

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6676-“Since he is no longer the god, who’s in charge then?” James continued, “It’s just that his power is a lot greater than ours. That’s why he became the ruler of all living beings.”

“We are ruled by him. Is he not our destiny then?” Yuldra widened his eyes. His mouth was so huge that it was the size of an egg.

“You refused to accept destiny, but you have created a destiny for yourself.”

James enunciated each word. “Because of this destiny, you guys suffered in this sealed place until you guys gave me all your cultivation. Only then would you guys feel that you guys have gotten hope and relief.

“Your expectation is nothing more than me bringing you guys the power of perseverance to find a destiny you guys don’t know about. You guys want to get your powers recognized and reach the cultivation rank set by this destiny. Then, you guys will feel happy, thinking that you have finally broken free from destiny.

“Because in your opinion, as long as a living being creates his own strength and enters the Daeclon Rank, he will be on equal footing with Zymurgy and regain his dignity and status.

“But have you guys ever thought about it?” James stared at Yuldra. “What if the Great Historial Land doesn’t recognize the powers you guys created?”

At that, Yuldra’s face twitched. “Uh...”

Helplessly, James sighed. “To gain an uncertain recognition, you guys are willing to sacrifice everything. Do you guys think it’s worth it? Don’t you guys feel sad and helpless?”

Yuldra slowly raised his head and took a deep breath.

The words meant nothing. Perhaps Yuldra was enlightened under James’ guidance.

“Let me say a few more words that will hurt you guys.” James looked at Yuldra pitifully. “Are you guys the only one who knows about the Great Historial

Land's level of power? Do they know Yianni, who created his own Marciais Power, and the powerhouse, who created the Historial Power?"

Upon hearing that, Yuldra widened his eyes. He looked at James with shock.

"With their wisdom and Supernatural Powers, why didn't they go to the Great Historial Land to check their level of power?" James asked, "In this way, wouldn't it allow you guys to enter the Daeclon Rank earlier and restore your dignity and status?"

"Uh." Yuldra stumbled backward. "You're right. Why haven't we thought about it before?"

"It's because you guys are being ruled by fate." James said calmly, "But as the founders, the two understood better that in the face of fate and suppression, the only counterattack was strength."

Then, James turned around with his hands behind his back and shouted, "To hell with Yehria, the Law of Paths and Zymurgy. Since they took away our dignity and refused to recognize our powers, they should be beaten up until they admit it."

"As long as we're strong enough, let alone them, even the Great Historial Land must submit to us."

Then, James turned and pointed at Yuldra. "Whether they come from nothing or illusionary, they must return to their position as gods."

"They can enjoy the glory of worshipping, but they can't be the rulers of all living beings. They can't be our destiny or law. They are the resource and service providers for all living beings. They can't have the slightest emotion or consciousness."

"The fate of all living beings should be decided by themselves. Even if it's the law of the jungle, we have the final say. They can only watch from afar and are never allowed to interfere."

"This is the destiny we should strive for. We are our own destiny."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6677-Hearing this evil voice, James shuddered. He thought, Isn't Morgott's spirit suppressed in the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell by Lesia? How can he speak?' Lesia said, "Morgott, shut up. Your laugh sounds horrible. I can beat you up."

Then, in the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell, Morgott's cries could be heard.

Right then, two dazzling lights rushed from the sky. They transformed into Yegor and Herodias. They appeared suddenly.

"What a great theory about destiny." Yegor praised James and said, "You're otherworldly and domineering. With such a friend, I can be comforted throughout my life."

On the other hand, Herodias stared at James awkwardly. "James, I'm from Tirta Sect. Based on what you said, does that mean I should be a god too?"

James was stunned.

"What god are you?" Yegor said impolitely, "Since the decline of the Tirta Sect, Zymurgy didn't even give you Ousia. Don't put things on yourself. You're just a living being."

Unexpectedly, Herodias didn't refute. Instead, she looked nervous.

"Mr. Yegor is right." James glanced at Herodias. "Based on the Ousia and the birth of living veins, although you're the daughter of Ms. Tirta, you're indeed only a living being. But you're a noble."

Upon hearing that, Herodias burst into laughter. "I wouldn't be happy if I get a hypocritical god."

James and Yegor exchanged glances and laughed.

Yuldra held three dazzling treasures and walked over to James. They were a gray bead the size of a fist, a purple token and a lotus burning with purple flames.

These should be the Historial Soul Pearl, Historial Lotus and Historial Order.

At a glance, James frowned. "You still need to..."

“James, you enlightened us.” Yuldra looked at James kindly. “Although we no longer desire getting acknowledged by the Great Historial Land, we treasure these three items.”

“Why?” James frowned.

“Three things.” Yuldra said in a deep voice, “Firstly, to eliminate the competition between the Marciais Power and Historial Power, you can integrate the two powers and create a new, more powerful world for all living beings. The powerful strength can also bring a successful conclusion to the fight.

“Secondly, we also hope that you can do your part in controlling your own destiny and regaining dignity for all living beings.

“Thirdly, we still hope that you can go to the Great Historial Land to have a look.

Only by knowing yourself and the enemy well can you win every battle.”

Upon hearing that, James took a deep breath. “Is that all?”

Yuldra answered, “Of course, there’s another gift...”

“I don’t want things like Facla and the powerhouses with the Marciais Power to happen again.” James stared at Yuldra. “If you guys believe me, I’ll lift the seal first. As for the Ritual Rank, I’ll find a way to lift it and let you guys find another way to cultivate better.”

Looking at James, Yuldra was a bit confused. He thought he was dreaming.

He had discussed with all the powerhouses with the Historial Power here to place their hopes on James. He wouldn’t hesitate to give all his cultivation to James. However, he didn’t expect Facla to do it first. Now, before he could tell James about giving him the cultivation, he had stopped him from talking. Not only that, but James had also made a promise. It shocked Yuldra.

Looking at the shocked Yuldra, James smiled and said, “Of course, I have a condition.”

“What is it?” Yuldra nodded in a hurry.

James spoke while enunciating each word, "After the seal has been lifted, go to the third layer of the Forladtt Land and look for Rebella. She will take you guys to meet Truett, the Solstice Alliance's Leader, and help him."

Yuldra laughed when he heard James. "We were just about to stretch our muscles. Of course, we will do that."

James smiled. He waved his hand, and a token of three powers appeared.

Then, he handed the token to Yuldra. "When you meet Rebella and Truett, give this token to them. They will understand everything."

Yuldra nodded. "Then, you'll go to the Great Historial Land."

"Having the help of you two is enough." James smiled and looked at Yegor and Herodias.

James' arrangement was mysterious. If the Solstice Alliance had the help of so many powerhouses in the Eighth or Ninth Xaeclon Rank, its strength would have increased tens of thousands of times.

By then, it could take over the Genesis World instantly, let alone protect itself.

More importantly, there was Yuldra who had reached Xurxo Daeclon Rank.

Even if several clones of Tai Chi attacked at the same time, he could deal with them easily.

The following matters would be simple.

James used the Terrastride Step and Dawnblaze Form to summon the karma and tribulations of hundreds of powerhouses in the Eighth and Ninth Xaeclon Rank. He used the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell to absorb the Crepe Myrtle Energy of Chaos and Crepe Myrtle Energy of Hazeaf that suppressed them. He lifted the seal entirely.

In this way, James received the help of hundreds of powerhouses in the Xaeclon Rank. He also had a powerhouse in the Xurxo Daeclon Rank. Because of that, the strength of the Solstice Alliance increased greatly.

After arranging everything, James took Yegor and Herodias with the Marciais Power and headed straight to the fifth layer of the Forladtt Land.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6678-On the fifth layer of the Forladdt Land, it was dark with Crepe Myrtle Energy everywhere.

In front of the terrifying and huge tornado of violet power, there were violet-pink lotuses. It was a strange sight.

More importantly, the violet-pink lotuses were filled with Spiritual Energy. They were absorbing the violet power in the tornado. They expanded gradually. One by one, violet spiritual bodies were formed in the lotuses, which slowly grew up.

In the near distance of these violet-pink lotuses, a beautiful pregnant woman wearing a black robe was sitting on a giant violet-pink lotus with her legs crossed. There was a glow of violet-pink light behind her. There were also thousands of lotuses. They were shining brightly and swaying in the wind.

At this time, from the purple tornado, a man and a woman walked out. The man was muscular, while the woman was graceful.

When they saw the violet-pink lotuses on the ground, their expressions darkened.

“She has planted them again. It’s annoying.” Suddenly, the woman said angrily, “She must be killed today. Otherwise, the Chaos Essence that nourishes us will all be absorbed by her.”

Seeing that the woman was about to rush toward the pregnant woman, the man beside her immediately stopped her. “Yesenia, calm down. Watch out for traps.

Don’t forget how Hadley Holmes and Lorelai Ward were killed by her.”

Yesenia frowned when she heard that. She stopped her actions immediately.

The man looked at the pregnant woman with violet-pink light around her. “She’s a tough target since she’s the Yin governor developed by the first Tai Chi. She has also gone through countless tribulations. Not only did she not die, but she also escaped the karmas and tribulations. She isn’t in the Law of Paths. Instead, she created her own Heavenly Path. She can absorb countless energies and has become demonic.”

Feeling upset, Yesenia shouted, “No matter how powerful she is, she isn’t in the Daeclon Rank.” Now that she’s pregnant, her strength must have reduced. It’s a good time to kill her.”

The man frowned. “Do you know who’s the father of the baby in her stomach?”

Yesenia shouted arrogantly, “I don’t care who’s the father. Since she dares to provoke us, she—”

“Can’t you sense a trace of terrifying power?” the man interrupted her. “Have you forgotten the tribulation a hundred thousand entrapochs ago?”

Yesenia was startled. Her eyes widened. “Do you mean that the baby in her stomach belongs to Morgott?”

“Morgott...” The man shuddered. “Morgott has been sealed. This is impossible.

But this power seems to be more terrifying than Morgott’s.”

Yesenia was at a loss for words. It was more terrifying than Morgott’s power.

She couldn’t think of anyone more powerful than Morgott in Zymurgy and countless realms.

“Just wait and see.” The man sighed. “Sheamus and Simeon have already gone to get help. When the help arrives, she will be dealt with.”

Yesenia clenched her fists. She stared at the pregnant woman in the distance.

“I’m just scared that this insane woman will use the spiritual bodies in the Xaeclon Rank to make a move again before help arrives.”

Then, she looked at the man. “Javier, I can listen to you and not fight against her, but these spiritual bodies must be gotten rid of. Otherwise.”

“Alright.” After saying that, Javier slashed out.

In that instant, a magnificent gray power turned into Sword Lights. They instantly swept across the violet-pink lotuses.

With a loud boom, countless violet-pink lotuses exploded. The spiritual bodies in them flew everywhere when they lost the support.

At this moment, Yesenia turned into a ray of violet light. It rushed out.

Everywhere it passed, countless spiritual bodies would fly. Then, they were instantly crushed. There was blood and flesh everywhere.

Looking at the violent scene, Javier was anxious. "These are babies. How can you kill them?"

In the area filled with blood, Yesenia shouted as if she were a demon, "They aren't babies, they're enemies. We need to get rid of the root."

Then, the pregnant woman sitting on the large violet-pink lotus opened her eyes. Two rays of violetpink light with malevolent energy shot out.

Boom! Boom!

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6679-Another two loud explosions rang out. In the void, Yesenia was caught off guard and was devoured by the explosions.

In the next second, she shot up to the sky. There was black smoke around her.

Furiously, she roared, "You're insane. I will make you perish."

Then, she turned into a ray of violet light again and rushed toward the pregnant woman.

At this moment, thousands of violet-pink power flew out from behind the pregnant woman. Guided by the violet-pink lotuses, they wrapped around Yesenia and restrained her.

At this time, Yesenia was extremely angry. The Crepe Myrtle Energy flowed out of her, but she could break free from the violet-pink power.

She panicked even more when she realized the violet-pink power was absorbing her cultivation. Her cultivation was draining quickly.

“How dare you!” Yesenia roared angrily, “How dare you act recklessly in the Great Historial Teleportation Formation? You won’t have the chance to be reincarnated when you die.”

Seeing Yesenia struggling, the pregnant woman waved her hand. A terrifying black power flew toward Yesenia.

At this moment, a ray of amethyst-gold light rushed over to her. It collided with the black power, and there were the sounds of explosions.

The aftershock from the collision hit the pregnant woman. She was so shocked that retreated at a rapid speed along with the lotus beneath her.

On the other side, Javier wanted to take the opportunity to rescue Yesenia, but he was hit by the power.

As he steadied himself, he spat out a mouthful of blood. He looked at the pregnant woman who had retreated far away. There was also blood at the edges of her mouth. She was severely injured too.

However, Yesenia was still stuck in the countless violet-pink powers. Countless violet-pink lotuses were still absorbing her Chaos Power.

Clenching his fists, Javier stared at the pregnant woman. “Yin governor, let Yesenia go. Otherwise, I won’t hold back.”

The pregnant woman frowned. Then, the violet-pink powers around Yesenia tightened, making the latter cry out in pain.

Javier stuttered, “You...”

“What can you do?” the pregnant woman asked coldly.

Javier’s body was trembling because he was furious. “What are you trying to do?”

“I told you,” the pregnant woman said coldly, “Move out of the way. I want to go to the Great Historial Land.”

“You’re the Yin governor. You should know the rules.” Javier enunciated each word and said, “A living being doesn’t have the right to go to the Great Historial Land.”

The pregnant woman responded, "I'm not a living being. I'm the descendent of Tai Chi."

"But the baby in your stomach is a living being." Javier pointed at the pregnant woman and roared, "The Great Historial Land is the birthplace of all powers. It's the sanctuary of Zymurgy. How can it be tainted by living beings?"

"Living beings? Tainted?" The pregnant woman laughed. "Have you guys entered the Great Historial Land before?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6680-The pregnant woman sitting on the huge violet lotus smiled evilly. In the next second, she waved her hand. An amethyst-red power pillar shot out.

Amidst the whistling sounds, the amethyst-red power pillar instantly turned into Sword Lights. Several afterimages appeared. They headed straight to Javier's Golden Body.

"This is child's play," Javier roared before smashing his hands downward.

But the strike couldn't stop the amethyst-red Sword Lights from sweeping across the sky. Instead, countless Sword Lights penetrated his giant hands and went straight to his Golden Body.

"H-How can this be? No one can penetrate my Golden Body..." Javier said.

After that, countless amethyst-red Sword Lights penetrated his Golden Body with a deafening wind sound. It was endless and terrifying.

"Ah.!" With a scream, amethyst-gold light exuded from Javier's Golden Body.

At this moment, four rays of violet light appeared behind him. They hit his Golden Body and got rid of the amethyst-red Sword Lights in his Golden Body.

Following a muffled sound, the amethyst-red Sword Lights were blown away.

They headed to the pregnant woman. It was overwhelming. There were rays of violet light between them too.

In shock, the pregnant woman couldn't dodge them in time. She moved her hands. A trace of violet-pink power was formed in front of the huge lotus.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Explosions sounded. They were accompanied by countless Sword Lights hitting the Energy Wall.

In just a few minutes, the violet-pink Energy Wall created by the pregnant woman suddenly collapsed. Countless Sword Lights rushed toward her.

At this time, the pregnant woman turned around to protect the baby in her stomach. Her body was surrounded by amethyst-red light with malevolent energy.

Boom!

The beautiful woman could no longer endure the impact of the Sword Lights and was knocked away. The huge lotus she was sitting on shattered instantly.

Taking advantage of this, Yesenia who was surrounded by amethyst-red power broke free.

The pregnant woman who had fallen to the ground spat out a mouthful of blood and raised her head furiously.

It was only then she saw four figures behind Javier's Golden Body. Each figure was flashing with terrifying violet light.

Moments ago, she fought against five people alone. No, she fought against six people, including Yesenia. With her strength, it wasn't a problem. However, as she was pregnant, her strength had reduced. Thus, she ended up in such dire straits.

"I thought that the Yin governor, the descendent of Tai Chi, would be great. But you're just average." Suddenly, a man that looked like a monkey laughed.

"We have defeated the Yin governor. We will be famous," said an unkempt chubby man with an unfriendly tone.

In the next second, Javier withdrew his Golden Body. Clutching his chest, he spat out a mouthful of blood and glared at the pregnant woman with red eyes.

“Yin governor, it’s time for you to die. If you fall here, you won’t be reincarnated.”

“Hey, don’t kill her yet.” The man who looked like a monkey smiled creepily and said, “She’s beautiful.

She’s one of the most beautiful women. We should play with her first.”
