

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6615

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6615-On the fourth layer of the Forladdt Land, with Taran and Jurryt in the lead, the living beings of the Jademora Empire knelt on the ground before the pyramid of the outer battlefield.

There was regret on their faces. They felt helpless, but none of them moved.

To make up for their mistake, they had been kneeling on the ground for a long time. Nonetheless, they didn't receive a response from Lyla. She didn't even come out to see them.

Under such guilt, helplessness, and a sense of loss, they seemed to have gone through years of experience, yet they were still determined.

Thinking about how much unfairness and wrong Lyla had suffered for so long, they wanted to slap themselves and bury themselves in a hole.

In comparison to their suffering, Rebella stood next to Lyla and clenched her fists. She had an angry expression.

She had said everything she could say. She had even knelt on the ground. Yet, Lyla pretended not to see anything. She didn't even say a word. She couldn't be convinced.

Rebella didn't know what to do. At the same time, she didn't want to give up. So, she had an awkward expression. She had the urge to dig out a Genesis World.

Taking a deep breath, she waved her hand. A shining blade appeared. "You can stab me a few times. You can even kill me. But you can't keep quiet."

Sitting in a lotus position, Lyla remained unfazed. Her eyes were still closed.

She ignored her.

"Lyla." Angrily, Rubella shouted, "Just say something. Do you want me to commit suicide or apologize? As long as you say a word, I will do it immediately."

Lyla remained silent.

Enunciating each word, Rebella said, "Actually, you know that Master has returned, right? But you didn't tell US. You set up a trap for US deliberately. You want Master to see how much you have suffered in front of US to get his sympathy. You want Master to only care about you."

Even after Rebella spoke, Lyla still remained unmoved.

"Alright, fine." Rebella said angrily, "Since you're going to ignore me, I'm going to sit next to you until you speak up. Let's put all the affairs of the Jademora Empire aside. Let's give up on our jobs. Anyway, Master has returned."

Then, she sat next to Lyla. After she closed her eyes for a few seconds, she opened her eyes. She took out a wooden block and knocked it.

At the same time, she mumbled her complaints about Lyla. She said the latter was petty and full of jealousy. In the end, she began to rap. She was good at it as well.

Due to Rebella's unreasonable actions, Lyla, who was cultivating, frowned.

She was irritated.

On the battlefield in the distance, Noel and Winnie heard the sound of Rebella mumbling and knocking on the wooden block. They turned around irritably.

"Aunt Rebella, please be humane. Do you think it's polite to do this?" "Aunt Rebella, I don't care if you bother Aunt Lyla. Please don't bother us!" "What do you kids know?" Angrily, Rebella said, "Continue with what you're doing. If you can't kill one billion spirits, you will be punished."

Winnie and Noel exchanged glances and wore bitter expressions.

However, they didn't know that their actions were being watched by James using the energy ball in Nirvana Hall.

When James saw Rebella knocking on the wooden block and rapping, he laughed until he had a stomachache.

Standing to the side, Xatia felt helpless. "Will Rebella's plan work?" "It might not work on others, but it might work on Lyla," said James with a smile.

"It's soon then." Xatia became excited.

"It's still early." James slowly got up. With a smile, he said, "Let them continue. I should attend to my affairs now."

Then, he waved his hand and took out two Soul Energy Balls from his space.

and Wylie's souls?" "Do you recognize them?" James smiled and asked.

"Who can't recognize their souls?" Xatia quickly said, "One's the Lidelia's Soul while the other's the Hyrina's Soul. Both are rare."

James nodded. "Because their souls are special, they can retain their last glimmer of hope."

Then, he waved his right hand. Under the fluctuation of magnificent energy, the entire Forladdt Land began to shake.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6616-Then, countless Genesis Powers immediately surged from all around the Forladdt Land and quickly formed two balls of light in front of James.

Then, as the Hongrome Essence and Chaos Essence shot out, the two balls of light spun quickly. Two beautiful women were formed. They were surrounded by the Genesis Light. They were stunning.

Upon seeing that scene, Xatia widened her eyes. "Master, you can gather the Genesis Power to cast the Golden Body." "This isn't the Golden Body." James explained, "I used two transcendent Divine Tools. It can be considered as the Bronze Body. Nevertheless, it's still a lot stronger than an average physical body."

Then, he shot out another two rays of Hongrome Essence. Instantly, they entered the two beautiful Bronze Bodies and filled their bloodstream.

Wylie's souls to the two Bronze Bodies.

In that instant, the two Bronze Bodies seemed to have come alive once the souls had entered them.

at aren't big. It needs to be adjusted."

"This is perfect." James smiled and said, "They have lost their cultivation. But with their current Bronze Bodies and unique souls, they should recover soon."

Upon hearing that, Xatia was shocked. She hurriedly went down the steps. She At this time, the two Bronze Bodies suddenly moved. The light on their bodies flashed. It turned into two stunning women.

They were like jade statues. Their facial features were exquisite. There were some changes to their initial appearances. They looked even more stunning.

"We have been revived. We've really been revived!" shouted Wylie.

Upon seeing that, Xatia laughed. "That's right. Master was only focused on casting the Bronze Bodies for you guys."

beautiful women cheered.

Upon seeing that, James smiled and nodded. He liked the harmonious atmosphere.

A while later, after the three women had finished cheering, they knelt before James.

have lived again. Thank you for saving me." "Greetings, Master." Wylie also said hurriedly, "Thank you for saving me." "You guys have been revived." James smiled and said, "So, my curse doesn't exist. You don't need to call me Master."

"From now on, you guys need to call him Your Majesty." Xatia playfully said, "Now, Master is our emperor. He's our God and belief."

Your Majesty." "Alright." James waved his hand. "Get up. You guys have lost your cultivation. Hurry up and find a place to cultivate. Recover your cultivation.

There will be a war soon."

guys to recover your cultivation as soon as possible."

James smiled and sighed. He waved his hand again. Xabat who was kidnapped by him appeared. "Tai Chi Messenger, welcome to my turf."

Xabat was stunned. Then, she turned her head and looked at the surrounding areas. She frowned. "Is this the Forladtt Land? The otherworld battlefield?"

"Yeah." James smiled and nodded. "It's just that I haven't finished looking around the place. Do you want to come with me to look around?"

When Xabat heard that, her expression changed. "I advise you not to cause trouble. The otherworld battlefield is different from the Genesis World. The higher you go, the more unknown horrors there are. Once you enter, you might suffer from endless tribulations." "Is that so?" James smiled and said, "It seems that you know the Forladtt Land quite well." "No," Xabat said harshly, "But I know that below the fifth layer of the Forladtt Land, there are living beings from the Genesis World that have set foot. But above the fifth layer, there have not been any so far."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6617-Looking at Xabat, James smirked. "Did Tai Chi tell you?" "You..." Xabat gritted her teeth and shouted, "Tai Chi doesn't care to control such an otherworldly evil place. He isn't interested in getting involved either."

Looking at how her veins were popping, James laughed.

Regardless of whether Xabat intimidated him ignorantly or had ulterior motives, he must enter the fifth layer of the Forladtt Land. Not only was it once the core battlefield of the Great Battle, but it was also the place where the Marciais Combat Form Power and Historial Power were at their peak.

Although he had reached the peak of the Marciais Combat Form, he needed to find the source of the Historial Power. Then, by merging the two powers, he could fight against Tai Chi.

As for breaking Tai Chi's conspiracy of using Morgott to frame the case, James still needed to face the power of Zymurgy. The strength required was even more unimaginable.

Due to the situation, he had no reason to stop and enjoy success, let alone be held back by the title of an emperor and the dominance of the Genesis World.

Nevertheless, James must be fully prepared this time. He must at least arrange the layout of the Genesis World properly before he could go there with confidence.

Upon thinking of that, James shouted to the outside, "Is anyone there?"

When are the distinguished guests of the Skynet coming, I want to welcome them personally!"

Then, outside Nirvana Hall, a familiar laughter sounded.

"No need. Once we heard from you, we came right away!"

Upon hearing that, James saw Yegor, Lady Herodias, Truett and Xitlaly coming in from the outside.

Seeing that, James immediately welcomed them. "You guys are quick!" "Your Majesty has summoned US. How can we take our time?" Yegor laughed and teased James.

James sighed. "I see this as inspiration from you guys. Hahahaha!" "The Jademora Empire now is no longer what it used to be." Standing to the side, Lady Herodias smiled and said, "Along the way, based on the strength and momentum, it seems to have surpassed Yaquis Holiness' new alliance and Xachary's and Gladwin's Righteous Alliance. Lyla is indeed a rare commander."

James smiled and said, "She is rare. I have just returned, but she has already lost her temper."

Upon hearing that, Xitlaly jumped in. "Did Lyla give up on her position?" "It seems that you have known about it long ago." James looked at Xitlaiy.

Helplessly, Xitlaly sighed and said, "James, you handed her a group of living beings who are hard to control. She has already reached her limit to control them until now." "Lyla has indeed suffered a lot." Truett sighed and said, "There are troubles everywhere, but she has endured everything. She also managed the Forladtt Land perfectly. We have to admit that she's better than US." "With your words, she will confide in you." James smiled and looked at them. "Here.

Let me introduce you."

Then, he pointed at Xabat who was confused. 'This is Tai Chi's third disciple.

She's the Tai Chi Messenger that had stationed in Righteous Alliance, Xabat."

Upon hearing that, Yegor, Lady Herodias, Truett and Xitlaly looked over to Xabat. They were astonished.

At this time, Xabat had also walked over. She bowed at Yegor and Lady Herodias. "Greetings, Sir Yegor and Madam Herodias."

When Yegor and Lady Herodias heard that, they exchanged glances and laughed.

"It's Xabat. It has been a long time," said Yegor.

"Xabat, you still remember US. It seems that not all her disciples are incompetent," added Herodias.

Xabat took a deep breath and straightened his back. "She often..." "Don't bring her up." Lady Herodias said unhappily, "You are you. Her is her."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6618-On the other hand, Yegor looked at James. "Xabat is loyal to Yehria. Did you instigate rebellion?" "Yeah." James smiled and glanced at Xabat. "She was enchanted by my handsome looks. She begged to be my pet. I'm kind and care for animals. Of course, I have to agree." "You..." At once, Xabat's face turned red from anger. "You're shameless."

Looking at how anxious and angry Xabat was, Xitlaly couldn't help but laugh.

Other people might not know, but she and Lyla knew about it. It was because they were worried about the two Tai Chi Messengers in the Xaeclon Rank in the Genesis World. Thus, they dared not give out orders recklessly, rush out of the Forladtt Land and the Skynet and lead the army to reclaim the Genesis Region.

Now, seeing how respectful the Tai Chi Messenger who was arrogant was toward James, Xitlaly felt great.

“James.” Truett suddenly asked, “What about the other Tai Chi Messenger “I have killed him. His soul is with me.” James smiled and said, “I invited you guys here this time because I have three things to discuss with you.”

As Truett and Xitlaly walked over to the chair at the side and sat down, they were astonished.

The two Tai Chi Messengers were powerhouses above the Fourth Xaeclon Rank. One of them was killed by James, while the other was taken away by him.

How powerful was his cultivation now?

Looking at the few people sitting down, James suddenly said, “There are no seats for you. Stand behind me. Please act as a pet.”

Upon hearing that, Xabat who was looking for a seat was taken aback. She glared at James but still walked over to him.

However, she didn’t stand behind James. Instead, she stood in a corner.

She looked angry and wronged.

Then, James smiled and said, “Firstly, I want to discuss our next arrangements.

I wonder if you guys have any plans?”

Upon hearing that, the few of them exchanged glances. In the end, Yegor said with a smile, “Since you used the Sky Bridge to obtain the Genesis Region from the world under Yehria’s control, of course, we need to merge the Forladtt Land and the Skynet.” “Then?” James asked.

Truett laughed and said, “Of course, we have to prepare for war. We need to defeat the new alliance and the Righteous Alliance and occupy the entire Genesis World. In this way, we can avenge our shame and take drastic action against Tai Chi.”

When James heard that, he smiled.

On the other hand, in the corner, Xabat clicked her tongue disdainfully.

“You have underestimated Tai Chi.” With a stern expression, Yegor suddenly said, “James managed to obtain the Genesis Region from her control because he used the Direguard Lock to cast the Sky Bridge. It’s equivalent to opening an independent exotic space in the Sky Bridge.”

Then, Yegor looked at James. “But this exotic space is different from Tirta Space and the Forladtt Land. If it isn’t recognized by the Law of Paths, Tai Chi can intervene too.” With a smile, James nodded.

“But the Genesis World outside the Sky Bridge isn’t that easy,” Yegor continued, “Yehria is the Grand Lord. She can control and destroy everything. She can also give life to anything. This is the right given to her by the Law of Paths. So, if you don’t have a divine object like the Direguard Lock, in her world, she’s invincible.”

Upon hearing that, Truett and Xitlaly were enlightened.

In other words, their current scope of activities was only limited to the Sky Bridge that connected the Yin’s Void and the Forladtt Land. Once they went out, they would still be manipulated.

It was no wonder James wasn’t in a hurry to take action even though he had already possessed the strength to take over the entire Genesis World. Instead, he used tricks to make the new alliance and the Righteous Alliance fight each other until death.

A while of silence later, Truett looked at James. “James, you must already have a plan. What is it?”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6619-Looking at Truett, James teased, “You’re quite anxious. You didn’t change.”

Lady Herodias and Yegor looked at Truett and laughed.

“Let’s put it this way.” James stood up. “The success of the Sky Bridge made me see the possibility of implementing the new plan. If we can find two pieces of divine objects similar to the Direguard Lock. I’m confident that I can make the world under Tai Chi’s control shrink.

“By then, if Tai Chi doesn’t have cultivation spaces and resources, can the living beings under her control stay calm? In the end, she will become a general without an army in the Genesis World.”

When the few people heard that, they exchanged glances and nodded.

“It isn’t easy to look for a divine object similar to the Direguard Lock.” Lady Herodias sighed and said, “You should know that the Direguard Lock is used by Tai Chi to restrict US.”

This world is huge. There must be at least one.” James smiled and said, “It depends on whether or not we want to look for it.” “Do you have a target?”

Yegor instantly understood what James meant.

With a smile, James said, “Yegor, I can take out hundreds of Divine Tools, transcendent Divine Tools and Spiritual Tools. Where do you think they come from?”

Thinking for a while, Yegor suddenly exclaimed, ‘The Forladtt Land. That’s right.

The Forladtt Land used to be an otherworld battlefield. There are countless Divine Tools, transcendent Divine Tools and Spiritual Tools left behind from the battle...” ‘That’s right.” Enunciating each word, James said, ‘This involves the second issue I wanted to discuss with you guys. I plan to enter the fifth layer of the Forladtt Land.”

At that, a few people blew up in an uproar.

Truett stood up to object to James’ suggestion. “James, we have just gathered.

We haven’t done anything yet. But you’re going to leave again?” “James.” Xitlaly hurriedly said, “You cast the Sky Bridge. You recruited the sects and forces too.

You should have an arrangement.” “You’re right.” With a smile, James said, “Before I leave, I need to arrange these matters. Otherwise, we will be in trouble in the future.”

We? Did James say we? The few people present heard him clearly. Did he mean that he was going to take them with him?

Looking at their bright eyes, James found it funny. He said, "Why are you guys so excited? We still need to arrange the affairs here. The place in the Sky Bridge is our foundation to deal with Tai Chi." "As for the Jademora Empire, Lyla was exhausted. She had suffered a lot. It's reasonable for her to take a rest. So, I plan to let Rebella be in charge with Xatia as her assistant!"

Then, James looked at Yegor and Lady Herodias. "As for the Skynet..." "I'm tired too." Xitlaly said, "I need to rest. I give up on my work. I don't want to do it."

Whoever wants to do it can do it."

Then, she glared at Truett. "What about you?" "Uh... About this..." Truett looked at his parents awkwardly. "With my parents around, the Skynet should be fine."

Then, he suddenly puffed his chest. "Besides, James and I have always stayed by each other's side. We live and die together. We can't break the oath."

Otherwise, we will be punished by the soul contract."

Yegor and Lady Herodias rolled their eyes.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6620-Truett seemed to never grow up. He always thought about having strong ambitions and taking risks. He had no interest in sect affairs at all.

It was a good thing, but at the same time, it was a bad thing. He made Yegor and Lady Herodias happy, but he gave them a headache too.

James knew what Truett and Xitlaly were thinking.

Glancing at Yegor and Lady Herodias, he smiled and said, "It will be risky to enter the fifth layer of the Forladtt Land this time. I think you guys should at least be in the Xaeclon Rank."

Upon hearing that, Truett laughed. "I have just entered the Xaeclon Rank. I can go..."

Before he could finish speaking, Xitlaly had grabbed his ear. "Do you think you're amazing now that you have entered the Xaeclon Rank?"

Truett immediately screamed, but he refused to change his mind because he knew what his wife wanted to do.

When he could no longer endure the pain, he complained, "Mom, Dad, look at her..."

Before he could finish his words, Yegor and Lady Herodias pulled James up and walked to the side to discuss something with him. They ignored him.

"I'm your son," shrieked Truett. At once, he was dragged out of the hall by Xitlaly. Then, pitiful cries sounded from the outside.

On the other hand, Yegor and Lady Herodias exchanged glances and laughed.

"Your way of dealing with him is clever/" said James with a smile.

"We shouldn't care about the young people's affairs." Yegor asked, "Do you plan to bring US with you?"

James smiled and nodded. "If you guys don't want to..." "Who wouldn't want to?"

Lady Herodias said overbearingly, "I will beat him up until his teeth fall."

Yegor shrunk his neck. Then, he smiled awkwardly and said, "This is great.

It's just that when we leave, Tai Chi..." "I have considered it." James took a deep breath. "Whether or not Tai Chi is in the Thirty-Three Heavens, you guys aren't a match for her. Instead of suffering a serious injury, it's better to gain more strength now."

Then, James turned around and sighed. He said, "If I can get providence during this trip, I hope that you two can reach the Drevarius Rank. By then, even if you guys can't defeat Tai Chi, you can hinder her."

Reach the Drevarius Rank? Lady Herodias and Xitlaly exchanged glances.

They were unsettled.

Initially, nothing could fluster them as they had reached their current cultivation rank. However, the Drevarius Rank couldn't be sought.

"As for Truett and Xitlaly, it's time for them to learn how to govern a sect." James sighed and said, "Otherwise, how can they inherit the Skynet which is a Superorthodox?"

Upon hearing it, Lady Herodias smiled. "I didn't expect you to think about them.

Everything about them is nice, but they aren't interested in the sect affairs."

"This is their responsibility." With a stern face, James said, "After all, they're the heirs of the Skynet. No one can replace them." "Alright." Yegor laughed and said, "If so, everything has been decided then.

When will we set off?"
