

MY WIFE IS AN ALOOF BEAUTY

Chapter 1381 Kung Fu Boy (Part Three)

"Don't worry. Take it easy. You're gonna be okay sooner or later. What about the scars on your face? Did Tom say something about it?" Leena looked at the dried up wounds on Patricia's face. Though the wounds were not very deep, they would leave permanent scars if they were not properly treated. She wondered why Tom hadn't applied the special scar eliminating gel on her face. Was that jerk doing it on purpose, still hating on Patricia?

"Do you think I'm ugly with the scars?" Patricia asked, stroking the scars on her face.

"No, I don't. But they remind me of that accident," Leena said honestly. She regretted having asked Patricia the question. After all, Patricia was a woman, and it was a huge deal for women when it came to anything about their looks.

"Ha! Don't worry about me. I believe I look cool with the scars," Patricia said with a smile. She lived very freely, refusing to give in to the pressure of modern society on women when it came to beauty.

"Good girl! You are so cool that no men dare to get close to you." Leena rolled her eyes at Patricia. She had never seen a woman who didn't care about her face at all.

"Hey, woman! Was that a back handed compliment? Does Major General Gu know you are actually a mean woman?" Patricia retorted at once.

"Really? I'm a mean woman?" Leena asked in reply while casting Patricia a reproachful glance. 'I'm not mean at all. I was telling the truth. Does she really think that it's cool to have scars on her face?' she thought to herself.

The two spent a few more hours catching up until it was time for Leena to leave. After bidding goodbye to Patricia, Leena went straight to Tom's office. She pushed the door open without knocking, in attempt to surprise him. But to her disappointment, Tom was not in his office. She entered the room, looked around and sat casually on the sofa.

deal with. But the idea was voted down by her sworn brothers who thought she looked like a princess with curly long hair.

"I thought you would be back any minute, so I didn't call you." Leena made a face and stuck out her tongue at Tom. If she had known that it would take him so long, she would have called him right at the very beginning.

"When did you come back from Paris? This morning?" Tom asked and wondered how Leena had the patience to wait for him for such a long time. Was there something important she wanted to talk to him? It had gotten to be that.

"Yes, I arrived this morning. Edward picked me and Justin up and drove me home. Then I came here to visit Patricia and you. I planned to go back home and really have a good rest after this, but I didn't expect myself to fall asleep quickly. I guess I was that tired." Leena smiled shyly like an innocent girl.

"So you've seen Miss Bai?" Tom asked. He didn't look at Leena in the eye as if it were a casual question, but his heart began to beat faster just by saying that name.

"Yes, I've seen Patricia. And I want to discuss something with you about her," Leena said honestly. She failed to notice the strange expression that suddenly appeared on Tom's face.

MY WIFE IS AN ALOOF BEAUTY

Chapter 1382 An Annoying Couple (Part One)

"Oh, all right. I'm listening," Tom said while standing up. The gentle person had become indifferent and cold. Leena couldn't understand why love always wore people out.

"Um... the scars on Patricia's face... I mean, what are you gonna do with them?" asked Leena after a short hesitation. Tom had been really weird recently. She was afraid that she might piss him off easily by mentioning Patricia before him.

"Did she send you here to ask about it?" Tom replied with a mocking smile. He was having a hard time accepting the truth though he knew that Patricia forgot about him because of her serious injuries. It was Patricia who had intruded into his life and told him that she had a thing for him. Sadly though, it was also her who took the unilateral decision of pulling out of the love game just in time he fell in love with her.

"No! Don't get me wrong. She is okay with the scars. It's just that I'm worried about her. You know, women all care for their faces." Leena scrunched her nose. She was at the verge of tears as she wasn't used to seeing Tom torture himself like this. However, she also understood that things were happening with reasons. If only Tom hadn't kept rejecting Patricia before, then the two might have been happily together by now.

"Since she's okay with the scars, why are you so worried about her?" Tom's voice sounded grating on Leena's ears that it stunned her for a while. He honestly didn't know what was wrong with himself too. Leena was his beloved sworn sister and he shouldn't talk to her in such a rude manner. It was just that he couldn't help but lose his temper whenever he heard of Patricia.

"Tom, are you okay? You've been acting really weird recently," Leena asked in a worried tone. Tom had never blamed her regardless of her mistakes in the past. Thus, she felt wronged.

He had never been this impatient while talking with her.

"I'm really sorry, Leena. I didn't sleep well last night and that's why I'm really tired now. Please don't get angry at me," apologized Tom upon realizing what he just said.

"Was it because of Patricia?" It was then that Leena decided to make it clear with Tom. She didn't want him to be full of remorse like Rain.

"Leena, I really don't want to talk about it right now. I want some space, okay?" Tom turned his back to Leena as he did Drugged one night by her ex-boyfriend, a mysterious man took advantage of her in an ecstatic night filled with sex.

To take her revenge, she married the man, and used him.

"As long as I'm alive, I'm still his legal wife, while all of you are just his mistresses."

She remained adamant even when he was involved in scandals with other women.

Eventually she stormed off after she learned that he had betrayed her again. But life brought her back to him a few years later, to his astonishment.

ck home and was welcomed by an empty house. She was unable to stand it as Kevin's figure kept flashing across her mind. Therefore, she took her suitcase out again and packed several clothes. Less than an hour after that, she was already driving to the airport.

Upon arriving at the airport, she booked the earliest flight to the capital city which was two hours later. It was not until now that she realized how impulsive she had been to come here without checking the flight schedule. She could just guess how tough the two hours waiting time would be for her.

To kill time, she went to the coffee shop at the airport and ordered a cappuccino. She looked around to observe people's clothes in an attempt to get new inspirations. She had a pretty face and her long black hair framed her distinct beauty perfectly. Thus, her presence attracted the attention of many passersby.

She was still observing when a familiar built suddenly caught her attention. To her intense surprise, she saw Dorothy! The same woman who had been in the newspaper with Kevin not long ago. Though Dorothy's sunglasses were big enough to cover half her face, Leena still recognized her. Dorothy was sitting on a nearby table. She didn't wear any makeup and looked like a girl next door. That was why nobody recognized her except for Leena.

On the other hand, Dorothy let out a friendly smile upon seeing Leena. Then she lowered her head to read her magazine. She was really graceful and elegant. n((0./v/)e.(l).B--l.)n Leena curled her lips, stopped looking around, and enjoyed her coffee.

MY WIFE IS AN ALOOF BEAUTY

Chapter 1383 An Annoying Couple (Part Two)

Time dragged and Leena felt hungry after having a cup of coffee. She realized that she hadn't eaten anything the whole day. Thus, she ordered a cake and some snacks.

Before her food was served, a young couple sat opposite to Leena. She looked around and found that the shop was fully occupied. The weather was so cold that everyone wanted to have a cup of hot coffee.

The girl threw herself in the boy's arms. They were occupied with endless whispers of love and even exchanged passionate kisses. They were acting as if there were no one else sharing the coffee shop with them.

Nonetheless, Leena didn't know whether to laugh or cry at the scene. She would have no appetite if the couple continued acting like this for a minute more. So she stared at them deliberately in an attempt to remind them to behave.

"Hey, old woman, stop staring at us!" said the girl in an arrogant way. She raised her head and stared back at Leena defiantly.

'Old woman?' Leena was stunned at her words and didn't know how to respond. The girl was really impolite and rude.

"Sorry. You may go ahead," said Leena after some seconds of silence. Her face was suddenly flushed scarlet with embarrassment. The girl's loud voice attracted too much attention from the people inside the shop. Leena felt like she was a peeping Tom!

"You've ruined our romantic moment. What a romance breaker!" The boy was also infuriated so he cast a burning glance at Leena. In reaction to it, Leena remained quiet on her seat as she mocked herself inside her mind, 'So I've changed from a peeping Tom to a romance breaker?'

Leena furrowed her eyebrows. She did feel a little sorry to have interrupted them at first, but she was totally angry now because of their attitude. It was they who behaved improperly in public. 'How dare you two accuse me? This is a public place, not a bedroom. If you two want to have sex, just go back home!' She thought.

"She must be an old maid and no man loves her," the girl commented as she shot a scornful glance at Leena.

"Hey, watch your language. If you two are in heat, please find somewhere else. You are making me gross, okay?" Finally, Leena said calmly and looked away. These two were simply making her sick.

"Honey, she is mocking us! Teach her a lesson!" The girl held the boy's arm and acted in a pettishly charming manner.

"Babe, don't get angry. She is jealous of you. She really envies you. N ll gone popular. Now that the designer was right beside her, she wondered if she could seize the opportunity.

"Yes, I am. And you must be Dorothy Lu, a popular celebrity in S City?" Leena said in a whisper as she could tell that Dorothy didn't want to be recognized.

"Uh... how did you recognize me?" Dorothy asked in a low voice as she looked around. She feared that the others might also recognize her. She was dressed in a totally different way today as she didn't want people to know who she was. She had stayed in the airport for a few hours but her fans hadn't even recognized her. How did Leena recognize her? After all, they hadn't seen each other before.

"Well, I guess that's because I'm a designer and have a pair of sharp eyes. Don't worry. I won't expose your identity," Leena assured her. She was not the type of woman who always put her finger into another's pie. Frankly, she was not even interested to know the reason why Dorothy was dressed like this.

"Oh, thanks," Dorothy said. She was about to go to the capital city for private affairs. Even her agent or assistant knew nothing about her trip, let alone her fans.

"No problem." Leena closed her eyes to take a nap and hoped that Dorothy was clever enough not to bother her. Fortunately, Dorothy was a smart woman who kept quiet the whole journey.

It was already dark outside when Leena reached the capital city. It was not her first time here but it was the first time she came here alone. After walking out of the airport, she was at a loss of what to do next. It was much colder than S City and she couldn't help but shiver.

MY WIFE IS AN ALOOF BEAUTY

Chapter 1384 A Surprising Reunion (Part One)

"Miss Leng, is no one going to pick you up?" Although the night had already fallen and it was generally dark, Dorothy was still wearing her big sunglasses in order to avoid being recognized in public. In contrast, Leena was dressed casually. Despite the fact that she had built a name for herself abroad, there were not many people who knew her back home. Here in her own country, ordinary people usually did not pay much attention to designers unless they were closely connected to celebrities. Instead, they cared more about the brand. As for the designer behind the brand? They did not care much. They only cared about superstars, those who had become famous in TV and movies, as well as those who had become popular as singers and musicians. They were the ones whom people usually followed blindly.

"No, I'm good. Thank you! I just decided to come here in the spur of the moment. So, I'm kind of in a hurry," Leena replied politely with a smile on her face. Although she tried to be as mature as she possibly could, she still looked quite sweet. It seemed that she was born with a natural sweetness and charm in her personality.

"Same here. That's why I need to call a cab." At this time, Dorothy took out a mask and put it on. Then she took off the sunglasses. Looking out of place with sunglasses at night, she would be more visible in public.

"Then, have a nice drive. I gotta go now." Leena said goodbye to her cheerfully after she took a look at the taxi spot. The moment she turned back, she ran into the couple she had met earlier. What was more, the girl was holding a cup of hot coffee, and the coffee was spilled right on Leena's clothes.

None of them had expected that. So all of them froze, standing mortified for a moment.

"It's not my fault. You came to me and hit me," g the broadest smile. As he got closer to her, it felt like she was the only person in the whole world and all the other things just faded in a blur. She was his light.

At that same time, Leena seemed to feel a pair of burning eyes staring at her as a man on her right side walked towards her. She raised her head to check who it could be. The moment their eyes finally met and stared at each other, both of them felt that time stopped and the world around them froze.

"Hello you! What a nice coincidence, Kevin!" Leena smiled and greeted. Although she felt a bit worried in her heart as if she did something wrong, she brushed it aside and kept smiling, looking sweet and beautiful.

"Yes, haha. Is it a coincidence?" Kevin said the same in order to match up with her lame way of greeting. How he wished he could hold her in his arms and kiss her until they were both out of breath. But he held himself back. He reached out and took the suitcase from her. Then they walked back to his car.

"Hey! It's really you, Leena!" Lee opened the door for Leena and greeted her with a sincere smile on his face.

"Hi, Lee. Yes, it's me. It's been a long time," Leena responded, feeling a bit shy.

MY WIFE IS AN ALOOF BEAUTY

Chapter 1385 A Surprising Reunion (Part Two)

"Let's go." Kevin told Lee softly, not taking his eyes off the beautiful lady beside him. If he blinked or looked away for one millisecond, he might wake up from this dream.

The car stopped in front of Kevin's home. Kevin took Leena by her hand and walked in hurriedly. He even forgot to get her suitcase from the car. When they got inside, there was nobody in the living room. Kevin lifted her off her feet and carried her upstairs and went straight to the bedroom before Leena could say a word. He did it so quickly, looking so serious. Leena felt a bit worried. She wondered whether he was angry because of her sudden and unannounced visit.

"Is that you, Kevin?" Shannon heard something in the living room and walked out to see who had possibly come in. But nobody was there when she took a look at the stairs. Did she hear it wrong? Maybe no one came back at all. At that moment, Kevin and Leena stood frozen behind the stairs and did not make a sound. Kevin put a finger over her lips to signal her to stay quiet. It took all her strength and self control to keep from laughing. They remained like that, hardly breathing, until Shannon went back to her room. They then hurriedly but silently went to theirs.

The moment they entered the bedroom and closed the door, Kevin pressed his lips onto Leena's with shameless passion. He kissed her on the lips wildly without any skills nor style. Leena never had such an experience. She had no other choice. She was forced to take his crazy kiss and tried to kiss him back.

"Ouch! It hurts!" Leena could not help but let out a yelp in pain, when he bit her on the lip way too heavily.

"So now, you know how it feels, huh?" Kevin let go of her lips and put his face on her her parents.

"I see! That made sense. Then what are you waiting for? Aren't you uncomfortable in that? Take those off and get in the shower. I'm going downstairs to get you some food. You can eat here in the bedroom." Kevin tried to say it as nicely as possible but looked visibly annoyed as could be seen from his face. So he made that suggestion to save time and hit two birds with one stone.

"But, I should go and greet Mom and Dad first! I don't want them to think that I'm a disrespectful daughter-in-law." It was already rude for them to rush upstairs. Should she not go downstairs to greet her parents-in-law as a sign of courtesy? She might be considered to be ill-mannered if she did not.

"It's fine. Just take a shower first! They might feel strange if they see you like that. I'll tell them you are here, and you can explain it to them yourself later when you're done," Kevin looked at her with an amused expression on his face. Did his cute wife finally realize how rude their behavior was just now? But he did not plan to help her with it. She needed to learn to deal with it by herself. It was a lesson for her to some degree.

MY WIFE IS AN ALOOF BEAUTY

Chapter 1386 A Surprising Reunion (Part Three)

"Oh! How could you be so cruel to me? Besides, you're the one who half-carried me up here! It's not fair!" Leena felt pressured and a bit wronged at Kevin's suggestion. She could not help but shiver a bit as soon as she thought of her father-in-law seriously staring at her. It was not because she was afraid of him, but that she felt quite intimidated at his extremely powerful countenance.

"That's the punishment for you." Kevin let out an evil smile and then walked out. Leena was left alone, helpless and dumbfounded at his childish behavior.

The moment Kevin walked downstairs, his mother was waiting by the living room, staring at him with burning and questioning eyes, her arms folded across her chest. He took a glimpse at the suitcase beside her and immediately knew why. Lee must have told her everything.

"Is there anything you'd like! I'm getting her some food." Kevin frowned a bit and felt a bit awkward thanks to his mother's piercing look into his soul. But he brushed off the awkwardness and kept himself as calm as he had always been. The distant and indifferent expression on his face blocked everyone who tried to see through him.

"I've already sent Maud to do it. So, don't you ever try to find any excuse and get away from me." Shannon knew her son's intention. She was his mother, after all. She was intentionally stopping him and blocking his way so that she could have the chance to make fun of him. As far as Shannon was concerned, he must have been too horny, missing his wife all too much and had already done something with her daughter-in-law!

"I'm not a criminal. Why should I run away from you?" Kevin replied, eyes shifting. He wondered since when did his mother become a gossip.

"Where's Leena? What did you do to her?!" Oh, she missed her too and her son knew it! But what did he do? He took her to hi ided to invite her to divert a little of her mother-in-law's attention from her. This was most probably because Claire was not home. Shannon had missed taking care of her daughter and now that Leena was here, she took it out on her. She was a good mother.

"It's okay! Just enjoy it! We've already eaten." In Shannon's eyes, her daughter-in-law was lovely and favorable from every angle. The gracious smile kept lingering on her face.

Nathan on the other hand did not have much response toward the news that Leena had come for a sudden visit. However, his eyes were much warmer than they used to be, towards his daughter-in-law. However, being his true self, he still remained serious like always.

They had a short chit chat and then Kevin took Leena back to the bedroom hurriedly, regardless of his mother's curious and prying eyes. As soon as the door was locked, he did not try to hide his desperation to pour out his overwhelming love for his wife. He almost ripped her clothes off in a thoughtless blur of desire. He had been missing her so much that he wanted to be one with her as closely and as deeply as he possibly could, until nothing in him remained. This was one of those moments and he did not want to waste it.

MY WIFE IS AN ALOOF BEAUTY

Chapter 1387 A Surprising Reunion (Part Four)

After a long time of making love, the two young sweaty bodies finally stopped. Leena was exhausted from the raw animal passion that they shared just now, and lay on top of Kevin's body. Her sweaty face was slippery against his sweaty neck and she breathed deeply. She bit his chin slightly as if to punish him for being too crazy on the bed just now. He in return grabbed her behind, squeezing her more tightly to him.

Kevin did nothing with her bite. He merely smiled and let her be. She then slid downward and bit his arm. It did not hurt him at all. Instead, he was quite aroused again. However he was concerned that she might feel too tired. Should she keep biting for a long time, it could mean one thing. The muscles on his body were quite firm, after all. Before long, they were kissing again. This time, as she was already on top of him, she took the lead for another round of fiery intercourse.

Kevin came back to the capital city because of work instead of personal reasons. So he had to deal with lots of business in the day time and thus did not have much time to spend with Leena. Leena was sensible and knew this all along. She did not blame him for this at all. She could entertain herself easily and could find other things to do while he was off and busy with work. She was already pleased and satisfied as long as she stayed close to him.

It was much colder in the capital city than in S city. Leena put lots of clothes on in order to stay warm. Despite the layers of clothing, she still felt a bit cold when she walked on the street.

"Are you cold? I told you, that you didn't need to come here with me. But I couldn't convince you otherwise," Shannon said in a doting tone. She heard that Leena got cold easily, so she tried to persuade her to stay at home instead of going out. But Leena insisted on going out with her to have some fresh air. It was also a good chance for her to keep Shannon some company. Leena did not come to the capital city a lot and nowadays, Claire wasn't around, livi

s and status in society. But their innate elegance and dignity could still be perceived in the way they carried themselves, the way they spoke and the way they treated others. People nearby could not help but notice them.

They talked and laughed as they wandered around the market. Sometimes, they stopped to check and buy some other things. Before they knew it, they were already carrying more and more items in their hands and their shopping bags had almost become full. Despite this, they did not feel tired at all. On the contrary, a happy expression lingered on their faces. They got along with each other so well.

There was someone who seemed to appear wherever Leena went, as if deliberately and all the time. At the oddest of times, she felt like she always came across Dorothy. The moment Leena and Shannon finished shopping at the marketplace and walked out, there she was, whom Leena had just run into at the airport yesterday. Compared with yesterday's attire, Dorothy was now dressed like a teenager. The exaggerated sunglasses were replaced by a pair of ordinary glasses. No one would consider her to be a super star with such a look. Moreover, she did not really have that many fans in the capital city. That was why Dorothy could hang around everywhere. She did not need to be concerned too much about catching any attention.

MY WIFE IS AN ALOOF BEAUTY

Chapter 1388 Too Many Coincidences (Part One)

"Miss Leng, what a coincidence!" Dorothy looked surprised. Fate was magical and it made them meet again.

"Hi!" Leena replied with a graceful smile. However, a suspicion secretly crept over her. 'How come there are so many coincidences between us recently? Isn't it too strange?' she wondered.

"Leena, is she your friend?" Looking at Dorothy, Shannon asked curiously. If they were friends, then how come they were so polite with each other? They even seemed estranged.

"Hi, Madame. My name is Dorothy Lu. Miss Leng and I met each other on the plane," Dorothy greeted before Leena could even reply.

"Oh! You met each other on the airplane! What a coincidence!" said Shannon with a graceful smile. She felt restrained to be too enthusiastic as she sensed that Leena was very indifferent to Dorothy.

"Yes. Are you Miss Leng's mother? You look so young!" Dorothy shifted her attention from Leena and began to grease the wheels with Shannon.

"I'm flattered. I'm already old. By the way, I'm not her mother. To be precise, I'm her mother-in-law," Shannon said with a smug smile. She felt happy to hear the praise. All the more, she felt proud to have a good daughter-in-law like Leena.

"What? She is already married? But isn't she reported to be only about twenty-something?" Dorothy was flabbergasted. The fact that Leena was already married really surprised her.

"Miss Lu, sorry. We have many other things to do and we can't stay here too long. Mom, let's go now." Leena had never been so impolite and left so bluntly. It was just that she had this strange feeling that Dorothy would cause her trouble soon. Thus, she didn't want any connection with Dorothy.

"Oh! Sorry! It slipped my mind that you are carrying a lot of groceries. It's my Drugged one night by her ex-boyfriend, a mysterious man took advantage of her in an ecstatic night filled with sex.

To take her revenge, she married the man, and used him.

"As long as I'm alive, I'm still his legal wife, while all of you are just his mistresses."

She remained adamant even when he was involved in scandals with other women.

Eventually she stormed off after she learned that he had betrayed her again. But life brought her back to him a few years later, to his astonishment.

possible. Thus, Leena wouldn't worry that she would be out of shape after giving birth to a child.

"Oh! Well. I'm just in it." Leena's face immediately flushed. She honestly didn't know how to react in regards to her mother-in-law's question.

"Really? Don't lie to me." Shannon became very excited upon hearing Leena's answer. Knowing that they were not intentionally doing birth control made her feel relieved.

"Yes!" Leena smiled amidst the bitterness that engulfed her heart. Yes, she was in it, but it would be a very long journey before she could get pregnant.

Kevin came home very late that night. He also reeked of alcohol. It was easy to tell that he had drunk a lot. He might have been together with his colleagues after the meeting was finished. It was a pity that he didn't have extra space in his stomach for any food that Leena had specially made for him.

"Why did you drink so much?" Leena frowned and covered her nose with her hand. Kevin was smelly. Seeing her turn her head away, Kevin mischievously blew in her face.

"Stop it! Take off your coat first!" said Leena as she pushed his face aside. Then she helped him to take off his coat.

MY WIFE IS AN ALOOF BEAUTY

Chapter 1389 Too Many Coincidences (Part Two)

"Haha! Nana, do you think that I am drunk?" Kevin suddenly pulled her into his arms and blew hot air around her neck.

"Drunk people would never admit that they are drunk," snapped Leena while avoiding his tease. She was also trying to untie his necktie from his military shirt.

"Leena, are you so eager to taste me now?" Kevin flashed a sly smile. Leena's hands paused when she saw that smile on his face. He didn't look like the usual upright major general at all. Leena gazed at him unbelievably.

"You are shameless and dirty! You untie the tie yourself!" Leena gritted her teeth and cursed. Then she broke herself free from his embrace. Why hadn't she found about this side of him before?"

"Are you mad at me, Leena?" Kevin sat up and glanced at her.

"Go take a shower, I will go downstairs to get some soup to sober you up," Leena said as she avoided looking at him. Yes, she was mad because he made her worried. He drank so much despite the fact that he knew how vulnerable his stomach was to alcohol. He always blamed Leena for not taking good care of herself and always making him concerned. However, Kevin was no better than her in that matter.

Seeing Leena's sullen face, Kevin laughed. He didn't feel angry at all. On the contrary, he was surprised to see Leena become so hot-tempered. In fact, he didn't drink much. He only drank a few glasses as necessary for socializing. He was far from being drunk.

They were going back home. Kevin came here by car so they could just drive back. That would save them from a lot of trouble since they didn't have to wait for a long time in the airport lounge if they went back by air.

"Lee, the New Year is coming in one month. What gifts do you prepare to bring back to your fam poster was sent to him from the entertainment company. The company wanted to get his opinion about the poster. However, he was not interested in it. He would say 'yes' as long as it looked good. Compared to the other people in the entertainment company, he was not in the position to offer very professional comments.

"Okay, be prepared to empty your wallet." Since Leena knew that it was difficult for her to conceive, her smiles never appeared as sweet and bright as they used to be. There were complicated emotions in her eyes and she looked sad and gloomy the whole time. Nevertheless, her innocent beauty never faded away and her melancholy made her all the more captivating.

"That will depend on how much you can eat." Rain felt sad as he looked at Leena's forced smile. He already knew what happened to her but he didn't ask. He just pretended to know nothing about it because he didn't want to make her feel depressed.

Walking out of the office, they happened to run across Edward who just came back. His face was sullen and cold. The anger in his eyes was so prominent that it was easy to think that he met something that made him very irritated.

MY WIFE IS AN ALOOF BEAUTY

Chapter 1390 Too Many Coincidences (Part Three)

"Edward, you're back!" Leena greeted him enthusiastically as if she hadn't seen his angry face.

"Yes. Where are you going?" Edward frowned and shot a glance at Rain. 'Is Rain thinking of slacking off again?' he wondered.

"Of course we are going out to have a meal. Where else could we go at this hour?" responded Rain aggressively while raising his eyebrows.

"Do you want to join us, Edward?" Leena knew that Edward was extremely mad. However, she didn't feel afraid of him at all. Whatever he was mad about had nothing to do with her. She wasn't the one who ruffled his feathers anyway.

"You guys go ahead. I'll stay here. I have a lot of work to do," said Edward as he touched her cold cheeks. He furrowed his eyebrows deeper as soon as he felt her cold skin.

"Edward, you are implying something, aren't you?" Rain was flustered. He was only going to have a meal, did Edward have to show that somber look when he said that? His words sounded like that Rain had left all the work to him. .

"What do you think?" Edward raised his eyebrows and glanced at him coldly. It was true that after two people lived together for a long time, they would influence each other's personality. Look at Edward now, he was showing the indifferent and aloof demeanor that could only be seen in Daisy before.

"Huh! You are so shameless to admit it so bluntly. Leena, let's go. Don't mind him. Probably he's suffering from premature climacteric and that's why he is so mercurial recently," Rain said as he grabbed Leena's hand and dragged her away. He got no plan of spending more time arguing with Edward. He would just end up with a cruel and ruthless man if he did.

When they reached downstairs, they saw Michelle by chance. She looked just as hesitant as she was when she first came here. She probably came here to look for Luke and had qualms about coming in without an appointment.

"Hi! Luke's girl, what are you doing here? You look I sigh. He knew that Luke didn't listen. However, he couldn't do anything about it because Luke was the one who decided his own life.

"Luke, you are here!" Michelle's heart beat faster at the sight of Luke. 'So it is not that he has no feelings for me at all, ' she assured herself in her heart.

In response, Luke shot a cold glance at her and walked past her. He didn't say anything to her at all, as if she was very ridiculous in his eyes.

That reaction made Michelle bite her lips. However, she had no plans of giving up here. She flashed a bright smile and caught up with him immediately.

"Luke, wait for me!" Michelle's legs were not very short and she walked very fast. It was just that her legs were no match compared with Luke's long legs.

Luke couldn't hold his temper any more when Michelle followed him to the parking lot. He reached out his hands and cornered her to the side of his car.

"What on earth do you want?" He glared at her in fury. It looked like he would kill her immediately if murder was not considered a crime.

"I... I..." Michelle swallowed hard in fright. She suddenly realized how horrible Luke was when he became angry. She was considering whether she should escape immediately because she really didn't know how to face the extremely furious Luke.