

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6416-“You’ve been wise all your life, so why are you being reckless now?” Hador said, then summoned his Marciais Power to surround James.

At that moment, Dark Thea suddenly moved.

An overwhelming evil power burst out from her body, manifesting into numerous purple-pink light rays and charged at James.

Sensing the danger, James immediately cast the Dawnblaze Form and soared into the sky.

The purple-pink light rays clashed with the Marciais Power, causing a loud explosion.

James, who had already dodged into the distance, was shocked by the sight. He never expected Thea not to recognize him. Moreover, her powers were potent and violent.

Before he could think about his next step, Dark Thea had rushed toward him.

Hador shouted hurriedly, “Be careful, James. She’s trying to devour you.”

James did not dodge but instead showed a determined expression.

“Move!” Hador shouted and sped over.

The evil power swept toward him rapidly and gradually permeated the area. At that moment, James felt an overwhelming suppression.

The Dark Heavenly Path Power instantly imprisoned everything in the area. Even Hador was blocked out from it.

The next moment, thousands of illusory hands burst out from Thea and grabbed James.

“Are you serious?” James frowned and immediately cast the Dawnblaze Form to disappear from the spot again.

Dark Thea's attacks missed the target. She quickly turned around but collided with James, who was already behind her.

James had already prepared the memory inscription and quickly thrust it at Dark Thea's forehead. However, she reached out and knocked him away.

"I was reckless," James exclaimed as he was sent flying tens of thousands of light-years away. When he stabilized himself, he spat out a mouthful of blood.

James lowered his head and saw a purple-pink palm print on his Ultimate Golden Body. He was surprised Dark Thea was so powerful. It seemed that he would have to risk his life to return the memory inscription to her body.

At that moment, Dark Thea charged at him with a potent evil power again.

Hador quickly intercepted her.

Dark Thea and Hador cast Supernatural Powers, resulting in an intense battle. They were evenly matched, and the countless universes around them began to rotate rapidly. Their raging powers destroyed several planets.

The shock waves caused by their confrontation would wipe out ordinary living beings. As it spread throughout the universes, many areas were destroyed.

Hador used a mysterious Supernatural Power to attack at various speeds. Faced with Dark Thea's attacks, he was able to neutralize them. However, he could not get close to her.

Dark Thea was like a ferocious beast, and her power was explosive.

James clenched his fist while he watched them fight.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6417-James knew it was the only chance to help Dark Thea recover her memories. Now that Hador was helping him, the chances of succeeding had increased. Therefore, he was willing to risk his life to return the memory inscriptions to her body.

After making the decision, James cast the Terrastride Step and took six steps into the void. At that moment, the surroundings seemed to have stopped moving. Hador and Dark Thea, who were in the void, also stopped in shock.

James took advantage of the opportunity and flashed before Thea after casting the Dawnblaze Form. Then, he activated his Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes.

Colorful light rays shot out from James' eyes and penetrated into Thea's eyes. Immediately afterward, her Soul Energy Ball was drawn out.

Without hesitation, James took out the memory inscription and thrust it into the Soul Energy Ball.

As soon as the memory inscription penetrated Thea's Soul Energy Ball, she regained consciousness. Countless Dark Lotus immediately appeared from behind her and surrounded James.

James felt the Marciais and Historial Power in his body being drained. His Ultimate Golden Body erupted with a dazzling black-and-white light as well.

His soul felt excruciating pain, but he persisted, knowing it was his last chance. She would regain her memories as long as the memory inscription completely entered her Soul Energy Ball. He was willing to lose his cultivation base and his life for it.

"Presumptuous!" Dark Thea shouted, clenched her fists, and struck James' Ultimate Golden Body.

James spat out blood, and cracks began to form throughout his body. Even so, he refused to move and continued to force the memory inscription into her Soul Energy Ball.

"Die!" Dark Thea roared, unleashing tens of thousands of attacks at him.

James could no longer withstand it. The black-and-white light rays emitting from his body grew brighter, and he immediately broke free from the Dark Lotuses' entanglement. The attacks knocked him away, but he still managed to give the memory inscription a final push into Dark Thea's Soul Energy Ball.

"James!" Hador shouted, then rushed over to catch him. Unfortunately, the force was too strong, and they were pushed hundreds of light-years away before finally coming to a stop.

"Why? Why go to such extents?" Hador said sorrowfully.

James was on the verge of death. His face was pale, and blood was dripping down his lips. Even so, he did not show his pain. Instead, he chuckled. "I did it, Sir! I did it!"

Hador sighed. "I told you I would help you find a way. Why did you—"

James said with a sorrowful smile, "She's my wife. It's my responsibility."

"You're so stubborn." After speaking, Hador looked at Dark Thea in shock.

A faint silvery-white light enveloped dark Thea. She no longer had a bloodthirsty rage and sat in the void like an elegant goddess. Most importantly, her evil power had subsided significantly, and she had regained her sanity.

'The Chosen One succeeded? He actually did it! His risky move prevented her from becoming corrupted. He saved her,' thought Hador.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6418-James suddenly coughed violently and vomited blood.

Hador anxiously placed his palm on James' back, infusing Marciais Powers to treat his wounds.

James' body trembled as the Marciais Power flowed through his body. Then, he spat out another mouthful of blood. He sat in a lotus position, and a black light surrounded his body.

His internal organs gradually began to heal. The righteous aura running wild in his body fused with the Chaos Essence in his Nirvana Golden Bones and started flowing through his meridians.

After a while, James opened his eyes and said, "I'd like to have some wine, Sir."

Hador was stunned by his words.

James added, "I'll need Chaos Absinthe to completely recover."

Hador sighed and waved his hand. Then, a jar of Chaos Absinthe appeared before James.

James eagerly opened the jar and poured it into his mouth.

Hador watched from behind him and clicked his tongue disapprovingly.

After James had consumed the entire jar of Chaos Absinthe, his whole body emitted a thick black mist, and he slowly rose into the sky. At that moment, his Chaos Essence had grown stronger.

“I was careless. It was an excuse to get a jar of Chaos Absinthe from me.”
Hador immediately realized he was bamboozled.

James slowly circulated within the black mist until he finally absorbed all of the Chaos Essence. Not only did he fully recover, but his cultivation rank had also increased. He opened his eyes and immediately used the Dawnblaze Form to appear before Thea.

When he saw Thea still wrapped inside a silver-white light, his brows furrowed.

Hador quickly appeared beside him and said, “Don’t touch her. It’ll take some time before she recovers her memories.”

James asked doubtfully, “These memories were hers to begin with. Why does she still need time to absorb them?”

Hador explained patiently, “It’s different now. She has already forsaken her emotions and desires. Her soul will struggle and filter out memories in order not to affect her Dark Heavenly Path Powers.”

James nodded after hearing the explanation. He thought Thea would readily accept the memories and never expect it to be such a troublesome process.

At that moment, he suddenly thought of something else.

He bowed to Hador, clasped his hands, and said, “I have a question, Sir. Please do enlighten me.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6419-Hador stared at James and said solemnly, “They are from the same entity and exist to balance each other. As for how to make a choice, it is up to you.”

James' brows furrowed tightly, and he was utterly confused.

Hador said calmly, "It's a long story. Simply put, she split into two because of Tai Chi's suppression. The Dark Heavenly Path ultimately inherited the Ying governor's memory and hatred. Meanwhile, the Light Heavenly Path had fallen under Tai Chi's control.

"Tai Chi took advantage of Franciscus and our desire for reconciliation. The current situation is a result of it.

"It's a life-and-death tribulation for the Ying governor. After her eighty-oneth reincarnation, Tai Chi suffered a backlash."

Hador paused and looked at James. After a while, he said, "You just need to remember, if you can reach the Daeclon Rank, defeat Tai Chi, and subvert the laws of Tai Chi, then it'll open up a new path for them.

"If you can't, the fusion of the Dark and Light Heavenly Path will be inevitable. The Dark and Light Heavenly Path's powers must merge to fight against Tai Chi."

James took a deep breath in shock.

Although Hador was being vague, James could understand the situation. Dark and Light Thea were separated from one entity because of Tai Chi's suppression and scheme.

As long as she takes control over the Light Heavenly Path, Dark Thea will not be able to compete against her even after mastering the Dark Heavenly Path Power. Dark Thea could only win if she could devour Light Thea and become the Ying governor again.

Tai Chi was incredibly insidious and cunning. Even so, she failed to account for a variable—James.

Therefore, she was doing everything possible to suppress him.

If James grew strong enough, Dark and Light Thea would have another choice of survival.

James was determined to work hard for his wife's sake.

After thinking about it, James looked at Hador and said, "If I learn the Xeme Supreme Sutra, can I compete with Tai Chi?"

Hador sighed and shook his head.

James asked hurriedly, "What else can I do?"

Hador said solemnly, "You'll also need to reach the Forth Marciais Combat Form. Even so, you'd only have a fifty-percent chance of winning."

James' eyes widened in shock and asked, "Fifty percent? Is Tai Chi really that strong? Clayton only has a Seven-Star Combat Power but managed to make Tai Chi vomit blood."

Seeing James' excitement, Hador smiled helplessly. "When Yegor and Herodias united against Tai Chi, they would have killed her if not for the Law of Paths."

Dark Thea's voice came beside them when he was about to speak. "The Tai Chi you've met is only her clone. With your current strength, you're not qualified to meet her."

After hearing these words, James looked at Dark Thea in shock.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6420-At that moment, Dark Thea's silvery-white glow had disappeared. Then, she regained her usual enchanting appearance, and her body emitted evil power. Fortunately, she no longer treated James and Hador with hostility. Even so, her attitude was cold toward them, as if trying to push them thousands of miles away.

James found it strange to see Dark Thea's change.

Dark Thea said coldly, "Tai Chi's name is Yehria Yrjo. She was one of the disciples under Tirta Thrude, along with Yegor and Herodias."

"However, Yehria has always been cunning. She stole Tirta's Wuinfinite Peal. After undergoing eighty- one tribulations, she cultivated an Ultimate Golden Body and reached the Daeclon Rank. Then, she merged her powers with Chaos Essence to obtain Tai Chi Power and gain the position of Tai Chi.

“In the early days of her reign, she did indeed think about her people and adhered to the laws of Tai Chi. She was fair and decent.”

Dark Thea stepped forward and said, “Unfortunately, in the Ying and Yang World, two powerhouses reached the Daeclon Rank simultaneously. Tai Chi felt her position being threatened and exposed her true colors.

“Hence, she used her authority to suppress all the living beings and set up obstacles to prevent more people from reaching the Daeclon Rank.

“As for those who had reached the Xaeclon Rank, she recruited as many as possible. Those who refused to submit to her were slaughtered.”

James gasped in shock. He never expected the current Tai Chi to have stolen the position. He finally understood why Yegor and Herodias seemed hostile toward her.

Hador suddenly stood up and said smilingly, “Now that you’re awake, you two should have time together. We’ll talk about the unhappy things later.”

He looked at James and said, “Once you’re done chatting, come to the forbidden area to see me.”

After speaking, Hador quickly disappeared from the spot.

James and Dark Thea were left alone. They looked at each other in silence, but they seemed to have thousands of words to say.

Ultimately, the two could only express their longings for each other through a hug.

James embraced her tightly and said, “I thought it would take longer. I’m happy we’re finally reunited.”

Dark Thea, on the other hand, seemed indifferent.

James let go of her, held her face in his hands, and said, “Why aren’t you saying anything, Honey?”

Dark Thea replied coldly, “I’m very happy.”

‘Happy? Is that the expression of someone happy?’ thought James. He suddenly felt anxious. Even though his wife regained her memories and was no longer aggressive toward him, she still felt distant and unfamiliar.

After thinking for a while, James suddenly came to a realization. His wife had already severed her emotions and desires. It was already a miracle she acknowledged him as her husband and allowed physical contact.

James let go of her and said sorrowfully, “I’m too incompetent. Otherwise…”

Before James could finish speaking, Dark Thea’s slender hands covered his mouth.

She looked into his eyes. Her eyes, which were devoid of emotions gradually showed gentleness.

Noticing her changes, James said happily, “Honey.”
