

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6586-James instantly dashed out of the purplish-red light rays and cast the Terrastride Step, appearing in front of Xachary in the blink of an eye.

Boom!

James raised his hand and delivered a powerful punch, unleashing a violent Marciais Power toward Xachary.

Caught off guard, Xachary barely had time to turn his head before the forceful blow shattered his nose. Blood splattered as his body was propelled backward after being struck by the Marcials Power.

James gave Xachary no chance to retaliate. He swiftly activated the Dawnblaze Form and intercepted the Xachary's trajectory Xachary. Then, he infused his Marcials Power into his fist and swung hard.

Boom! With a deafening explosion, half of Xachary's body was blasted away.

James followed up with the Terrastride Step, swiftly closing in on Xachary. Then, he thrust his palm forward, mobilizing all of his Marcials Power. He transformed his palms into fists and fists into swords, accelerating to the utmost limit.

"You're not Yaquis!" Xachary exclaimed as he quickly retreated. He made a sharp turn sideways and felt a gust of wind pass him by after he narrowly evaded James' attack.

Xachary balanced himself, then summoned a purplish-red light around his remaining body, quickly regenerating the other half.

Meanwhile, James, who had missed his attack, had already employed the Terrastride step and entered a state of invisibility. Then, he swiftly made his way behind Xachary.

"Show yourself!" Xachary bellowed in fury. He clenched his fists and waved aggressively in the air, unleashing multiple purple-red light rays.

“Who the hell are you? How did you destroy my Demonic Body? Come out and fight me!”

Swoosh!

Two powerful gusts of wind pierced accompanied the black and golden Sword Lights, instantly slashing Xachary's arms off.

Two streams of blood spurted out from the severed limbs, eliciting a sharp scream from Xachary.

Seizing the opportunity, James swiftly closed in on Xachary, executing eight consecutive Terrastride Steps. A terrifying aura surged forth, sealing the surroundings and even Xachary found himself ensnared in an awkward posture.

The next moment, James blinked, and the Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes' power extracted Xachary's Soul Energy Ball.

As James swung his sword hands, countless Sword Lights emerged and destroyed the Energy Balls.

Unexpectedly, none of the Energy Balls contained the remnant soul of the Demonic spirit. Despite the destruction of his Soul Energy Balls, Xachary's body continued to repair at a visible rate.

The next moment, a purplish-red light ray emerged from Xachary's body and knocked James away.

“Haha!” Xachary cackled, ‘Thank you! You severed my restraints and allowed me to finally ascend into a Level Four Demonic Body!’

Xachary suddenly extended his hands, and countless purplish-red light rays permeated in all directions.
