

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6381-In the Ying World, James was banished to the Leviathan Forest by Yukha.

Gazing ahead at the vast expanse of the forest, hearing the roars of countless spirit beasts, he felt a tingling sensation on his scalp.

These creatures were different from ordinary monsters, formidable in strength and each possessing vast powers. Trying to capture 20 phoenixes and 20 nine tailed foxes alive without causing harm was simply daunting.

Just then, accompanied by the cry of a phoenix, a phoenix carrying blazing flames spread its massive wings and swiftly soared by, creating a fierce heatwave and powerful gusts in its wake.

Wherever it passed, almost all the spirit beasts lowered their heads simultaneously, and the previous clamor ceased instantly.

James immediately unleashed the Terrastride Step and the Dawnblaze Form, swiftly mounting the phoenix's neck.

With another piercing cry, the phoenix suddenly spoke, "How dare you offend me?"

The voice was male, unmistakably that of a phoenix.

While people were aware of phoenixes, many were unaware that there were male phoenixes and female phoenixes, both of which were divine beings.

Facing the blazing flames on the phoenix's body, James slapped its neck irritably. "What are you roaring for? I'm just riding you for a while, how is that an offense?"

The phoenix suddenly made a swift dash to soar into the sky. The flames burned even more vigorously. It intended to shake James off this way.

However, James swiftly maneuvered and stepped directly onto its head. He followed its movements, rising and falling with its fury, showing no intention of letting go.

Frustrated, the ferocious phoenix suddenly transformed into a burning phantom figure, launching a rapid attack at James.

Under the Supernatural Powers of James' Terrastride Step and the Dawnblaze Form, it could not even touch the hem of his garment.

After tens of thousands of rounds, it was left breathless by James' teasing.

"What are you up to?" The phoenix finally became thoroughly enraged. "I know you're the Chosen One, but we're unlike other spirit beasts. We have dignity too."

James smirked and shrugged. "I just want to ask for a little favor. Why are you so worked up? Since you know I'm the Chosen One, don't you think you should show some respect?"

This irritated the phoenix even more, and it took a deep breath. "What do you want? If you're after my feathers, forget it, I won't give you anything."

"I'm not interested in your stuff," James said dismissively. "I just need your favor."

"Quit the nonsense and get to the point," the phoenix said angrily.

James grinned mischievously. "Gather a few dozen companions, and let's have a chat. If it goes well, maybe I'll give you something you've never seen before."

Hearing this, the phoenix snorted, "What exactly are you up to?"

"Ugh, talking to you is exhausting," James said impatiently. "If it weren't for my sister's orders not to harm you, you'd be a dead bird by now. So, stop pretending."

"Phoenixes in this world are just pets and mounts for others, don't act like you're some mythical beast."

Faced with James' sudden dominance, the phoenix was momentarily stunned.

When he saw the phoenix was unmoved, James exerted a terrifying aura with his hands and suppressed it instantly.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6382-“I’ll give you a taste of my strength, so you won’t think the Chosen One is just a paper tiger.

“My sister ordered me to bring you back unharmed, but that doesn’t mean I can’t kill you and find dozens more phoenixes,” said James.

The phoenix trembled all over, then quickly distanced itself from James.

In that instant, James swiftly appeared behind it with the Dawnblaze Form. With a raised hand, he delivered a punch accompanied by a thunderous roar. The phoenix stumbled forward.

James flashed again, landing another punch on the phoenix, sending it flying in the opposite direction.

“Stop, stop!” The phoenix stabilized itself, finally yielding. “Is that all you want? I agree.”

James appeared in front of it. “We can do this the easy way or the hard way.

Seems I’ve been too lenient. Maybe I should learn from Mr. Taotie, then you and the other spirit beasts wouldn’t dare to challenge me.”

He pointed at the phantom image of the phoenix. “Kneel.”

The phoenix hesitated, then clenched its fist. “Chosen One, you can’t humiliate us like this.”

“I’m only humiliating you.” James retorted impatiently. “If you don’t kneel, I’ll kill you right now.”

Feeling deeply humiliated, yet intimidated by James’ aura, the phoenix reluctantly knelt down.

James nodded and suddenly reached out to grab its head. A vast Historial Great Curse immediately flooded its body.

With countless Curse Inscriptions enveloping its body, the phoenix let out a heart-wrenching scream.

As James released his grip, the humanoid form of the phoenix writhed in agony in the void.

“I’m assigning you a task,” James said slowly. “Gather twenty companions and help me capture twenty nine-tailed foxes. You have half an epoch. If you exceed the time limit, you’ll be executed.”

The cursed phoenix gradually came to its senses, and then took a deep breath.

“You’re utterly merciless toward people.”

“You’re wrong again.” James shook his head. “I’m ruthless to phoenixes, not people. You can’t become human.”

Looking at James, the phoenix seemed to be staring at a demon, but the curse in its mind reminded it that it was now a plaything in someone else’s hands.

Realizing this, it immediately transformed back into its original phoenix form and flew into the Leviathan Forest with a mournful cry.

Meanwhile, James raised his hands arrogantly. “Seems like tyranny and unreasonable behavior stem from strength.”

“You’re just being opportunistic.” Suddenly, a charming voice echoed from the void.

The next moment, Yukha appeared gracefully.

James was startled and smiled awkwardly. “Pretty sister, you didn’t mention the rules earlier. So, I…”

“You slippery little guy,” scolded Yukha. “You’ve just controlled the son of the Zenithal Roc Matron. You’ve got yourself into big trouble.”

“The Zenithal Roc Matron?” James was stunned. “You mean the roc that soars ninety thousand miles with the wind in a day?”

Yukha nodded solemnly. “In our world, not only humans are respected, but also many ancestors of spirit beasts you’ve never encountered. The strength of the Zenithal Roc Matron is comparable to that of Taotie. You’re done.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6383-p?” “Hey, let’s clarify things,” Yukha replied with conviction. “I told you to capture twenty phoenixes and twenty nine-tailed foxes, not to mess with the Xyrll Phoenix.” “What do you mean?” James’ face twitched in confusion. “Wait, are you implying you’re not going to help me?”

Yukha chuckled ruefully. “Well, you’ve stirred up this mess yourself, so you’ll have to deal with it. That’s the rule in the Ying World.” ‘Your rules are nonsensical. You show up only after everything is done, knowing there are traps inside. This is typical of shady business dealings.

‘Yukha might look like an angel, but she harbored a dark heart, specializing in schemes where she’d buy someone only to make them count her money afterward.’ Thinking this, James straightened his posture and retorted, “Fine, bring it on.

I’ve already dealt with Taotie, so this Zenithal Roc Matron shouldn’t be much trouble. It’s just another practice.”

Yukha rolled her eyes and was about to respond when a piercing screech echoed from the void of the Leviathan Forest.

The next moment, a dazzling amethyst-gold light streaked through the air like billions of shimmering stars, suffocating the surroundings with its overwhelming temperature and terrifying aura, sweeping across the heavens and earth.

Frowning, James saw a massive amethyst-gold monster with the head of a bird and the body of a human from within the light. Its wingspan immediately engulfed the airspace, shrouding the vast surroundings in darkness, and making it impossible to see anything.

Within the darkness, countless points of light dashed toward James and Yukha.

“What are those?” James asked anxiously.

“The spirit beasts,” Yukha replied. “They’re coming for you.”

Startled, James transformed into a streak of black and white light, instantly flashing behind Yukha.

“Hah, you sly little fox,” Yukha chuckled. “You think you can betray me?”

Before her words could sink in, countless specks of light swiftly approached, sweeping past her and heading straight for James behind her.

Simultaneously, the amethyst-gold monster in the void expanded even more, its terrifying aura growing stronger.

Seeing the countless spirit beasts converging towards him, James immediately utilized the Terrastride Step and reappeared beside Yukha.

“Pretty lady, this isn’t a game. Are you really going to stand by and watch?”

James asked firmly.

“A mere flock of spirit beasts isn’t a problem for you,” Yukha laughed. “Hurry up and run, they’re coming again.”

James turned around to see the swarm of spirit beasts charging toward him once more.

Cursing under his breath, James executed the Dawnblaze Form and vanished into another void.

Just then, a deep and sharp female voice suddenly resounded in the void.

“Miss Yukha, we’ve always kept to our own affairs. Why did you unjustly order your disciple to curse my son, humiliating him in every way possible? Do you really think the Spirit Beast Clan is so weak and easily bullied?”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6384-Upon hearing the sharp and illusory voice, Yukha calmly retorted, “Zenithal Roc Matron, are you intending to attack me?” “I know you’re strong,” the illusory voice shouted again. “You dare to mistreat my Spirit Beast Clan, and I won’t sit idly by. Even if the Zvecha Dragon or the Yin Ancestral God were here, they’d have to explain themselves today.” As the words fell, the massive wings suddenly trembled. In an instant, countless fierce winds swept through the area, carrying with them dense amethyst-gold feathers that emitted terrifying whistling sounds.

Just as the fierce winds and countless amethyst-gold feathers flew towards Yukha, they were all blocked by Yukha's unmoving, unshaken Marciais Combat Form shield, which erupted with a continuous explosion upon impact.

Sighing lightly, Yukha spoke slowly, "If I were to say that he isn't my disciple, what then?" "If that's truly the case, then you better not interfere," the illusory voice shouted again. "Today, I'll make this audacious little creature pay dearly." "You seem overly confident," Yukha chuckled. "He's the Chosen One, can you handle him?" At this, the Zenithal Roc Matron choked up.

The title of the Chosen One might not mean much to James, but it was a powerful deterrent to these supreme top-tier powerhouses.

The next moment, a thunderous explosion came from tens of thousands of light-years away, causing countless stars to be instantly destroyed under the explosion's spread.

Yukha looked up and saw James facing the frenzy of spirit beast attacks. He unleashed his Supernatural Powers, activating the slaughter mode of the Primitive Marciais Combat Form.

With the combination of the Terrastride Step and the Dawnblaze Form, and the Historial Great Curse, James slaughtered in all directions within the densely besieging spirit beast group, killing swathes of them instantly.

Wherever the amethyst-gold Sword Energy passed, spirit beasts were either lightly wounded or burst into pieces on the spot. Their flesh and blood flying everywhere.

In an instant, spirit beast cores were flying everywhere, and the cries and roars of countless spirit beasts echoed incessantly, filling the skies with the bloody aura of slaughter and brutal violence.

Seeing this scene, the Zenithal Roc Matron in the void erupted in fury once again. With a flap of its wings, countless blazing flames rushed towards James.

Under James' Supernatural Powers, the countless flames were rolled up into a huge ring of fire and spread rapidly towards the densely-packed spirit beast horde.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Countless flames spread, and countless spirit beasts were instantly engulfed in the fire. They exploded one after another.

“Damn it,” the Zenithal Roc Matron roared in anger.

“Let’s make it even more infuriating.” James stepped out with another Terrastride Step, charging straight towards the Zenithal Roc Matron in the void.

‘You dare charge at me?’ the Zenithal Roc Matron roared angrily. Another terrifying amethyst-gold power instantly descended and manifested into countless lightning bolts, enveloping James in an instant.

These lightning bolts were not only filled with the Elemental Power but also the power of nature, causing James’ Ultimate Golden Body to burst into a dazzling black and white light at this moment. Cracks suddenly appeared, and the countless powers within his body rolling rapidly, as if they were about to burst out.

Within the countless lightning bolts, James spat out a mouthful of blood. He felt a strong sense of crisis.

In his view, the Zenithal Roc Matron was even more powerful than Taotie. ‘Wasn’t it said that there were only three super powerhouses above the Eight-Star level combat power in this world? How does this creature count? Are all these old folks in the Ying World nothing but a bunch of scammers?’ Just then, James suddenly received a transmission from Yukha.

“Let’s make a deal, brat. I’ll help you deal with the Zenithal Roc Matron, and you release Taotie immediately. What do you say?”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6385-Upon hearing this, James pursed his lips. So, it was this woman who came up with the idea. It seemed she had likely calculated everything long ago, all for the sake of persuading him to let Taotie off the hook.

‘Hmph, you may be pretty, but your influence isn’t big enough. At least not in certain aspects.’ With that thought, James suddenly waved his hands. The Judgment Scythe and the Nether Demonic Sword appeared in his grasp.

Facing the endless amethyst-gold flashes around, he immediately struck out. Accompanied by a deafening roar, the descending amethyst-gold lightning suddenly shattered.

At the same time, the massive body of the Zenithal Roc Matron in the void trembled violently.

Seizing this opportunity, James once again executed the Dawnblaze Form and soared into the sky. He transformed into a stream of amethyst-gold Sword Light and rushed towards the huge wings that covered the sky directly.

Another deafening roar echoed out as the massive wings of the Zenithal Roc Matron were immediately pierced through. James rose from within and stood proudly atop the head of the Zenithal Roc Matron in an instant.

“Heh, impressive,” Yukha exclaimed, covering her mouth like a fangirl.

The Zenithal Roc Matron was full of horror. ‘You... can fly higher than me?’ “Do you want to try again?” James asked coldly. ‘You attempted to trap me in a dead end. So, I’ll play along with you today. However, you’ll have to bear the consequences.’ “You’re being audacious,” the Zenithal Roc Matron roared again. With a swift roll in the air, she immediately broke free from James’ suppression and soared into the sky once more. Her speed left people in awe.

James watched her, sneering, and with a step of the Terrastride Step, he shot up into the sky. With the second step, his speed surpassed that of the flying Zenithal Roc Matron in an instant.

With the third step, the sky and earth changed color, and the sky was instantly covered in dense gray clouds, with thunder rolling and the Quasar Lightning flashing.

Seeing this scene, the Zenithal Roc Matron, who was rapidly ascending, immediately turned around in shock. She carried her huge body and rushed towards James with great speed.

Her huge wings flapped again, and countless fiery-red feathers swept towards James frantically, the vast power causing the heavens and earth to tremble.

Without directly confronting this terrifying Supernatural Power, James executed the Dawnblaze Form again and stood on the Zenithal Roc Matron once more. With a raised hand, a Sword Light fell and pierced through her flesh.

Another earth-shattering roar sounded as the Zenithal Roc Matron rolled again. She roared angrily, "Don't think I won't dare to kill you just because you're the Chosen One!" As her words fell, her body immediately burst forth with a world-destroying power.

Under the impact of this power, James was quickly thrown into the sky, blood spraying out once again, causing his internal power to rage out of control everywhere.

Then, the human face of the Zenithal Roc Matron quickly transformed into a giant eagle head. With a roar, under the terrifying power fluctuations of countless surrounding creatures, an extremely powerful suction force seized James and swallowed him whole.

The world fell silent, except for the countless spirit beast corpses floating around, as if nothing had happened just now.

Yukha saw this scene in the void. Then, she shook her head somewhat helplessly. "Zenithal Roc Matron, you are indeed powerful, but you shouldn't have swallowed him. You're in trouble now."

With that, she calmly sat down in a lotus position with her eyes half-closed, no longer paying attention to everything.

The Zenithal Roc Matron, who had swallowed James, transformed into a stunning beauty wearing a fiery-red robe, her amethyst-gold hair cascading down her shoulders. She appeared in front of Yukha.

All around, countless injured spirit beasts formed a huge encirclement, seemingly afraid that Yukha would escape.

"So, this is the Chosen One?" the Zenithal Roc Matron sneered. "It seems your future is also worrying."

Yukha half-closed her eyes, appearing as if she had not heard anything. She remained completely calm.

"Do you truly not care?" The Zenithal Roc Matron stared at Yukha. "In that case, I'll take him away."

‘You can’t leave” Yukha shook her head.
