

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6461-While the Ying World's living beings engaged in an intense battle, an overwhelming Marciais Power swept through the void. In a short moment, the group charging in the forefront was dragged back.

A resounding roar echoed as the green bull unleashed a mighty cry, summoning Marciais Power from all directions. Within moments, a dense black mass of energy gathered and enveloped the Third Heaven of the Ying World.

Engulfed by the dark miasma, the Yang governor's subordinates, the Vermilion Bird, White Tiger, and Black Tortoise brought forth were subdued and spewed blood as they suffered severe injuries.

Only the Yang governor harnessed his Six-Star Combat Power and maintained his balance atop Taotie. He spread his hands and unleashed his compelling Tai Chi Power to repel the Marciais Power surrounding him.

The area abruptly fell into a fleeting period of tranquility, akin to the calm before a storm.

The different powerhouses in the sky quickly regrouped into their formations, with the Yang governor and the Three Symbols on one side and the Ying World's troops on the other.

To the Yang governor's party, the Ying World's vast army was insignificant ants. However, Hador, who was mounted on his green bull, and the crimson dragon looming above them made them wary.

He glanced at them, then suddenly thrust his palm at Queena. However, he did not release his other hand's grip on her, pulling out a handful of feathers as she was knocked away.

Yrian, now in his true form, immediately swung his tail and caught Queena. Then, he brought her back to their formation.

The Yang governor, who was forcefully mounting Taotie, said disdainfully, "Oh? Hador, Yrian? Have you two finally decided to stop hiding? Now that I think about it, there's nowhere left to hide since I've already reached your lair, huh?"

Hador smiled calmly and said, "I thought Yehria would've taught you how to oblige to rules by now, but it seems you still can't control your mouth."

The Yang governor lifted his head and chuckled with condescension. His laughter was laced with mockery, contempt, and arrogance. From his standpoint, the powerhouses that could put up a fight were already present. Even so, their strongest, Hador, was only at the Third Xaeclon Rank and far from his stature. The rest of the opponents posed no threat against him.

Yrian said, "As Yehria's slave, you're doing an outstanding job. You finally can act arrogantly after she gave you a few treats."

The Yang governor frowned, pointed at Yrian, and said, "How dare you humiliate me?"

Yrian sneered, "Do I even need to? From the moment you surrendered to Tai Chi's control, you've become a shame to all worlds and humankind."

The Yang governor was infuriated. Just when he was about to begin his massacre, he heard Hador's boisterous voice from the void. "So what if you're at the Sixth Xaeclon Rank? That's nothing special. As long as I'm in the Ying World, you can't do as you please."

The Yang governor's face twisted in anger but quickly turned into a sarcastic smile. He sneered, "In that case, I'll see how you will prevent me from destroying the Ying World."

After speaking, he waved his hand and summoned a dazzling lightsaber made from Historial Power. Its radiance caused the world's colors to shift and the ground to tremble.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6462-The powerful force morphed into swathes of violent winds sweeping all directions. The Ying World's troops exploded one after another under the oppressive force, resulting in a bloody and tragic scene.

Hador frowned and raised his hand to summon an ink brush that contained compelling Marciais Power. Faced with the immense Historial Power sweeping toward him at breakneck speed, he calmly raised the ink brush and inscribed the word "Marciais" in the void.

The word quickly duplicated throughout the sky, forming a light barrier around the Ying World's living beings.

The Yang governor smiled and said sarcastically, "Yianni's Magic Brush? I didn't expect the Ying World to have acquired such an exceptional treasure. I'm surprised to be able to see it here. However, the Ying World is doomed. Even if Yianni showed up today, its fate won't be changed."

After speaking, he waved the Historial Sword in his hand. Countless Sword Lights instantly filled the sky and charged at Hador.

Hador stood his ground and did not even try to evade the attack. With a fluid motion of his hands, he wrote a few words in the void using the Magic Brush. These words materialized into spectral fists and legs throughout the sky, each brimming with Marciais Power.

The Historial Power clashed straight into the spectral fists and legs, causing a loud rumbling sound. The shock waves from the impact spread out, destroying almost everything in the Ying World.

Those protected by the light barrier could not resist the permeating force and were also knocked into the distance.

The battle raged between such formidable cultivators, rendering those with a Six-Star Combat Power and lower utterly powerless. Even individuals with a Seven-Star Combat Power could not intervene in the conflict.

High above Hador's head, Yrian saw an opportunity. His colossal red body swept through the sky as he let out a thunderous roar, unleashing fiery flames to open a path through the Historial Power. Then, he transformed into a human form and dashed toward the Yang governor with a black sword.

The sword in his hand emitted a glow as he got close, and a clone emerged from his body to interrupt the Yang governor's second attack. Following up, he urged all his strength to engage in a close-quarter battle.

Hador quickly used the chance to gather the seriously injured beings and settle them down. Then, he returned to the battlefield.

Faced against the Yang governor, the strength of a powerhouse at the Third Xaexlon Rank and another with an Eight-Star Combat Power could only barely resist. They were clearly at a disadvantage in the battle.

Hador sacrificed several spiritual Tools in the Ying World to block off the Yang governor's attacks. Even so, it was only enough to hold him back for a while, and he couldn't find a chance to get close enough.

Meanwhile, the White Tiger, Vermilion Bird, and Black Tortoise were severely injured after Lucille ensnared them. At that moment, they were also barely surviving.

While the war raged on in the Ying World's Third Heaven, the Jaert Region remained peaceful.

Clayton reclined in a chair, a gourd of wine cradled in his hand as he took swig after swig, exuding an air of complete ease. Standing in front of him was Stephen and Xzavion.

Although the two suppressed their cultivation ranks after James ordered them to return to the Dark World, they were the strongest individuals there.

They had also met with Clayton when they ventured into the Zephyria World. Naturally, he took a liking to them and decided to train them. At that moment, the two had already reached a Four-Star Combat Power.

Xzaion looked at Clayton with a frown and asked, "Don't you find this strange?"

Stephen agreed, saying, "It feels really bizarre. Their overall strength must be much stronger than ours, and they should have already infiltrated the Jaert Region by now, yet we've repelled hundreds of their attacks. Their true powerhouses have not shown up yet."

Clayton took another sip of his wine before responding calmly, "Their stronger powerhouses are attacking the Third Heaven, hence why it's still peaceful here."

Stephen and Xzavion were shocked by the answer.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6463-Xzavion said hurriedly, "Wait, what? If you're already aware, shouldn't we go help?" "Yeah? If they seize control, it could spell total destruction for the Ying World." Stephen added hastily.

Clayton silently drank his wine, saying nothing in response.

At that moment, a blurred figure flashed over and morphed into a beautiful woman.

Leuko said, "You're too naive. With our strength, we'd not be of any help and would just be obliterated into nothingness."

When Leuko appeared, Stephen was startled and quickly sought refuge behind Clayton.

However, Xzavion addressed her directly, "Do you intend to just watch the Ying World go down?"

Leuko glanced at Stephen dissatisfiedly first before responding, "The Ying World won't necessarily be destroyed. We still have three options to save it."

Xzavion's eyes lit up with anticipation as he asked, "What are they? Quick, tell me."

Leuko said slowly, "The first option is to wait for the Chosen One. Once he leaves seclusion, we'll have a chance. Unfortunately, the likelihood is slim, and it's somewhat foolish."

Xzavion fell silent.

Stephen sneered, "Why are you even bringing it up if it's foolish?"

Leuko shot him a glare, causing him to shrink behind Clayton in fear. "The second option is to relocate, but Clayton must help."

Xavion looked at Clayton doubtfully and asked, "How do we relocate?"

Leuko crossed her arms, walked over slowly, and said, "Clayton will have to lead the Ying World's elites out of the Yin's void in search of a new home in the Genesis World. By doing this, we can preserve the Ying World's strength."

Xzavion questioned, "The Genesis Worlds are fragments of the Tai Chi World. Wouldn't we be walking into our graves?"

Leuko replied coldly, "Then we'll have to lay low and avoid drawing any attention. We'll have to endure the humiliation and engrave it in our minds. When the time comes..."

Stephen interrupted, saying, "That's enough. The Ying World's seniors would never agree. They'd rather die in battle than live being wary of Tai Chi's schemes." "Fine." Suddenly, Leuko appeared beside Stephen. Then, she said, "The last option will be up to US."

Stephen asked in astonishment, "Us? What can we do?"

Leuko stared at him and replied, "We self-destruct. I'm born from Hongrome Essence, and you're from Chaos Essence. If we merge, we can activate the Chaos Hongrome Formation hidden in the Ying World.

"The formation has a suppressive effect. Even though the Yang governor is at the Sixth Xaeclon Rank, it can suppress him to the Fourth Xaeclon Rank. His Three Symbols' strength will also drop below the Xaeclon Rank.

"The Ying World's powerhouses use Marcial's Power. Hence, they won't be affected. With the strength of the Great Councilor and Sir Hador, they should be able to put up a fight.

"At the very least, we'll be able to buy enough time until the Chosen One leaves seclusion and brings forth hope for the Ying World's survival."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6464-Stephen was shocked upon hearing Leuko's final suggestion. He had never imagined himself playing such a significant role one day. He felt that if the method could effectively stall enough time until James came to save the day, then it would undoubtedly be worth it.

"Are you sure it'll work?" After concluding, he raised his head and looked into Leuko.

Leuko looked at Stephen, asking, "Why would I risk my life if I wasn't sure?"

Ultimately, it's up to you to decide. Are you down for it?"

Stephen said determinedly, "If it's feasible, then it's a definite yes from me.

I have complete faith that James will ensure our sacrifices aren't in vain."

Xzavion hurriedly objected, "No! You both will die and might lose the chance to be reincarnated."

Leuko abruptly turned around and retorted, "If the Ying World is destroyed, do you honestly believe the Yang governor will spare US? Even if he refrains from killing US outright, he'll likely imprison and humiliate US. Lord Hadad, the founder of the Marcial Combat Form, and the entirety of the Ying World will endure a shame that can never be washed away." She paused, took a deep breath, and said, "Why do you think we retreated to the Yin's Void rather than submit to Tai Chi? It's because of our firm will and integrity.

"If we don't even have that much resolution, then the Ying World won't have any hope left. We'd be like those weaklings in the Yang World, at the mercy of others."

Stephen stepped forward and said firmly, "Enough. The Dark World and Ying World are one. That means I'm also from the Ying World. Let's do it.

We'll merge and sacrifice ourselves. I won't regret it nor hold any grudge."

Leuko looked at him, her beautiful eyes glistening with reassurance.

Immediately afterward, she transformed into a qilin and soared into the sky.

Stephen immediately leaped into the air and chased after her.

“Stephen!!!” Xzavion cried out, his hand extending but finding only emptiness.

He frantically turned to Clayton, who had been silent, and asked, “Is there really no other way?”

Clayton slowly took another sip of his wine and replied, “If the Chaos Hongrome Formation is activated, I have confidence in beating the Three Symbols.”

Xzavion was quiet as he thought to himself, “That wasn’t my question. I asked if there was any other way. He sure is rude.”

Despite grumbling in his heart, Xzavion understood Clayton’s answer meant he agreed the two had to sacrifice and activate the Chaos Hongrome Formation.

Leuko roared, unleashing a radiant energy ball from her mouth, which hurtled toward Stephen.

Stephen extended his hand and grabbed the energy ball, triggering blazing black flames to rise from beneath his feet and engulf his entire body.

Xzavion shouted desperately, “No! Stephen! Just wait a little longer! Maybe James is already about to leave seclusion!”

Stephen smiled calmly in the flames and answered, “Our sacrifice will impact the fate of the Ying World’s survival. After this, the Yang governor will be suppressed to the Fourth Xaeclon Rank. So when James leaves seclusion, he has a better chance of winning. It’s worth it.

“Please tell him I’m proud to have such an exceptional master and am honored to have become his disciple. Together, we’ve braved countless obstacles. I have no regrets.”

After speaking, the blazing black flames intensified and completely enveloped him.

“Stephen!” Xzavion shouted in despair and rushed forward but was stopped by Clayton.

Meanwhile, Leuko was also slowly consumed by the flames, causing her body to gradually shrink in size.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6465-“I was right about you. I’m proud to have an upright person like you as my fiance, Stephen. It’s a pity we didn’t get married, but I’m glad we’re together at the end of our lives.”

After speaking, Leuko opened her mouth and devoured Stephen. As she shrunk rapidly, a dazzling black-and-white light bloomed from her body and permeated the Ying World.

As the black-and-white light swept through the void, countless dormant small formations on the Ying World’s barriers suddenly emitted shimmering black-and-white light. The light rays rose into the sky, then extended along the left and right edges of the Ying World, presenting a spectacular sight.

Xzavion collapsed to the ground with tears streaming down his face.

Clayton heaved a deep sigh, slowly closed his eyes, and muttered, “Do you know why I’m willing to side with the Ying World?”

Xzavion’s face darkened. He was already heartbroken by Stephen’s death and could not be bothered to answer the question.

Unbothered by Xzavion’s disinterest, Clayton said, “Because the Ying World’s people show strong resolutions to achieve their dreams.”

Meanwhile, in the Ying World’s Third Heaven, Hador and Yrian combined their efforts to fend off the assaults from the Yang governor. However, they struggled to stand their ground and desperately attempted to prolong the battle as much as possible.

Two loud booms erupted in the void as the Yang governor landed two attacks on Yrian and Hador. The two spat out blood and teetered, barely managing to balance themselves.

The Yang governor smiled coldly, "It's time to end this. Goodbye, Ying World. I'd like to see where else James can hide." After speaking, he unleashed immense Historical Power.

Suddenly, black-and-white lights emerged from numerous small formations and ascended into the sky, converging into one.

The Yang governor's face arrogant grin was instantly replaced by shock, then disbelief after witnessing the spectacle.

"The Chaos Hongrome Formation? This is impossible! It was supposed to be gone a long time ago! How could it still be activated?"

Hador and Yrian were startled by the sight, immediately feeling hopeful after realizing the Chaos Hongrome Formation had been activated.

Lucille, on the other hand, was severely injured by the Three Symbols. Just when the battle's outcome was about to be decided, the black-and-white lights interrupted them.

The White Tiger exclaimed, "The Chaos Hongrome Formation?"

Shocked, Vermilion Bird stuttered, i-Impossible!"

The Black Tortoise was petrified by the sight.

Lucille endured the excruciating pain in her body and slowly stood up in shock.

The next moment, the black-and-white light soared into the sky and triggered an influx of countless mysterious energies. The White Tiger, Vermilion Bird, and Black Tortoise were instantly engulfed, eliciting desolate screams as potent forces erupted from their bodies.

Lucille instantly attempted to evade but was enveloped by the pervasive power. She awaited her demise but, moments later, was surprised to find her injuries being treated. She raised her hands in joy and cheered, "I-Is it him?"
