

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7011-Observing Yianni's determination, Lesia sighed helplessly.

"It's too late. He is not just the Chosen One. He embodies the fusion of Marcial and Historial Power, as well as the Three Treasures. He also inherited Emperor Yarden's Great Historial Land, along with all the Supernatural Powers of Zemra and Chuba. He has become the master of all the Greater Realms' living beings and possesses their Spiritual Providence!" she said.

At these words, Yianni reacted like a thunderbolt, glaring at Lesia with intense anger. Moments later, he grabbed Lesia by her collar like a raging beast and hoisted her up. "Why? Why did you do this to him?" We can be unburdened, but he is someone who values friendship more than life itself. Emotions are his core.

"But this catastrophe will thrust him into the spotlight as the enemy of the Greater Realms. His friends, family, and admirers will turn against him.

"That's a worse fate than death to him. How can he continue living like that?"

Lesia did not resist and silently allowed Yianni to express his anger.

Yainni roared frustratedly, "Have you forgotten, Frona? We watched him grow up together. We envied his ability to stay true to himself, his passion and fearlessness, his loyalty, his imagination, and freedom."

"We pinned all our unfulfilled dreams on him, vowing to create a perfect path for him to remain true to himself. But now..."

"Have you said enough?" Lesia suddenly interrupted.

Yianni, taken aback, twitched with anger still etched on his face.

Lesia said solemnly, "If you want to kill me, do it now. I return to nothingness, to my true self. Do you think I care about your Haleth Realm?"

Yianni was rendered speechless.

Lesia continued, "If you aren't going to kill me, then put me down. Some things are beyond our control."

Yianni raised his head, took a deep breath, and slowly put Lesia down.

After straightening her clothes, Lesia shot an annoyed glance at Yianni.

Yianni hissed through gritted teeth, "I don't want to hear your explanation. I just want a solution."

Lesia replied firmly, "No. The situation is set. We can design and plan for things, but they may not unfold as we envisioned.

"Don't forget. Our opponent isn't a fool. He operates from the shadows and understands the situation clearly. He is more capable of manipulating the circumstances than US."

Yianni turned to Lesia and said, "Are you saying he deliberately led James astray and pushed him to the forefront to disrupt us?"

Lesia did not respond. Instead, she slowly took out a jar of Chaos Absinthe and drank from it.

Yianni frowned at her behavior.

After a momentary silence, Lesia said, "There's a temporal gap in the Greater Realms. From the moment James embarked on his cultivation path, it had been nine hundred and sixty thousand entrapochs.

"Back then, we suspected the Waitara Path reincarnated as a Soremsia and destroyed the River of Time because he was afraid of US finding him."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7012-Yianni frowned and asked, 'is it not?' Lesia looked at him and said, "It seems more like a plot that he orchestrated. He destroyed the River of Time to make US believe his Soremsia is outside of the Tai Chi World, leading US on a wild goose chase through one universe after another.

"In doing so, he gained more time to set up his plan and allow himself to grow while being hidden."

Yianni's face suddenly changed. "You're saying his Soremsia is likely in the Tai Chi World and that he tricked US?"

Lesia squinted and nodded, "To find his Soremsia, the Yin governor went through accepted the Omniscient Mirror and endured countless hardships. She did a commendable job."

"At least now we can confirm his Soremsia isn't outside of the Tai Chi World."

After drawing in a deep breath, and said, “However, before the Yin governor could return to the Tai Chi World, Emperor Qadeefs Soremsia split her into two halves, and the Omniscient Mirror was lost. That meant our previous assumptions were wrong.

“Even though we know the Waitara Path’s Soremsia is in the Tai Chi World, we’re unable to identify him. Hence, he became capable of manipulating everything from behind the scenes.”

Yianni frowned at her words and said, “If that’s the case, we just need the Yin governor to merge...”

Lesia interrupted, “Do you think I’ve not considered it? However, even after she becomes whole again, will we be able to find the Omniscient Mirror? It’s the only object that can identify the Waitara Path’s Soremsia.

“Also, we need both Thea and James to agree to it. Would they be willing?”

Yianni clenched his fist and said, “I’ll convince them.”

Lesia stared at him and said, “Then, you’ll be forcing them. Do you think James will stay out of Thea’s matters? Your method isn’t better than mine.”

Yianni was at a loss for words.

Lesia said calmly, “The situation is already out of our control. All we can do is disregard his plans and make necessary preparations.

“As long as we can make James the Supreme Path before his return, we’ll be able to compete with him.”

Yianni snorted, “Why didn’t you do it yet? You’re one of the Nothingness Gods.

Are you really that weak and powerless?”

Lesia slowly closed her eyes, ignoring Yianni’s question.

Naturally, she wished to expedite James’ ascent to becoming the Supreme Path. However, despite having gone through very tough tribulations, he had not endured enough. Even if he were to take the position, he would not be able to secure it for long.

The only recourse now was to use the different gods, emperors, saints, and path emperors to train James, enabling him to conquer his tribulations completely.

It was a race against time. James had to overcome a few more tribulations before the Waitara Path returned. To help him, Lesia had employed every means at her disposal. The rest was up to James.

Yiannia eyed Lesia and said, "Alright. Let's not waste words. Since he acknowledges me as his teacher, then all I have is his, even my life.

"I sincerely hope that after he becomes the Supreme Path, he can avert the Leere Tribulation. I also don't want him to become a demon that everyone hates and is left isolated..."

Lesia grabbed Yianni and said, "You're being overly idealistic. We can't intervene anymore. Everything hinges on him."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7013.-Yianni was taken aback, staring at Lesia in shock. "In other words, you've already pushed him to a dead end?"

Lesia replied solemnly, "It's not me. It's the Waitara Path and Qadeer. Can't you see? Right now, James' biggest opponent isn't the Waitara Path, but Qadeer.

"That bastard claims to be waiting for the Waitara Path and Taiyi's return, yet he is crafting his own ambitious schemes.

"Just earlier, I was trying to put the puzzles together. After he tapped into James' soul, his Primordial Spirit transversed into the Xanadu Realm. He cultivated Oblivion Power, which we, the Nine Gods of Nothingness, had joined hands to seal away.

"In essence, the opponent James faces now is hardly any weaker than Waitara Path's Soremsia. It's a calamity in its own right, dubbed the Oblivion Tribulation.

"If James fails to overcome the ordeal, he'll not have the chance to become the Supreme Path."

"Furthermore, it's almost time the Waitara Path's Soremsia returns. Soon, James will have to confront even more pressure and challenges."

With a resigned look, Lesia said, "At this point, the greatest assistance we can offer is to hold off Qadeer and ensure James can safely pass the trial within the Gate of Mystery.

Yianni clasped his hands behind his back, his gaze fixed on the direction where James and Morgott sat with a solemn expression. He had believed that with the alliance formed by himself, Harper, Zemra, and Chuba, they could seize the Forty-Ninth Heaven and block the Waitara Path's Soremsia from returning.

Unfortunately, things had progressed in a direction he had not foreseen.

Now, the Leere Tribulation that they were meant to shoulder was resting on James' shoulder. He worried if James was capable of bearing it.

Lesia studied Yianni's anxious expression and said, "If we're to intervene, perhaps you could share your fusion knowledge with him. He's really sharp and perceptive, even more so than US."

Tianni looked at Lesia briefly, then waved his hand. The next moment, they had teleported elsewhere.

Meanwhile, Morgott and James remained sitting cross-legged in the void. They had both cast their strongest defensive Supernatural Power.

Morgott possessed a Demonic Body and was capable of withstanding calamities, whereas James had integrated the Three Treasures. 49 Primordial Spirits circled him, prepared to block the incoming tribulation.

Yet, despite their vigilance, they waited in tense anticipation, but nothing stirred.

Restless, Morgott glanced at James impatiently. "James, do you reckon that Qadeer has forgotten about US, or perhaps he has lost control over Gate of Mystery?"

James smiled calmly and said, "Can you lose control over your Demonic Body?"

Morgott let out a resigned sigh. "Absolutely not. Wait. Are you mocking me?"

James chuckled, "The Gate of Mystery is like Qadeer's body. It operates based on his whims."

With that, James casually set up a sizable formation.

Yianni and Lesia suddenly appeared.

Observing Morgott and James within a formation, they were speechless.

Lesia sighed and said, "Do you really not know how to conserve your energy?"

How could you set up a Three Treasure Formation here?"

James looked up and asked, "Is there a problem?"

Lesia explained, "It requires a lot of Innate Energy. After you exhaust everything,

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7014-Upon uttering these words, James experienced a sudden realization. Swiftly, he withdrew the Three Flower Formation and appeared before Lesia and Yianni.

"I've been wondering, why hasn't the calamity descended yet? Could it be Qadeer is surveilling us by any chance?" James voiced his speculation.

Yianni clasped his hands behind his back and said, "That may not be the case.

The Gate of Mystery intertwines with Greater Realms' existence.

Qadeer wields control over it, yet his insight might not extend to every corner."

Casting a glance at Lesia, Yianni continued. "You can seize the opportunity to merge and improve your Supernatural Powers."

James' eyes gleamed brightly. "Speaking of Supernatural Powers, Master. I've been eager to..."

Before he could finish, Yianni swiftly whisked him away, engaging in combat within the void.

Though not a struggle of life and death, Yianni intended to impart advanced fusion techniques to James through practical combat.

Observing the blurred figures darting through the void, Morgott moved to intervene, only to be restrained by Lesia.

Morgott protested, "He's trying to bully James!"

Lesia retorted unhappily, "It's a spar between teacher and disciple. Are you trying to steal some knowledge as well?"

Morgott retorted, "Steal? Who do you take me for, Frona? It's usually others stealing my Supernatural Powers..."

"Enough." Lesia interrupted, summoning hundreds of jars of Chaos Absinthe.

Morgott's eyes gleamed greedily at the sight. However, before he could act, Lesia grabbed his ear.

"Ouch, Frona! What's the meaning of this?" Morgott cried out in pain.

Lesia commanded sternly, "Prepare the formation! No sneaking drinks. We must establish a secure training environment for James."

Morgott looked at Lesia with astonishment and resentment as if he were looking at a devil in disguise.

Lesia swiftly waved her slender hand, directing the Chaos Absinthe in different directions.

Before long, a mystical formation constructed from Chaos Absinthe hovered over the battleground where James and Yianni sparred and began to activate.

The Gate of Mystery became aglow with dazzling lights, illuminating the darkness.

Just then, a disdainful sneer echoed from nearby.

“Who gave you the permission to do as you please in the Gate of Mystery?”

Suddenly, a multitude of Sword Lights pierced the void and aimed toward Lesia’s formation.

Sensing the danger, Lesia pushed Morgott forward. Then, she ordered, “Get him!”

Morgott was thrust out of the formation and stood face-to-face with the Sword Lights. His face instantly contorted with anger as he cursed at Lesia.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7015-At that moment, Lesia transformed into numerous phantoms and circled the formation, quickly hastening the activation.

The mysterious formation slowly rotated and emitted colorful auras, shattering the Sword Lights that attacked it.

Morgott morphed into countless purple-red lights amidst the sea of Sword Lights, skillfully navigating through the gaps. After arriving behind Qadeer, Morgott reformed into his physical body.

“You vile creature! Have a taste of my spear!” Morgott roared, swinging his spear at Qadeer.

At the last second, Qadeer stepped to the side and grabbed the spear.

However, an electric surge coursed through his body and caused him to convulse, eliciting groans of pain.

“Haha! Dance for me!” Morgott laughed, then leaped onto the spear and charged at Qadeer.

“Damn it!” Qadeer growled, then shattered the spear’s shaft. Just as he was about to counter, Morgott delivered a fierce palm attack.

Unable to evade, Qadeer instinctively raised his hand to block, only to be forcefully propelled backward by Morgott’s strike.

Boom!

Like a leaf caught in a gust, Qadeer was sent hurtling back, colliding with Lesia's formation.

The formation pulsed with immense power and deflected Qadeer away.

"It's great you showed up! Haha!" Morgott taunted and kicked him again.

Qadeer was prepared this time. As he neared the formation, he cast a barrier and stabilized himself.

Morgott mocked, "Oh? You're back for more? As you wish!"

"Fuck you!" Qadeer retorted and thrust his palm forward.

The void within the Gate of Mystery quivered as the powerful forces converged toward Morgott from all directions.

"Run, Morgott!"

Unfortunately, Lesia's warning came too late.

As Qadeer's hands moved swiftly, the gathered Innate Energy and fierce encircled Morgott, forming a rapidly shrinking, rotating formation.

"Damn! What is this thing? It's suppressing my energy! Argh!" Morgott was completely consumed by the mysterious formation, and his anguished screams echoed.

"Hahahaha!" Qadeer threw his head back and laughed. "Who knew you would have this day, too, Emperor Kaelisar? It's what you get for betraying me.

"You used to stand high and might in the Greater Realms. Yet, look at how pathetic you are right now. You associate yourself with a weakling like James and forsaken the favorable terms I offered you."

"You brought this upon yourself. So what if you have a Demonic Body and immortality? You'll have to suffer endlessly in my formation!"

As Morgott's hysterical screams continued, Lesia, standing within the formation, frowned.

Morgott was enduring this torment because of her-not out of cruelty, but out of necessity.

Within the Gate of Mystery, Qadeer was nearly omnipotent. Even she, a God of Nothingness, could only rely on the support and protection of a Nothingness Formation.

However, setting up the Nothingness Formation required time. Qadeer was powerful. James and Morgott were the only ones capable of resisting him.

Yianni, on the other hand, had to remain unharmed. Between James and Morgott, she could only choose Morgott to hold back Qadeer.
