

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6688

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6688-“What an ignorant little brat!” Corey erupted in anger. He flipped his hands as dozens of purple forces flew toward James. Yet, all of them were resolved by the Marciais Power unleashed by James.

Corey’s face darkened gradually to the extreme. “You’ve obtained Yianni’s Marciais Power and even integrated his Marciais Soul. Indeed, you have some strength. However, do you think this alone can withstand my Xalador Daeclon Rank?”

With that, he pointed his two fingers into the void, drawing a huge Tai Chi pattern. It spat out countless dense Tai Chi Energy Balls that flew toward James. In that instant, James moved. He took several steps with the Terrastride Step, stepping on the Tai Chi Energy Balls as he charged straight at Corey.

“The Terrastride Step. Interesting!” Facing James up close, Corey did not retreat but instead advanced. He immediately engaged in a fierce battle with James.

A Ninth Xaeclon Rank powerhouse against a Xalador Daeclon Rank was a completely asymmetric confrontation. Yet, James fought Corey evenly by relying on the Terrastride Step, the Dawnblaze Form, the Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes, bolstered by the Marciais Combat Form, and the Marciais Soul. This also filled Corey with immense humiliation. Furious, he displayed all his Supernatural Powers, but each one was broken by James’ Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes, stifled before they could blossom.

“What an unruly brat! Do you think you can cross realms to battle just because you’ve obtained Yianni’s inheritance?” Corey cursed. He reached into the void, summoning a shining purple longsword into his hand. The next moment, he swept it out casually, and countless purple Sword Lights burst forth from the longsword.

Amidst the muffled sounds, James, whose Dawnblaze Form had not completely dodged, was immediately subjected to devastating blows and swiftly sent flying.

“James!” Seeing this, Yegor became furious and quickly soared into the sky.

Suddenly, the vast Tirta Power, accompanied by a righteous aura, crazily smashed towards Corey.

“Heh, Tirta’s disciple,” Corey snorted disdainfully. Then, he once again waved his sword, and another purple Sword Energy shattered the righteous aura and Tirta Power. With a booming sound, Yegor was also sent flying.

James immediately employed the Terrastride Step to reach Yegor. He asked anxiously, “Mr. Yegor, are you okay?”

“It’s nothing serious,” Yegor replied as he spat out a mouthful of blood. “Corey’s Triumphant Sword is indeed formidable, but he’s shameless enough. He knows close combat isn’t his forte, so he still resorts to this.”

As he finished speaking, Lady Herodias released Thea and angrily shouted, “Yegor is my husband. Only I can fight him, no one else!”

With that, she flashed and burst forth with terrifying Tirta Power, her purple golden light swiftly enveloping the realm. The next moment, she wielded the Tirta Sword and fiercely slashed towards Corey.

“Princess Herodias.” Corey frowned. “I didn’t expect you to even bring out the Tirta Sword. Well then, I’ll take your sword today.” As he spoke, he quickly turned into a purple light and dashed towards Lady Herodias.

James and Yegor saw it and immediately engaged in a fierce clash with the purple light transformed by Corey.

Boom! Amidst a world-shattering roar, James and Yegor were quickly forced back. The shattered purple Sword Light immediately manifested into Corey. He was furious to the extreme. “Three little ants, I’ll crush your bodies into ten thousand pieces and annihilate your divine forms.”

He once again erupted with an immense and boundless power, quickly shrouding the realm in purpleblue.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6689-The overwhelming pressure and the terrifying momentum akin to an apocalypse bore down on their souls, causing James, Lady Herodias, and Yegor to experience an unprecedented sense of oppression.

These three super powerhouses, who could dominate everything in the Genesis World, found themselves dwarfed in front of the Xalador Daeclon Rank powerhouse. It showcased the sheer terror of the Daeclon Rank powerhouse.

“Let’s go all out!” Yegor’s righteous aura surged through his body as he shouted.

Lady Herodias added, “Let’s unleash our full strength with a combined strike.”

James replied, “You two hold him back, I’ll get in close.”

Yegor and Lady Herodias immediately acted upon hearing this. The Tirta Power, shining with golden brilliance, and the crimson righteous aura merged into one, instantly increasing their power exponentially. With a vibrant array of colors and a deafening roar, they charged straight towards Corey.

Faced with the sudden surge in power, the formidable Corey dared not underestimate it. With a slash of his Triumphant Sword, a transcendent power of purplish-blue Sword Light immediately countered.

Seizing this opportunity, James executed the Terrastride Step and took eight consecutive steps. Despite being suppressed by countless purplish-blue forces and his speed decreasing sharply, he successfully closed in on Corey.

Corey became flustered as James appeared. “You broke through my Chaos Qrohm...”

With a malicious grin, James unleashed a swift punch. The terrifying Marciais Power, combined with the Historical Power, the Hongrome Essence, and the Chaos Essence, instantly transformed into a roaring, colorful dragon. It smashed straight towards Corey’s head.

The strength and terror of this strike even astonished Corey. In extreme panic, Corey’s eyes flashed with purplish-blue light, quickly condensing into two physical clones that rushed to meet the attack.

Boom! Boom! Two earth-shattering explosions ensued as the purplish-black dragon unleashed by James quickly shattered one of the clones. With the residual impact of the Hongrome Essence and the Chaos Essence, Corey, who had just turned his head, had half of his face smashed, instantly covered in blood and flesh. With a miserable scream, he flew backward. Meanwhile,

James was struck by the thunderous impact of the other clone of Corey. He was sent flying tens of thousands of light-years away.

In the blink of an eye, the purplish-blue Sword Light released by Corey split the powers unleashed by Yegor and Lady Herodias. It immediately sent them flying.

All four combatants began to cough up blood under the thunderous explosions.

Even so, being able to heavily injure a Xalador Daeclon Rank powerhouse with the combined full force of three Ninth Xaeclon Rank powerhouses was nothing short of a miracle.

Stabilizing his stance, Corey looked terrifying with disheveled hair and half of his face mangled. However, he threw his head back and burst into maniacal laughter. "This is splendid! It's been so long since I've encountered such a formidable opponent. However, do you think you can defeat me, a Xalador Daeclon Rank powerhouse, with just this level of strength? It's simply a pipe dream."

He clenched his fists, and a dense purplish-blue light erupted from his body once again. In an instant, his half-mangled cheek swiftly returned to its original state, and his strength surged once more.

James, Lady Herodias, and Yegor in the distant void were all heavily injured, blood trickling from their mouths. Especially James, cracks began to appear in his Ultimate Golden Body, showing signs of collapse. Even so, the three of them continued to fight valiantly. They faced death with unwavering resolve.

"This old guy is going all out," Lady Herodias said coldly.

Yegor wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth and snorted, "If he's going all out, then we can go all out too."

"I've been holding both of you back," James said solemnly. "Instead of achieving the Daeclon Rank, we've fallen into such a predicament."

"What are you talking about, James?" Lady Herodias gave James a disdainful look. "We wouldn't even have entered the Xaeclon Rank without you, let alone talk about being in a predicament."

“I say let’s just fight. What’s there to talk about when it comes to life and death?”

Yegor said arrogantly. “Face life and death with indifference. Just fight if you’re not convinced. That’s the kind of spirit we men should have.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6690

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6690-James nodded with a smile. In truth, he found it unnecessary to say such words, knowing the intentions and personalities of his two seniors. There was no need to bother being formal.

At that moment, a huge purplish-black lotus suddenly rose behind them. It buzzed as spun, descending with a magenta light and quickly enveloping the three of them. James and the others were astonished to find their injuries rapidly healing within the light. When they looked up, they saw Thea sitting on the purplish-black giant lotus, exuding unparalleled sanctity.

"How could I forget? She's the Heavenly Path now!" Lady Herodias exclaimed excitedly.

"That's great!" Yegor chuckled. "With the Yin governor, who is also the Dark Heavenly Path, we can't die."

James conveyed to Thea, "Retreat to the fourth layer of the Forladtt Land if you can't hold on. We have our ways."

Thea replied, "I want to live and die with you."

Hearing the response, James wiped the blood from his mouth. He looked ahead at Corey, and said, "Seniors, let's do this!"

Yegor and Lady Herodias quickly acted, unleashing several strikes of the Tirta Power and the righteous aura towards Corey. At the same time, James stepped on the Tirta Power and the righteous aura to rush towards Corey.

"Good, come at me!" Corey roared. His body radiated with purplish-blue light, splitting into one, then two, and eventually eight physical clones, all of which confronted James simultaneously.

A ferocious dragon's roar echoed through the sky as James unleashed a purplish-black dragon with his fist. Simultaneously, he used the Dawnblaze Form to flash and punch again, sending a roaring tiger charging forward. The next moment, the purplish-black dragon and the roaring tiger collided with Corey's physical clones. A terrifying explosion erupted.

Seizing the opportunity, James used the Terrastride Step to appear in front of Corey's main self and unleashed a barrage of tens of thousands of punches.

Although close combat was not his specialty, Corey fought evenly with James by relying on his transcendent speed and formidable cultivation of the Xalador Daeclon Rank. They exchanged blows from the sky to the ground and from the ground to the void. Meanwhile, Lady Herodias and Yegor joined the fray. They engaged Corey's eight physical clones in a fierce battle.

It was a unique and intense super battle where both sides exerted all their strength, unleashing all their Supernatural Powers. The purplish-golden Tirta Power, crimson righteous aura, purplish-black light, and purplish-blue light intertwined and swept across the void.

After countless rounds of combat, Corey found it impossible to fully suppress James. Knowing that if this continued, he would only be exhausted by James and the others, ultimately leading to his defeat. Taking advantage of James being forced back by a sword strike, he quickly flashed forward. His palms struck Yegor and Lady Herodias heavily. Then, he casually waved his hand, and a giant net imbued with terrifying Chaos Power descended, immediately shrouding the entire realm.

“Be careful, James! This is the Chaos Net,” Lady Herodias warned as her Tirta Sword flew out of her hand and headed straight for James.

Boom! A deafening explosion occurred as the Tirta Sword shattered the Chaos Net descending towards James. However, she and Yegor were entangled by a corner of the falling net. They immediately lost their fighting capabilities.

“Hahaha!” Corey laughed heartily. “The game is over, James Caden. If you dare to resist again, I’ll kill them right away.”

His Triumphant Sword swept out and instantly formed a huge purplish-blue Sword Formation around Yegor and Lady Herodias, who were trapped.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6691-James overcame the Chaos Net by wielding the Tirta Sword. Then, he quickly turned around.

His eyes burned with rage. James did not expect Yegor and Herodias would fall into the enemy’s hands.

“Hahaha!” Corey laughed hysterically. “You have extraordinary powers., You’ve also received the knowledge contained within Yianni’s Marciais Soul and performed even better than its original creator.

“I might not be able to defeat you, but I could always crush these two weaklings.”

James balled his fists.

He said through gritted teeth, “You, a Xurxo Daelcon Rank cultivator, are threatening your opponent by taking hostages? Do you not mind losing your dignity?” “Dignity?”

Corey snickered, “We live in a world where the strongest dominates. You can only preserve your dignity if you are strong enough.

“Now, I can exterminate both of Tirta’s students at any moment with a simple command of my Zen. Are you still going to resist?”

As James remained silent, Corey grinned malevolently. “I can tell that you and the two weaklings share a close relationship.

“They are even willing to risk their lives to help you. Could you really just do nothing and watch them die before your eyes?”

James tightened his fists. A murderous aura emanated from him.

In the process of improving his cultivation, James had come across all kinds of men. They could be savagely cruel, cunning and calculative, or dishonest and two-faced. However, James had never met someone as shameless as Corey.

At that very moment, Herodias called aloud from inside the sword formation powered by the Triumphant Sword, “James, don’t worry about us! Fight him!

With the Yin governor healing your injuries, you can fight him for as long as you want, but he’s all by himself. His powers will grow weak eventually. Victory is yours!” “Do it, James!” Yegor bellowed. “None of US should be tied down by some strange rules or so-called predestined fate. We need to overcome these things that chain US down and pave our own paths. That is the only way for us to gain control of our destiny!”

As he listened to the couple urging him to act, James generated lethal amounts of Marciais Power at the center of his palms.

Suddenly, Corey swung his sword and sent a blast of purplish-blue sword energy toward the sword formation. Herodias and Yegor let out loud cries almost simultaneously.

“How dare you two butt in senselessly!” Corey yelled furiously, “If it weren’t because this man, James Caden, was here, I would have killed both of you by now.”

When he heard their agonized screaming, James hesitated as he was about to launch his attack. He could not bear the thought of having to sacrifice Yegor and Herodias. The couple was like family to him.

Moreover, the couple came here because of him. James would not be able to face Truett if he were to fail to bring his parents home safely.

Unfortunately, James had met a powerful and sly opponent this time.

He needed to overpower his opponent swiftly with one critical blow.

Otherwise, the couple's life would be in jeopardy. James would also fall into the man's trap.

Lesia's voice rang in his mind just then. "Master, you want to use him?" "Would it work?" James asked through a voice transmission.

"You know the consequences." Lesia sighed. "If the situation is not that dire
"It's dire enough," James interrupted her.

"In front of me, we have Mr. Yegor and Ms. Herodias, who are trapped.

Behind me, I have my pregnant wife. I've run out of options."

Lesia let out another sigh. "Alright. I agree."

James replied, "You talk to him. I'll try to stall for more time." "Mhm," Lesia responded.

"James, you are a rare, talented young man. I admire your spirit and grit." Corey grinned broadly. "Let's have a chat, shall we?"

James frowned and narrowed his eyes. "What do you want?" "Excellent. You've calmed down now." Corey chuckled. "You must have been to the outer battlefield since you got here through the Forladtt Land, right?"
