

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6396-Although we are meeting for the first time, I can see that you are a loyal and caring person.”

James remained silent.

“You and I are mere strangers. We don’t bear any grudges or ill feelings for the other person.”

Biefren continued, “It might have been strange for me to do this when we had only met briefly for the first time.

“However, I had no other options. I wasn’t forced to do it because of you. It is simply my fate that I have to meet my end here.”

James knitted his brows. “Who decided on this? Why must you give up on your life like this?” “Most of the time, a person’s fate has been set in stone.” Biefren sighed. ” At first, I thought I could change my fate.

‘Yet, when I heard about you surviving Tai Chi’s Upper Three Calamities, I knew I wouldn’t be able to avoid my fate anymore.” James’ face scrunched up. ‘You chose to offer your core because you felt that you wouldn’t be able to survive the Upper Three Calamities, Mr. Biefren?’ “No.”

Biefren shook his head. “I’ve simply had an enlightenment. I wish to help in your efforts to eliminate all of the injustice happening in our worlds.”

James was dumbfounded.

The spirit beast before him traveled thousands of light years here just to sacrifice himself. James had not once encountered something like this ever since he started his journey of cultivation.

Moreover, Biefren possessed excellent powers and superb signature skills.

James would probably be defeated if the two of them engaged in a full-on battle.

Biefren had every reason not to offer up his core.

Therefore, James felt extremely conflicted watching Biefren make such an extreme decision.

"I've met countless beings, including humans." Biefren gazed into the distance.

"Most of them are selfish and greedy.

"On the contrary, you seem to remain unchanged despite everything you have been through.

"Also, you seem ready to give up on great opportunities to improve your cultivation at any moment. I get the impression that you are very calm and open-minded."

Biefren focused his gaze on James again. "I really want to know what exactly helped you get this far." "It's my wife." James shrugged. "You might laugh at me.

However, I've come this far because of my wife."

Biefren was momentarily stunned. Then, he threw his head back and laughed heartily.

James smiled wryly. "You must think that I'm unambitious." "No. In fact, I think you have the most impressive ambition!" Biefren pointed at him.

"You are not aiming to achieve the Daeclon Rank or to enter the ranks of the Paths. You are the prime example of a superior cultivator who doesn't have any personal desire." "I do, though. My wife is my desire." James sighed.

"That's not regarded as improper in our cultivation process." Biefren grinned.

"Besides, it is exactly because you have chosen that as your goal that you are receiving so many fortunes and opportunities."

Biefren paused and asked, "Have you heard of the Daeclon Inscription?"

James nodded. "Gray clouds and thousands of bells chiming. Above the Genesis Power is where you find the Marciais Combat Form..." "The Nirvana Golden Bones, the Quasar Second Body, the Dernaturae, and the Daeclon Mahayana," Biefren muttered the second part of the inscription.

He looked at James approvingly. "You possess the Ultimate Golden Body and the Nirvana Golden Bones.

'You've also achieved the Third Marciais Combat Form. The bell you are using to subdue Taotie seems to be the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell. You should be able to create the loud bell chiming.

"You only have the Quasar Second Body and the Dernaturae left. This is the first time someone has gotten so close to reaching the Daeclon Mahayana.

"That's why I call you an anomaly of the Ying and Yang Worlds."

James fixed his gaze on Biefren. "Mr. Biefren, is that why you've sacrificed yourself to help me?" "That's one of the reasons. You can say I'm doing this for the greater good." Biefren beamed. "However, I have my reasons for doing this too."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6397-James had a puzzled look on his face.

"We, the spirit beasts, are oppressed by Tai Chi's governance." Biefren was infuriated as he recalled those memories.

"She only allowed regular beings to learn and assume the human form. Those beings were also given equal rights to train for their cultivation.

"Yet, the spirit beasts were denied the right to assume the human form.

She even deemed US to be cultivation resources.

"Tai Chi wasn't a human being, to begin with.

"She was formed from a black fish and a white fish which had succeeded in their training. How could she do this to US, considering her origin?"

Biefren let out a deep sigh. "In the Tai Chi World, other cultivators would hunt us for our cores.

"Once they take a core, the spirit beast will disappear forever. We wouldn't even have a chance to be reborn again."

James narrowed his eyes, it happens to the monsters too.” “It’s different for monsters.” Biefren shook his head. “Once the monsters devour up to a certain amount of living beings, they are allowed to learn the human form too.

“On the other hand, no matter how highly they regarded the spirit beasts, they would still not allow US the chance to do that.”

James had a pensive look in his eyes. “Tai Chi allowed the monsters to assume human form but not the spirit beasts?” “She was being wary of US.” Biefren said bitingly, “She knew that the spirit beasts existed even before our worlds were formed.

“Our talents and cultivation base were naturally better compared to those of other beings. She might not be able to control US once we mastered how to assume the human form.”

James’ brows lifted. “She’s worried that Daeclon Rank cultivators may be born from your kind. That may pose a threat to her position.” ‘That’s right.” Biefren nodded.

“In the past, two of the strongest Daeclon Rank cultivators decided to leave the Tai Chi World. This issue caused discord between Tai Chi and the Yin and Yang governors.

“In the end, the Yang governor agreed to follow Tai Chi, whereas the Yin governor was forced to be reincarnated.”

A small frown creased James’ forehead. ‘That means the discord between Tai Chi and the Yin governor started back then?” “Yes.” Biefren nodded.

“However, those two Daeclon Rank cultivators have no desire for Tai Chi’s position. Tai Chi simply got worried for no reason.

“Since then, Tai Chi made sure she had full control of the Tai Chi World.

She wanted to prevent the birth of new Daeclon Rank cultivators.”

Then, Biefren sighed. ‘That’s changed now, though. With you being the anomaly in both worlds, Tai Chi must be getting really worked up about this.

“At the same time, I see new hope for the spirit beast clan in you.”

James' brows twitched. "Mr. Biefren, you're saying..." "Even though we are meeting for the first time, I have sacrificed my life to help you." Biefren replied, "I hope the Chosen One can take down Tai Chi and change the rules.

"I hope you could seek justice for the spirit beasts."

James remained silent.

Biefren smiled apologetically. "Of course, I have another favor to ask. I hope you can help watch over my family after my passing.

"I'll be able to rest in peace knowing that they are under your protection."

He looked at James. "You don't have to feel bad about this. This is simply a deal I'm proposing.

"I've done my part willingly, and I believe you'll agree to the deal." "What if I don't?" James stared at Biefren with an intense gaze.

"I guess I'll die in vain, then." Biefren chuckled. "Still, I know you won't try to harm the spirit beasts after this incident. Also, you won't let others step over us anymore.

"It's all because you are an upright man.

"Otherwise, you wouldn't have felt so sorry and tried to stop me earlier.

Instead, you would just stand there and watch me sacrifice myself."

James was impressed by how keen and insightful Biefren was.

He sighed wearily and said, "I didn't get the chance to tell you this earlier because you did it so quickly.

"Actually, it might not be impossible to overcome Tai Chi's Upper Three Calamities." "Oh?" Biefren's eyes widened. "Did you find a way to do that?" "I have the Forladtt Land." James continued, "According to the bet I made with Tai Chi, if I won, Tai Chi would lose the right to govern that area.

"There would no longer be any Heavenly Tribulations happening in the Forladtt Land from that point onward."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6398-ould do it now, Mr. Biefren.” James said firmly, “Take back your core. Even though the core may be damaged and you may lose part of your powers, it is still sufficient to keep you alive.

‘TH bring you all to the Forladtt Land, where the Law of Tai Chi will no longer be in power.

“With the abundance of various energies in that space, it’ll be easy for you to achieve the Daeclon Rank there.”

As Biefren paused thoughtfully, James swiftly lifted his hand and channeled a beam of black and white light.

James’ light pushed the purplish-black light beam toward Biefren.

In a flash, Biefren radiated a tremendous amount of energy, sending the purplish-black energy back to the cauldron.

“Mr. Biefren!” James shouted anxiously, “You...” “I feel even more reassured now,” Biefren interrupted.

He smiled warmly. “James, you are our hope.

“All along, the Ying World and the spirit beasts have been subjected to humiliation and unfair treatment. We need you to change this.

“Don’t feel bad about me doing this. I’ve chosen this path myself. I didn’t do it just to help you. I do it to help the spirit beasts overcome this awful fate so that they can have a better life as well.”

Biefren conjured an energy ball and moved it toward James. “This is the Zertec Pearl, the most important item owned by the highest leader of the spirit beasts.

“All beasts would submit to the bearer of the Zertec Pearl upon sensing its aura.

I’ll hand it over to you now.”

Biefren pointed to James and sent the Zertec Pearl into his body.

“Mr. Biefren, I’ve already decided to bring you and the spirit beasts to the Forladtt Land!” shouted James.

Biefren ignored James’ shouting and put his palms together. In an instant, the purplish-black light beam between them was directed toward James.

As the purplish-black lights washed over him, James found that he could not move a muscle due to a mysterious force.

He could not do anything at all as the purplish-black energy was absorbed into his Ultimate Golden Body.

That energy seeped into James’ body and traveled to his eyes. His dark pupils began shining mysteriously with a myriad of colors.

On the other hand, Biefren had put down his hands and adjusted his breathing slightly. He said, “Come out now.”

In the distance, a flash of purplish-gold light shot through the air and stopped next to Biefren. The Zenithal Roc Matron stepped out of the light the next instant.

She took a glance in James’ direction. Then, she turned to look at Biefren, whose hair had all turned gray.

Tears brimmed in her eyes as the Zenithal Roc Matron noticed how Biefren’s form was slowly fading away.

“Don’t cry.” Biefren smiled lovingly. “This is just my fate. Also, I have to do this as the leader of the spirit beasts.” “He stopped you! He even made a promise!”

The Zenithal Roc Matron sobbed, “I could tell that he wasn’t lying. He knows of a way to change your fate!” “Mortals can’t change something that’s predestined,” Biefren said calmly, “I just hope that the next leader of the spirit beasts won’t have to face the same fate as me.” “You’re too stubborn.” The Zenithal Roc Matron snapped, “There’s another way! Why would you-“

Before she could finish, Biefren raised his hand and put up a soundproof formation around them.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6399-“Listen to me.” Biefren began in a soft voice, “I didn’t do this on impulse. This is for you, our children, and all spirit beasts.

“James is a trustworthy man. That is why I am willing to give up my life in exchange for his protection over our kind.”

The Zenithal Roc Matron argued, “If we enter the Forladdt Land, we can still “It’s not that simple. We were destined to be other cultivators’ training resources.” Biefren cut her off.

“Do you really think we can change our fate so easily if we just learn how to assume the human form and feel human emotions?

“James is a kind-hearted man. He was willing to give up learning the Chaos Yin Yang Eyes to save our lives.

“However, do you think all of the Ying World’s cultivators will agree with his stance? You mustn’t forget. The Chosen One is also their one last hope.

“If James won’t do it, Yukha will come for US instead. Even if we managed to ward off Yukha’s attacks, could we hold up against the Yin Ancestral God, Hador’s attack?”

The Zenithal Roc Matron heaved a deep breath. “So, we’re doomed for death anyhow?” “There’s no helping it.” Biefren shook his head. “After all, James has to master the peak of Marciais Combat Form. Only then could he fight for the Ying World.

“Unfortunately, the Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes are one of the basic skills required to reach the peak of Marciais Combat Form.

“If James gave up on it to save US, he would never be able to achieve his purpose. He doesn’t have a choice either.”

Biefren sighed softly. “Even though I couldn’t avoid death, I could still choose how to die and who should make the sacrifice.”

He reached out and wiped away the tears from the Zenithal Roc Matron’s cheek. “I offered my core to help the Chosen One.

“With his sense of righteousness, James will make sure that the spirit beasts and our family would no longer face oppression. This is the best way. We can protect everyone by sacrificing one person.” Biefren’s expression hardened at that moment. “Remember my words. Don’t resent James.

“Instead, you should help him get rid of all the biased and unfair rules.

Frankly, James is also working hard toward achieving that goal.” “You met him for the first time today, yet you trust him that much?!” The Zenithal Roc Matron asked.

“I know him well enough in that short amount of time.” Biefren chuckled.

“He’s not exactly aiming to achieve the Daeclon Rank. Instead, James got here today because of his wife.

“He’s shown US grit and persistence that can’t be easily described by mere words.”

Biefren frowned slightly. “The person I worry the most about is our son. He can get so stubborn, and you play a big part in making him that way.

“You need to talk to him and help him understand. I don’t need him to become the next Imperial Lord of the spirit beasts. I just hope that he won’t see the Chosen One as his enemy.”

At that point, Biefren’s figure had mostly faded away. It seemed like he would disappear at any moment.

The Zenithal Roc Matron could feel her heart bleed as she looked at Biefren.

She understood now that her husband was using the wisest and most proper way to preserve the spirit beasts’ dignity. Biefren was offering his life in exchange for a chance to change their fates.

Just then, Biefren undid the soundproof formation.

He directed his gaze at James, who was still basked in the purplish-black light.

“Goodbye, James. It has been my greatest privilege to meet you. I have no more regrets.”

James called out desperately, “Mr. Biefren!”

Biefren’s body shattered at that moment. The broken fragments slowly drifted away with the wind.

As soon as it happened, the Zenithal Roc Matron let out a sorrowful cry and fell to her knees.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6400-Coincidentally, James had finished absorbing the purplish-black lights. He teleported and re-emerged in the spot where Biefren stood earlier.

Then, James quickly unleashed a black and white energy that extended toward the sky. The energy caught all of Biefren’s broken body fragments swept away by the wind.

Just then, countless purplish-gold sparks appeared in the air. Those sparks started flying away swiftly in different directions.

James furrowed his brows. He immediately performed the Dawnblaze Form and the Terrastride Step to catch up to the purplish-gold sparks.

Unfortunately, the sparks seemed to be traveling at a faster speed than James had expected.

He swiftly took six steps, halting time and the sparks’ movement. Then, James collected all the purplish-gold sparks by performing the Dawnblaze Form.

The Zenithal Roc Matron had a look of bewilderment on her face as she watched James move across the sky for the sparks.

When James was eventually done and reappeared before her, the Zenithal Roc Matron sighed softly and got down on one knee.

“What are you doing?” James’ brows arched.

“Greetings to the Imperial Lord.” The Zenithal Roc Matron said respectfully, “I would like to implore my lord to store all of the spirit beasts with you.” After a brief pause, James recalled how Biefren had placed the Zertec Pearl in his body.

He lightly waved his hand and released the Zertec Pearl from his body.

The pearl swelled in the air and released a fiery red energy, which extended to the surrounding area.

The energy traveled toward all the spirit beasts, who had been petrified, and pulled them into the pearl.

After every beast was moved into the Zertec Pearl, the Zenithal Roc Matron bowed deeply to James. Then, she got to her feet.

James let out a sigh. "You didn't have to do that. Also, about Mr. Biefren..." "It is just a fate we have to accept." The Zenithal Roc Matron interrupted him, "He hoped that you could help US change our fate.

"To help lead US to a better future, whereby we can enjoy equal rights for our cultivation."

James paused and looked down. He opened up his palm and revealed the sparks he managed to gather.

"I will try my best to fulfill Mr. Biefren's final wishes."

The Zenithal Roc Matron felt reassured upon hearing his words.

Just then, Yukha and Xyrll Phoenix teleported toward them. Yrian could be seen following closely behind the pair.

When the three of them stopped near James, the latter did not bother offering a greeting. Instead, James fixed Yukha with an icy gaze.

Yrian cleared his throat awkwardly and said, "You should do what you must now that things have turned out like this. Don't beat yourself up for Biefren's decision."

James ignored him. His gaze fell on the Xyrll Phoenix next. "Come with me.

I..." "My Lord." The Zenithal Roc Matron began abruptly, "Could you allow me to speak with my son first? Would it be..." "Sure." James nodded.

The Zenithal Roc Matron lifted her hand. She and the Xyrll Phoenix vanished from their spots instantly.

Yrian went up to James and said in a low voice, "This time, Yukha isn't really involved in..."

Before he could finish, Quasar Light flashed across James' eyes. Then, James performed the Dawnblaze Form and rushed toward Yukha.

James moved so quickly that even Yukha failed to dodge his attack.

James landed a punch on Yukha's shoulder and sent her flying in the air.

Yrian quickly called out, "Chosen One, you can't..."

James turned around and focused his gaze on Yrian. The colorful lights shining in his eyes halted Yrian in his tracks.

Yrian was in a state of shock. He could feel his soul being probed and examined. Yet, he could not do anything to stop it.

He did not expect that James could demonstrate this level of power although he had just mastered the Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes.

A short while later, James turned his gaze away and got into a seated position.

Yrian noticed he could finally move. He walked over to James again. "I wasn't involved in it. You believe me now, right?"

James ignored him yet again. He turned his attention to the Chaos Yin- Yang Eyes, the new skill he had picked up.

Since Biefren had sacrificed himself to help James learn the skill, James thought that this particular skill was extra precious.

Also, the Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes was mostly complete after James absorbed the purplish-black energy just now.

James managed to learn almost everything about Yrian when he examined Yrian's soul earlier.

Yrian had reached the peak of Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation and the Third Marciais Combat Form.

As the Zvecha Dragon, Yrian possessed noble blood and various talents.

All in all, Yrian had above Eight-Star Combat Power.

Furthermore, Yrian had mastered thirty-six deadly and destructive signature skills.

After learning this information, James realized he would stand no chance against Yrian in a full-on battle. During their previous battle, Yrian had probably used only thirty percent of his full powers.

Still, James managed to confirm that one could find out about another person's cultivation, thoughts, origin, and the signature skills they mastered in just four seconds by using the Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes.

If it were not for Biefren, James would not have been able to master the Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes so easily.

Therefore, James decided to honor his words and watch over Biefren's family as Biefren had requested.

On top of that, James wanted to find out what part did Yukha play in this awful incident.

Eventually, James opened his eyes. He could see Yrian pacing back and forth anxiously before him.

"She ran away?" James asked.

"You mean Yukha?" Yrian looked at James "Actually... She did all this to help you." "I don't like it." James shook his head. "Even if she's doing it for my sake."

"So?" Yrian stared at James with an intense gaze. "You can't possibly plan to kill Yukha to get revenge for Biefren?!"