

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6456

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6456-Meanwhile, James was slowly rotating where he stood in the sea of stars.

The abundant amount of Marciais Power in his surroundings flowed rapidly toward James.

As James continued to absorb the powers, the black light he was emitting grew brighter with every passing minute.

Simultaneously, numerous planets and universes were carried along by the flow of the Marciais Power. They clumped together and formed a gigantic ring around James.

The ring rotated slowly as the fast-flowing Marciais Power came in from multiple directions.

After absorbing tremendous amounts of power, James looked like an almighty giant as his Ultimate Golden Body expanded by thousands of folds.

While things looked chaotic in that area, there was one tiny ball of light that remained still and almost unnoticeable.

It was Yukha.

When James started absorbing the Marciais Power quickly, she absorbed minute traces of the Marciais Power from a safe distance.

During that time, Yukha managed to move from the First Xaeclon Rank to the Second Xaeclon Rank. In addition, she even produced a second core in her body.

In other words, Yukha could still live even if she had to lose one core.

At some point, Yukha finally opened her eyes. However, she caught sight of something shocking.

Yianni had somehow appeared in the middle of the sea of stars as well.

With both hands lifted, Yianni directed all of the Marcials Power in their surroundings and his own powers toward James. His body was slowly becoming faded.

“Lord Yianni!” Yukha shouted as she got to her feet. “He’s planning to sacrifice himself?!”

Yukha tried to teleport toward Yianni. However, she was swiftly hurled backward by a powerful formation put up around the sea of stars.

“No... No!” Yukha called out anxiously, “Lord Yianni, you can’t...”

At that moment, Yianni’s spirit completely disintegrated and transformed into an immense amount of Marciais Power. Along with the powers from the sea of stars, all those powers were absorbed into James’ Ultimate Golden Body.

After Yianni’s spirit disintegrated, an energy ball glowing with black light was left hovering in the air.

The energy ball circled in the air as if it were not sure where to go.

Just then, a figure shining with a colorful light materialized in the distance and rushed toward the black energy ball.

“You must fuse with him even if you are not willing to!”

The colorful form blasted a terrifyingly powerful energy at the black energy ball, pushing it forcefully toward James.

James opened his eyes at that very moment. Simultaneously, the pressure in the space around him seemed to increase considerably.

James spotted the black energy ball, which radiated overwhelming Marcials Power, heading toward him almost instantly.

He flinched. ‘That’s...’ ‘Take it, Master! That’s the real fortune!’ James heard Lesia calling out to him.

The black energy ball entered James’ Ultimate Golden Body just then.

James could feel a tremendous amount of Marciais Power fill up his Ultimate Golden Body. The power even reached half of James' Golden Bones and his arm which was made from the Judgment Scythe.

The sudden influx of the Marciais Power caused a great pain deep in James' soul. He extended his arms and let out a sharp cry.

A few seconds later, James' gigantic Ultimate Golden Body started spinning quickly amid the rough waves of the sea of stars.

James looked just like a wild beast that had lost control.

Yukha was astonished as she watched what was happening to James from the planet where the Marciais Combat Form started.

Suddenly, she noticed how the planet she stood on was beginning to shrink. The powers contained in the planet were being sucked away.

Yukha hurriedly assumed her original form and flew into the air.

A few seconds later, the planet she stepped on just a while ago exploded.

Shortly afterward, the planets and universes that were stuck in the gigantic ring exploded one after another.

As for James, he had finished absorbing all the powers nearby. He assumed a seated position.

In the darkness, James' gigantic Ultimate Golden Body emitted a fascinating light which was a combination of the gray, black, and white colors.

His body was also surrounded by the Quasar Lightning, which gave James an air of sacredness.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6457-"That... That's the ultimate form of the Marciais Combat Form?" Yukha was filled with awe. She was nowhere close to James, but she could still feel the potency of the power contained in James' body.

It was as though James could destroy worlds with a simple swing of his hand.

Moreover, Yukha was much smaller than James' Ultimate Golden Body even in her original form. It almost felt like she was a small fish looking at a huge whale.

Just then, a colorful form materialized above Yukha and sat on her back.

"What the hell are you doing?" Yukha yelled furiously.

"You were lucky." Lesia snorted. "You reached the Second Xaeclon Rank just by absorbing the powers from the side."

Yukha could feel her anger flare up. "Was it your idea to have Lord Yianni sacrifice himself?" "Lord Yianni? Those from the Ying World are senseless." Lesia clicked her tongue. "He's merely a spirit of Yianni. His job is to sacrifice himself." Yukha subconsciously gasped.

If the man she met was just a spirit, Yukha could not help but wonder how strong would the real Lord Yianni be.

"Master spoke to you privately. I'm sure he's filled you in on the important matters."

Lesia continued monotonously, "Just do as he says, otherwise, I won't let you off generously as Master does."

Yukha was about to make a retort, but she spotted James shrinking rapidly.

When he had finally gotten back to the normal human size, James teleported and re-emerged before the ladies.

As he stood there, both Yukha and Lesia could feel an overwhelming Qrohm wash over them.

"Master, do something about your Qrohm! We might die because of it!" Lesia transmitted her voice to James.

James blinked. Then, he quickly suppressed his Qrohm.

Finally, it was peaceful again in that area.

With a short flash of blue light, Yukha assumed the human form again.

Yukha furrowed her brows as she scrutinized James' face. "What level of powers do you have now?" "I don't know." James shrugged. "I can feel that my body is full of power, though. I want to spar!"

James' eyes twinkled with excitement. "Right! I can ask Mr. Yianni to have a spar with me."

Yukha was rendered speechless by his response.

"He's gone." Lesia started, "He won't ever come back here."

James was surprised to hear that. "He... He hasn't taught me the Fourth Marciais Combat Form's fourth extreme. How come he's..."

James trailed off as he happened to activate the Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes at that moment.

He noticed that the space around him was desolate. Even the planet that was filled with an abundance of Marciais Power had vanished.

"What... What happened here?" James' eyes bulged with shock.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6458-Yukha and Lesia exchanged a glance. However, they were at a loss for words.

James had absorbed almost everything from his surroundings and caused all that destruction, yet he remembered nothing of it.

The most possible explanation was that James was in a state of unconsciousness. Therefore, he had no memory of what happened earlier.

Yianni was missing. The place of origin for the Marciais Combat Form had vanished.

Even the stars and universes around them had disappeared.

James stared at the view before him in disbelief.

Just then, Lesia moved closer to James. She asked, "Can you sense the Marcials Soul Pearl in your Golden Bones?"

James paused and shook his head. "I haven't examined my body." "Try checking it now," Lesia prodded.

James channeled his Zen into the Golden Bones. Soon enough, he found a bead shining with black light slowly rotating somewhere in the left part of the Golden Bones.

The bead was overflowing with the Marciais Power. It felt as though James could use the bead to convert any other power in the world for his use.

Also, James realized that he could change the shape of the bead by using his Zen.

James was delighted. "I can sense it. It's a black pearl." "Good." Lesia gave a slight nod. "Master, we are done with things here. We should leave now."

James' brows lifted. "Mr. Yianni..." "The Yianni you met was just a spirit the real person had left behind." Lesia explained, "His duty was to help you master the peak of the Marciais Combat Form.

"He's returned to his main body after completing the task. You need to find the real Yianni if you want to meet his spirit again."

Not knowing that it was a white lie, James drew a long breath.

Whether that was the real Yianni or his spirit, James had lost another competent cultivator who could be a good sparring partner.

James would have no choice but to visit Hador to spar.

Still, James found it regretful that Yianni's spirit had left before he could thank him personally for the help.

It was hard to predict how James would feel if he were to find out he had devoured Yianni's spirit whom he had so much respect for.

After a moment's consideration, James sighed. "Let's go, then."

He swiftly transferred Lesia and Yukha into his storage treasure. Then, James performed the Terrastride Step and Dawnblaze Form, disappearing from his spot instantly.

Back in the Ying World, Hador was listening to Yrian's reports inside the Zvecha Temple.

The Ying World was facing a huge crisis after Lonnie was captured.

With that as an excuse, the Yang governor destroyed Yin's Void's mysterious formation with the help of the three Symbols, the White Tiger, the Vermilion Bird, and the Black Tortoise.

They conquered the Dark World and surrounded the Jaert Region located at the Ying World's exit.

For the last few entrapochs, countless Ying World's cultivators had gone to battle. Many lives were lost. Unfortunately, none of their attempts to break through the enemy line had succeeded.

Yrian was the only Seven-Star Combat Power cultivator left in the Ying World. Taotie had lost consciousness due to his severe injuries.

There were also fewer than ten active Six-Star Combat Power cultivators after Queena was badly wounded.

Only Clayton and Lucille, a new Seven-Star Combat Power cultivator, were still trying hard to ward off their enemies at the Jaert Region.

However, if they could not come up with a better strategy, it would only be a matter of time until the Yang governor's armies succeeded in conquering the Ying World.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6459-A deep frown drew Hador's brows together. He got up from his seat. "Can you predict when they will initiate an all-out attack?"

Yrian let out a sigh. "It doesn't matter when they do that. With our current manpower, we won't be able to hold up against their attacks. Unless..."
"Unless the Chosen One finishes his training and gets here in time." Hador cut him off. “However, we can’t possibly put all our hopes on the Chosen One alone?” “Sir Hador, James is not just a superior cultivator.” Yrian replied, “He has Yukha, an Eight-Star Combat Power cultivator, with him.

“Moreover, he has an army of spirit beasts with him. They will make a strong army for the Ying World.”

After listening to Yrian’s words, Hador heaved a deep breath and looked out of the Zvecha Temple.

He knew very well what it meant if James could not reach here in time.

They would not be able to prevent the annihilation of the Ying World.

James was their last hope now.

At that moment, a figure zoomed in through the door and stopped before the men.

It was Lucille.

“Lucille, what’s the situation now?” Yrian asked.

“We managed to prevent another attempt to advance.” Lucille’s clothes were drenched in blood. “However, it was clear they were trying to sound us out this time.

‘The White Tiger, the Vermilion Bird, and the Black Tortoise were not leading their troops. Even the Yang governor was not there. I think they might be up to something else.”

Yrian turned his eyes to Hador. “Sir Hador, do we have another alternative plan?” “The Yang governor has entered the Sixth Xaeclon Rank. He is now a formidable enemy.” Hador responded, “He managed to break the mysterious formation of the Yin’s Void.

“There’s a good chance he can also destroy the dark formation produced by us from the Ying World.” Hador raised his hand and conjured a map in the air. “Look here. There are three exits in the Ying World. One is in the Jaert

Region. The second exit is in the Demon Dungeon, and the last is in the Fakri Region.

‘The Demon Dungeon is under Skynet’s control. The Yang governor probably won’t hastily attempt to attack Tirta’s exotic space.

‘The only places left are the Jaert Region and the Fakri Region. Our men are mostly stationed in the Jaert Region.’

Hador looked at Yrian and Lucille. “If they come in from the Fakri Region...”

A loud voice came from outside the Zvecha Temple at that very moment. ” I have urgent news! Sir Hador! Grand Chancellor! The enemy has infiltrated the Third Heaven!”

Upon hearing the news, Yrian and Lucille looked at Hador with concerned looks on their faces.

“As expected, they are here.” Hador’s eyes narrowed. “In that case, we should get ready for battle. The people of the Ying World won’t go down without a fight.”

Hador raised his hand.

In a flash, a black sword emitting impressive amounts of Marciais Power appeared in Hador’s grip.

Yrian and Lucille conjured their weapons too.

Just then, a rough voice rang out above the Zvecha Temple. “Hador! Yrian! Come and face your death! You’ve only sent weaklings to US. Yet, you call yourselves the Marciais Combat Form fighters?”

Despite hearing those taunts, Hador remained calm. He, Yrian, and Lucille teleported out of the Zvecha Temple and shot up into the air.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6460-The Yang governor, the White Tiger, the Vermilion Bird, and the Black Tortoise came face to face with the Ying World’s army in the air at the Third Heaven.

With their advanced level of powers, the Yang governor's group easily massacred countless Ying World's fighters with each of their attacks.

Still, the Marciais Combat Form fighters from the Ying World showed no signs of stopping their attacks. They bravely rushed toward their enemies even though they knew it was pointless.

That was the level of determination they had.

The Ying World was their home, the only place they could live peacefully.

The people here had no choice but to fight.

Therefore, hundreds of millions of the Ying World's fighters continued to charge at the Yang governor's group.

As more and more injured or perished members fell from the sky, the wounded Taotie, Queena, and other Six-Star Combat Power cultivators shot up into the air.

"Brothers and sisters' The fate of the Ying World depends on us! Charge!"
"The people of the Ying World will never surrender! Charge!" "We are the Marciais Combat Form fighters!" "Let's kill that darn Yang governor!"

The sounds of people shouting and beasts growling reverberated in the air. Taotie and Queena led their men as they sent deadly blasts of their powers at the Yang governor and the three Symbols nonstop.

The Yang governor kept his hands on his back as he levitated in the air.

A scornful smile hung on his face as he watched the Ying World's beings rush toward him. "I'll grant it since all of you seem to have a death wish. White Tiger!"

Standing behind him, the White Tiger transformed into a gigantic white tiger.

As the tiger let out a deafening roar, countless sonic light swords formed from the Historial Power shot out of its mouth.

Hundreds of thousands of Ying World's fighters were annihilated by the White Tiger's attack.

As another group of cultivators charged forward, the Vermilion Bird aimed its attack at them this time.

The Vermilion Bird spread out its wings. In a flash, its feathers, which were as sharp as sword edges, shot toward the Ying World's fighters, causing innumerable casualties.

Still, more fighters from the Ying World tried to surround the Yang governor's group.

This time, those men brought one of Ying World's top-grade treasures, the Queralt Shield. All of them channeled their powers into the shield and rushed toward their target together.

"A bunch of halfwits!" The Yang governor bellowed.

He pushed his palm forward and blasted the Historial Power.

Countless palms formed in the air from his powers. Those palms slammed down on the Queralt Shield and shattered it instantly.

At that very moment, more than thirty Six-Star Combat Power cultivators flew toward the Yang governor's group.

They were all wounded and disheveled. Still, those men managed to slip into the area between the three Symbols.

Then, they immediately chose to blow themselves up.

The Marcials Power spread out to the surrounding area as the explosions set off.

Even the three Symbols were injured during this round of attack. Looks of bewilderment and disbelief were clear on their faces.

Meanwhile, Taotie assumed his original form despite the risk of incurring destructive tribulations. He shot toward the Yang governor and began attacking him.

Queena quickly joined in to help Taotie.

However, the Yang governor was a Sixth Xaeclon Rank cultivator. His powers and cultivation were far more superior to that of Taotie's and Queena's.

After thousands of exchanges, Taotie's injuries became even more severe, and the Yang governor even managed to get on top of him.

It was worse for Queena. She was forced to revert to her original form.

Eventually, the Yang governor caught her by her feet. Then, he began plucking off Queena's feathers.

Queena's cries could be heard even from afar.
