

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 958

"Okay."

Scarlett nodded obediently.

Then, she asked, "By the way, have you found Quincy? I'm swamped with the company's affairs. If she doesn't come back to head the overall situation, I'm afraid it might be too much for me to handle alone."

Scarlett had no confidence that she could handle the situation properly.

Business was not her strong suit, and it was starting to be too much for her to manage.

Hearing this, James knit his brows as a complicated expression flickered over his face.

After a momentary silence, he replied, "I'll try my best to find her."

Thea was the only clue he had to find Quincy.

If he was correct, Thea knew Quincy's whereabouts but refused to tell him because she was worried about him looking at another woman.

"Are there any other things you need me to handle? If not, I'll go ahead and hold the meeting first."

"No, it's fine. You may leave."

James waved her away.

Suddenly, he remembered something and stopped her.

our plan to them yet. Otherwise, we'll be stuck having to defend against their attacks. Give me a list of arrange for someone to print out to carry out his

did not leave instantly but remained inside the office. He was extremely concerned for a long time and the only person he could think of that took out his

the matter,

like to borrow some more swallowed his pride and other end of the phone went asked, "How much

as you're able to hand. I don't have much left to give you. The most I can manage is ten billion dollars. Any more and I'll have to resort to selling my then. I'll come up hung up the phone despondently. He understood that it was not would require a huge flow of last ten billion, he could face

can I get money and forth in the office. He thought about returning to the Southern Plains last time, he had to tread more cautiously and did not want to resort on, how could I

suddenly sprang up

someone appeared

Blake.