

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6671-After Faela said that, the hundreds of powerhouses with the Marciais Power behind her suddenly spread out to both sides, instantly surrounding James in the void.

They made gestures with their hands. The terrifying Marciais Power gathered and formed a huge black energy ball.

The hundreds of powerhouses above the Eighth Xaeclon Rank activated their Supernatural Powers simultaneously. They were powerful. The scene was terrifying. Even James who had gone through many things was shocked.

“Start the sacrifice!” Faela shouted. She pushed the energy ball formed by the Marciais Power toward James.

‘Sacrifice? What sacrifice?’ James was stunned. He shot out a ray of power of three colors subconsciously. It instantly hit away Faela’s energy ball. “Wait.” He waved his hand immediately. Shocked, he asked, “Faela, what do you mean by this? What sacrifice?”

“Since we have decided to integrate you with the Grand Patriarch’s Marciais Soul, of course, we must make a sacrifice.” Coldly, Faela said, “In this way, we can push you and help you reach the Chaos Illimita Rank. Then, our dream of hundreds of thousands of epochs can be fulfilled.”

Upon hearing that, James was baffled.

It was as he predicted. Faela and the group of powerhouses with the Marciais Power wanted to sacrifice him for the Grand Patriarch, assisting the latter in integrating the Marciais Soul of the Marciais Combat Form and strengthening his cultivation.

The group of powerhouses was a crazy existence. Aside from Faela, James had never met the rest. How could they act this way when it was their first time meeting?

In a low voice, Faela said, “James, you have to accept the sacrifice. We have been sealed here for countless years. We have been waiting for this day. You’re our hope for the Maricias Combat Form Power. You have also inherited the hope of the Grand Patriarch. You must fulfill our wish.”

When he heard that, James frowned. "Isn't it just falling into the Ritual Rank? I can help you guys lift the seal. Sir Yuldra's seal has been lifted, so you guys don't need to do this."

Feyre, who was closest to Faela, suddenly said, "What's the use of lifting the seal? Each of us used to be the ruler of an area. Who doesn't want to reach the Drevarius Rank?"

"However, because of this hundred-thousand-year seal, this is all we can reach in this life. We can never enter the Daeclon Rank. If you don't want to do it, we can only watch our cultivation decrease and disappear. You can't understand the pain."

James raised his head and took a deep breath. He looked helpless. He felt as if he had returned to the familiar scene and met Biefren again.

Was it impossible to escape from the fate?

At this time, Faela suddenly shouted, "James, since we are from the same sect, please let us keep our last trace of dignity. Do you want us to die without dignity and with humiliation?"

James' face twitched. When he was about to speak, he was interrupted by Lesia. "Master, this is their fate. Just accept it. I know you think they can get out of the Ritual Rank and reach the peak again by helping them lift the seal.

"But I have to tell you a cruel fact. Even if their seals are lifted, they can never enter the Daeclon Rank in this life. With your current strength, you can't save them.

"Do you know that for the powerhouses at their level, if they can't enter the Daeclon Rank, living will feel worse than dying? They can never accept the fact that their cultivation rank will stop there or even decrease."

Hearing that, James took another deep breath.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6672-James knew the situation of this group of powerhouses, but the expectations were too heavy for him. He was afraid that he would let them down.

Right then, Faela suddenly stretched out her hands. A huge energy ball of the Marciais Power headed to him rapidly. "Let's work together. He must accept it.

It's his mission."

Following that, the hundreds of powerhouses surrounding James shot out energy balls of the Marciais Power. In the blink of an eye, James was surrounded.

This time, James didn't resist. He knew that it was his responsibility as Yianni's disciple.

In the next second, he closed his eyes. As he was wrapped in the Marciais Power, he rotated slowly. At the same time, the Golden Bones began to absorb the Marciais Power. It refined endlessly.

In that instant, the purple-black light exuded from the Ultimate Golden Body instantly covered the area.

The powerhouses around James were constantly exerting the Marciais Power.

They imbued their strength into James and were trying their best.

The cycle repeated. Power was continuously imbued into him, and James' body shone brighter.

Soon, a female powerhouse with the Marciais Combat Power had let out all of her cultivation. Suddenly, she raised her head and laughed. "James, I'm putting my hopes on you!"

Then, her body exploded in the air. A huge illusory Golden Body was immediately wrapped in the Crepe Myrtle Energy of Hazeaf. It shot up to the sky and disappeared without a trace.

James flung his eyes open and clenched his fists. He felt as if something was grabbing his heart. "Where did my Golden Body go?"

"Of course, it was taken back by the Great Historial Land," Lesia answered, "But the soul is still around. Do I need to go and collect it?"

"Do I even need to ask?" James shouted sternly, "Lesia, am I that heartless?"

“I knew you’d be worried,” said Lesia. With the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell, she broke out of James’ body. With a buzzing sound, she headed to the void where the female living being exploded.

Then, the Soul Energy Ball which was as big as a fist was taken by the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell.

After that, one after another, the powerhouses who had their cultivation taken away exploded after expressing their last sighs and sorrows. Their Golden Bodies dissipated. One by one, the Soul Energy Balls were taken by the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell controlled by Lesia.

It was a tragic sight. At the same time, it was the first time everyone was so united.

If the powers created by the living beings wanted to be recognized by the Great Historial Land, they could only use such cruel methods to advance.

They were powerhouses who were once powerful in the Tai Chi World. Every living being had experienced countless difficulties, dangers and calamities. Now, however, everything had turned into expectations, for James and the Marciais Power.

Gradually, there were fewer and fewer powerhouses surrounding James. He could almost feel that the Marciais Soul with the Marciais Power in his body was poured into by the endless flow of the Marciais Combat Power had doubled.

Its appearance had also changed from a black bead to purple-black. It spun crazily.

As the Marciais Soul that was rotating reached the critical point, it exploded with a loud bang and shrank to the size of a baby’s fist. It showed three colors: purple, black and red.

“Is this the Seventh Xaeclon Rank?” James asked.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6673-However, as the Marciais Power continued to pour in, the Marciais Soul which was originally only the size of a baby's face expanded again. It was more than several times larger than before. Then, it exploded again, turning into purple, black, red, and blue.

The Eighth Xaeclon Rank!

James was shocked, but he remained still.

He knew that every trace of the Marciais Power that all the powerhouses around him focused on represented their expectations. They hoped that the Marciais Power could be recognized by the Great Historial Land and truly reach the Daeclon Rank. Only in this way would their hundreds of thousands of entrapochs of waiting, suffering and sacrifice be valuable.

As the powerhouses with the Marciais Combat Form fell one after another, in the end, only Faela and Feyre were left in the void.

"He has entered the Eighth Xaeclon Rank. It's our turn to push him one last time." Faela looked at Feyre. "Let's do it together. If there is another life, let's be best friends again."

Feyre nodded. She and Faela turned into two rays of black light. They headed to James at lightning speed.

At that instant, James suddenly felt two Marciais Powers enter his body and immediately rushed into the Marciais Soul.

He felt a sharp pain from the aftershock that penetrated his soul. The pain spread to his entire body. He couldn't help but scream.

"James, endure it. Keep going with our hope. The inheritance of the Marciais Power depends on you." Then, Faela disappeared.

At this moment, James was in a lot of pain. Countless pure Marciais Power entered his veins. He stood up in the void. As he stretched out his arms, a terrifying Quasar Divine Light appeared. The light spread in all directions.

Under the Quasar Divine Light, all the nebulae and planets in this area exploded instantly. It was constant. It shook the entire place. Even Yuldra, Yegor and Herodias who had just arrived were shaken by the power and retreated hurriedly.

When Yuldra was retreating, a wall of air shot out. With a loud bang, it was instantly destroyed by the Quasar Divine Light.

After stumbling for a while, Yuldra finally managed to stabilize himself with the help of Yegor and Herodias.

“This is unbelievable.” Yegor frowned. “James has just entered the Ninth Xaeclon Rank. How is he so powerful?”

Herodias sighed and said, “The peak of Marciais Power is on par with the Tai Chi Power and Tirta Power.”

“He has a bright future.” Yuldra pursed his lips and said with a smile, “His achievements are not only the result of Yianni’s virtue and Marciais Power but also my Historial Power.”

Yegor looked at the Quasar Light in the sky and asked, “Have you let go of your prejudices?”

“Since it’s a prejudice, of course, I should let it go.” With a smile, Yuldra asked, “What do you guys think?”

Hearing that stunned Yegor and Herodias.

Then, a chorus of shouts sounded from behind them. “Of course, it has to be put down.”

Yegor and Herodias turned around and realized that in the void behind them were hundreds of powerhouses with the Historial Power.

Based on their cultivation ranks, they were at least in the Eighth Xaeclon Rank.

There were dozens in the Ninth Xaeclon Rank. This included Galen and Sasha.

“Let’s wait for a while.” Yuldra sighed and said, “Our identities are different from Facla and the others.

We can’t be as straightforward as her.”

Then, the hundreds of powerhouses with the Historial Power behind him immediately sat with their legs crossed and slowly closed their eyes.

After venting the power in his heart, James looked at his hands in a daze.

His Ultimate Golden Body remained unchanged, but his strength had increased a lot. In Lesia's words, he had reached the Ninth Xaeclon Rank. The Quasar Power that spread and the Quasar Divine Light that bloomed moments ago were the best evidence.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6675-Since the seal was lifted, Yuldra was now glowing red. He was in high spirits and had the demeanor of a powerhouse.

"Do all the older powerhouses know about it?" James asked.

Yuldra nodded. "Destiny is the final destination and isn't affected by the will of any living being. Since they understand it, you should understand it too."
"Destiny." James narrowed his eyes. "I don't believe in destiny the most."

Yuldra took a deep breath. "The living beings that can be sealed here are all the leaders who once dominated the Tai Chi World. They're unruly and fiery. They don't obey the restraints of Zymurgy and the Law of Tai Chi.

They don't obey the so-called destiny either."

Then, Yuldra looked at James. "But now, they have chosen you physically.

Do you know why?"

James sighed. "It's hope. They want to get away from the destiny." "That's right." Yuldra looked at James. "You know everything. You don't need to feel guilty about it." "I'm not guilty about it." James slowly closed his eyes. "I admire their persistence and respect their pride, but I feel bad and helpless for them."

At that, Yuldra was shocked. He didn't expect James to think that way. "

James, you..." "They might think I was taking advantage and showing off, making sarcastic remarks." James sighed and said, "But before that, I hope you guys can understand clearly what destiny you are resisting."

When Yuldra heard that, his expression changed. "Of course, it's the suppression of Zymurgy." "No, that isn't your destiny. That's your enemy."

James chuckled and shook his head. "Your real destiny is the Great Historial Land.

"For this purpose, you guys refused to accept the suppression of Zymurgy and let the Historial Power and Marciais Power compete, which triggered a war and were sealed here.

"And the ultimate goal of the war is to reach the Great Historial Land, identify the levels of the two powers you guys hold onto, and then bypass Zymurgy, thinking that you guys can rely on one of the two powers to reach the Daeclon Mahayana Rank." "Is there a problem with that?" Yuldra frowned.

James suddenly asked, "Who set the levels of powers and the Daeclon Mahayana Rank? Is it the Great Historial Land?"

Upon hearing that, Yuldra shuddered. "Uh..."

James asked again, "If it really is the Great Historial Land, what is he if he isn't your destiny?" Yuldra responded, "All things and living beings were formed by the Great Historial Land. Could it be that..." "He started everything from scratch. Did he have consciousness?" James cut off Yuldra. "Does he have a living being in charge?"

Yuldra was stunned speechless.

Calmly, James said, "Heaven and earth are unkind. They regard everything as stupid. We sincerely respect that god.

"He is a god because he is omnipotent, omnipresent, formless, desireless and merciless."

As he said that, Jiang Chen looked at Yuldra again: "If a god is born with consciousness and has the distinction between good and bad, superior and inferior and hierarchical, can he still be considered a god?" Looking at James, Yuldra was so shocked that he couldn't say a word.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6674-James didn't check his cultivation rank. He immediately checked the souls collected by Lesia.

He remembered clearly that there were a total of 223 powerhouses with the Marciais Power who helped him. Including Faela and the female living being, there were 225 powerhouses.

However, he only found 223 souls in the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell.

James hurriedly searched all the spaces. In the end, he found Faela and the mysterious female living being in his soul space.

What surprised him even more was that Faela's appearance had changed from wearing a black robe to a red one. She was alluring. It was as if she wanted to entice all living beings.

The black robe of the other female living being had also turned blue. She was wearing heavy makeup and showing off her charming look.

"Hemera and Fennec." James was suddenly furious. "Who allowed you to occupy these two living beings? Hand them over now."

Upon hearing that, Faela raised her head. "Master, she's beautiful. I like her a lot."

James was at a loss for words.

Another female living being in blue giggled and said, "Master, I like her a lot too. As expected, it's different to be good-looking."

James' was furious as he slowly clenched his fists. "Hand over the souls.

Do you guys have any moral integrity? Especially you, Fennec, you're a male. Why would you want the soul of a female living being?"

Hemera and Fennec were stunned. Then, they hurriedly retreated. It was obvious that they had no intention of handing over the two perfect souls.

James rolled his eyes. "Lesia, punish them. Beat them up until they hand over the souls."

Lesia immediately turned into a Sword Light. With two sounds, Hemera and Fennec turned into two rays of light, one blue and one red. They hurriedly put out two Soul Energy Balls. Lesia snorted and grabbed the two Soul Energy Balls.

Meanwhile, Hemera and Fennec were squatting on the ground holding their hands. They looked wronged.

“Hemera, you’re already beautiful enough. Please have some shame,”

Lesia scolded angrily, “Do you want to surpass me?”

Hemera pursed her lips and lowered her head.

Then, Lesia glared at the illusionary Fennec. “You too. I don’t care if you dress up enchantingly, but how can you target the soul of a female living being? You’re embarrassing.”

Fennec was speechless.

When he saw that, James smiled bitterly and said, “Lesia, keep these souls. One day, I’ll let them have a new beginning. This is a promise and a debt.”

Lesia turned around and nodded at him. “Got it. I’m going to beat them up now. Master, can you leave?”

James couldn’t say anything.

Right then, he heard Yuldra’s voice. “James, it has been a long time.”

Upon hearing that, James left the soul space and looked at Yuldra who appeared in front of him.
