

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7449

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7449-Hearing James' words, the deities looked at each other in shock.

They knew that James' closest friends, who had faced countless dangerous situations with him, were among those listed. However, if even James was unsure, how could they provide any suggestions?

After a while, Wesley asked, "Do you intend to settle the Forty-Ninth Heaven's affairs first, or do you want to address Zymurgy and the Greater Realms all at once?"

James sat cross-legged in the void and answered, "Let's start with Zymurgy. I've been away from the Greater Realms for too long and need to inspect the place personally again."

Wesley nodded and said, "According to their destiny scrolls, these individuals are qualified. The question is what their titles will be."

Raising his head, Wesley asked, "If we keep them all in the Forty-Ninth Heaven, what about the Forty-Eighth Heaven and below? We can't leave them without a deity to guard them." The other three deities nodded in agreement.

Taichu suddenly said, "Marius should stay in the Forty-Ninth Heaven. He governs the Wyrmscale Source, after all. It's the origin of all beasts, especially flying beasts. Moreover, it's the closest to the Supreme Path."

Yasmina teased, "Is that so? Or are you just afraid of being separated from him and not being able to see him?"

Taichu's face flushed red. "I...I'm not..."

Before she could finish speaking, everyone burst into laughter.

Their reaction made her even more embarrassed.

James chuckled and waved his hand. "Alright. Stop teasing her. They're not married yet, so it would be cruel to separate them. However, he is quite lazy and isn't suited to manage the Wyrmscale Source. He was once a close companion of mine, so I'll appoint him as the Supreme Dojo's chief supervisor, with a third-ranked deity status. He'll be in charge of managing the dojo's affairs for now."

Then James looked at Taichu and said, "You two will be able to be together for a long time and strengthen your relationship."

Everyone laughed at his playful remark.

Taichu blushed as she scolded, "You're the Supreme Path, ruler of the Haleth Realm now, James! Can you be more serious?"

"Alright, alright. Let's get to business." Taiyi waved her hand, then looked at James. "Isn't a third-ranked deity a little too low for the chief supervisor of your dojo?"

Wesley nodded. "I agree. He must act on your behalf to manage the Haleth Realm's affairs while you are absent. He should at least be first-ranked..."

James shook his head. "No. He'll only need to take care of some cauldrons.

There isn't anything else to do, so he doesn't need to be a first-ranked deity.

"Moreover, his contributions are relatively low compared to you all. Let's allow him to prove himself and earn a higher position."

The group exchanged glances, then nodded in agreement.

Looking through the scrolls, James said, "Biefren can be in charge of the Wyrmscale Source. He'll be titled the Wyrmscale Emperor."

"Hankin originated from the Forty-Ninth Daoisms, so it should be fine to let him manage the Forty-Ninth Heaven."

"Quintus and Quentyn were top powerhouses among the deities, so it would be appropriate for them to manage everything below the Fortieth Heavens."

Suddenly, James frowned, "The hardest will be my master, Yianni and Cosimeon. Though I have a close relationship with Yianni, who has!

helped me through numerous trials, his destiny scroll has three blank parts. And these are the most crucial ... "

Wesley interrupted James and said, solemnly, "His birth, initial life experiences, and entry into his cultivation journey. We must take this seriously. It's not about trust anymore, but as the Supreme Path, you must be cautious when appointing deities."

Taiyi stared at James and said, Yianni created the Marciais Combat Form, which has high prestige among the Greater Realms.

However, his journey is bizarre and there's too little known about him.

It's strange..."
