The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6368-Sensing Taotie's anger, Syrian waved his hand and explained hurriedly, "It's just a suggestion. If you don't like it, you can..."

Before he could finish speaking, Taotie suddenly opened his blood mouth and roared. Countless black sound waves instantly enveloped Yrian and instantly swallowed him.

The next second, a muffled sound came from the huge beast behind Taotie.

Yrian shouted, "Don't do this, Taotie! It's a mess in your stomach, and it stinks! I can't stand it!"

Taotie ignored him and gulped a mouthful of Chaos Absinthe.

Yrian shouted again, "No matter how much we quarrel, we're still friends! I feel humiliated right now. Plus, it'll be hard to explain this to the Grand Patriarch." "It'd be easy to explain if I turn you into a shit," Taotie replied, then took another sip of his wine.

Syrian did not respond.

Afterward, Taotie stood up and opened the door of the secret room.

The entire room was filled with dazzling light rays. At the same time, a howling wind blew, with countless inscriptions floating around the area. Meanwhile, the thick walls were full of cracks, as if they would collapse at any moment.

'He's pretty good?' Taotie was shocked. He could not help but take action.

Suddenly, two massive beasts roared and rushed into the round.

The next moment, there were two muffled sounds. Then, the two giant beasts wailed and were knocked away, heading straight toward Taotie.

Taotie stretched out his arms and stabilized the two beasts. He looked at them and saw their bruises and injuries. One of the beasts even had a horn ripped out and was miserable.

“How dare you hurt my pet!” Taotie was furious. However, countless phantom figures rushed toward him before he could take action.

While Taotie resisted the attack, he let out a roar that caused the entire room to shake. Even so, the phantoms’ ferocious attacks were not halted.

The phantoms passed by, landing punches and kicks on Taotie.

Taotie had no choice but to keep retreating under the relentless attacks.

Although the attacks were weak and could not cause too much damage, he was furious about the humiliating situation.

He roared again, and five elements emerged from his body and spread across the room, causing significant damage.

Wherever the forces passed, loud explosions would follow. Soon, the second secret room began to collapse.

Taotie had summoned his actual beast form and soared into the sky. His ferocious roar resounded throughout the sky. A handsome man in a black robe and red hair stood firmly above the beast.

“How dare you humiliate me! You must have a death wish!” The beast suddenly divided into two, then four, and soon, thousands of beasts were in the void.

They opened their massive jaws and unleashed deafening growls.

Overwhelming sound waves permeated the sky. The giant beasts instantly devoured everyone in the area, including James.

The next moment, James found himself in the beast’s stomach.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6369-James immediately covered his nose in disgust after the pungent stench hit him. He scanned the surroundings and found countless chewed-up corpses of spirit beasts around him. There were also mountains of bones.

The area looked like a huge garbage dump. The smell was unpleasant and disgusting. The surroundings were damp, and James wanted to leave immediately.

Various poisonous gases, burning flames, gushing winds, and heavy rain immediately headed toward James and eroded his Ultimate Golden Body.

James cursed, "Damn it. Can you eat a little less?"

At that moment, a chuckle came from behind James. "Were you swallowed too?"

James turned around and saw Yrian slowly approaching him.

Yrian waved his hand and dispersed the troublesome attacks.

"How did you end up here as well?" James looked at him confusedly.

Yrian sighed and said smilingly, "Can't help it. Taotie has quite a temper. You must've angered him. Have you forgotten what I told you before?"

James shrugged and said, "I never intended to anger him. However, he still got mad anyway. It was supposed to be just for practice, but he swallowed me."

Yrian said calmly, "It's a Supernatural Power of his. He even swallowed an entire world before. I must warn you that being swallowed is only the beginning. He is completely in charge of what happens here. This might be a life-and-death challenge for you."

James looked at the dirt-filled surroundings and said, "Definitely is a test of survival. Just the smell is going to suffocate US to death. He doesn't even need to use any Supernatural Powers."

Yrian put his hands behind his back and laughed, "You have an Ultimate Golden Body, so the Hongrome Toxins can't corrode you that easily. However, it might be tough to get out of here."

James frowned and asked, "What if I punch a hole through his stomach?"

Yrian shook his head and said, "That's impossible. Taotie was formed by Hongrome Essence. His physical body has been perfected after going through the Five Great Tribulations. It's more or less at the same level as your Ultimate Golden Body."

James gasped and asked, "Do I have to stay here for the rest of my life?"

Yrian said bitterly, "Let's just wait for a while. Once his anger subsides, he might let us out. By the way, how is the trial at the second secret room going?"

James did not answer. He grabbed Yrian and cast the Dawnblaze Form. Then, he slammed into the left side of Taotie's stomach.

Following the loud bang, James could see stars around him. Yrian, who was dragged along, also fell to the ground.

James said awkwardly, "That was too rash of me. His stomach isn't that big."

After speaking, James took out the horn he had broken off Taotie's beast and stabbed into the walls. Blood immediately spurted out and covered them.

Taotie suddenly groaned.

"Oh? Seems like it's working." James' eyes suddenly lit up.

Yrian said disgustedly, "We're both soaked in blood. I hate the smell of his blood."

James said smilingly, "It's cause you're a dragon. Dragons love cleanliness.

Be a little more patient and endure it."

After speaking, James pierced the beast's horn into Taotie's stomach walls again.

The next second, they were surrounded by scorching flames.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6370-The surrounding temperature began to rise to alarming heights. Yrian frowned and said, "He's furious now and is using Sky Burning Flames to attack us." "It's fine." James smiled, then summoned Hemera.

“Go ahead. It’s your favorite.”

Hemera instantly rushed toward the Sky Burning Flames and quickly swallowed them. Immediately afterward, a bright light burst out from her body, and her strength skyrocketed to a terrifying level.

Yrian was surprised that James had such a treasure with him.

James pointed at Hemera and said, “Look around. See where his Flame of Anger is burning the most intensely. Devour everything so we can calm him down.”

After receiving the order, Hemera immediately flew away excitedly. Then, she chased after the flames within Taotie’s stomach. She devoured all of the flames, causing Taotie, who was standing in the void, to plummet to the groan in pain. He soared back into the sky but was in extreme discomfort. Even his massive beast body twisted in pain.

James suddenly summoned Fennec and said, ‘You should go as well. I heard his body is a huge treasure vault. See if you find anything good.’

Fennec bowed toward James and clasped her hands. Then, she immediately turned into a spiritual body and disappeared.

James looked around and sighed, “This place smells so bad. Since he won’t let us go, how about we drink a little?”

Yrian said disgustedly, “Is this place suitable for drinking?” “Of course not, but we can clean it up,” James said, then suddenly raised his hand and waved. The rotting corpses in the air were instantly disposed of.

With another wave of his hand, the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell appeared.

Using his Zen, James turned it into a grand palace suspended in the void.

James smiled at Yrian, then dragged him into the palace hall.

At that moment, the stench was finally blocked out. The hall was clean and smelt slightly like Lesia.

Yrian laughed and nodded, saying, ‘You’re indeed impressive! It’s hard to find such exceptional treasures like this even in the Ying World.’

James sighed, "What else can we do? I want to take a violent approach, but then he is my senior. If I injured him too badly, it wouldn't be good. If it leads to a conflict, then how would we interact in the future? But he's definitely not going to be letting US go soon. We have no choice but to chat and have some drinks here for now."

Afterward, James summoned two cups in the void.

Seeing James' expectant gaze, Yrian frowned.

'You said you're not stingy," James said smilingly.

Yrian immediately understood what he was hinting at. He facepalmed and chuckled. Then, he waved his hand, and a jar of Chaos Absinthe appeared to fill the cups.

The filled cups floated to them. They clinked their cups and then began to drink.

Yrian only took a small sip. Seeing James gulp everything down, he hurriedly waved his hand and said, "I only have this jar of Chaos Absinthe on me. We don't know how long we'll be here, so we must treasure it." James smiled faintly and nodded in response.
