

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6351-Yrian said smilingly, "I have an Eight-Star Combat Power. However, it's because of my identity."

James asked curiously, "What's your identity?" Yrian smiled and replied, "I'm Yrian Zvecha, but I am also the Zvecha Dragon, the first Divine Dragon to exist before these worlds formed." 'Another being that existed way before our worlds? Are there that many mysterious beings hidden in the different corners of our worlds?' James looked at him in shock.

Suddenly, he asked, "So who's stronger? The first peacock or phoenix?"

Yrian smiled, shook his head, and said, "Phoenix? Everyone might think the phoenix came before the peacock. However, that's not the case. They both existed way before the different worlds existed. There is no specific order."

Then, he pointed outside the hall and said, "Phoenixes aren't anything special here. Here, they are just pets and mounts."

James' jaw dropped in shock, and he pondered, 'The powerful and legendary beings were merely pets and mounts? Then, are the Azure Dragons, White Tigers, Vermilion Birds, and Black Tortoises not even worthy of being mounts?

'It's no wonder when I summoned Clayton, he used them in his first attack.

So, they're just his pets?' After thinking for a while, James asked, "If you all are so powerful, why do you stay here instead of going to the Genesis Worlds?"

Yrian sighed, "The Genesis Worlds? Those are just fragments of the Tai Chi World. A group of idiots fighting each other over interest. What else is there to see?

"Look at our world. Everyone is at peace, and our cultivation bases improve ten thousand times faster than the outside world. Any powerhouses here is capable of completely dominating the Genesis Worlds."

James nodded and asked, "Exactly. So why don't you guys retake the Ying World?"

Faced with James' questions, Yrian took a deep breath and suddenly fell silent.

Suddenly, James had another doubt. If a transcendent powerhouse like Yrian, who utilized Marciais Power, existed long before the Tai Chi World was destroyed, then where are the Yang World's powerhouses that use Historial Power?

'Could it be that Xolani, Yzert, and Xaiden are enough to defeat the Ying World, the symbol of Marciais Power? But they've already done so much damage and exposed their true natures before Clayton. Their strengths simply can't compare.' After a while, Yrian looked at James and asked, "In your opinion, which is more powerful? Historial Power or Marciais Power?"

James said calmly, "They have different advantages. Historial Power is good for long-range attacks. However, one must have a strong cultivation base as a foundation for it. Marciais Power, on the other hand, is a combination of courage, speed and combat skills. It's mainly close combat, but allows one to fight opponents higher ranks."

Yrian suddenly raised his head and laughed.

James asked confusedly, "What are you laughing at?"

Yrian pointed his finger at James and laughed, "If you were to stay that way in the past, you would be branded an enemy and torn into pieces regardless of which world you were in."

James asked puzzledly, "Is it that bad?"

Yrian sighed, 'The Ying and Yang World dispute has been ongoing for ages. At one point, it was a fierce competition. It had always been either Ying or Yang. Nobody has ever managed to cultivate both.

James frowned and said, 'Then it's no longer a fight about who's stronger.

These forces have controlled everyone and regard them as their beliefs."

Yrian nodded and agreed, 'You're right. Our ancestors were well aware of it and wanted to stop the killing and fights. Hence, they chose to give up. It's not the Yang World that defeated US, but we let them have the victory.

“Unfortunately, Historial Power has been declining in the Genesis Worlds and is being replaced by Genesis. They’re just a bunch of ants, so why would we bother to fight them?”

James was taken aback by his words. A few moments later, he laughed, “That’s true. I’ve never seen anyone try to fight ants for food before.”

Yrian sighed, “Exactly. Meanwhile, we aim to train a genius who can cultivate both powers and help him reach the Daeclon Rank. It’s the only way to stop the fight and continue to develop these two powers.

James asked surprisedly, “So that’s why I was chosen?”

Yrian said smilingly, “You were an anomaly. If you were to settle in the Yin’s Void, we would never have chosen you.

“Even if you caught our eyes, we’d still bring you here. However, your cultivation achievements would be more or less like Clayton’s.

“You weren’t willing to settle for mediocrity and went to the Genesis Worlds. Even more surprising, you survived countless obstacles.

“You also mastered the Marciais Power and cultivated an Ultimate Golden Body. It seems that everything had already been destined.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6352-Looking at Yrian, James smiled awkwardly.

He thought, ‘What would he think if he found out I only went to the Genesis Worlds to find my wife? He’d probably think I’m someone who rests on my laurels, right?’ James’ eyes were opened after learning of these mysteries.

The battle between Historial and Marciais Power was endless.

Ultimately, the Ying World, which symbolized Maricias Power, stepped away.

Meanwhile, the Yang World, which represented Historial Power, seized most of the Tai Chi World.

However, whether they truly won the fight was still up for debate.

Looking at the Genesis Worlds, only about a hundred powerhouses had reached the Consummation of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation and could control Historial Power.

Meanwhile, the other living beings could only use Genesis, a branch of the Historial Power.

As a result, Historial Power began to decline, and there was no decent powerhouse that could reach the Daeclon Rank.

On the other hand, the Ying World only had a small area like the Dark World.

However, they had countless elites proficient in Marciais Power.

An average powerhouse with a Seven-Star Combat Power could easily sweep the Genesis Worlds.

Franciscus and Clayton were invincible existences in the Genesis Worlds.

The Grand Patriarchs, who were confident in their strengths, were nothing but ants in front of them.

'What exactly is this? In the end, were they the real winners? The Ying World retreated but kept improving because they stayed true to their roots.

'The Ying World's powerhouses no longer regard the Genesis World as an opponent.

Instead, they focused on trying to train someone capable of combining Marciais and Historial Power.

'With such a mindset, it was simply impossible for Xolani, Yzert, and Xaiden could not compare.' After thinking, James picked up his cup and raised it toward the light, saying, "Cheers!" Syrian said fearfully, "You still want to drink?" James said calmly, "Is this wine too precious?" Syrian hurriedly shook his head and said, "No, of course not.

Although valuable, I still have a few more jars stocked up.

It's not that I'm being stingy, but are you really not afraid of exploding and destroying your soul?" James said smilingly, "I do have an Ultimate Golden Body." Yrian scolded, "The Ultimate Golden Body isn't omnipotent either!

Wait..." Before he could finish speaking, James had already raised his cup and drank the Chaos Absinthe.

His whole body suddenly emitted a black and gray light.

Then, he slowly rose into the sky.

Yrian was shocked by the sight.

James floated in the air, surrounded by a black and gray light that gradually blended.

Immediately afterward, the black-gray light transformed into a purple-white light.

Yrian's eyes widened as he exclaimed, "Woah! Amazing! He can control Chaos Essence.

How unusual." A purple-gold light surrounded James.

He opened his eyes, and a terrifying aura erupted from him.

With the wave of a hand, two powerful Chaos Essence submerged into it.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6353-The Yuraeceon Genesis Bell quickly transformed into armor around James' body.

James appeared in front of the wine jar in the void with a flash, then gulped everything.

Yrian jumped to his feet as if he had seen something shocking.

'How is he drinking the Chaos Absinthe like it's nothing and not suffering any aftereffect? He is even absorbing Chaos Essence to improve his strength.

This is amazing.' At that moment, James' cracked armor unleashed a bright gray light and began to repair itself.

"Master!" Suddenly, a spectral woman emitting red, black, and gray lights appeared before James.

James looked at her and said excitedly, "You're finally awake, Lesia!" Lesia said hurriedly, "Don't use the power to save me.

It's the purest form of Chaos Essence that exists! It's really rare! Even absorbing a little bit of it would be a great blessing.

"you should integrate them into your golden bones.

It'll be very beneficial when you must balance Marciais and Historial Power in the future." James held the wine jar and stared at it with a frown.

Then, he asked, "So you're saying this power can revive you?" Lesia explained anxiously, "I'm your second body.

I can't die.

It's just going to take some time before I regain my body.

You really shouldn't waste it on me." Yrian also persuaded, ""She's right, Chosen One.

The Chaos Absinthe and Chaos Essence are very precious.

They can't be regenerated after exhaustion.

You must not be reckless." Lesia shouted, "If you continue to waste it on me, I will disobey you and choose to self-destruct." Seeing that Lesia was serious about her threat, James waved his hand to stop her and said, "Alright! But..." Lesia shook her head and said, "No buts! I've already regained consciousness and am really grateful.

I'll take care of the rest." Excited, James thought to himself, 'Lesia is finally back!' Afterward, he descended to the ground with the wine jar still in his hand.

Lesia, on the other hand, quickly returned to the armor.

The armor around James' body emitted a gray light, then quickly disappeared.

Yrian looked at James and said smilingly, "How unexpected.

You're capable of controlling Chaos Essence.

If that's the case, there's no need for further tests.

Come with me." After speaking, Yrian turned around and waved his hand.

Then, a terrifying black force struck the Holy War Gods Pilgrimage.

The Marciais Power disappeared, and the area returned to calm.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6354-The scene before them had changed in the blink of an eye.

It happened so quickly that James could not even process what was happening.

Soon enough, the terrifying Maricias Power brought them to the ground.

At that moment, James could finally make out his surroundings.

They were in a vast secret room.

Above them were countless dazzling stars illuminating the sky.

Meanwhile, white mists billowed from the ground.

The walls around them emitted a golden glow, and complicated inscriptions were engraved all over them.

"This is the first step to obtaining your great fortune." James frowned and asked, "Are these inscriptions from the Dark World? Doesn't seem like it.

I can't recognize quite a lot of them." Syrian shrugged and said, "Don't look at me.

I'm clueless." James looked at him doubtfully and asked, "If even you don't know them, how are you supposed to guide me?" Yrian chuckled and said, "Our Grand Patriarch said you're the only person who can decipher the inscriptions here.

After this, you can advance to acquire the next boon." James was silent as he thought, 'There's so many inscriptions.

I feel dizzy just looking at them, so how will I decipher them?' He put his hands behind his back and scrutinized the inscriptions.

After a while, he frowned and said, "Terrastride Step, Dawnblaze Form, Xeme Supreme Sutra and Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes?" Hearing James read out a few of the inscriptions, Yrian said surprisedly, "At least you recognize a few!" James sighed, "I can only read the titles.

Are these Supernatural Powers?" Yrian walked aside, took out a wine gourd, and said, "That's up to you to find out.

I won't be of much help." James scratched his head, utterly confused.

At that moment, he received a message from Lesia.

"These are essential foundations for the highest level of the Marciais Combat Form.

"The Terrastride Step can ignore any formation, time, distance, karma and tribulation restrictions." James was shocked by how powerful the Terrastride Step was.

After awhile, he asked, "What about the Dawnblaze Form?" Lesia replied, "You should focus on the Terrastride Step first.

It's a Supernatural Power created by the founder of the Marciais Combat Form.

If you master it, you'll be able to dominate.

After hearing Lesia's advice, James began to study the complex inscriptions.

At first, he was completely unable to understand them.

He tried another method and tried to treat the inscriptions as a painting.

He broke them down in his mind and soon figured it out.

After James had mastered them, the inscriptions fell off the stone wall one by one.

They would submerge into his leg and improve his strength.

After some time, his efficiency in studying the words improved.

However, he was completely dumbfounded when he raised his head to check on James.

Yrian spat out a mouthful of his wine and stared at James in disbelief.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6355-“No way.

How is this even possible? We’ve been researching the inscriptions for thousands of entrapochs but haven’t the slightest clue of what they mean.

He just arrived but is already about to completely decipher the inscriptions in the first secret room?” Yrian muttered to himself and questioned whether he was hallucinating the entire thing.

Yrian quickly rubbed his eyes, but the sight before him became faster.

James quickly absorbed the inscriptions, and it even caused a gush of wind to form.

“How?” Yrian stood in shock, and his wine gourd fell to the ground.

“Is this the Terrastride Phantom?! With this speed, it’d be a miracle if one could even touch him.” Just after he finished speaking, he discovered that James had disappeared.

He exclaimed, “Did he go invisible?” The next moment, Yrian felt a light rap on the shoulder.

He immediately turned around but found nothing.

Slightly frightened by the situation, Yrian asked tentatively, “Ha...

are you invisible now, Chosen One?” Suddenly, he felt another tap on the shoulder from behind him.

Yrian reacted almost immediately.

He turned around and reached out but still missed.

However, this time, he saw an afterimage flashing before his eyes.

"This is interesting!" Yrian suddenly leaped into the air, and a black light burst out from his body, permeating the entire room.

The room instantly turned pitch black, and it was hard to see.

Yrian laughed, "Haha! You have nowhere to hide now, right?" In the next second, a purple-gold figure flashed through the darkness and rapidly circled Yrian.

Yrian could only see countless purple-gold afterimages around him but could not identify the actual body.

He quickly summoned countless illusory hands and reached out.

Unfortunately, he only caught a few afterimages, which immediately shattered upon contact.

He shouted, "This is fun! It seems I'll have to show some real skills today." After speaking, he stretched out his hand, and Marciais Power gushed out.

As the loud rumbling sound spread, the countless purple-gold afterimages were dispersed.

Yrian instantly heard James spitting out blood from the right corner of the room.

He quickly dispersed his Supernatural Power and spotted James leaning against a wall.

"You're a powerhouse with an Eight-Star Combat Power, Sir! I only have a Five□Star Combat Power!" James grumbled, then fell to the ground.

Yrian hurriedly dashed over, caught him, and slowly brought him to the ground.

James coughed a few times and gradually regained consciousness.

Yrian smiled and said, "Not bad.

You defeated me with just one attack!" Yrian shook his head and said, "You're wrong.

You could even fight an opponent with a Six-Star Combat Power.

“You only lost because your proficiency in the Terrastride Phantom isn’t mature yet.

Plus, you didn’t use full strength.

James frowned and asked, “Terrastride Phantom? I thought this was called the Terrastride Step.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6356-Yrian asked surprisedly, “Y-You were using the Terrastride Step?” James replied, “Yeah.” Yrian took a deep breath and said, “No wonder.

I couldn’t even catch you.

Still...” He suddenly paused and did not continue speaking further.

Although he was curious about how James deciphered the inscriptions in such a short period, he realized how shameful it would be for a senior to ask a junior for guidance.

He wanted to know, but his pride made him hesitant.

James, who had two Quintessential Hearts, easily saw through his thoughts.

He pointed at the inscriptions and said, “The method to decipher them is pretty simple.

You have to think of them as a picture.

According to their shapes, you imagine them in your mind.” Surprised, Yrian asked, “Is that how to decipher the inscriptions?” “Go ahead and try it out.” James nodded with a smile.

Yrian stared at the inscriptions on the wall and attempted the method he got from James.

Unfortunately, his efforts were to no avail.

He shook his head and said, “It’s not working.

I must be lacking in talent, and am not qualified to learn these inscriptions.

However, your method seems to be correct.” He raised his head to James and said, ““You’re very generous Chosen One.

However, you must never share these Supernatural Powers with a third person.

Actually, you shouldn’t even tell another soul about how to decipher these inscriptions, not even your wife, the Yin governor.

James looked at him meaningfully.

Yrian’s reminded him that people may be innocent at first, but greed can corrupt their minds.

It was inappropriate for him to so easily let his guard down before obtaining the ultimate boon.

James clasped his hand and said, “I’ll keep that in mind.

Can I continue?” “Huh? There are other Supernatural Powers?” Yrian was startled.

James said smilingly, “Yeah.

I only grasped the basics of the Terrastride Step.

There is still a lot more I need to understand.

Just now, I only used the first step.

Then, he said, “You can use this one.

It’s called the Boundless Bead.

Yrian said calmly, “You can have it.

It might be useful to you in the future.” James happily accepted it without hesitation.

He poured some of his Marciais Power into the bead, causing it to expand rapidly in mid-air.

Immediately afterward, James continued to cultivate the Terrastride Step.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6357-Yrian looked at James' afterimages and sighed, "So this is what a real genius is like? Others can only drink a cup of the Chaos Absinthe, but he drinks it like water.

Others spend a lifetime trying to study these inscriptions to no avail, but he successfully deciphers them in such a short while." "It's said humans are the leaders of all creatures.

However, they're cunning and ruthless.

Yet, he wanted to use the Chaos Absinthe's Chaos Essence to save a second body.

Ordinary people will never come close to his generosity and loyalty." Yrian's previous courtesy toward James was because of his identity as the Chosen One.

Now, he admired and respected James from the bottom of his heart.

Meanwhile, Clayton and Dark Thea were in a palace within a forbidden area.

The two each held a wine jar and leaned against massive pillars.

Their faces were flushed from the drinks, but no words were exchanged.

After a while, Dark Thea suddenly turned her head and asked, "When will my handsome be back?" Clayton replied, "I can't say for sure.

But he'd be out of our leagues when he comes out." Dark Thea frowned and asked, "What kind of place is this? Everything seems different from the Genesis Worlds." Clayton poured some wine into his mouth, swallowed it, and said, "You were the Heavenly Path before, so how are you unaware?" Dark Thea rolled her eyes and answered, "I was forced to reincarnate.

My memories have been erased.

Why would I ask you if I already knew." Clayton replied, "Do you at least remember being the Ying governor?" Dark Thea immediately revealed a murderous look and said, "Of course.

It's a memory that's engraved inside my soul.

No matter how many times I reincarnate, they're stuck with me." Clayton took another sip of wine and said, "But you almost lost your husband.

That dumbass risked everything for you.

He sure is loyal." Dark Thea asked, "Are you talking about the good-looking man?" Clayton nodded and recounted the memories he had learned from James' soul.

After listening to everything, Dark Thea said thoughtfully, "That good-looking man has suffered a lot for me.

I should sleep with him as soon as possible to make up for it." Clayton looked at her and said, "It's better not to harm him.

You have too many dangers following you." "So I'm at fault?" Dark Thea rolled her eyes.

Clayton took another sip of wine and said, "I had no intention of taking you back to the Ying World.

However, I had to keep his mind at ease.

"Naturally, I also felt sorry for you.

If you stay in the Genesis Worlds, Tai Chi will kill you." Dark Thea retorted, "Her underlings can't kill me." Clayton asked, "What if she takes action?" Dark Thea immediately fell silent.

Clayton said solemnly, "It's not impossible.

Wesley is powerful, but he can't keep supervising her.

The only two who can protect you there are Yegor and Herodias.

However, they've been imprisoned.

"Of course, James can defend you.

However, he has an important duty right now.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6358-Clayton slowly took a sip of his wine, then casually recounted events of the couple's lives.

Dark Thea was surprised after hearing everything.

Clayton said leisurely, "Tai Chi suppressed and forced you to be reincarnated eighty-one times.

She also destroyed your golden body.

Otherwise, you would have entered the Xaeclon Rank.

Dark Thea's face darkened, and she asked, "What are you trying to say?" Clayton looked at her and said, "Your Yin Golden Body is somewhere here.

However, it's not complete.

If you ask, that dumbass would help you retrieve it." Dark Thea raised her head in shock.

She never expected the Yin Golden Body she had been searching for to be in the miniature version of the Ying World.

After being stunned momentarily, she asked, "Where's the rest of it?" "you'll have to ask Yehria." Clayton shook his wine gourd and shouted, "It's empty again?!!" Clayton threw his wine gourd into the void, and a blue wave instantly rippled down and filled it up again.

After seeing Clayton retrieve his wine gourd, Dark Thea asked hesitantly, "What's the use of having only half of my Yin Golden Body?" Clayton took another sip of wine and said, "Your current body is also a halve.

Yehria has the other half." Dark Thea was silent.

Clayton explained, "To stand a chance against her, you'll need to merge with the other half of your body and the Yin Golden Body.

Otherwise, you'd have to somehow cultivate Heavenly Path Power.

None of these options are easy to achieve." Dark Thea took a sip of wine and said, "I understand what you're trying to say.

I still have a long way to go before I can destroy her.” Clayton shook his head and refuted, “No.

It’s almost impossible for you to defeat her alone.” She was speechless in response.

Clayton said lightly, “Do you really think setting up the Tai Chi Tribulation is enough to kill her? She’s much more insidious and vicious than you thought.

She has already prevented you from cultivating the Daeclon Rank.

“It’s also not going to be easy to cultivate Heavenly Path Power as well.

Your counterpart has already mastered the Light Heavenly Path Power.

But it’ll probably be even harder for you.

Clayton had struck her weak point and made her a little angry.

He calmly looked at her and said smilingly, “Herodias and I have come up with a plan for you.

Would you like to hear it?” Dark Thea turned around and asked surprisedly, “If you’re trying to be a peacemaker between us, then I don’t want to hear it.

Tai Chi and I will never make peace.” Clayton pointed at Dark Thea and said, “Of course, I’m well aware.

As long as James can make her submit to his command, you’ll be able to retrieve your counterpart’s body and the Yin Golden Body.

By then, comprehending Heavenly Path Powers will be easy.” Dark Thea raised an eyebrow after listening to Clayton’s suggestion.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6359-Clayton sighed, “You’ll forget everything of this life.

What will you have left even after you acquire Dark Heavenly Path Powers and kill Tai Chi? “You’ll also have to fight James and your children.

Ultimately, nobody comes out of it a winner.

“More importantly, you can only kill Tai Chi once after comprehending Dark Heavenly Path Powers.

She can also reincarnate.

After the Tai Chi Tribulation is eliminated, she’ll become even more ruthless to get her revenge.” Dark Thea fell silent, showing neither anger nor joy.

It was hard to read what was on her mind.

Clayton sighed, “James and you will have exceptional strength by working together.

Some things are men’s responsibilities, and women don’t have to force themselves.

“T couldn’t say these things in the Genesis World.

Since this place is outside Tai Chi’s control, I talked more than I should.” Clayton took another sip of his wine and fell silent.

After a while, Dark Thea raised her hand, and a majestic purple- pink power shot up to the sky.

It grabbed the wine in the void and poured it directly into her mouth.

Clayton chuckled lightly after seeing how she was drinking the wine.

Shortly after, Dark Thea fell to the ground with a thud.

Clayton sighed, “They say drinking can wash away the sorrows.

However, you should carefully think about what I said.” After speaking, Clayton stretched his arm forward.

A powerful force wrapped around Thea and lifted her into the sky.

Then, she disappeared into the colorful hall.

At that moment, a young girl emitting a potent malevolent energy approached from behind Clayton.

She had her hands behind her back as she looked in the direction where Dark Thea had disappeared.

Then, she suddenly said, "When did the God of Death become so talkative?" Clayton replied without turning back, "She has the right to know.

After all, she's the wife of that dumbass.

He treasures her more than his life." The young girl said calmly, "It's useless.

She's the doom of Tai Chi.

Her existence is to destroy everything.

What you did just now simply pushed her further down an evil path." Clayton asked surprisedly, "Do you think she'll really sever her emotions and desires to gain Heavenly Path Power, Leuko?" Leuko said calmly, "Her relationship with James was a balance and kept her in check.

However, she hasn't recovered her memories from her past life.

The fact that her relationship with James is stronger than steel is from your mouth.

It doesn't mean much to her.

You're forcing her to make a choice." Clayton gasped in shock.

Leuko said smilingly, "Your intentions were good.

However, you shouldn't get involved in things that aren't your business.

Otherwise, your good intentions might only make the situation worse." Clayton was silent.

The next moment, a terrifying purple -pink light permeated the sky.

The potent evil power startled even powerhouses like Clayton and Leuko.

Soon, a beautiful woman floated in the void.

It was none other than Dark Thea, who had passed out after drinking too much.

Clayton said anxiously, "What are you doing, Ying Governor?!" Leuko closed her eyes, and sympathy flashed across her face.
