

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6548

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6548-After Matias, Princess Lumia, and Wayra acquired their respective sect's sacred treasures, they quickly settled their forces down within the area separating them from the Genesis Word, with the help of their fathers.

The flying spirit beasts gathered on Yukha's side also settled into the Kunyunt Genesis World.

Meanwhile, James stood above the Sky Bridge. With his hands behind his back, he looked toward the Genesis Worlds, slightly frustrated. He had already caused such a huge commotion, but Tai Chi had not reacted. Even if Yegor and Herodias were holding her back, she still had many other major forces under her command. Yet, for some reason, Xachary, Gladwin, Hetsema, and Yaquis had not shown up.

His Sky Bridge had cut off the Genesis Worlds' most important and strategic locations to connect the Dark World, Skynet, and the Forladtt Land.

It was an incredibly unfavorable situation for Tai Chi's forces. In fact, his action may have separated the various forces into three factions.

James wondered whether they had gained insight into his plan.

At that moment, Jacopo and Xainte approached him and then tossed a creature covered in blood at his feet.

"I.J'm sorry! I was wrong! I won't do it again!" "Seniors, please forgive me! Wah..." James frowned after hearing the man's wails.

Xainte kicked him and said angrily, "Shut up or I'll beat you up again." The creature immediately fell silent but kept kowtowing to James.

Jacopo sneered, 'The Yaquis Sect's dignified young master is so spineless.

You're such a disgrace to your father."

The creature did not dare to refute. He kept kowtowing, and his cries became soft whimpers.

James looked at the creature at his feet, who was begging for mercy. It was none other than Yaquis' son, Nando, whom he had controlled with Curse Magic before.

He was surprised Nando had survived Xachary's tortures and managed to improve his cultivation rank after all this time.

Jacopo looked at James and asked, "What should we do with this coward, Sir Biefren?"

Xainte said, "His Third Quasi Daeclon Rank is merely for show. He doesn't even dare to fight. He's trash."

James smiled calmly and said, "Do you think everyone is like you two brave fighters who kill for entertainment?"

Jacopo and Xainte lowered their heads in embarrassment.

James smiled and said, "Nando is a pacifist, and is very sensible."

The siblings were rendered speechless.

James sighed. "Stand up."

Nando slowly raised his head, revealing his frightened expression. His face was covered in blood, and he looked incredibly worn out.

Jacopo scoffed, "He asked you to stand."

Nando hurriedly got up and bowed to James.

"You two are dismissed for now." James waved his hand.

Xainte and Jacopo exchanged a look at each other, then left.

James turned back to Nando and said, "Sorry about that. Those two kids are a bit ignorant."

Nando forced a smile and said frantically, "I've never killed a Dark Being before, and have always been friends with a powerful figure of the Dark World."

Intrigued, James asked, "Oh really? Who are you acquainted with?"

Nando replied hurriedly, "His name is Forty-nine. I've helped him a lot in the past, and we're considered close friends. So please don't kill or torture me. My father is the one you should be looking for.

"Of course, if you allow me to, I'll sever my relationship with my dad and never contact him again."

James chuckled at his words.

Nando said urgently, his voice slightly trembling from the fear. "Do you not believe me? I...I can sign a soul contract right now..."

James waved his hand to interrupt him. Then, he said, "That's enough. You're already here in danger, but your father isn't doing anything about it. He is no good."

Nando lowered his head and said disappointedly, "He might be busy with Tai Chi's Messenger..."

James frowned and asked, "Tai Chi's Messenger? Do elaborate."

Nando was stunned for a moment, then quickly raised his head and explained, "You must be unaware. Although my father is the Yaquis Sect and New Alliance's leader, he doesn't have an absolute say in making decisions. Tai Chi's Messenger is the one who calls the shots."

James inquired, "Who's Tai Chi's Messenger?"

Nando explained, "Tai Chi's Messengers are really strong. They mainly supervise the different forces within the Genesis World, and also are in charge of distributing rewards and giving punishments."

James squinted and asked, "Are Tai Chi's Messengers also in the Righteous Alliance?"

Nando nodded and answered, "Of course. Tai Chi sent two of them. One is in the New Alliance, and the other is in the Righteous Alliance."

"Good," James smiled and asked, "Would you like to see your father again?"

Startled, Nando wanted to kowtow again. However, James promptly interrupted him.

James looked at him and said, "Answer truthfully. Don't lie to me."

Nando replied, "Of course..." "I'll bring you to him now. I'd like to meet Tai Chi's messenger." James grabbed Nando's arm and hurried away.

Nando shouted, "No, no! I'm not trying to belittle you, Sir. However, Tai Chi's Messenger is at the Xaexlon Rank. Once you go there, you might die." "If he isn't even at the Xaexlon Rank, it'd not be bothered to take action." After James spoke, he grabbed Nando and leaped into the air. After casting the Terrastride Step, they disappeared into the Sky Bridge's formation.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6549-In the Divine Genesis World, within the main hall of the New Alliance's headquarters, a figure cloaked in mystery, shrouded in a swirling mixture of black and white aura, sat upon the resplendent golden throne of Yaquis. However, his visage remained obscured from view.

Meanwhile, the esteemed leader of the New Alliance, Yaquis, knelt before the mysterious figure, not daring to even draw a breath.

Were there observers from the external realms witnessing this spectacle, they would undoubtedly be startled. The New Alliance's Leader, the revered master of the Yaquis Sect, a man who possessed immense authority over the Genesis Worlds and the power to determine the destinies of countless beings, was reduced to such a state of abject submission.

After a moment of silence, the mysterious figure said, "In your heart, which holds greater significance, your son or Tai Chi?"

Yaquis instantly straightened up with horror spreading across his face. He stuttered, "That...that is an unfair comparison, sir."

Tai Chi's Messenger retorted, "I beg to differ. I simply think you lack the courage to speak the truth."

Yaquis' lips twitched nervously, and he kowtowed frantically in response.

Tai Chi's Messenger rose to his feet with a commanding presence and said, "It's just a bizarre phenomenon and a bridge. I doubt there is anyone in the Genesis Worlds capable of stirring up any storms."

As the Tai Chi envoy descended the stairs with deliberate steps, Yaquis remained kneeling, consumed by anxiety. Yet, he lacked the courage to speak against him.

He had already said what needed to be said, While he could not care less about Xantoni, Lamuel, and Tace's fates, he cared about his son's life.

At that moment, the Sanctum Genesis World and Xyndaros Genesis World were enveloped by an ominous and impenetrable barrier. His Zen could not penetrate, leaving him clueless about the situation on the other side.

Initially, he had thoughts about leading some powerhouses from the New Alliance to check on the situation. However, Tai Chi's Messenger showed up and stopped him. His attempts to reason with the Tai Chi's Messenger were futile.

The Tai Chi's Messenger was obstinate and refused to entertain any dissenting viewpoints. Even until now, Yaquis could not figure out his true intentions.

"Get up. Regardless, you're still a man of high standing and are highly favored by Tai Chi. If your subordinates were to see you like this, what would they think of you?" the Tai Chi's Messenger urged, patting Yaquis on the shoulder.

Yaquis remained kneeling, and said bitterly, "Please allow me to venture forth to investigate alone. All I seek is to save my son. I will not intervene in the rest."

Tai Chi's Messenger reprimanded, "You're deluded. Do you think you'll be able to dominate the Genesis Worlds with just the Ninth Quasi Daeclon Rank? Don't forget, the Dark Demon is still lurking within." "Are you saying he is responsible for the Sky Bridge and the strange phenomenon?" Yaquis' eyes widened in horror.

Tai Chi's Messenger sighed, "The Dark Heavenly Demon is cunning and lurks in the dark. When she last appeared in the Genesis Worlds, she devoured countless powerhouses.

Although my main self has tried to kill her, she still managed to escape and kept growing stronger."

Tai Chi's Messenger cast a glance at Yaquis and said, "I'm stopping you because I'm worried about your safety. After all, even my main self hadn't been able to figure out the full extent of the situation.

"However, rest assured, my guardians are already on the way to investigate. They'll come back with news very soon. With their strengths, you can rest assured."

Yaquis sighed in relief, and swiftly rose to his feet, saying, "Thank you..."

Tai Chi's Messenger declared, "If it's indeed the Dark Heavenly Path, I won't let her slip away this time. She's a remarkable beautiful woman. If I can capture her, she'll make for a great cultivation partner."

After he finished his sentence, a commanding voice came from outside the hall.

"Who do you think you are?"

The Tai Chi's Messenger and Yaquis were startled by the sudden interruption. They turned toward the entrance and saw a figure hurtling into the hall. With a loud thud, a man in a blood robe, covered in blood, was thrown to the ground.

"Tai Chi's Right Guardian?" Yaquis' expression shifted drastically.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6550-Tai Chi's Messenger clenched his fists. "H-How is this possible? My Right Guardian is at the Second Xaeclon Rank. How could this..."

He paused, unable to continue after seeing what unfolded next. The handsome man who had shown up unexpectedly was walking toward him with a severed head.

Although the man's aura was calm, nor did he emit any powerful forces, he had a terrifyingly oppressive and overwhelming air about him.

Yaquis shouted, "How dare you? Who allowed you to enter the New Alliance's main hall without permission..."

Before Yaquis could finish, Tai Chi's Messenger interrupted him with a wave of a hand.

Staring at the handsome man walking toward them, Tai Chi's Messenger tried to mask the anxiousness in his heart. He already identified the severed head as his Left Guardian, who he had sent out to investigate.

He was in disbelief that his Right Guardian was beaten to a pulp, whereas his Left Guardian was beheaded.

What had him shivering was that he could not see through the mysterious man's cultivation rank even though he was at the Fourth Xaeclon Rank.

The man halted in his tracks about less than ten meters away from the Tai Chi's Messenger and Yaquis.

He tossed the bloody head forward. With a thud, it fell to the ground and rolled to the feet of the Tai Chi's Messenger and Yaquis.

Yaquis exclaimed, "T-That's Tai Chi's Left Guardian! How dare you kill him?!? I shall obliterate your soul today!"

Seeing Yaquis rushed over angrily, the handsome man simply waved his hand. The next moment, Nando appeared and was held by the neck.

Yaquis immediately stopped dead in his tracks, aghast by the sight.

"That's...my son? You! Let go of him, or else I'll shred you into pieces." The man remained indifferent to Yaquis as if he were looking at a fool. The young man was none other than James, who had altered his appearance and hidden his aura.

His original plan was to bring Nando back immediately to meet with Tai Chi's Messenger. However, he stumbled upon two creatures at the Second Xaeclon Rank. Hence, he killed one of them and captured the other.

With his current strength, the New Alliance's members and their formation were simply too weak.

Seeing James not budging, Yaquis roared like a ferocious beast, "Let him go this instance, Monster! You-"

Tai Chi's Messenger interrupted him again.

James sneered, "If you make another sound, I'll kill him right away."

Yaquis felt a shiver down his spine. He waved his hand frantically and said, "Don't. Please don't kill him. If anything, take it out on me. Don't hurt my son.

James demanded, "Kneel."

Yaquis was startled, and hurriedly eyed Tai Chi's Messenger. Seeing that he was not responding, Yaquis held back his anger and slowly got on his knees.

James looked at Tai Chi's Messenger and urged, "What about you?"