

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7561

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7561- James stepped forward to help but was interrupted by Yianni, who struggled onto one knee and raised his head with a frustrated smile. Then, he roared, "Amazing! How unexpected! You're truly remarkable, Frona. I thought I had outsmarted you, but I was the fool."

"So that's why you repeatedly coaxed me into leaving my soul spirit in the Marciais Combat Form's Origin. You've had this planned from the start. The Caeloros Supreme is truly terrifying, cunning, and cruel!"

After venting his anger, Yianni looked at James helplessly. "You're smart, and I admire your tenacity. Your commitment to friendship, principles, and vision is incredible. Though you're a Historial being created by the Waitara path, you despise rules and authority. You're unrestrained and unconventional. You are incompatible with the strict hierarchy of the Destiny Sect.

"With a personality like yours, you're an anomaly in the Destiny Sect, which worships authority and plays insidious tricks. You will also be regarded as a heretic."

Yianni took another deep breath. "Your great talent and strategy shouldn't be used to fight against these hypocritical, power-hungry people. You should use your prestige and the camaraderie of your friends to create your own force to replace the Destiny Sect.

James replied indifferently, "I'm the ruler of the Haleth Realm right now. Do you want me to rebel against myself?"

Yianni suddenly laughed, "The Haleth Realm's ruler? You are so intelligent. How can you not understand that your position is not based on your actual strength? It was not a position you fought for but gained through Frona's intentional support.

"She can help you to the position of the Supreme Path, rule the Haleth Realm, and use you to deal with the Leere Tribulation when the Waitara Path's Reincarnation Soremsia. But one day, she can pull you down and replace you with another."

Yianni looked directly at James. "Don't you always say you don't believe in fate? Then why do you place your fate in the hands of others instead of holding it yourself?"

James gradually narrowed his eyes. "Master, you don't need to beat around the bush. Just tell me your purpose."

Yianni pointed at James. "Alright, I'll get straight to the point. You're caught in the grievances between Frona, the other Caeloros Gods of Nothingness, and the Waitara Path, becoming a pawn in their game." The next second, Yianni flashed in front of James. "Listen to my advice. Get out of here immediately, give up the position of the Supreme Path, take everyone you trust and care about, and leave this place with me.

“Don’t worry. You will achieve more tremendous success in the Xanadu Realm. promise all my disciples and believers will be handed over to you will also help you with all my strength. “After the Leere Tribulation breaks out and the two factions are injured, I’ll help you lead an army back here to establish your own force, one where you have the final say.”

James stared at him blankly, realizing Yianni must hold an exceptional status amongst the Five Shadowborns. Otherwise, he would not have made such a significant promise.

Yianni stared at James and said, “If you can’t decide yet, you don’t have to reply immediately. I can wait for you here for a while...”