

Almighty DG 858

Chapter 858

After entering the library, he rummaged through the shelves. However, he could not find what he was looking for.

“Where is it?” He murmured.

Standing in the middle of the library, he scanned his surroundings. Then, he noticed a straw mat.

He walked over to the mat and sat down on it. Focusing his gaze in front of him, he looked straight ahead.

As if he had suddenly realized something, he immediately sprang to his feet and walked toward the shelf in front of him. Once he stood in front of the shelf, he looked at the ground.

Sure enough, there were traces of the shelf being moved.

He gently pushed the shelf. With an almost inaudible click, a secret door revealed itself.

The man’s lips curled in delight. He briskly walked over to the door and opened it. There was a black box behind the door.

Upon opening the box, he found an ancient scroll within.

of a bamboo grove was revealed

Bamboos on

back into the box,

an uneventful exit

and changed out of her clothes. Just as she was about to leave, Thomas

“Sir Caden.”

him a

“Mhm.”

nod of acknowledgment and said impassionately, “There’s no need to concern yourself with the True Energy that James had cultivated had been forcibly expelled from his body.” Thea wrung “Don’t worry, we’ve sent him to the Cadens.

him a puzzled look. “Why didn’t you save James yourself? I’m sure you’re definitely capable back to Cansington and wait there patiently like a good, little girl.

did nothing to address Thea’s questions nor lips into a thin line and gave

you go.”

an ancient scroll from its pocket. He opened the scroll and lay it