

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6667

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6667-In the Thirty-Third Heaven of the Tai Chi Grand Temple, a middle-aged man in a black and white robe stood atop the tall walls.

His countenance bore regal authority and disdain, projecting a presence that seemed to look down upon the Greater Realms.

Beneath him stood several living beings that bowed to him, afraid to meet his gaze.

The middle-aged man shouted, "Tai Chi has personally given me the order to temporarily be the substitute as the Yang governor. From now on, I, Qadirre Trench, will handle the affairs of Tai Chi World.

Everyone immediately raised their head in horror.

"What's wrong? Are you not satisfied with the decision?" Qadirre frowned.

Startled, the audience below knelt in succession, their voices ringing in unison, "No, Yang governor!"

Qadirre stood proudly, his hands clasped behind his back, emitting an arrogant aura. At that moment, he felt a sense of importance.

For eons, he had yearned for the position. After so long, he never had the chance because of Tai Chi's son.

His dream had finally come true. Although it was temporary, it marked the beginning of his ascent.

He declared, "You bunch hail from the Tai Chi Worlds and grand patriarchs of different sects. By right, you're ineligible to be here.

"Yet, Tai Chi generously bestowed the chance onto you, extending a divine gift to all creators of the Tai Chi World."

His words sparked hope in the audience, and their gazes filled with anticipation.

“Tai Chi’s decree has arrived.” Qadirre unfurled a scroll, emitting divine light, instantly prompting the audience to prostrate in reverence.

“In light of the challenges faced by the Tai Chi World’s living beings and in response to the collective desires of the Greater Realms, Tai Chi has issued a special decree to temporarily open Zymurgy’s first to twelfth level. Cultivation resources will be available to all who wish to push into the Xaeclon Rank.”

With these words, a wave of excitement swept through the gathered audience, several students erupting into fervent discussion.

The opening of the twelve levels was like a dream. The sudden announcement caught them off guard, filling them with both astonishment and delight.

“This is extraordinary news! Unlocking Zymurgy’s twelve levels will offer US a rare opportunity to surpass Genesis!”

Indeed, the benevolence of the Tai Chi is evident. She considers the desires and pressing needs of all living beings.”

“I know Tai Chi wouldn’t abandon US and permit the demon to ravage our worlds.”

“This development brings hope to all creatures. May we witness the emergence of even more powerhouses!”

Amidst the murmurs of the gathered beings, two figures kneeling at the ends of the crowd exchanged perplexed glances.

It was none other than the Heavenly and Earthly Saints, renowned figures under Skynet.

After being captured by Zymurgy, they were subject to the control of Tai Chi Power.

During this period, they encountered numerous boons and finally reached the Consummation of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank’s Ninth Tribulation. They had also forged golden bodies and successfully entered the Xaeclon Rank.

However, they knew Tai Chi did not do it out of kindness. Instead, it was a calculated strategy to win their hearts and divide them.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6668-Captured along with them were the ancestors of the Tai Chi World, such as Mattaniah of the Iustus Sect, Xaiden and Xolani of the Timaheus Sect, and Yzert from the Yaquis Sect.

These individuals were once esteemed experts renowned within the Tai Chi World, yet their cultivation had stagnated due to suppression.

However, after their ventures in Zymurgy, they attained golden bodies and ascended to the Fifth Xaeclon Rank or higher. Now, they were transcendent powerhouses.

Despite their newfound strength, they found themselves devoid of status or dignity in the presence of the other powerhouses inside the Tai Chi Grand Temple.

“Silence!” Qadirre raised his hand into the air to hush them.

The kneeling creatures fell silent instantly, and their gazes fixated on him with eager anticipation.

Qadirre declared authoritatively, “The weakest here is already at the Fifth Xaeclon Rank. As the Yang governor, I hereby announce the establishment of Tai Chi Guardians to stand watch at Zymurgy’s first to twelfth level.”

A wave of excitement swept through the crowd, each displaying an overjoyed countenance. To serve as a Tai Chi Guardian was to hold a position of divine authority under Tai Chi. Even though it was not an impressive status, it granted them the opportunity to gain an Ousia. To them, it was a leap toward great heights.

Qadirre announced, “The guardians of Zymurgy’s first level will be the Celestial and Earthly Sages.”

The Celestial and Earthly Sages furrowed their brows. They immediately straightened up and clasped their hands toward Qadirre.

Qadirre sneered, “Now that you’ve assumed the roles as Tai Chi Guardians, it’s only fitting you kneel and bow before her statue.”

The Celestial and Earthly Sages froze.

“Why the hesitation? Are you defying orders?” Qadirre’s face darkened.

Xaiden interjected, saying mockingly, “Stop resisting. Though you two are close with Yegor and Herodias, you’re nothing but their slaves.”

“Indeed,” Xolani chimed in with a disdainful snort. “The opportunities and fortunes bestowed upon you by Tai Chi should suffice to demonstrate her value for you.”

Yzert added, “Indeed, without the grace of Tai Chi, it would be impossible to enter the Xaeclon Rank. You two shouldn’t be stubborn. Being appointed guardians of Zymurgy’s first level is a great honor. Surely, it’s better than being slaves to Skynet, right?”

“Ha! They’re used to being lackeys and cannot be independent now. Hahaha!”

“At the level we’ve reached in cultivation, heaven and earth power is nothing anymore.”

In the wake of their mockery, several other creatures joined in, making the Celestial and Earthly Sages seem like public enemies.

Amidst the commotion, Mattaniah of the lustus Sect closed his eyes and remained motionless. He understood all too well that in times of adversity, one must bend to survive, enduring humiliation until the dawn of brighter days.

Regrettably, he could not send out telepathic messages inside the hall.

Otherwise, he would have offered counsel to the Celestial and Earthly Sages.

Confronted by the crowd’s scornful taunts, the two sages exchanged a meaningful glance and slowly rose to their feet.

Qadirre clenched his fists and asked, “What are you two doing? Are you plotting rebellion?”

The Celestial Sage suddenly raised his head and said, “Are you not aware of our identities, honorable Yang governor?”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6669-Qadirre’s brow furrowed in confusion. “What are you insinuating?”

The Celestial Sage said solemnly, "Although the Earthly Sage and I reside in the Tai Chi World, we're not living beings. You should know that."

The Earthly Sage lifted his head and said coldly, "We're manifestations of Yin Yang Aura. Hence, our auras far surpass that of mere beings. Although you're temporarily taking over as the Yang governor, I must inquire, are you a living being or a manifestation of aura?"

Qadirre's expression stiffened, completely at a loss for words.

The Celestial Sage continued. "As far as I know, he wasn't born from energy nor Tai Chi, Yehria. In truth, she is a mere mortal who attained strength through cultivation. Hence, his insistence on our homage violates the natural order and the Law of Paths."

At that moment, a collective shock rippled through the hall as they were reminded of the Celestial and Earthly Sages' origins. Although they were not exceptional powerhouses, they were still born of Yin- Yang Aura. Hence, their status was naturally higher than everyone present, even including Tai Chi.

They demanded that a superior being bow before a mortal, which was against Zymurgy's natural order.

Xaiden suddenly turned around and shouted, "Outrageous! How dare you act so arrogantly before Tai Chi. Do you have a death wish..."

Before he could act, Xaiden was halted by a warning glare from the Celestial and Earthly Sages.

"If it's a fight you want, we're ready to fight. You may be at the Seventh Xaeclon Rank, but so are we. How about we test it out?" the Earthly Sage retorted coldly.

Xaiden's lips twitched as he was confronted by the Celestial and Earthly Sages' unwavering pride. However, he had no choice but to relax his clenched fists.

Mattaniah laughed, "When greater power is absent, the weak start to assert dominance."

His words instantly drew everyone's attention.

Mattaniah lifted his head with a gentle smile and said, “Qadirre, from what I recall, you and I were once part of the same sect, making me your senior. Is that correct?”

Qadirre’s expression shifted, his cheeks twitching in anger. “Are you looking to stir up trouble with them too?”

Mattaniah said calmly, “We respect Tai Chi. However, it’s the position that we revere. That doesn’t entail allowing anyone to misuse Tai Chi Power, feign authority, or suppress others.”

Qadirre trembled, his anger evident as he gritted his teeth. “Fine, it seems you’re all bent on rebellion. Today.”

“Qaddire,” stern female voice interrupted him. Shortly after, a woman appeared atop the palace wall.

Qaddire turned to her with a frown and asked, “What are you doing here, Ylva?”

Ylva said solemnly, “They speak the truth. If Tai Chi has issued a decree, then announce it accordingly. There’s no need for any personal agendas and create unnecessary conflicts.”

“You...” Qadirre’s anger flared.

Ylva asserted firmly, “Don’t forget. Our positions are only temporary. You have the authority to decide on matters, but I have the power to veto.”

Qadirre felt an unfamiliar feeling of shame. He knew that despite his esteemed position as the temporary Yang governor, his decisions would face opposition from many. Yet, he never expected this group of seemingly insignificant beings to dare to challenge him.

With Ylva’s intervention, he could no longer continue his arrogant behavior.

Resigned to the situation, he announced the assignment of Tai Chi Guardians.

The first to fifth levels of Zymurgy were entrusted to a few Grand Patriarches at the Fifth Xaeclon Rank.

The Celestial and Earthly Celestials were delegated to the sixth level.

Xaiden was appointed guardian of the seventh level, whereas Xolani was to the eighth level.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6670-Mattaniah was in charge of the ninth level. The tenth level was entrusted to Yzert. Lastly, Ylva and Qadirre took care of the eleventh and twelfth levels.

Furthermore, the Tai Chi Grand Temple dispatched the so-called Twelve Tai Chi Envoys, individuals at the Fifth Xaeclon Rank, to descend into the Tai Chi World.

Their mission was to select powerful beings capable of ascending to Zymurgy.

Tai Chi's comprehensive plan to segregate powerful forces within the Tai Chi World to face the Tai Chi Tribulation and fight against James and Thea was set into motion.

She used the allure of Zymurgy and enticed powerful Tai Chi World beings to join her cause. By doing so, James' Sky Bridge plan would eventually prove ineffective. After all, nobody could resist the temptation of entering the Xaeclon Rank or even the Daeclon Rank.

Using the allure of the open realm of the heavens, they intended to entice all potent creatures in the Tai Chi world to join their cause. In doing so, any vulnerabilities in the celestial bridge constructed by James would be exploited.

Tai Chi was indeed insidious and cunning.

Meanwhile, on Forladtt Land's outer battlefield's sixth floor, James spent some time in seclusion within the deep pond under Faela's guidance. When he emerged, not only was he cleansed of the dark residue on his body, but he successfully purified his Marciais Power with the aid of a mysterious force.

Ultimately, he had entered the Sixth Xaeclon Rank.

Upon opening his eyes, James beheld Faela seated cross-legged in the void opposite him, radiating a serene and composed aura.

James was surprised to see dozens of jars of various sizes floating in front of Faela, emitting a luminous glow.

Faela suddenly instructed, "Since you're awake, drink up."

"What are these?" James blinked in surprise.

Faela replied solemnly, "Tea. Didn't you say it's effective?"

James said smilingly, "I've already purified my Marciais Power. There's no need..."

Faela cut him off abruptly and said coldly, "This is for you to fuse the Marciais Soul."

James was quiet. Before he could speak, Faela tapped the void and the jars immediately opened and poured into James' mouth.

As James gulped the tea, his eyes widened, and a terrifying black light enveloped him.

James let out a pained groan as he ascended into the heavens with the black light, spinning rapidly within the void.

After an entire epoch, the radiance finally dispersed. James emerged with his Ultimate Golden Body, appearing utterly transformed, and was bathed in a mysterious purple-black luminescence.

James examined himself in awe. "This...Has my Marciais Soul been fully integrated?"

"Not yet. You'll need our assistance to achieve full integration." Faela shook her head, then waved her hand.

Suddenly, her Marciais Power surged through the void, shattering the protective formation around the Elysium Nova.

The Elysium Nova quaked violently with a rumble.

Before James could utter a word, he witnessed hundreds of figures charging into the void, swiftly grouping behind Faela. They transformed into transcendent powerhouses clad in black robes, radiating immense Marciais Power.

James' Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes scanned the group, immediately discerning that they were mainly between the Eighth and Ninth Xaeclon Rank. The weakest amongst the group was at the Seventh Xaeclon Rank.

James furrowed his brows and murmured, "What...what is happening?"

Faela sighed and said, "It's time. With our Marciais Power, we shall create an unparalleled powerhouse!"
