

MY WIFE IS AN ALOOF BEAUTY

Chapter 1806 The Ending (Part One)

"Exactly! Why are you staring in such a manner?! Does it mean that you wish to harass our son just because I gave the oyster to him?" Leena said, pretending to be serious. At moments such as this, Leena, as a mother, would definitely take her son's side.

"Do you think he's going to obey me unhesitatingly despite being an independent young adult?" Kevin asked helplessly, rolling his eyes. Looking at his wife and his son voicing support for each other?aroused both rage and amusement in Kevin. However, he had grown accustomed to it recently and even had begun enjoying them. As long as he got to see the reciprocation of love between the mother-son duo, he'd remain happy and content.

"Of course he won't," Leena said softly, beaming. Although the times were changing quickly, their love toward each other had stood the test of time and was as rigid as ever.

"Or should we arrange a mountain life experience for him during his summer vacation?" Kevin proposed deliberately, with his shiny eyes.

"Well, I think that's a good proposal," said Leena, without much hesitation. She was completely in favor of Kevin's idea. As he was still too young and had been showing an invincible vigor recently, she thought that exposing him to the harsh realities of life was necessary to blunt his dash and render him a novel perspective of life.

"Well, you guys are going to decide my vacation plans without consulting me? Have I turned transparent yet again?" Richard asked desperately, being annoyed by their behaviour. As a matter of fact, Richard knew his protests would hit on deaf ears and he'd have to eventually accept their proposal, because their plan always seemed to be better than the counter proposals he could raise. As a result, he had gotten used to his apparently unscrupulous parents, discussing how to "punish" him right in front of him ignoring his very existence.

As time swept by, Kevin did what he had promised and fulfilled Leena's longheld dream of shooting wedding photos, and during that time, Spencer and Huey had returned to S City.

So the young adults, including Owen, got together at a compartment of KTV and held a discussion on their future plans. Compared to other talkative boys, Owen had much less words to yield.

"Owen, you are bound to gra

Drugged one night by her ex-boyfriend, a mysterious man took advantage of her in an ecstatic night filled with sex.

To take her revenge, she married the man, and used him.

"As long as I'm alive, I'm still his legal wife, while all of you are just his mistresses."

She remained adamant even when he was involved in scandals with other women.

Eventually she stormed off after she learned that he had betrayed her again. But life brought her back to him a few years later, to his astonishment.

guys have fun! I need rush," Justin said as he got up and began to leave. Instinctively, the entire room stood up in unison when he got up to leave, as a mark of respect for him.

"Please don't leave, Justin! Our party has only just begun. It will not be fun if you leave right now," one of them said, seemingly upset with his abruptly intended departure. 'If Justin leaves, the party will be devoid of any fun!' they all thought.

"Justin, where are you rushing to? Can't you wait for me to come home with you?" Jasmine Ouyang asked, pouting her lips. If her brother Justin stepped inside home first, her protective father Edward would definitely keep pestering her to return home as soon as possible.

"You return with Owen later. I urgently need to visit a friend now," Justin said gently. He was a man who wasn't completely understood by anyone. Hence, his presence often ended up being overwhelming to others. He never had to exhibit his decisive trait deliberately, but it always followed him obediently like his shadow. What was more, he always looked handsome and dignified, which made him even more appealing.

"All right, then! But you can't go home by yourself without taking me!" Jasmine said happily. In order to be free from the annoying clutches of her overprotective father, Jasmine Ouyang had no other option but to earn such a promise from her brother.

"I see. You go have fun!" Justin said, pinching her face, and then went on to say, "You guys get along with your party. The bill is on me"
