two elders recounted the entire incident, including Tai Chi’s revenge against James.

However, Truett and Xitlaly believed that if it were not for their wedding, none of this would have happened.

Even if James needed to cross his tribulation, he could have chosen to do so in the Forladtt Land.

He could use all the power there to quickly reach the Xaeclon Rank within a short period.

Thus, he would be fully capable of withstanding the Three Great Heavenly Tribulations.

In this way, neither their father nor mother would have been implicated and imprisoned here for twenty thousand entrapochs.

Ultimately, the beginning of all these major events stemmed from their wedding.

“Kids, there’s no need for you to blame yourselves.It’s my fault.”

Lady Herodias smiled.

“It was a law unto myself.I insisted on opening the Telhervo Holy Site as a bargaining chip, inviting all the powerhouses from the Genesis World, which led to the current situation.”

“We blame no one,” Yegor said with a carefree smile.

“All of this is calamity.There’s no real separation of life and death.It’s just a period of seclusion in the Telhervo Holy Site.

“What worries me the most now is James and his mischievous wife.Their fate is uncertain.”

“They should be fine,” said Lady Herodias.

“I’ve sensed a strong Murderous Energy.It’s probably that old guy making amove.”

“Murderous Energy?”

Yegor furrowed his brows.

“Do you mean Mr.Clayton?”

“Clayton is Franciscus’ only friend,” Lady Herodias said solemnly.

“As Franciscus’ sole successor, would he just sit idly by? Moreover, Franciscus probably entrusted him long ago.”

At these words, Yegor looked meaningfully.

“If Mr.Clayton personally intervenes, even Xolani Leander and those old guys will be terrified, and Tai Chi wouldn’t dare to be arrogant.”

“You two have better intuition than Xachary.”

A majestic laughter echoed in the void of the Telhervo Holy Site.

Lady Herodias and Yegor, imprisoned within the sacred radiance, looked up and revealed expressions of joy simultaneously.

Clayton, accompanied by Celestial Sage, gracefully landed beside Truett and Xitlaly.

“Mr.Clayton.”

Yegor bowed to Clayton, respectfully cupping his hands.

“Long time no see, I hope all is well with you.”

“You’re still living so freely.”

Clayton admired Yegor.

“However, your apparent freedom can’t hide the burden in your heart.Why burden yourself?”

Yegor smiled calmly.

“Gratitude for a drop of water should be repaid with a gushing spring.Without Mr.Franciscus’ guidance, how could I have the righteous aura?”

“You’re too persistent,” sighed Clayton.

“I like it.We’re the same kind of people, burdened by righteousness.”

Then, he looked at Lady Herodias.

“And what about you? You’ve caused so much trouble.Do you feel any remorse now?”

“Remorse for what?”

Lady Herodias rolled her eyes at Clayton coldly.

“Who would dare to make me repent?”

Clayton raised his hand, and a dense aura of hostility clashed against the sacred radiance.

In an instant, this sacred radiance was split open and revealed a huge gap.

Seeing this, Yegor hastily waved his hand.

“Mr. Clayton, the Law of Paths has cut us some slack, we cannot...”

“What’s the rush?”

Clayton sneered.

“Wesley trusts you, and there’s no question of breaking the rules,” said Clayton.

With that, he walked straight through the torn sacred radiance gap.

Then, the radiance of the sacred light flashed and returned to calmness.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6324-Truett and Xitlaly, who were kneeling on the ground, lifted their heads and were about to speak.

Then, they realized that their parents and the enigmatic old man had vanished without a trace.

“Who is this old man, Mr. Celestial Sage?” asked Xitlaly.

“The number one expert in the Genesis World, Clayton Sindward,”

Celestial Sage replied with reverence.

“The number one expert in the Genesis World?”

Xitlaly turned to Truett.

“Our parents are safe! What about James?”

“Didn’t you hear just now?”

Truett said casually, “Our parents are self-imprisoned here, not captured by anyone.”

“I was asking about James.”

Xitlaly’s expression turned cold.

Truett shivered and quickly got up, looking at Celestial Sage.

“Help me, or else my ears will be twisted off.”

Under his pitiful gaze, Celestial Sage laughed heartily.

“James was brought here by Clayton. Naturally, he went in too.”

At this, both Truett and Xitlaly widened their eyes simultaneously.

They could almost be certain that James had suffered serious injuries.

Otherwise, the number one expert in the Genesis World would never have intervened personally.

At the same time, they were relieved that James had only been seriously injured and probably had not perished.

This was indeed a blessing in disguise.

“Let’s go back,” sighed Celestial Sage softly.

“The Ancient Genesis World has collapsed. At this time, it’s when you need to take over the affairs of Skynet and deal with the situation that follows.

“As for James, I believe he will soon walk out safely from inside.

“Nowadays, he’s a completely different person from before. Even the person we can’t hold a candle to backs him up. Who can rival him in this Genesis World?”

Finally, smiles appeared on the faces of Truett and Xitlaly.

They were genuinely happy for James.

At least they could be sure that James had successfully broken through, won the bet against Tai Chi, and would not have to undergo tribulations anymore.

On the other side, in a main hall that was drawn out beforehand inside the Telhervo Holy Site, Yegor and Lady Herodias looked at James, who Clayton twisted out.

They were all shocked.

James was floating in the void, devoid of vitality or any response, like a floating corpse.

After a while, Yegor frowned.

Most dangerously, there's Xolani's ultimate skill, the Sacred Soul-Crushing Palm.

"Seeing from the outside, his Ultimate Golden Body is still intact, and his Golden Bones still exist.

However, his internal organs have long been shattered by the three fatal skills, and everything has been devoured.

"The Bloodfire Overlord of Sir Yaquis is overwhelmingly powerful, and it has destroyed all of his meridians.

Even his energy reservoir is gone, and he has lost all his cultivation.

"Just tell me if you can cure him."

Clayton stared at Yegor intently.

"It's difficult," Yegor said reluctantly.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6325-Before he could finish speaking, Clayton spread out his hands, and James' soul fragments immediately bounced out.

Seeing this, Yegor became ecstatic.

"I knew it! With you here, how could you let his soul scatter?"

"Don't butter him up,"

Lady Herodias said impatiently.

"If you can't save this child, I'll have unfinished business with you."

"What are you panicking for?"

Yegor glanced at Lady Herodias and said in a deep voice, "This matter must be taken slowly.It'll take at least three entrapochs to rebuild the organs, and at least thirty entrapochs to recondense the soul fragments.

"I can't wait that long," said Clayton solemnly.

"I have to take him to see someone else.At most, I can give you eight entrapochs."

Hearing this, Yegor could not help but inhale sharply.

"Since time is pressing, we need to prepare some urgently needed items first.However, we can't go out for this..."

"Stop beating around the bush."

Clayton interrupted Yegor again.

"Just tell me what you need, and I'll take care of it.I owe this brat."

Upon hearing this, Yegor grinned.

"I need two Quintessential Hearts, four Torrential Lungs, one Wraith Liver, and four Xiphoid Kidneys.

"As for the spleen and other organs, the Telhervo Holy Site has the best ones.There's no need to look elsewhere."

Looking at Yegor, Clayton raised an eyebrow.

"Where do I get them?"

With a lift of his hand, Yegor floated an information orb in front of Clayton.

After scanning with Zen, Clayton snorted, "Yegor, these are all transcendent Divine Tools, even mysterious artifacts.They are guarded by powerful guardians.You've planned it all out and waited for me to speak?"

"Nope."

Yegor laughed.

"If it weren't for your visit today, I wouldn't dare to make such a request.

Looking at the entire Genesis World, apart from you, I'm afraid no one can gather these treasures."

Clayton withdrew the information orb, looking meaningfully at James floating in front of him.

"Even Tai Chi has only one Quintessential Heart, and you want two at once? Isn't this brat even more cunning than her?"

"You're smart."

Yegor looked at Clayton and laughed.

"Mr. Clayton, his opponent is Tai Chi. Her physique is different from ordinary people. This is a prerequisite for her to fully exert the Tai Chi Power.

"To truly defeat Tai Chi, James must possess a physique superior to her to carry and exert the greatest power."

"I see."

Clayton revealed a sly smile.

"Then how do you explain these four Xiphoid Kidneys?"

"What are you up to?"

Lady Herodias grabbed Yegor.

"You're the unreliable one. Are you attempting to corrupt this kid?"

"This is not something to be ashamed of," said Yegor helplessly.

"I don't get it."

"Neither do I."

Clayton shook his head with his hands behind his back.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6326-Yegor sighed deeply and suddenly asked, "Do you know how Tai Chi came to be?" "He is the fusion of black and white, Yin and Yang," Clayton said solemnly.

“From the evolution of all things, Tai Chi is born.” “Tai Chi?” Herodias scoffed coldly.

“Isn’t it just two dead fish of Yin and Yang...” “Ah, you two actually got it right,” Yegor pointed at Herodias.

“ The fishes of black and white, Yin and Yang merge.

Black contains white, and white contains black.

This explains that within Yin there is Yang, and within Yang there is Yin.

After endlessly repeating, they evolved all living beings, hence named Tai Chi.

“Therefore, to break Tai Chi, we must unite the power of Yin and Yang to scatter her soul.

Otherwise, if she reincarnates and eliminates the Tai Chi Tribulation, she might retaliate even more ferociously.” Seeing Clayton and Herodias still looking at him as if they were looking at beasts, Yegor awkwardly rubbed his nose.

“Yin governor is the pure Yin body, to achieve the union of Yin and Yang, James must forge a pure Yang body to match it.

“For the four Xiphoid Kidneys, one is for Yang Fire, one for Yang Energy, one for Yang Power, and one for Yang Essence.

By practicing the power of these four kidneys, he will attain the purest Yang body.

“yin governor and James were originally a couple.

If both of them cultivate together, they will harness the purest power of Yin and Yang in the world.

This is commonly known as profound power.

It is the fundamental method to utterly defeat Tai Chi.

“Of course, there are some things that cannot be said, I believe you should understand.

“Originally one was Tai Chi, born from Herodias, the first physical female living being in the world.

“Although Yang governor calls her mother, she is transformed by the Tai Chi Power and not born from Tai Chi, so the reason is still unresolved.” Yegor glanced at Herodias, then continued, “If this kid truly possesses the providence and boon for himself, not only can he eradicate a great harm, but he can also eliminate more than half.

So, why not?” After hearing Yegor’s words, both Clayton and Herodias took a sharp breath.

In terms of cultivation, Yegor was not a match for them, but in terms of insight and wisdom, the two of them combined were not his match.

They originally thought that to eliminate Tai Chi was simply to kill her body and destroy her soul, but they overlooked that she was one of the divinely appointed positions of the Law of Paths.

How could her soul scatter so easily? After pondering for a while, Clayton sighed lightly, “Well, I’ll go find the things you need, and you should also prepare.

You only have eight entrapochs.” With that, he turned and left.

However, he had only taken a few steps when he suddenly turned back, “Where are this brat’s children?” Yegor and Herodias were both stunned.

“What do you mean?” “Are you planning to take them as disciples?” Clayton sighed lightly.

“After this matter is completed, I’ll retire from the path and cease seeking.

During the years of boredom, I can pass the time by teaching a disciple.” Yegor laughed heartily.

“I’ll choose him.” Clayton suddenly pointed at Jacopo.

Yegor asked awkwardly, “Mr.

Clayton, could you take in two more?” Clayton frowned, then gestured towards Xainte.

“This girl then.

Her talent seems promising.” Upon hearing this, Lady Herodias nodded eagerly.

“That works, they both have great potential.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6328-Within the ruins of the first peak in the Timaeus Sect, a venerable old man with graying hair suddenly appeared in a shimmer of golden light.

However, there was a hint of evil power within the light, instilling fear in those who beheld it.

The man was Xachary.

Within the Grand Patriarch Pavilion of Skynet, not only did he survive a cataclysmic battle, but he also managed to evade destruction wrought by the malevolent Dark Power due to the protection of the Tirta Grand Formation.

Furthermore, he utilized his own cultivated Supernatural Power to devour a considerable amount of the evil power.

Now, he had returned to the Quasi Daelcon Rank.

With his strength greatly enhanced, his confidence and ambition naturally grew in tandem.

At this moment, his eyes glowed blood-red as he gazed at a stunningly beautiful woman ahead, his face contorted into a grimace.

“You’re neither human nor ghost,” the woman scolded.

“Now, you’re just a destitute beggar like me.

The Timaeus Sect no longer exists, and your position as the Sect Leader has crumbled.” “Lucille.” Xachary’s voice suddenly sounded hoarse.

“T’ll give you a chance now.

As long as you acknowledge me as your father, I’ll spare your life.” Lucille spat.

“You wish!” “Fine,” Xachary said coldly.

“Once, you relied on the Symbiotic Blood Curse planted by your mother to do as you pleased.

Now, I’ll tell you that with my strength returning to the Quasi Daelcon Rank, our Symbiotic Blood Curse is nullified.

“From now on, we are who we are.

If you dare show me disrespect again, I’ll devour you immediately.” “Do you truly believe that I despised you only because of the Symbiotic Blood Curse?” Lucille snorted coldly.

“You’re wrong.

Since I was young, I’ve never respected you, especially after I gained control of my mother’s memories.

I regard you even more as a disgrace.” “Fine.” Xachary’s voice trembled as he shouted.

“Since that’s the case, don’t blame me for not showing fatherly affection.” With that said, he suddenly opened his mouth and lunged towards Lucille.

In that instant, two streaks of green and red light flashed through the void.

The next moment, two skeletons suddenly appeared, blocking Xachary’s path.

Xachary crashed into the two skeletons and was sent flying far away.

Raising his head abruptly, Xachary showed a shocked expression.

“ Who dares...” “You insolent creature,” one of the skeletons roared.

“I am your master.” Xachary showed a shocked expression.

“Master, how did you become like this?” At these words, the two skeletons glanced at each other, and then one of them raised his hand.

In an instant, the two skeletons suddenly regained their flesh and transformed into Xolani and Xaiden.

Seeing the two Grand Patriarchs, Xachary trembled all over, hastily kneeling.

“Greetings, Grand Patriarchs.” “you’re amadman,” Xaiden cursed angrily.

“Have you devoured the Dark Power, becoming so evil that you would even devour your own daughter?” Xachary panicked as he quickly shook his head.

“No, Grand Patriarchs.

I’ve been enveloped by the Dark Power, hence tainted by its influence, but I’m not...” “Enough, don’t say anymore!” Xolani interrupted Xachary.

“At this point, there’s no need for talk of darkness and light.

The Timaeus Sect has ceased to exist.” With that, he shot a beam of golden light into the sky.

Soon after, the figure of Gladwin suddenly appeared and landed gracefully.

Xachary’s expression turned resentful as he laid eyes on Gladwin.

“Greetings, Grand Patriarchs,” Gladwin respectfully said, then glanced at Xachary before bowing.

“Greetings, Sect Leader.” “Two of the Grand Patriarchs battled the Dark Demons at great cost to their physical bodies,” Xachary sneered.

“Yet, the Great Protector seems untouched.

Could it be that you’re off somewhere cultivating?” As soon as these words were spoken, Gladwin’s expression darkened.

“You...” Seeing that an argument was about to erupt between the two, Xolani suddenly shouted, “Both of you, kneel!” Gladwin and Xachary exchanged glances before hastily kneeling.

“I know neither of you is willing to yield to the other,” Xolani said slowly.

“Well, now’s your chance.

“The Timaeus Sect no longer exists, so you will establish a new one.

As for the methods you employ and the extent of your abilities, it will depend on your own fortunes.” “yes,” Xaiden sighed lightly.

The Yaquis Sect has also been destroyed by the Dark Power.

Now, the Ancient Genesis World lies in ruins, its various Genesis Regions shattered.

“After the upheaval in the Genesis World, new forces will emerge.

Thankfully, the Timaeus Sect still has the two of you.

Each of you will lead a force and expand the territories.

The more of the Genesis World you can claim, the greater your achievements.

“Ten entrapochs is the limit.

“Sect Leader,” Gladwin sneered.

“You’re not far from reaching the Quasi Daelcon Rank.

I could even let you have two Genesis Worlds.” With a snort, Xachary smiled.

“I’ll be sure to thank you for that.” With that, he stood up slowly.

“Grand Patriarchs, then I shall take my leave.” Xolani and Xaiden exchanged a glance before nodding simultaneously.

After Xachary left, Gladwin furrowed his brow.

“Grand Patriarchs, haven’t you noticed anything different about Xachary?”

“Nope,” Xaiden denied firmly.

“It’s none of your concern,” Xolani said in a low voice.

“Go about your business.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6329-Gladwin still had something to say, but under the sharp gaze of the two Grand Patriarchs, he immediately flew away.

It was not until then that Xolani turned to Xaiden, a hint of strangeness flashing in his eyes.

“Are you sure that’s still your disciple?” Xaiden remained silent.

“Just as well.” Xolani sighed lightly.

“It’s time to employ people, so let’s hold off for now.” With that, both Grand Patriarchs turned to look at Lucille.

“Greetings, Grand Patriarchs.” Lucille immediately knelt before them.

“Lucille,” Xaiden sighed lightly.

“Mount Martialis no longer exists, and Thea has been assimilated into the Heavenly Path.

What will you do?” “I want freedom.” Lucille raised her head and said, “In this life, I no longer join any sect, serve any force, or obey anyone.” Upon hearing this, both Xaiden and Xolani frowned simultaneously.

“Please grant my wish, Grand Patriarchs,” Lucille banged her head on the ground.

After pondering for a moment, Xolani spoke up, “I’m not allowed!” Lucille was taken aback.

“Lucille.” Xaiden sighed lightly.

“We promised your mother to protect you.

Now that the Ancient Genesis World has collapsed, the major super sects and Superorthodox are vying for control of the Three Thousand Great Genesis Worlds.

Chaos reigns.

With your current strength, it’s hard to survive outside.

“How about this? The position of the Grand Priestess of the Timaeus Sect will be handed over to you.

With our protection, Xachary wouldn't dare to harm you." As Lucille was about to retort, Xolani struck her with a golden light, instantly enveloping her in holy light.

Just then, a terrifying black force erupted from Lucille, transforming into countless small black dragons, instantly shattering the holy light.

The shockwave even sent Xolani and Xaiden retreating.

Lucille, who was enveloped in a majestic black force, soared into the sky, breaking through the restriction and disappearing into the void.

"How is this possible?" Xaiden was full of shock.

"When did she learn of Franciscus' Abyss Black Dragon Art?" Xolani sighed deeply, immediately sitting in a lotus position to stabilize the Genesis Power and the Historial Power.

"Xolani, say something..." Xaiden began to speak but suddenly spewed out a mouthful of blood.

Immediately, he sat down in a lotus position to stabilize the wildly surging power within him.

However, he was still incredibly horrified.

At least, he found Lucille's sudden display of Supernatural Power unbelievable.

After along time, Xolani slowly raised his head.

"There is only one possibility.

He wondered how Lucille could be the daughter of Franciscus.

He could be sure that she was not Xachary's daughter, but she was at least his or Xolani's daughter.

"We were all mistaken." Xolani sighed.

"She deeply admired Franciscus.

Even her name was changed to Celeste Babs.

The two were inseparable day and night.

How could they not develop feelings for each other?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6330-Upon hearing this, Xaiden looked at Xolani in shock.

"Are you suggesting that Celeste was already pregnant with Franciscus' child when we captured her?" Xolani nodded gravely.

"We were all obsessed with reaching the Daelcon Rank, so we forcibly collected Yin and Yang energy from her.

Our cultivation soared, but we were unaware that she was already pregnant." Xaiden's lips trembled, and he gritted his teeth.

"So, to retaliate against us, she concealed the fact that she was carrying Franciscus' child.

This ultimately led us to mistakenly believe that Lucille was our child, almost causing a rift between us.

"She even chose to self-destruct and cast a Symbiotic Blood Curse on Xachary, all to protect her and Franciscus' child?" "This is the advantage of being a woman," Xolani said grimly.

"Not only did we raise the illegitimate child of our enemy with care, considering her as our own, ensuring she suffered no harm, but when we finally woke up to the truth, Franciscus' illegitimate child was already beyond our control.

We suffered a huge loss." "No, this can't be." Xaiden continued to refuse to believe.

"We can't jump to conclusions just because Lucille suddenly unleashed the Abyss Black Dragon Art..." "You're still deluding yourself," Xolani snapped.

"Look at the Genesis World.

Besides Franciscus having an Abyss Body, who else possesses the innate ability to wield the Abyss Black Dragon Art? "If Lucille didn't inherit Franciscus' bloodline and wasn't the Abyss Body, how could she unleash the art?" Xaiden felt as if he had lost his soul.

He took two steps back and then collapsed to the ground.

He had thought that by forcibly taking advantage of Celeste before Xolani did, he must have fathered Lucille.

However, he had never expected Celeste to be so cunning.

She not only deceived him and Xolani but also Xachary.

He suddenly realized that with Celeste's strong spirit, she would not have been easily captured.

Even if she had been captured, she could have chosen to self-destruct, sparing herself from further humiliation.

It turned out that all the humiliations she endured were to protect the illegitimate child of Franciscus.

However, all the humiliations were retaliated in this way.

Not only did she suffer extreme humiliation, but both Xolani and Xachary were also forever shamed.

The more he thought about it, the angrier he became.

Xaiden suddenly looked at Xolani.

"We must capture this illegitimate child.

Otherwise, she will bring disaster upon us with her Abyss Body." "How are we going to capture her?" Xolani glanced disdainfully at Xaiden.

"We are both severely injured now, even our physical bodies are just temporary manifestations." Xaiden hesitated.

"First, let's recover our physical bodies," Xolani sighed.

"We'll discuss other matters later." With that, he disappeared along with Xaiden.

From deep within the restricted area, a handsome young living being emerged.

He could hide his aura from Xaiden and Xolani, indicating his extraordinary talent.

He looked at the place where Xolani and Xaiden disappeared, then raised his hands.

“The Abyss Body seems to be quite useful, including you two old monsters and Xachary.

In the future, you will all become cultivation resources for me.

“Just wait and see.

In the next moment, the figure of Xachary appeared within the energy ball.

“Master, where are you? I’ll come find you right away.

I miss you so much.” “Hehe, kid.

I didn’t expect you to still be alive.

That’s good,” Xachary chuckled inside the energy ball.

“I’ll give you the coordinates.

Just come over.

“Do you want me to bring her back?” “No,” Xachary refused decisively.

“Just come.

I want to focus on cultivating you.

Following the crack that Lucille had broken through, he disappeared in an instant.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6327-Clayton glanced at Herodias disdainfully before revealing her thoughts.

"I know you're afraid I'll take away your disciples." With that said, he dashed out of the sacred radiance, carrying Jacopo and Xainte with two murderous auras, and they disappeared in an instant.

His speed was so swift that the few remaining people on the scene felt a gust of wind pass by and noticed the absence of two individuals.

Winnie hurriedly asked the Celestial Sage, "Senior, where are Jacopo and Xainte?" "They've been taken away by a superior being," the Celestial Sage replied, smiling as he tugged his beard.

"They're luckier than all of you." Just as he finished speaking, the voice of Yegor suddenly resounded.

"Winnie Caden, Noel Caden, kneel." Winnie and Noel hesitated for a moment before devoutly kneeling.

"Today, I'll take you as..." Before he could finish his sentence, the Celestial Sage suddenly interjected, "Leave one for us, Yegor." "Do you intend to take on disciples?" Yegor asked with a smile.

"Not just me," the Celestial Sage said solemnly.

"It's me and Earthly Sage together." With these words, not only was Yegor stunned, but even Lady Herodias showed surprise.

"Who is so lucky to be chosen by the Celestial Sages at the same time?" "Her." The Celestial Sage pointed to Winnie.

Winnie was taken aback, looking pleasantly surprised.

"That's good!" Lady Herodias nodded with a smile.

"Being chosen by the Celestial Sages, you'll surely become outstanding in cultivation.

Winnie, are you willing?" Winnie nodded vigorously.

"I'll listen to you!" "Good," Lady Herodias said, even more delighted.

"The cultivation of the Celestial Sages transcends ordinary realms.

Your ability to join them is the result of blessings from your past life.

Hurry, kowtow and pay respect to your masters.” Winnie was stopped by the Celestial Sage just as she was about to kowtow to him.

“Our initiation ceremony isn’t here.

We’ll find Earthly Sage later to do it together.” Then, he looked at Yegor and Lady Herodias.

“What about Noel...” “Don’t think about taking another one,” Yegor said nervously.

“ Noel will naturally be under my sect.

This child is bright and clever, and I like him a lot.” The Celestial Sage chuckled as he stroked his beard, nodding in agreement.

“Alright, then it’s up to you.” With that said, he enveloped Winnie in a golden light and disappeared in an instant.

“Noel Caden, you will cultivate in this hall from now on.

Inside, there are fundamental techniques for cultivating the righteous aura.

“Remember, I’ll test you every epoch.

On the other side, Lady Herodias established a main hall for Maxine.

After some instructions, she let her enter the hall as well.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6331-Time flew.

In the space beyond the illumination of the Telhervo Holy Site’s ethereal lights, a man and a woman, each holding a sword, were engaged in an intense battle.

Blasts of sword energy and Genesis Power shot through the air.

The handsome man was surrounded by a cloud of golden righteous aura. Each of his attacks was deadly as they were infused with aura.

The man was also extremely agile. He moved as quickly as lightning.

His opponent, a beautiful lady, emanated a glow due to the Tirta Power. She could take out armies of men by unleashing a fragment of the Tirta Power through her sword.

The two of them dropped to the ground and teleported high up in the air again during their battle. The galaxies nearby shifted as they were hit by those two cultivators' powers and sword energies.

It was akin to a battle between the gods.

Boom!

A loud explosion erupted when the two cultivators cast attacks of sword energies at each other.

The force created from the collision of their powers sent both of them flying away in different directions. The two of them fell onto the ground and coughed up some blood.

"Excellent! Well done!" The Celestial Sage clapped his hands while grinning.

"Noel and Maxine have competent teachers. It only took six entrapochs for them to achieve the peak of Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation."

He turned his gaze toward Winnie, who sat on the ground beside him.

"Winnie, do you want to join the battle?"

"I'll pass." Winnie replied smilingly, "We've fought each other for thousands of rounds of battle, but it always ends with a tie."

"Winnie fought the two of them simultaneously during those battles. She's winning even if the results were tied."

After saying that, the Earthly Sage looked at Yegor and Herodias, who basked in the sacred lights.

"Yegor. Lady Herodias. We can let them train in the Telhervo Holy Site now."

Upon hearing those words, Yegor and Herodias exchanged a glance and smiled brightly.

Yegor asked, "They've just taken our sect's assessment."

“Judging by their overall performance, how do these three rank among Skynet’s Yuraeceon Daelm Rank’s Ninth Tribulation cultivators at the peak of their powers?”

The Celestial Sage paused briefly and responded slightly hesitantly, “They’ve just made it into the top twenty spots.”

Herodias’ grin widened. “The kids are doing great! They could even be appointed as Skynet’s great elders now.”

“It’s still not enough.” Yegor sighed. “It’s not that they haven’t worked hard enough. On the contrary, we, their masters, have neglected a very important point.”

“Are you talking about their physical conditions?” Herodias cast her gaze at Yegor.

“That’s not all.” Yegor went on, “They also have to work on training related to the Golden Bones and their souls.

“Most importantly, they need to gain more battle experiences and strengthen their resolve. Otherwise, they will just be weak-minded cultivators who can’t put their powers to proper use.”

Standing outside the sacred lights, Winnie, Noel, and Maxine suddenly got down on their knees.

“Please let us leave Skynet so that we can train in the outside world, Master!”

Yegor burst into laughter. “That’s...”

“No! Absolutely not!” Herodias objected, “The Genesis Worlds are in chaos now.

It is too dangerous!

You stand no chance against the cultivators from those worlds.”

Yegor had a slightly awkward look on his face upon hearing those words.

Winnie and the others seemed rather disappointed.

Meanwhile, Herodias looked at Yegor. “We should send them into the Telhervo Holy Site first.

“They need to possess the Golden Bones and improve their physical strength.

Otherwise, how could we send them out of here confidently?”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6332-“The dangers found in the holy site could easily be more overwhelming than those existing in the outside world.”

Yegor heaved a long breath. “Can you really bring yourself to send them in there, though?”

“That...”

Sensing Herodias’ hesitation, the Celestial Sage quickly reasoned, “Lady Herodias, we can’t protect these kids forever.

“They need to grow and overcome challenges on their own to become exceptional cultivators.”

“I disagree.” The Earthly Sage snorted. “The youngsters have only improved their cultivation so far. I won’t agree to plans that will risk their lives.”

The two ladies out of the four teachers had expressed their disapproval. Yegor and the Celestial Sage could only stare at each other helplessly at the moment.

Unintentionally, Herodias and the Earthly Sage would be overly protective of Maxine and the others due to their maternal instincts.

Their opinions were also hard to refute since the concerns over the youngsters’ safety were valid.

Still, the Celestial Sage and Yegor felt that one must experience various difficult situations dealing with life and death to grow into a superb and capable cultivator.

No matter how talented these youngsters were, they would not improve further if they were to stay under Skynet’s protection forever.

“How about this?” Yegor sighed softly. “We’ll ask Truett and Xitlaly to arrange for these three to fight with the lustus Sect’s top cultivators for training purposes at the lustus Sect.

“Then, we’ll send them to the Forladdt Land. We can ask Lyla and Rebella to give the youngsters some training.

“If the three of them could take more than ten thousand attacks from Lyla and Rebella, we should be able to let them venture out of Skynet for training.”

The Celestial Sage lifted his gaze. “That’s a good idea! Skynet, the lustus Sect, the Sanctum Genesis World, and the Xyndaros Genesis World are all connected.

“We are also in the midst of war with the other sects. This could be an opportunity for them to observe how merciless a battle could get. It’ll also be a test of their wit and grit.”

As he was saying that, the Celestial Sage could see Yegor signaling to him with a slight nod.

Before Herodias and the Earthly Sage could give any response, he cast a golden light at the three youngsters and took them along as he teleported away.

“Hey! How could he bring them away just like that?” Herodias grumbled, “We didn’t even get to say our goodbyes.” “That guy can be quite impulsive sometimes.” The Earthly Sage said hurriedly, “I should go after them.

Otherwise...”

“You should stay.” Yegor cut the Earthly Sage off.

“I didn’t want to bring it up in front of the kids earlier. You two are just too protective of them. That is not a good thing for their growth.

“I know you are doing all this for James. However, to actually help them improve.”

“Stop.” Herodias interrupted him, “Even if they weren’t related to James, I would still be concerned about these lovely kids. So, stop making it out as if we think the same as you do.”

The Earthly Sage agreed, "That's right. Yegor, you can be so cold-hearted at times."

Yegor was rendered speechless by their remarks.

"Alright, let's discuss urgent matters first." Herodias let out a sigh.

"There's still no news from Mr. Clayton. We only have eight entrapochs' time to save James. However, Mr. Clayton is still doing things at an old man's pace!"

Yegor remained silent as he listened to Herodias' complaints.

At that very moment, a murderous energy shot through the air and headed for where Yegor and the others were standing.

Clayton, Jacopo, and Xainte materialized in the distance the next instant.

Clayton began, "Herodias, you shouldn't talk bad about me behind my back."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6333-"Ahem..." Herodias cleared her throat. An awkward expression hung on her face.

Yegor laughed aloud. "Go on. Why can't you tell him what you are upset about?"

"I will!" Herodias shot a glare at Yegor. "What took you so long, Clayton?"

With your powers, it shouldn't take you so long to gather those items."

"I wasn't just working on collecting the items." Clayton snorted. "I need to train my disciples too."

Herodias was struck speechless by his response.

"What training did you put them through?" Yegor beamed at Jacopo and Xainte.

"The two of them radiate an overwhelming amount of murderous energy.

Clayton, did you make them kill a lot of people?"

Clayton smiled slightly and sent a glance at the pair of young cultivators.

Jacopo and Xainte conjured strings of severed ears tied together in the air.

Herodias' eyes widened. "This... How many people have you killed?"
"Grandma Herodias." Jacopo knelt, facing Yegor and Herodias. "During my training, I've killed 389 cultivators, whose cultivation ranks are in and above the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Eighth Tribulation.

"Among them, there are 75 Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation cultivators and six Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation cultivators at the peak of their powers."

Xainte reported, "Grandma Herodias and Grandpa Yegor, I've killed 372 cultivators.

"68 of those men were on the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation while 5 were at the peak of Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation."

Upon hearing their words, Yegor and Herodias drew a long breath.

As expected of Clayton, his disciples' training was focused on killing as well.

Unlike Winnie and the others, Jacopo and Xainte had only reached the middle grade of Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation.

However, these two youngsters had mastered the Marcials Combat Form and exuded a tremendous amount of murderous energy.

It was uncommon for cultivators of their caliber to have succeeded in accumulating a high body count this quickly.

After a brief pause, Yegor looked at the youngsters and gave a slight nod."
The two of you should meet up with your siblings now. Uncle Truett and Aunt Xitlaly have gifts for you too."

Jacopo and Xainte exchanged a glance and nodded in acknowledgment.

Then, they directed their gaze to Clayton.

They dared not leave without their master's permission.

"Go ahead." Clayton said, "We have some business to take care of here."

After receiving Clayton's permission, Jacopo and Xainte teleported away in the direction of Skynet's headquarters.

Once Herodias was sure that the youngsters had moved out of hearing range, she yelled at Clayton, "Clayton, what did you do to the children? Are you turning them into bloodthirsty killers?!" "Herodias!" Yegor called out to her and explained, "Clayton must have a good reason for doing this. You shouldn't interfere with Clayton's teaching since Jacopo and Xainte had chosen to follow him." "What do you men know?" Herodias glared daggers at Yegor. "These children haven't gotten to see their mom in a long time. Also, their father is unconscious because of his injuries.

if they were to go on the wrong path now, in the future..."

Clayton said sternly, "Herodias, the two of them are my disciples. You have no say in what I do." "Why you...!" Herodias was outraged.

Clayton ignored Herodias and conjured an opening in the barrier bordering the sacred lights.

Then, he entered through the opening and headed toward the hall, with Yegor and Herodias trailing behind him.

Clayton furrowed his brows when he spotted James' body, which was floating in mid-air.

"Why is it still just a shell? There's no point if it only has the Ultimate Golden Body and Golden Bones. Where are the materials that you've prepared?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6334-"I've got my items ready." Yegor grinned. "What matters more is whether you have the items that you've promised to get?"

Clayton snorted. He raised his hand and conjured several energy balls.

Yegor was delighted to see that they managed to collect everything he had listed out previously. He put them away in his storage space.

“Hurry up.” Clayton urged. “There’s not much time left.” “We still have one major issue.” Yegor turned his eyes to James’ body.” That is the Ultimate Golden Body.

With only my powers, I won’t be able to open up his body to put in the vital organs.” “We’ll combine all three of our powers, then.”

As he was saying that, Clayton channeled his murderous energy to surround James’ body. Crackling sounds could be heard coming from that space.

Herodias quickly channeled the Tirta Power to envelope James’ body as well.

Finally, Yegor unleashed the righteous aura in the form of sword energy and cast it toward James’ body.

A loud clang could be heard as his sword energy hit the Ultimate Golden Body.

However, the attack did not even leave a scratch on James’ body.

it’s not working!” Yegor shouted.

“Use this.” Clayton tossed a dagger in Yegor’s direction.

“The Hallbjorn!” Yegor exclaimed as he caught the dagger in his hand. ‘You have this?!’

Yegor tightened his grip on the handle and channeled the righteous aura into the weapon. Then, he threw the dagger at James’ body forcefully.

This time, an opening was made in James’ skin as the dagger stabbed into his body.

Yegor immediately performed his skill and transferred all the vital organs he had prepared into James’ body.

There was an ethereal atmosphere in the hall as it was completely filled with righteous aura.

At the same time, James, whose body was held horizontally in the air, was pushed to an upright position by the righteous aura. Then, he started spinning slowly in mid-air.

"I need your help." Yegor cast a glance at Herodias and Clayton. "It'll take me at least two entrapochs if I work on this alone."

Clayton and Herodias swiftly unleashed their powers and joined Yegor in creating meridians in James' body.

There were not many precedents in the history of the Genesis Worlds where three superior cultivators had worked together like this.

This process of recreating meridians to connect James' vital organs went on for two entrapochs.

When they were finally done, they could see James slowly open his eyes.

Despite being enveloped by the righteous aura, James' eyes shone with an eerie, red light. In addition, he seemed extremely angry and disoriented.

"Oh no! We haven't imbued the soul fragments into his body. We can't let him out of here! otherwise, a terrible fate will befall the Genesis Worlds!" Yegor shouted.

He, Clayton, and Herodias quickly channeled their powers to form a superformation over James, trapping him inside instantly.

Meanwhile, James zoomed around swiftly and tried to break out of the formation.

He hissed and glared at Yegor and the others. James seemed just like a wild beast that wanted to tear those three superior cultivators to shreds.

At the moment, James was nothing but a soulless, emotionless monster who could not feel any pain.

"Imbue the soul fragments into his body now, then!" Herodias yelled at Yegor.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6335-"We need to hold him still first." Yegor sighed. "It'll be over if he destroys the soul fragments before I can imbue them into his body.

"We need to be extra cautious for this step." i'll do it." Clayton extended his arms and unleashed the Sylverstar Power, the powers of the Four Symbols.

In a flash, the four mythical beasts materialized around the superformation and began rotating around it. A powerful force was created by the beasts.

Unfortunately, the crazed James did not seem to be affected in the slightest. He was still moving freely within the superformation.

Yegor, Herodias, and Clayton had run out of ideas for what to do at that point.

Suddenly, a beam of light came down from the sky and shone over James.

The serene, ethereal light seemed to be able to calm James down. James appeared to enjoy basking in that light as he slowly got into a seated position.

The three cultivators on the ground lifted their gazes. They saw two Heavenly Paths, each emanating a sacred glow, appear below the Tirta Grand Formation.

The two Heavenly Paths, a man and a woman, unleashed the Heavenly Path Power and made the entire space warm.

“The Light Heavenly Path.” Yegor frowned slightly. “Who’s the other Heavenly Path?” “He’s the Livius Heavenly Path.” Herodias said, “Who knew James was acquainted with these two Heavenly Paths? They are even willing to help James even though this violates the Law of Tai Chi.”

Just then, a golden rat-shaped pattern materialized above James’ head and spun slowly. Coupled with the pure Heavenly Path Power, it made James calmer.

“Yegor, hurry!” Clayton turned his attention back to their biggest priority now, incorporating the soul fragments into James’ body.

While James remained still, Yegor cast seven soul fragments toward James’ head one by one.

James’ eyes flew open as soon as the soul fragments fused into his body.

Quasar Light flashed across his orbs. Then, James seemed to become violent again.

Simultaneously, the two Heavenly Paths cast their powers on James again to hold him still.

Yegor quickly seized the opportunity and cast another three soul fragments into James' head.

When it was done, James began emanating a blinding black and white light from his body.

As the lights spread out to his surroundings, they shattered the Heavenly Path Power and the Sylverstar Power holding James down.

Yegor shouted to alert the others, "We need to reinforce the formation!

Otherwise, he'll escape from here!"

Clayton was the first to act as he raised both hands and channeled his powers toward the formation placed around James.

Herodias immediately cast the Tirta Power toward the formation as well.

For a moment, the black and white lights surrounded James' body as he spun quickly mid-air.

Suddenly, malicious energy flowed out of James' body. In a matter of seconds, the energy transformed into a purplish-red light and engulfed the black and white lights.

James was soon glowing with a red light from head to feet. Even his hair color turned into an eerie shade of red.

"Shit! He's experiencing demonization!" Yegor exclaimed.

"What do we do now?" Herodias asked anxiously.

"We can't do anything." Yegor said with resignation, "We can only watch and wait now." "Demonization?" Clayton furrowed his brows. "Isn't that the indication of having a Pure Yang Body?" "If one fails to stabilize the Pure Yang Body, the person may end up suffering demonization without the help of the Yin Energy."

Yegor sounded agitated as he continued, in the best-case scenario, James will lose control and destroy everything in his path. In the worst case, his body will explode due to an excess of Pure Yang Energy."

Clayton asked, "What if we have the Yin governor's help?" "Right! The Yin governor!" Yegor nodded. "Let's get her to come here."

Clayton conjured a gigantic hand that reached up to the sky. However, before the hand could move out of the area of the sacred lights, the Light Heavenly Path destroyed the hand with a blast.

Clayton was about to yell at the lady when he saw her descend from the sky.

The Light Heavenly Path entered the superformation and stopped before James.

"All of you should leave first." The Light Heavenly Path waved her hand and surrounded James and herself with a thick layer of Heavenly Path Power.

Upon hearing her words, Herodias, Yegor, and Clayton exited the hall. Then, they set up another formation around the building.

"The Light Heavenly Path was in a relationship with James previously." Herodias frowned.

"However, she's become the Light Heavenly Path and lost all mortal emotions and desires. How come she showed up here to help James?" "She's different from the other Heavenly Paths." Clayton responded, "She was forced by Tai Chi to become the Heavenly Path. Therefore, she didn't lose her emotions completely."

Yegor looked at Clayton and Herodias. "The Light Heavenly Path was the Timaeus Sect's priestess in the past.

"I've witnessed how much the two of them love each other. Even the Law of Tai Chi could not erase her feelings for him completely.

"It would be wonderful if she could help James activate the Pure Yang Body."

"Can she, though?" Clayton asked worriedly.

Herodias scrunched her nose slightly. "I'm feeling a little doubtful too." "Uh... I think anyone can help James through this situation now as long as they are a woman?" Yegor replied with a shrug.

Herodias and Clayton were rendered speechless by his reply.

Just then, they could hear a lady's cry coming from inside the hall. It was the Light Heavenly Path's voice.

"Oh no!" Herodias rushed toward the hall's entrance, but Yegor quickly stood in her way.

Herodias shouted at him, "What are you doing?!"

Yegor let out a soft sigh. "You gave birth to a son before. Yet, you didn't notice what the noise was about?"

Herodias paused briefly. Then, she blushed scarlet and stepped aside.

Meanwhile, Clayton curled his lips. "That guy is really lucky, huh? I told him to court the most beautiful lady in the world. Yet, he managed to bed the Light Heavenly Path."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6336-At the same time, two masses of black and white gases gathered high up in the sky above the Telhervo Holy Site to form a Tai Chi diagram.

The Livius Heavenly Path, who spotted the Tai Chi diagram, frowned.

He generated more Heavenly Path Power and cast it over the hall on the ground to form several layers of barrier.

"Abelard, you broke the Law of Tai Chi and tried to help that devil of a man! Do you wish to be annihilated?!"

Tai Chi sounded extremely furious as her voice came from that sinister-looking Tai Chi diagram.

Abelard drew a long breath and said, "He's my master. I must help him now that he is facing a crisis." "How impertinent!" Tai Chi raged.

A bolt of lightning shining with black and white lights that was released from the Tai Chi diagram struck Abelard and sent him flying away.

He steadied himself in the distance and coughed up a mouthful of blood.

Then, Abelard slowly raised his head as he clutched his chest. A small smile hung on his face.

“Are you still not repenting for your mistakes?” Tai Chi shouted, “What has he done for you to make you break the rules for him like this?” “We are friends who have sworn to help each other no matter the circumstances.” Abelard replied calmly, “Also, he was the first person to treat me sincerely as a friend.” “Shut up!” Another lightning bolt hit Abelard and made him drop to his knees.

Abelard spat out more blood this time. Still, he pushed himself up to his feet.

“Kneel!” Tai Chi cast another three lightning bolts to force Abelard on his knees.

Then, she conjured the Elemental Lightning Cloud to keep him in that position.

Yet, Abelard steeled himself and pushed his head higher gradually.

Tai Chi said, “I’ve shown you a lot of favor. Within just a few entrapochs, I’ve promoted you from the Petit Heavenly Path to the Great Heavenly Path.

“You’re even ranked the eighth best Heavenly Path out of the eighty-one Great Heavenly Paths.

“Countless beings wish to have your luck and opportunity! Yet, this is how you repay my kindness?”

Amidst Tai Chi’s yelling, Abelard lifted his gaze and stared into the distance.

It was true that Tai Chi had given him a huge promotion when it had not even been ten entrapochs since Abelard became a Petit Heavenly Path.

However, it was mostly because Abelard had accomplished his duties well. He had abided by the Law of Tai Chi and succeeded in creating many Tai Chi Spaces.

However, Abelard soon realized something shocking after being promoted to one of the Great Heavenly Paths.

To get her revenge on James, Tai Chi ordered all eighty-one Great Heavenly Paths to exterminate all humans living under their governance.

She even allowed them to use any method to prevent the humans from leveling up.

The other Great Heavenly Paths might carry out Tai Chi's orders dutifully, but not Abelard. It was because his master, a human, was the first person to treat him with sincerity.

Earlier, the Light Heavenly Path visited Abelard and informed him about James' situation. Abelard agreed to come with her despite the risk of violating the Law of Tai Chi.

They thought they could secretly help James since Tai Chi would be busy healing her injuries. Still, Tai Chi managed to catch them.

Abelard swiftly decided to hold Tai Chi back even if it would cost his life. He needed to buy enough time for the Light Heavenly Path to help James through this.

Various thoughts went through Abelard's mind during the short few seconds.

Then, he smiled slightly.

"Can you really say that the Law of Tai Chi is valid?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6337-Tai Chi raised her voice upon hearing those words. "Even you are doubting me too? Have you forgotten who's given you your current status?" "Now that things have turned out like this, I'll tell you the truth."

Abelard continued flatly, "I didn't choose to be the Heavenly Path because everyone regarded it as a dream position. I also have no interest in governing a certain space and the people living in it.

"I choose to do it because I know the Heavenly Path Power will be useful to my master. I believe I can someday help my master by making this choice.

in reality, it happened exactly as I predicted. No matter what you say or do to me, it won't change my mind.

"In my heart, I have only acknowledged one person as my master, and that is James.

“He showed me respect. He taught me the meaning of friendship. Most of all, he made me realize what it meant to be an upright, respectable person.” “How preposterous!” Tai Chi screamed, “So, you’ve been using my trust all this time?”

“That’s not completely true.” Abelard replied, “It would be great if the Law of Path could truly benefit all beings and the Law of Tai Chi could help everyone grow.”

He turned his eyes to the masses of gas that composed the Tai Chi diagram.

“Yet, you ordered US to kill all human beings.

“You knew all living beings looked to humans as leaders. We took pride in being able to assume the human form. Also, we made it our mission to develop our intellect and emotions just like humans.

“If we were to kill all humans just as you ordered, who do all beings look to for examples after this? Do you want everyone to act like barbarians and monsters instead?” “Ha! Very well...” Tai Chi scoffed. “It seems you’ve set your mind on doing this.

“Fine. I’ll do you a favor. I’ll exterminate you and make sure you never get the chance to be reborn again!”

Countless black and white lightning bolts rained down on Abelard as Tai Chi activated the Elemental Lightning Cloud hovering above him.

Abelard grimaced in pain. Still, he did not cry for help or mercy as the lightning bolts struck him continuously.

Just then, three forms of overwhelming powers shot up from the Telhervo Holy Site toward the sky. The powers traveled past Abelard and headed for the Tai Chi diagram.

Boom!

Loud explosions could be heard as the powers hit the black-and-white masses of gas. Soon enough, blood could be seen dripping off from the Tai Chi diagram.

Tai Chi’s shrill voice came from that direction.

“Clayton, Herodias, and Yegor! How dare you violate the Law of Path and interfere in my business!” “Go back to your temple if you don’t want US interfering with your business!” Herodias rebuked, “You don’t get to do whatever you want on my turf!”

The black and white gases circulated quickly as Tai Chi’s anger boiled over.

“You won’t get to do this to me for much longer.”

She cast her powers to reach Abelard. Then, Abelard was moved into the masses of gas, out of everyone’s sight.

Tai Chi yelled furiously afterward, “Come here, Light Heavenly Path!”

Inside the Telhervo Holy Site’s main hall, the Light Heavenly Path furrowed her brows upon hearing Tai Chi’s summon.

She could not see James’ face clearly due to the thick Heavenly Path Power that surrounded both of them. Nonetheless, she did not want to leave his side.

“Thea, don’t go...” The Light Heavenly Path could hear James murmur.

She put her arms around James to give him a tight embrace, feeling extremely torn and woeful.

I’ll tear your soul apart and make sure you won’t ever be able to see him if you don’t come this instant!” Tai Chi’s voice reverberated through the air.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6338-Light Thea’s eyes were filled with sorrow.

“Perhaps we won’t be able to see each other again, but I will always think of you. I’ll pray for you to become stronger.”

As she was about to pull away from James, the still unconscious man grabbed Light Thea’s hand tightly and refused to let go.

Light Thea felt a lump in her throat. “I want to stay and be with you forever, but...”

Before she could finish, a deafening explosion went off in the air above the hall.

As she looked up, Light Thea could see three forms of power had collided with the black and white energy released by Tai Chi.

Still, she knew that there was no stopping Tai Chi even if Clayton, Yegor, and Herodias worked together to fight her.

Light Thea's gaze fell on James again. "Forty-nine, I must go now. It's almost time."

As she was saying that, numerous black and white threads of light moved into the hall through the roof and twirled around Light Thea's limbs.

The threads pulled her away, but James was still gripping Light Thea's hand firmly.

"I will miss you, Forty-nine. I am forever yours."

As the threads around her glowed brighter, Light Thea called out through sobs, "You're the one I want to spend the rest of my life with!"

She disappeared the next instant as the black and white threads shone with a blinding light and faded away gradually.

Simultaneously, the Heavenly Path Power around James vanished as well.

Meanwhile, James' Ultimate Golden Body was shining with a black and white light. A circle of purplish-red halo could be seen around him.

James appeared like a demon lord as the wind blew in his red hair.

Clayton had rushed into the hall at the time. He cast a beam of light onto James, and a new robe appeared over James' body instantly.

Yegor and Herodias had also entered the hall.

The three of them had puzzled looks on their faces as they watched James, who was still spinning slowly in the air.

"Why is he still not awake?" Herodias asked.

“He still needs some time to adjust to his current body,” Yegor explained and produced a glass bottle.

He hurled the glass bottle in James’ direction.

The bottle expanded to a gigantic size enough to fit James inside. As James was encased in the bottle, the righteous aura filled the space inside almost instantaneously.

Clayton and Herodias were astonished by the sight of that.

Yegor continued, ‘The Righteous Aura Bottle is a precious item. It will replenish James’ energy if he stays in there for an entrapoch.’ “What about his cultivation?” Herodias asked, “Didn’t he lose all of his cultivation?” ‘That’s not a serious issue.’ Clayton responded, “He possesses the Golden Bones and the Ultimate Golden Body. James also doesn’t have to go through the Heavenly Tribulations anymore.

“It will only be a matter of time for him to build up his cultivation. The problem is when will he regain consciousness?” “Are you in a rush?” Yegor looked at Clayton.

Clayton sighed and shrugged. “It’s not me who is in a rush. I’m just afraid that person won’t be able to wait that long.”

Yegor asked curiously, “Who is that person? You’re even willing to do so much for them.”

Clayton remained silent. It was obvious he had no intention of divulging any information.

Yegor cast a glance at James. He could tell that there was probably a new opportunity waiting for James from Clayton’s attitude.

Yegor did not want to see James lose the chance just because he did not wake up in time.

After a brief pause, Yegor extended his hands. A tremendous amount of righteous aura enveloped James.

After that, four shiny orbs materialized before Yegor’s chest. Then, the orbs flew toward James.

Those four orbs spun around James for a few seconds. Eventually, they were absorbed into James' body.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6339-"Yegor!" Herodias exclaimed, "You gave your Great Genesis Pearls to James.

What about you..." "What about me?" Yegor smiled. "We are confined in the Telhervo Holy Site. Is there anyone capable of harming US here?"

Herodias fell silent since Yegor was somewhat right in a sense.

"Yegor, this is risky." Clayton added, "Without the Great Genesis Pearls, you are no different than a newbie cultivator." "I'm only lending them to James for a while." Yegor replied nonchalantly, "Once he has more treasures, I will ask for the pearls back."

Herodias and Clayton were struck speechless by his words.

In their world, the top cultivators ruled over everyone else. Therefore, cultivation and power were the most important things to most people.

Normally, people would not even consider lending their cultivation to their family members.

However, Yegor trusted James so much that he willingly handed over his cultivation to James. It was akin to him surrendering his life to James.

Just then, James slowly opened his eyes. He looked at his surroundings from inside the glass bottle.

"He's awake," Clayton said.

Meanwhile, Herodias helped Yegor up from the floor.

"Mr. Tombkeeper, Mr. Yegor, and Ms. Herodias!" James' eyes twinkled as he spotted those three people.

"You're finally up." Yegor said happily, "How are you feeling?"

James paused and slowly lifted his hands. A good amount of righteous aura came out of his palms.

James was surprised. "Uh... How come I can produce the righteous aura?" Clayton replied, it was Yegor..."

Yegor quickly interrupted, "Clayton, you should take James with you since he is awake now."

Clayton frowned slightly.

On the other hand, James leaped out of the glass bottle and landed before Clayton and the others.

"This is strange." James muttered, "I wouldn't suddenly be able to produce the righteous aura even if I had been reborn again. Why is this happening, though?"

"Why are you even troubled over that?" Herodias snorted. "You should go ahead and take care of urgent matters first, young man. You're standing inside a prison now."

James turned his eyes to Herodias upon hearing her words. "Ms. Herodias, are you and Mr. Yegor really being imprisoned for twenty thousand entrapochs?"

"It's no big deal." Herodias grinned. "We're not being imprisoned. We chose to stay here on our own accord."

"You should work hard and eliminate Tai Chi. Then, we will be able to leave this place."

James knitted his brows. "Can you guys really leave after I kill Tai Chi..." "You should depart now, James." Yegor cut him off again. "You will be able to develop and grow your potential if you follow Clayton. I've also made proper arrangements for your children."

James fixed his gaze on Yegor for a moment. The frown on his forehead grew deeper. "Mr. Yegor, why do you not have any cultivation left?" 'If only he was a bit more gullible...' Yegor thought.

He chuckled. "I'm a prisoner now. Why would I need my cultivation?" "That's not it." James shook his head. "I can sense four Great Pearls in my body. These are your Genesis Pearls! Am I right?" While Yegor fell silent, Herodias and Clayton were grinning widely.

James' eyes widened. "Mr. Yegor, you transferred all your cultivation to me?!"

"It's impossible for you to hide this from him." Clayton started, "You placed two Quintessential Hearts in him. No one would be able to fool him at this point."

"Clayton's right." Herodias nodded. "James is smarter and more observant than any of US now."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6340-"Why did you do that?" James asked anxiously.

"I might have lost my cultivation, but I am forever exempted from the Heavenly Tribulations since I defeated Tai Chi.

"It is only a matter of time until I gain my powers back. You didn't have to..."

Clayton interrupted him this time, "He wanted to help you recover and wake up sooner so that you could follow me to a place.

"Therefore, he lent you his cultivation. However, it is up to you whether you want to return the cultivation to him afterward."

James heaved a deep breath. Then, he extended his arms.

He conjured three Great Genesis Pearls in front of him and moved them toward Yegor.

"James, what are you doing?" Yegor furrowed his brows.

"I just need to borrow one to stabilize my condition." James said firmly, "I will remember how you've been so generous with me, Mr. Yegor.

"Once I return from the trip with Mr. Clayton, I will repay your kindness in return."

James bowed deeply to Yegor.

"Alright." Yegor said smilingly, "I know you won't accept these pearls no matter how hard I try to persuade you to."

Yegor absorbed those three Great Genesis Pearls and recovered 80 percent of his cultivation instantly.

Then, the three elders shared with James about how his children were doing lately.

James seemed delighted to hear how much his children had progressed under their masters' teachings.

However, he felt equally bad for not being able to spend more time with them.

James decided to make up for lost time as soon as possible.

Then, James gave another bow to those three elders. "I will definitely repay all of you for helping me to be reborn again." "You became so polite after being reborn again." Yegor laughed. "You should depart now. You can't afford to waste time."

James nodded and looked at Clayton.

In a flash, Clayton took James and teleported away.

After the two of them were gone, Herodias inhaled deeply. "Why didn't you tell him about the Light Heavenly Path?" "Being separated from a loved one is a painful thing."

Yegor continued, "He is about to receive a big opportunity, and he needs positive energy. Informing him about his children could lessen his worries."

"However, if we tell him about the Light Heavenly Path, do you think James will still be able to focus on his current tasks?"

After listening to Yegor's explanation, Herodias nodded thoughtfully. Then, she said, "Why does it feel like you care about James more than you care about our own son?"

Yegor quickly took a few steps aside as he could sense Herodias' mood turning sour over this issue. "How can you say that? Do you dislike James?"

"I like him, of course!" Herodias snorted. "I even think of him as my own. On the other hand, you clearly show more favor toward James. You can't neglect Truett even if you decide to make James your godson after this. You hear me?” “Do you think Truett still needs US?” Yegor heaved a deep breath. “He puts James’ matters at the top of his priorities.

“Moreover, Truett has become a wise and responsible man under James’ tutelage. He is also doing an excellent job managing Skynet.

“With the Celestial Sage and Earthly Sage helping him, what’s there for US to worry about Truett?” “You have a point.” Herodias jutted her chin proudly and nodded.

“Most importantly, Truett’s wife is the lustus Sect’s leader.” Yegor responded, “The two of them manage Skynet and the lustus Sect together, and they have become the number one force among the Genesis Worlds.

“Also, they have allied with those in the Forladtt Land.

“Now that the Ancient Genesis World is no more, the factions and sects originating from that world are trying to spread their influence and grow bigger.

“This is a chance to put Truett’s and Xitlaly’s leadership skills to the test.” Yegor walked over and stopped before Herodias. “The kids have grown up. As parents, we need to learn how to let go.

“We can express our concerns, but we don’t have to get ourselves involved.

After all, Truett has a good friend looking out for him.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6341-After hearing what Yegor said, Herodias nodded and agreed, “You’re right.

James has been a great mentor to our son. We wouldn’t be able to repay this debt to him in our lifetime.”

Yegor snorted, “Exactly. Yet you accused me of being biased?”

Herodias hugged Yegor and said smilingly, “Alright, alright. I wronged you. I’m sorry.”

Yegor was speechless.

Meanwhile, Clayton brought James to a mysterious forbidden area within the Skynet's headquarters.

The two squinted after seeing Dark Thea, who was shrouded by a purplepink light.

Dark Thea opened her eyes, and a red glow flashed in her eyes. As soon as she spotted James, her face lit up with excitement. She rushed over to him and wrapped her arms around him, following up with a quick peck on the lips.

Clayton covered his eyes and turned around, sighing at their public display of affection.

Dark Thea giggled, "I'm glad you're back! By the way, why do I sense a righteous aura from you?"

James sighed, "It's a long story. Anyway, how are your injuries?" "The Celestial Sage and Earthly Sage took good care of me. My injuries are almost healed."

Dark Thea gracefully circled in place.

Clayton suddenly turned around and interrupted them, saying impatiently, "Are you two done or not? We're running out of time. Can we finish important business first before you continue being lovey-dovey?"

James and Dari Thea were startled by his sudden remarks.

The next moment, Dark Thea wrapped her arms around James' neck, looked at Clayton playfully, and said, "Where are we going, sir?"

Clayton replied calmly, "The Dark World. Someone is waiting for you two there."

James frowned and asked, "We're returning to the Yin's Void?"

Clayton chuckled, "Oh? Not bad. You already know about the Yin's Void?"

James stared at Clayton and said, "But that place suppresses one's cultivation rank. If we return there, we'll be suppressed to the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank.

This..."

Clayton answered disapprovingly, "One's cultivation rank means nothing without skills. Plus, your cultivation rank isn't even anything impressive right now."

James sighed, turned to Dark Thea, and said, "But hers is."

Clayton snorted and flicked his finger. Immediately afterward, a shining pill entered Dark Thea's mouth and melted.

Dark Thea's beautiful eyes widened in shock, and she shouted, "Did you just give me a Sealing Pill?"

Clayton said arrogantly, "Sealing Pills are trash. I've never used them.

Anyway, let's cut the crap and leave immediately."

After speaking, two powerful bursts of energy surrounded James and Deak Thea, lifting them into the sky.

Clayton raised his hand, and a loud rumble erupted. Shortly after, a massive hole appeared in the Tirta Grand Formation, and the three disappeared.

The Celestial Sage and Earthly Sage arrived a step too late. Seeing the large hole in the Tirta Grand Formation, they looked helpless.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6342-The Ancient Genesis World had been shattered and in ruins.

Many small sects had emerged within the ruins of slightly larger Genesis Regions. At the same time, some smaller forces were driven to these places by stronger sects.

Meanwhile, Clayton, James and Dark Thea flew through the void. All that entered their sight were living beings fighting for their lives and territories. The weaker beings were naturally driven to desolate lands.

The glorious Ancieng Genesis World had long disappeared, and what was left were just shattered pieces.

The Timaeus Sect, Yaquis Sect, Tempestara, Javerigh Sect and other significant forces had collapsed and were significantly weakened, leaving them helplessly scattered everywhere.

James asked, "Did you do this, Mr. Clayton?" Clayton said annoyedly, "Ask your wife about it."

Startled, James looked at Dark Thea and asked, "Did you destroy the Ancient Genesis World?"

Dark Thea replied, "This is just the beginning. I'll take my time."

Afterward, she asked Clayton, "Do you think I'll achieve the Daeclon Rank?"

Clayton replied, "You'll achieve insanity."

She fell silent.

Before they could reach the Dark World's borders, a dense group of living beings swarmed them and blocked their path.

"Pay up if you want to pass through US. We'll obliterate your souls if you refuse."

After a powerhouse in the middle grade of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation spoke, the group behind him repeated after him.

James said smilingly, "Haha! I can't believe cultivators have become bandits now. You must be running out of options."

Clayton said regretfully, "It's a pity my disciples aren't here, otherwise, they could have some practice."

After speaking, Clayton grabbed James and Thea. Then, he quickly passed through the group. His murderous aura burst out, instantly killing the group blocking their way.

"Argh!" The leader, who was a powerhouse at the upper grade of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation, exploded instantly after being enveloped by the potent murderous aura.

The surviving creatures panicked after Clayton, James and Dark Thea had passed their group.

“Is this the strength of a powerhouse at the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank’s Ninth Tribulation?” “Judging from his murderous aura, he’s probably even higher than that! I suspect he’s at the Quasi Daeclon Rank.” “We’ve offended a powerhouse at the Quasi Daeclon Rank? We better run!”

Amidst their panicked discussion, Clayton, James and Dark Thea transformed into dazzling Sword Lights and disappeared.

Not long after, they were blocked by another group of living beings. This time, the group had higher cultivation ranks, with the weakest at the peak of the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank.

James asked, “Can we stop for a moment?”

Clayton growled, ‘You still want to fight these weaklings? Don’t forget your cultivation base was borrowed.”

James was rendered speechless.

Dark Thea, who listened from the side, suddenly transformed into a purplepink light and darted toward the group.

The purple-pink light turned into thousands of spectral hands and grabbed the living beings in front of it. Immediately afterward, the light devoured them.

James shuddered, startled by his wife’s cruelty.

After clearing their obstacle, they advanced toward the Dark World’s border and landed gently.

“Alert!”

Following the shout, James’ group was immediately startled.

They turned around and saw tens of thousands of powerhouses with weapons glaring at them.

Tens of thousands of disheveled Dark Beings were bound behind the group.

James found one of them highly familiar.

“Quattro?” James frowned.

Dark Thea asked, ‘You know him?’

James replied solemnly, “A good friend of mine. Aren’t the Dark Beings that came over in Skynet’s Demon Dungeon? Why are they here?’ Just as he finished speaking, a powerhouse at the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank’s Ninth Tribulation stepped forward and said, “Who are you three?

Why are you trespassing the Javerigh Sect’s territory?”

James squinted after hearing his words. He never expected the Jaerigh Sect, once a top ten force, to be forced to the edges of the Dark World.

More importantly, he had captured many Dark Beings. James found their actions intolerable.

Clayton grabbed James and said, “Let’s go. We can’t keep him waiting. We must enter the Yin’s Void as soon as possible.

James shook his head and said, “No. I must fight. A good friend is amongst the group captured by them.”

Clayton frowned and reprimanded, Why are you so stupid? This group of people is nothing comparable to the blessing you’re about to get.”

James replied, “If I lose those close to me, then what’s the point of being blessed?”

Clayton fell silent.

Dark Thea tilted her neck and smiled menacingly. Then, she said, ‘You’ve already sealed your cultivation base, right? Leave these cultivation resources to me.”

Before James and Clayton could speak, Dark Thea had already turned into a purple-pink light and darted toward the group.

Chaos immediately broke out in front of them. The purple-pink light flashed through the area, instantly taking countless lives. The powerhouses at the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank’s Ninth Rank were immediately sucked out of their energies and returned to their original forms.

Dark Thea left the group of Dark Beings untouched and headed straight for the Jaerigh Sect’s base.

At that moment, a Sword Light flashed through the void, and a handsome man in a white robe, carrying a long sword, appeared before James.

"We meet again," said the handsome man.

James said smilingly, 'You look pretty strong now, Bertholas. Are you already at the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation?"

Bertholas glared at James and said, "We haven't settled our grievances from last time, and now you invade our territory? Do you really think our sect is an easy target?" James said calmly, "So what?"

Bertholas gritted his teeth and said, "None of you can leave today, including that demon."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6343-James rubbed his nose and said, 'Your confidence is incomparable.'" "Cut the crap! Die!" Bertholas shouted, and then the sword on his back quickly shot out.

A blue light ray pierced through the void and headed straight for James' head.

However, the sword suddenly stopped directly in front of James' eyes and could not advance.

Shocked, Bertholas stuttered, 'Y-You stopped my Starsoul Sword?"

James smiled calmly and said, "Nice sword. Is it a transcendent Divine Tool?"

"You..." Barthalos began.

Clayton immediately raised his hand and grabbed the sword. He brandished it, and blue Sword Lights mixed with a murderous aura permeated the void.

Bertholas quickly dodged but was still injured by several Sword Lights.

Frightened, he hurriedly flew into the sky.

In an instant, dozens of powerhouses at the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation were sliced in half.

The Grand Supernaturals of the Jaerigh Sect were about to take action, but the blue Sword Light that spread throughout the void instantly knocked them away.

Bertholas was surprised after seeing the Starsoul Sword unleash such a powerful force. He was instantly injured and spat out a mouthful of blood.

A Sword Light flashed through the void, caught Bertholas, and brought him into the air.

“It’s the most terrifying powerhouse of the Ancient Genesis World, Clayton!

Please leave quickly!”

After an old man shouted, he grabbed Bertholas and disappeared from the area.

Except for the tens of thousands of Dark Beings, the cultivators of the Jaerigh Sect below the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank were instantly wiped out.

Meanwhile, the dozens of powerhouses at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank’s Ninth Tribulation peak were severely injured. Dark Thea quickly followed up and devoured their energies, significantly improving her powers.

The blue Sword Light dissipated from the area. Countless broken body parts and bones were scattered everywhere.

James’ eyes widened in shock. He asked, “Didn’t you say you cannot fight with full strength?”

Clayton replied disdainfully, “I wasn’t fighting anyone. I was simply testing the sword’s power.”

James was silent. ‘Fine. You’re strong, so whatever you say is right,’ thought James.

He stepped over to Quattro, who was tied up. He raised his hand and summoned a righteous aura to free Quattro.

“James? Is that you, James?” Quattro’s eyes widened in shock, and he was incredibly excited.

James frowned and said, “Aren’t you supposed to be in the Demon Dungeon?”

Why are you here?”

Quattro sighed, then lowered his head.

James said, “Speak.” Quattro explained everything in detail.

After he had last met with James, he was punished and was ordered to stay in the Demon Dungeon to watch over it. He was tasked with accepting Dark Beings from the Dark World. Hence, he had no choice but to enter the Forladdt Land.

To gain James’ forgiveness, he dropped his arrogant acts. He obediently selected a group of Dark Beings with higher cultivation and had been hunting monsters to acquire cultivation resources. He would take the lead during every adventure and bravely risk his life.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6344-An epoch ago, Quattro led many Dark Beings to the nearby area to hunt monsters. However, they were ambushed by Javerigh Sect. Taken by surprise, they were defeated and captured.

From Quattro’s words, James learned major forces had been capturing Dark Beings and slaughtering them under Tai Chi’s Execution Order.

However, the captured Dark Beings were not killed immediately. Instead, they were sacrificed to fight the other forces for various Genesis Regions. Those who refused or disobeyed were slaughtered without mercy.

Fortunately, the Demon Dungeon had not been attacked by major forces because of Skynet’s protection. Otherwise, even more Dark Beings would be brutally murdered.

James could not bear to blame Quattro after hearing his story and seeing his whole body covered in injuries.

After pondering for a while, he suddenly asked, “What other famous powerhouses are already out of the Dark World?”

Quattro looked at James and said, “Speaking of which, something strange happened. Since you took away the first group of Dark Beings to the Forladdt Land, the subsequent groups were completely unfamiliar faces. Also, Xzavion and Stephen were nowhere to be seen.

“However, Wyot sent a message saying an abnormal divine light appeared at the edge of the Dark World’s Ancestral Genesis World, called the Jaert Region. I think they must have gone there.” “The Jaert Region? I’ve never heard of such a place before.”

Quattro said hurriedly, “After the Ancestral Genesis World was destroyed, the only thing left was the Jaert Region. You should ask Zella about it.”

James turned around and looked at Clayton, saying, “Will you come to the Dark World with me?”

Clayton looked at Quattro and said, “Of course. These Dark Beings have been saved already, so stop wasting time.”

James nodded lightly and raised his hand. A righteous aura wrapped around the tens of thousands of Dark Beings, and they immediately freed them from the bondages.

The Dark Beings stood up and gathered around him.

James shouted, “Head back to the Demon Dungeon, then travel to the Forladtt Land together. I’ll temporarily close the passage to the Dark World, so inform the others when you return.”

After a momentary pause, Quattro bowed and accepted the other. Immediately afterward, the tens of thousands of Dark Beings replied simultaneously.

James watched as Quattro left, relieved he had changed and was no longer the arrogant brat he used to be.

Clayton shouted, “Let’s go.”

The next moment, Dark Thea appeared next to them.

Clayton raised his hand and unleashed his Sylverstar Power toward the Dark World.

A loud buzzing sound erupted, and evil power emerged from the mysterious formation around the Dark World.

The evil power emitted a brilliant light, bursting like lightsabers throughout the void.

Clayton's powers enveloped Thea and James, then rushed toward the formation.

The lightsabers permeated the void. However, Clayton strolled without any disturbance. When he reached the edge of the formation, he raised his hand, and the formation immediately tore open. His powers dragged James and Dark Thea through it.

After entering the Dark World, James finally sensed a familiar place. He had no cultivation base anymore, so he borrowed it from Yegor. Even so, he felt no effect under the evil power's suppression.

On the other hand, Dark Thea could control the Dark World's evil power. Faced with the suppression, she felt no burden. She even felt incredibly comfortable under its pressure.

Clayton formed a golden shield around the group and quickly moved forward. Although evil power was suppressing them, they were unaffected.

After speeding quickly through the void, they finally arrived in an area with black lights shooting into the void.

The black light swirled in the sky, and countless Dark Beings gathered. They were packed together, but nobody dared to get close to the black light.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6345-James halted and said, "Could we stop briefly, Mr. Clayton? I see a few familiar faces."

Clayton snorted, "You have so many acquaintances here. Remember, you're not here to reunite with friends and family but to acquire a great fortune."

James was frustrated when Clayton showed no signs of slowing down. Among the group of Dark Beings, he spotted Xzavion, Stephen Zavis, Wyot, Yemima and a few others.

Unfortunately, Clayton refused to stop. He continued advancing rapidly, passing the group of Dark Beings and soaring into the black light in the sky.

The crowd around the black light pillar immediately burst out into an uproar.

“Woah! Look, someone went inside!” “There was more than one person. I counted three!” “Even one of the Dark World’s strongest powerhouse, Xzavion, is afraid to enter the dark light. Those three must not cherish their lives?” “Did you see how fast they were traveling? Their cultivation ranks must be incredibly high!” “I’m surprised that such powerful cultivators like that actually exist in the Dark World.”

Listening to the discussions, Xzavion and the others, standing in the front row, frowned simultaneously.

Xzavion said solemnly, “Why do I feel like one of them seemed familiar?”

Stephen asked, surprised, “Are you saying my master is back?”

Wyt rubbed his chin thoughtfully and said, “Probably not. If James is back, he’d definitely come to see US first.”

Yemima sighed, “Didn’t you guys say he was already at the peak of the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank’s Ninth Tribulation? He couldn’t have suppressed his cultivation rank to return, right?”

The three men looked at Yemima simultaneously, baffled by her words. Theoretically, she was the person who knew James the best. Hence, her remarks came as a surprise to them. In her heart, James had already become uncaring toward them.

After an awkward silence, Xzavion said, “Let’s wait. We have to. Whether this is a good fortune or crisis, we can’t just leave.”

Stephen, Wyt and Yemima exchanged glances, then nodded simultaneously.

Meanwhile, Clayton, James and Dark Thea had entered a grey space after passing through the black light.

Numerous barriers, sword lights, sound waves and forces crisscrossed through the void. If they were not careful, their bodies and souls could be obliterated.

Soon, they arrived at a bare mountain peak, and everything around them became grim.

A colorful rainbow suddenly appeared in the sky, immediately illuminating the dim gray space.

As the rainbow slowly spread across the sky, countless Quasar Beasts emerged. Some had human heads and animal bodies, and some had countless horns on their bodies. A few were behemoths with towering bodies, and others flew in the air and hid in the ground.

The beasts charged toward them. James frowned, whereas Dark Thea prepared for battle. On the other hand, Clayton remained composed and stood with his hands behind his back.

James suddenly asked, "What kind of monsters are these? Why haven't I seen such things before?" "Spirit beasts," Clayton gave a short reply.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6346-James thought to himself, 'Spirit beasts? Yegor mentioned them before we headed to the Forladtt Land. Supposedly, there is a powerful spirit beast in the Forladtt Land's fourth level. I've already become the lord of the Forladtt Land, but I haven't seen it show up yet. I wasn't expecting to see a spirit beast after returning to the Dark World. What a surprise.' Unexpectedly, the spirit beasts dashed past them, neither attacking nor harassing them. They completely ignored their presence and continued on their path.

The spirit beasts raced ahead, and their strength exceeded powerhouses at the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation.

The overwhelming gush of wind almost knocked over James as they passed, and he knew they were definitely compelling.

Shortly after, a bright silhouette appeared from the rainbow. Although her face could not be seen, she had a graceful and ethereal aura.

"Did you bring him, Clayton?" Just from her clear and dainty voice, James could tell she was a beautiful woman.

Clayton said calmly, "Yeah, but he seems clueless." "Step forward, Chosen One." Her clear voice resounded.

James was stunned, then replied, "Am I really the Chosen One?" "Go now. She has a bad temper." Clayton pushed James forward.

James took a step closer and looked at the beautiful rainbow. Then, he answered, "I'm not the Chosen One. My name is James Caden." "His looks are acceptable, and his body seems to have formed recently.

Has your Ultimate Golden Body been destroyed before?"

James analyzed his body with a frown, then replied, "Yeah. It was destroyed in a previous battle."

The woman snorted, "That's hilarious. You have an Ultimate Golden Body and the Nirvana Golden Bones. How is there someone in the Ancient Genesis World able to hurt you? How have you been surviving all this while?"

James fell silent.

The woman said disdainfully, "I have no idea why Master takes a fancy to you. Are you sure this is the right person, Clayton?"

Clayton growled, "Are you questioning me, Queena? This is Franciscus' successor. How could I have made a mistake?"

The woman waved her hand, and a terrifying black force enveloped James.

James was unharmed by the force, but it seemed to be analyzing every part of his body and peeking into his soul.

After a while, the black light withdrew. Then, the woman suddenly exclaimed, "Oh? He made a bet with Tai Chi and won. That's interesting."

Clayton said proudly, "He successfully endured the upper three calamities.

He's not inferior to you, the strongest peacock to exist." The woman retorted to him, "Shut up. I'll settle your accounts later."

After speaking, another black force enveloped James and pulled him toward the rainbow.

Dark Thea shouted anxiously, "Where is she taking James?"

Clayton sighed, 'We shouldn't meddle. Let's go to the Whimstle Palace and enjoy some fine wine. I guarantee you'll like it!'

Dark Thea watched in confusion as Clayton walked away into the void.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6347-James was swallowed by the rainbow. When he opened his eyes, he saw a shiny and majestic palace above colorful clouds, surrounded by 81 dragons.

Eight statues of spirit beasts were placed on both sides of the palace's entrance. Half of them stared into the sky with ferocious expressions, whereas the other half looked toward the ground with slightly gentler looks.

James found the atmosphere and powerful aura so much different from the Genesis Worlds. Moreover, the beautiful woman beside exuded an aura different from a powerhouse with Genesis. However, she had an aura even stronger than the Quasi Daelcon Rank.

He looked at her and asked hesitantly, "What's your cultivation rank?"

The woman looked at him and asked arrogantly, "Do you want to fight me?"

James was silent as he thought to himself, 'Do you have to resort to violence? I was just asking about your cultivation rank.' Seeing that James was speechless, the beautiful woman raised her head and said arrogantly, "I'm Queena Kourtie, the Peacock Queen. You're quite an ignorant man. Do you think you can drop formalities and manners toward me just because of your charming appearance?"

James still kept quiet.

Clayton mentioned that Queena was the first peacock to exist. However, she was even more arrogant than the first phoenix he had met. James began to wonder which of the two was stronger.

At that moment, Queena grabbed James' arm and advanced on the clouds. Soon, they arrived at the palace's hall.

Queena stopped, bowed, and said, "I've brought him here, Sir."

James frowned upon seeing Queena's respectful attitude, wondering whether the person inside the hall was even more potent.

After a while, the main doors and side doors swung open. Then, dozens of maids walked outside and respectfully knelt on the ground.

James was startled by the sight.

Shortly after, a red-haired middle-aged man dressed in a red robe walked out of the hall. His angular face and thick eyebrows gave off a calm yet domineering aura. He looked at James, bowed, and clasped his hand, saying, "I'm the Ying World's Grand Chancellor, Yrian Zvecha. It's a pleasure to meet you, Chosen One."

Startled, James quickly bowed and clasped his hands, replying, "You're too polite, Sir."

Queena stood aside, watching everything in astonishment.

"Chosen One, please come in!" Yrian made an inviting gesture toward James and respectfully showed him into the hall.

James felt flattered by his attitude. He nodded slightly and slowly approached the hall.

At that moment, Yrian's expression darkened, and he glared at Queena, saying coldly, "Go to the Punishment Region and see Yukha for your punishment."

Queena asked surprisedly, "What do you mean, Sir?"

Yrian snorted, "How dare you show off in front of the Chosen One and make sarcastic remarks toward him? Are you really that clueless?"

Then, Yrian pointed at James, who had already entered the hall, and said, "His combat power isn't even four stars. How can he be the real Chosen One?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6348-Smack!

Yrian swung his hand at Queena, instantly knocking her to the ground.

“Sir!” Queena held her cheek and stared at Yrian in shock.

Syrian said solemnly, “You’re not going to the Punishment Universe. Go to the Reflection Region instead. If you dare to make such disrespectful remarks again, you’ll have to see Taotie and Qiongqi.”

Queena’s expression immediately changed. She knelt, kowtowed, and hurried away.

Yrian mumbled, “How ignorant. Is she really that unaware of her strength?

How dare she act so arrogantly.”

After speaking, he turned to the maids kneeling on the ground and said, “Everyone is dismissed. Anyone who dares to disturb will be shot to death.

The group of maids responded obediently. After Yrian entered the hall, they closed the doors and hurried away.

When Yrian returned to the main hall, he spotted James standing before a flittering golden painting and scrutinizing it.

A huge golden figure emitted black light rays and was surrounded by eight powerful men with powerful auras that could be seen in the painting. Even though it was just a painting, James felt a powerful sense of oppression from it and was overwhelmed to the point he found it hard to move.

Yrian suddenly raised his hand and unleashed a black light toward the painting.

James’ body flashed with a crimson light. He staggered and regained consciousness. He quickly averted his eyes away from the painting and clasped his hands at Yrian, saying, ‘Thank you for saving me, Sir.”

Yrian explained smilingly, ‘That’s called the Holy War Gods Pilgrimage.

There are countless restrictions integrated into it. The most powerful one can hypnotize and seize your soul.”

James looked at Yrian and said, “It’s incredible. A few of them look somewhat familiar to me.”

Yrian put his hands behind his back and said smilingly, "Certainly. There's the God of Curses, Franciscus Yuelan, God of Death, Clayton Sindward, Demon Slayer, Wystov Wharnal, and the Sky God, Darvel Jabbert.

"You've met them before and have received different treasures from them."

James was aware Franciscus and Claton were frightening existences in the Genesis Worlds. However, he had just learned that Wystov and Darvel were the two elderly men he had met in the Forladtt Land's third and fourth level.

One of them had united with the remnant soul of another elderly man to cast the Nirvana Golden Bones for him, and the other worked with another elderly man to craft the Golden Body for him.

It seemed that these peerless powerhouses had come from this mysterious place. However, the massive figure with a golden body had a blurred face.

James thought about what he had heard recently and the unfamiliar place he was in, which had a completely different atmosphere from the Genesis World. He could not help but feel shocked about being clueless about such a mysterious place hidden in the Dark World. He felt that even his wife, who used to be the Dark Heavenly Path, might be unaware of the place.

Seeing James' shocked expression, Yrian said smilingly, "A few of these powerhouses have already perished. There's not much you can get from it. How about we have some drinks and chat? I'll answer your questions.

James nodded and replied, "Thank you, Sir."

Yrian smiled and led James to a shining table. He raised his hand and two glazed lamps appeared in front of them. The next moment, two sparkling wine jars materialized and filled two cyan cups.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6349-James exclaimed, "The wine smells fantastic! I can sense a very mysterious power in it."

Yrian smiled, picked up the wine glass and said, "As expected from a genius who has comprehended the Third Marciais Combat Form.

“Come, let’s drink. But with your current strength, you should only take a sip. If you drink too much, the energy might explode within you and obliterate your soul.”

After speaking, Yrian took a gentle sip of his wine.

James was stunned momentarily. Then he brought the cup to his lips. A powerful force rushed toward him and was quickly absorbed.

Immediately afterward, he felt the Great Genesis Pearl rotating rapidly within his body. Potent Historial Power and Marcias Power emerged and surged through his body.

Suddenly, he went from the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank to the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank’s Ninth Tribulation.

“Amazing! I only sniffed it, but the effects are better than consuming a Calidum Spiritual Fruit.” James was surprised and excited by the results. He looked at the cup for a while, then suddenly drank everything in one gulp.

Yrian shouted anxiously, “You can’t just drink everything...” Before he could finish speaking, James’ whole body was wrapped by a gray and black light. Then, his golden body emitted a dazzling glow.

Yrian’s eyes widened in disbelief.

Soon, the light from James’ body dissipated. He stretched his body, raised his head, and shouted, “One more!”

The wine jar floating in the air instantly filled James’ cup again.

Yrian sat and said amusedly, “As expected from the Chosen One. He just drank the Chaos Absinthe like it’s nothing, and nothing has ever happened to him.”

James asked smilingly, “It’s called Chaos Absinthe? It’s not bad. Who brewed this wine?”

Yrian said solemnly, “It wasn’t brewed. The Chaos Absinthe is acquired from Chaos Essences, which formed when everything came into existence. Chaos Essences are full of mysterious power.

“Under normal circumstances, powerhouses with an eight-star ranking can drink up to three cups. Those at a seven-star ranking might stay drunk for three epochs after just one drink. If someone with a sixth-star ranking were even to smell the wine’s fragrance, he would be drunk for two epochs.”

James’ eyes widened in shock, and he asked, “Is it that magical?” Yrian sighed, “It’s more than magical. However, you just drank a whole cup of it. You’re stronger than someone with a seven-star ranking, but the strength you’ve shown is only at four stars at most.”

James interrupted him with a wave of a hand and said, “Just a moment, Sir. How does this star ranking work? How is it different from the powerhouses in the Genesis World?”

Yrian asked smilingly, “Is this your first question?”

James nodded and answered, “Yeah. Please enlighten me.”

Yrian took a deep breath and said, “Let me put it this way. Our earlier stages of cultivation are similar to Genesis World’s rank system. However, it differentiates after the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank.

“Genesis World’s Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank and Daelm Rank go from the first to the ninth tribulation. Then, there’s the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank’s Consummation Rank, which they call the Quasi Daeclon Rank. You should know this very well.”

James nodded in response. He had been in the Genesis Worlds for so long, so he naturally knew the cultivation ranking system well.

Yrian sighed. “We do it differently here. The Genesis Worlds are part of Tai Chi’s Ying World. We, however, are in the Tai Chi’s Yang World. Instead of the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank, we start from one star. A one-star powerhouse has the strength equivalent to that of a powerhouse at the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank’s False Six Tribulations. A two-star powerhouse is comparable to a powerhouse at the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank’s Real Three Tribulation.”
