

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6696-The Hongrome Quasar Soul formed a cocoon around Thea.

Simultaneously, it generated a force that pushed those around Thea like Lesia, Hemera, and Herodias away from her.

The Hongrome Quasar Soul lifted Thea higher in the air. It began shining brightly with vivid, colorful lights.

Purple clouds gathered above them. Thunder clashed as tremendous amounts of purple Hongrome Aura came from different directions and pooled in the sky.

“A Hongrome Birth!” Yegor exclaimed, “That’s a really good fortune!”

“The true Hongrome Child will be born.” Morgott’s spirit grinned. “James, your child’s potential will be immeasurable.”

Suddenly, the purple auras in the sky started flowing quickly toward the orb of light formed by the Hongrome Quasar Soul. The light orb was visibly growing larger.

Thea began screaming hysterically. A while later, she yelled angrily, “James, you horrible bastard! Ah...”

Her shrill screams reverberated through the space. James was extremely worried and nervous waiting at the side.

Yegor lightly patted his shoulder to calm him down.

Behind them, Morgott’s spirit was moving in circles. He seemed to be in deep thought.

Thea let out a loud cry from inside the Hongrome Quasar Soul’s light orb just then. Numerous Quasar Lightning shot out from the thick purple clouds and struck the light orb.

Along with a loud boom, a baby glowing with golden light and surrounded by purple Hongrome Aura rose in the air.

Curiously, the Quasar Lightning continued to fall from the clouds but did not hit the child.

Meanwhile, strong tremors traveled through that space. James and the others even had trouble trying to maintain their balance.

Four distinct roars and shouts echoed through the area just then.

In a flash, four gigantic purple light orbs appeared in four different directions.

Those four light orbs shot toward the baby in the next instant.

James saw the purple lights. He was about to rush to his baby's aid when Morgott's spirit moved past him and headed in the baby's direction.

"Morgott, you son of a bitch! I knew you were up to something!" James cursed.

He performed the Terrastride Step and took eight steps to unleash the powerful sealing force.

However, Morgott's spirit moved so quickly that he evaded James' attack instantly. He continued charging toward the baby.

"No!" James shouted furiously and desperately.

At that moment, the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell levitating behind James emanated a potent energy shining with six colors. Then, it went after Morgott's spirit.

"James, you won't let me fuse with you. If I fuse with your son, you'll have to work with me eventually." Morgott laughed wickedly.

James swiftly flew toward the ball of purple auras carrying his child. However, he was sent flying away as those purple auras started to swirl rapidly the minute he got close.

On the other hand, Morgott's spirit had moved into the cloud of purple auras along with the four purple light orbs.

"Morgott, you're a shameless bastard!" Herodias shouted furiously from below.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6697-The Hongrome Quasar Soul formed a cocoon around Thea.

Simultaneously, it generated a force that pushed those around Thea like Lesia, Hemera, and Herodias away from her.

The Hongrome Quasar Soul lifted Thea higher in the air. It began shining brightly with vivid, colorful lights.

Purple clouds gathered above them. Thunder clashed as tremendous amounts of purple Hongrome Aura came from different directions and pooled in the sky.

“A Hongrome Birth!” Yegor exclaimed, “That’s a really good fortune!”

“The true Hongrome Child will be born.” Morgott’s spirit grinned. “James, your child’s potential will be immeasurable.”

Suddenly, the purple auras in the sky started flowing quickly toward the orb of light formed by the Hongrome Quasar Soul. The light orb was visibly growing larger.

Thea began screaming hysterically. A while later, she yelled angrily, “James, you horrible bastard! Ah...”

Her shrill screams reverberated through the space. James was extremely worried and nervous waiting at the side.

Yegor lightly patted his shoulder to calm him down.

Behind them, Morgott’s spirit was moving in circles. He seemed to be in deep thought.

Thea let out a loud cry from inside the Hongrome Quasar Soul’s light orb just then. Numerous Quasar Lightning shot out from the thick purple clouds and struck the light orb.

Along with a loud boom, a baby glowing with golden light and surrounded by purple Hongrome Aura rose in the air.

Curiously, the Quasar Lightning continued to fall from the clouds but did not hit the child.

Meanwhile, strong tremors traveled through that space. James and the others even had trouble trying to maintain their balance.

Four distinct roars and shouts echoed through the area just then.

In a flash, four gigantic purple light orbs appeared in four different directions.

Those four light orbs shot toward the baby in the next instant.

James saw the purple lights. He was about to rush to his baby's aid when Morgott's spirit moved past him and headed in the baby's direction.

"Morgott, you son of a bitch! I knew you were up to something!" James cursed.

He performed the Terrastride Step and took eight steps to unleash the powerful sealing force.

However, Morgott's spirit moved so quickly that he evaded James' attack instantly. He continued charging toward the baby.

"No!" James shouted furiously and desperately.

At that moment, the Yuraeceaon Genesis Bell levitating behind James emanated a potent energy shining with six colors. Then, it went after Morgott's spirit.

"James, you won't let me fuse with you. If I fuse with your son, you'll have to work with me eventually." Morgott laughed wickedly.

James swiftly flew toward the ball of purple auras carrying his child. However, he was sent flying away as those purple auras started to swirl rapidly the minute he got close.

On the other hand, Morgott's spirit had moved into the cloud of purple auras along with the four purple light orbs.

"Morgott, you're a shameless bastard!" Herodias shouted furiously from below.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6698-It was too late.

Morgott's spirit moved past the purple auras and entered the baby's body at an astounding speed.

"Hahaha! The Hongrome Child is mine!" Morgott manipulated the child's body and started laughing. "With this fortune, I will be able to break my seal soon! No one will be able to defeat me!" "Die!" Herodias materialized next to the ball of purple aura. She lifted the Tirta Sword and swung it down forcefully.

James immediately demonstrated the Dawnblaze Form and destroyed the sword energy with a punch.

"James, what are you doing?" Herodias yelled at him.

"Ms. Herodias, that's my child." James said through clenched teeth, "You'll harm it if you try to kill Morgott."

Herodias argued, "Morgott claimed its body! If you don't kill it now, it will only bring more disasters."

"Let me take care of this." James bowed his head slightly. "Please, Ms.

Herodias."

"Herodias, you're being too rash." Yegor caught up with the pair and grabbed Herodias' arm.

"You should let James handle this."

"No!" Herodias shouted furiously, "I must kill Morgott today to eradicate him once and for all..." She was interrupted when Yegor lifted his hand and slapped Herodias in the face.

Herodias was momentarily stunned. "How could you..."

"You're being unreasonable." Yegor said in a steely voice, "I can tolerate any requests you have but not this one, Herodias." He pointed at Herodias. "You mustn't forget! It's all thanks to James that we are still alive now. I won't let you do anything that is against James' best interests."

Herodias had a stunned and conflicted look on her face. She was at a loss for what to do after listening to Yegor's words.

James looked at Yegor and gave a slight nod. Then, he turned around to face the baby floating inside the mass of purple aura. "Morgott, do you honestly think I will work with you if you do this?"

Morgott's spirit laughed aloud. "James, only two people have earned my acknowledgment so far. You're lucky. You are the third person who has done that.

"That's why I've been willing to humble myself and become friends with you. Do you know what that means?"

"It means I acknowledge you and your capabilities. I will see you as my equal, and I am willing to share the rights to rule all the worlds once we have them in the palm of our hand.

"Women and children... These things could never be as important as having ultimate power.

"With power, you would have control over the matters of all beings' life and death. We should be working on something like that!

"You are wise and ambitious. You have a bright future ahead of you. You should not let your relationship with your family or friends hold you down.

"You know, those who hurt you the most are the ones closest to you.

"Men like US need to be rid of all emotions. You need to instill fear in others.

Make sure that they don't even dare to fight back. That's how you become a hero and a god to others."

A deep frown creased James' forehead. "Are you done talking?"

"No." Morgott sighed. "I'm saying all this for your own good, James.

"I was very similar to you at one point. Frona must have told you what happened to me in the end.

“So, I don’t want to see you go down the same path and regret your decisions afterward like the old me.

“We are at the Great Historial Land now. With the Hongrome Child’s status, we will be able to improve our powers quickly and proceed to conquer all worlds and Zymurgy.

“As for those hypocritical supreme beings from Zymurgy, they will have to kneel and bow down before US. We won’t have to mind them at all.”

Morgott continued in a cold voice, “You don’t have other options left, James. Don’t hesitate anymore.

“Kill these people. You and I can explore the Great Historial Land on our own.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6699-James remained silent after listening to what Morgott said.

Behind him, Herodias and Yegor exchanged a glance. Both of them were frowning slightly.

If James were to agree to cooperate with Morgott, the two of them would make an indestructible team.

Even though they were both Ninth Xaeclon Rank cultivators who possessed the Tirta Power, Yegor and Herodias were still no match for the pair.

Still, the couple believed that James would not do that. That was because James was very different from Morgott, especially in terms of his personality.

The Yin governor, his wife, would always be James’ first priority. She meant the world to him. Moreover, they just had another kid. The child’s presence would also give James courage and a sense of purpose.

A short while later, James glanced over his shoulder at Yegor and Herodias, who were staring at him.

Then, he turned his eyes to Thea, who was still lying on her back while levitating mid-air.

There was a flash of determination in his eyes. It seemed like James had come to a decision.

“What’s there to consider about, James?” Morgott prodded him.

“You can achieve great things instantly if you just agree to my terms.

What’s holding you back?”

James drew a long breath. Then, he beamed a smile at the baby.

“You possessed my child’s body, but you said you want to be my friend. Isn’t that too much of a loss on my side?”

Morgott paused briefly. “What do you mean?”

James replied, “Shouldn’t you call me daddy?”

Morgott paused again for a few seconds before shouting angrily, “I see you as a friend, James! Yet, you want to be my father?! You...” “That’s right.” James interrupted, “If you truly see me as a friend, get out of my child’s body right now. Otherwise, you’ll forever lose the chance to work with me again.” Morgott fell silent.

“I know you are doing this because you want to use me to undo the seal on your main body.” James continued, “You don’t have to resort to doing something like this to achieve your purpose.

“Also, you seem to have forgotten something. This isn’t the first time you’ve possessed one of my children’s body. Did I give in back then?”

Morgott was reminded of Hetsema upon hearing those words. However, he knew very well that Hetsema could not compare to James’ newborn, who was a Hongrome Child.

Still, Morgott was aware that James was not someone who could be forced to do something against his will through threats or blackmail.

James would never consider working with someone who did that to him.

Morgott grumbled a few seconds later, “You... You’re as stubborn as a mule!” James smiled faintly. “Morgott, you and I have different beliefs and discipline in life.

“However, we both hate rules and restrictions. That is the reason why we can somewhat understand each other.

“You and I have different goals in life. You won’t like it if I force you to live according to my rules. Did you think I’d like it if the situation was reversed?” Morgott let out a deep sigh. “In the end, you and I can’t see eye to eye and work together?”

“There’s no good in forcing people with different ideals to work together.” James explained, “What I want is to have a happy and peaceful life with my family.

“On the other hand, you aim to get your revenge and rule over all the worlds.

“I can’t deny that we may face the same enemies and probably even work together to solve certain issues in the early stages. However, we will have to part ways eventually.

“It might sound like a joke, but I was the one who married into my wife’s family.

However, I don’t think that’s a shameful thing.

“On the contrary, my wife and I share a close relationship. We are complete when we have each other.

“If I die, my wife and my friends will try everything they can to avenge my death.

I would do the same for them too.

“It’s probably something you won’t ever experience. Similarly, I have no desire to experience the thrill of killing and trampling over others that you crave.”

After listening to those words, Morgott sighed in resignation. It seemed like he somehow had a better understanding of James now. “Frona, you were right. I simply don’t know what to do with this guy now.”