Chapter 330: Chapter 330: Are You Jealous (part two)

Belinda was about to say something, but she suddenly stopped because something more interesting caught her eye. She saw Leena walk into the venue with a tall and handsome man. Both she and Duke were surprised that Leena suddenly married this man without telling them beforehand, and Duke kept nagging her, enraged about this. But Belinda never actually met Leena's husband until tonight, and she felt it strange to hear Duke's constant complaining about someone she didn't even know! She just had to get to know this guy first, for he was able to piss off Duke, the iceberg famous for his apathy.

Leena was an edgy fashion designer with excellent taste in clothing and accessories. The wardrobes she had chosen for Kevin and herself perfectly matched. The pink dress made Leena's skin tone look fair and smooth. Pink was a color adored by women because it was light and tender, symbolizing both innocence and elegance. It was similar to white, but much lovelier, and suited people with fair white skin tone. Leena knew about colors; she also knew what suited her best. Her choice was great; she looked stunning in that pink dress.

To go with her dress, Leena picked a slim-cut navy blue suit for Kevin. He was tall and masculine, and Leena was petite and lovely. They made a great couple. Kevin didn't know much about fashion, for he barely had the chance to wear anything besides his uniform. He trusted Leena because it was her area of expertise. He glanced at his own suit and was once again convinced that Leena had a great taste.

"Hey, Leena. What are you looking at? I'm here!" Rain noticed Belinda's absent look. Following her gaze, he immediately saw Leena and Kevin. He called out loud for them, a hint of slyness glowing in his eyes. 'Great! We meet again! But you are now Leena's husband, aren't you? Tonight is going to be so much fun!' Rain got excited. Kevin was quiet and Leena was lively; even Rain had to admit that they did make a cute couple, just like the dress and the suit -- they wore those items perfectly.

"Brother, Belinda, Rain! You're here! I thought you guys hadn't left home yet and I'd have to wait for you." Leena stopped looking around as soon as she heard Rain's voice. Holding Kevin's arm, she approached the group directly. Excitement was written all over her face.

"We meet again, Mr. Gu." With his eyes fixed on Kevin, Rain greeted Kevin aggressively before he could say anything.

"Hello to you too, Mr. Xia. I know we had some misunderstanding earlier, and I sincerely hope we can put it all behind us and start over again." Right after Leena invited Kevin to escort her to the party, Kevin had spent the whole day memorizing her friends that he might meet at the party. That was why he knew who Rain was so soon. However, Kevin still couldn't figure out what had he done to him to cause Rain hate him so much.

"Don't mind him. Kevin, right? Nice to meet you! I'm Belinda, Leena's sister-in-law." Belinda glared at Rain and warmly greeted Kevin. What was wrong with Rain? Why did he seem to attack every one he met tonight? No matter what Duke and Rain thought of Kevin, Belinda found him quite agreeable.

"Hi, Belinda. We should have visited you right after Leena and I got married. But I've been busy and couldn't find the time. Please accept my sincere apology." Because Duke hadn't announced his marriage with Belinda to the public, Kevin hardly knew Belinda until she just introduced herself as Leena's sister-in-law. Nor did Kevin know that Belinda was also Daisy's best friend, and the CEO of the YS group.

"It's fine. I heard that you're in the same unit with Daisy?" Deliberately ignoring Duke's cold gaze, Belinda started chatting with Kevin like long-lost friends. Duke made her angry before, and she determined to teach him a lesson until he realized he was wrong. Belinda would never spoil him, in case someday she had to swallow the bitter fruit herself.

Yes. Colonel Daisy is a fearless heroine! We're all so proud of her!" Although Kevin had no inkling that Belinda and Daisy were best friends, he knew Duke and Edward were. Therefore, he assumed they knew each other because of their husbands. Thinking of that, Kevin was more friendly to Belinda.

Haha! I'm just asking. You don't have to give a serious answer like that." Belinda was amused by Kevin's words. She covered her mouth and chuckled. She was no journalist; why did he praise Daisy like he was in a press conference?

Kevin realized he got emotional, so he smiled awkwardly to Belinda. Maybe he was used to praising Daisy. He overreacted every time when it came to Daisy. He wasn't sure if it was a good behavior.

"Brother, are you still mad at me?" Leena had been studying Duke's face ever since she saw him. But to her surprise, her brother didn't look at her at all. Leena felt her heart being torn apart. Duke used to love her so much, for she was his only darling sister. Leena knew it and she loved her brother. Leena knew she would lose a lot of precious things in her life if she and her brother continued fighting like this, which was the last thing she ever wanted.

My Wife is a beautiful Officer Chapter 330 - Chapter 330: Are You Jealous (part two)

Chapter 331: Chapter 331: Mrs. Mu

There were many guests present at the ceremony. Besides the elites from various industries, the entertainers of FX International Group were the most dramatic. Dressed to kill, they drew the admiring gazes of men and aroused jealousy in women.

Then some military officers showed up at the ceremony too, which had never happened before. They were no ordinary soldiers. The epaulettes on their uniform told people that they were of high military rank. Their appearance provoked speculation. People were wondering if FX International Group had gotten into huge trouble.

Kevin was surprised to see these officers. He wasn't informed that any officers were coming to the ceremony. He wondered whether they had been invited or they were here for the matter concerning Daisy. His heart grew heavy. Then he nodded to the people beside him and walked quickly toward the officers.

"Army Commander, Commander, why are you here?" Kevin said to his two superiors and then nodded to the other officers. He frowned at seeing Hank among them and wondered why the commander had brought him along.

"Hello, Kevin. Fancy seeing you here. I was just wondering why your commander didn't keep you, the dark horse, at his side. It turns out that you got here ahead of us. I heard that you did a great job in the war games." The Army Commander was much younger than the Commander. They were of the same military rank and their posts sounded similar. But the Army Commander led the group army while the Commander commanded an army base of the group army. So there was an essential distinction between their posts.

"Thank you, sir. It's the outcome of the concerted team work of the soldiers. I'm just a member of the team." Neither the Army Commander nor the Commander answered Kevin's question. Underneath his superficial calmness, he became worried. He kept casting looks at the Commander, hoping he could give him a hint.

"Kevin, you are being modest. Your father hopes you can go back to the capital city. What do you think?" The Army Commander looked around and wondered why the CEO of FX International Group invited them to the ceremony. When they were negotiating about the sponsorship for military equipment, Edward didn't engage in it at all. During the whole process it was Mr. Rain that had negotiated with them on behalf of Edward. As to the reason why they were invited here, the Commander was confused too. That morning, he had just heard that the CEO of FX International Group was Daisy's husband. An invitational phone call came before he could report the news to his superior. He saw Kevin's inquiring eyes, but he had to shrug to indicate that he was clueless.

"I talked with my father about it. I prefer to stay in the city," Kevin replied. In the capital city, people would only regard him as the son of some authority. If he stayed here, he would be away from that atmosphere, be himself, and lead a more meaningful and fulfilling life.

Ow, really? Your father will be disappointed. He looks forward to you going back to the capital city." The Army Commander patted Kevin's shoulder significantly. Its implication was self-evident. Back in the capital, Kevin would have more opportunities to put his skills to good use and get promoted, because that was his father's territory, after all.

Kevin gave a faint smile and said nothing in response. He understood what the Army Commander meant, but he was too proud to rely on his father. It was an approach he loathed. He'd be frustrated, because his image as a self-made soldier would be shattered, and people would see him as a guy who got promoted through his father's connections, and not his own skills.

"Ladies and gentlemen, may I have your attention? I realize we're all having fun, so... thank you very much for coming to our company's anniversary ceremony. Now I give you Aaron, the personal assistant to the CEO. He's going to address the ceremony, so give him a little applause." The MC's sudden remarks quieted the guests down. Everyone started to look toward the rostrum, and then the room erupted into applause.

Aaron hated making long speeches. He felt it a waste of time. But since Edward hated it too and Aaron was his assistant, he had to do it for him.

"Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. I'm Aaron. I'll do away with the formalities. On behalf of our company, I would like to thank you for your concern and support for our company." Aaron raised his head to look around, but Edward was nowhere to be seen.

He was always late for everything.

"This year's cocktail party will be a little different from previous ones. The model employees will be awarded a prize and a generous bonus. The special guest who will give the prize to them will be a big surprise. Be prepared to be amazed." Aaron's announcement sparked the room into cacophony. Everybody wondered what kind of novel activity FX International Group came up with this time. Was it related to the military? The officers' arrival couldn't be just a coincidence.

Jessica's face darkened to hear Aaron's words. She assumed that the mysterious special guest must be Daisy. She pursed her mouth in scorn and thought, 'Edward, how much on earth do you care about this woman? You have made such a brilliant plan for the cocktail party just to introduce her to everybody. You would think it beneath you in the past. What do you see in her that makes you change so much?'

Brian sneered at the announcement. He was waiting to see how this woman would amaze the guests. By her beauty or her identity of Edward's lover?

"Are you curious about our mystery guest already? Then let's welcome the model employees. If you'd come up to the stage, please." Aaron seemed calm, but he was actually terribly worried, because Edward still hadn't showed up yet. Aaron didn't know what to do next. This kind of thankless things kept falling into his lap. He got impatient.

Watching the employees coming up one by one, Aaron felt desperate. Edward had called to tell him that he was here, but where was he? Aaron hoped that Edward hadn't run into some snag. Otherwise, he would be screwed, because he wouldn't be able to find another important guest in such a short time.

"We all know that our CEO has a cute son. But do you know the CEO's wife?" Aaron paused. Then he saw a figure approaching steadily. He exhaled deeply. 'Boss, thank God you're here. You scared the hell out of me,' he thought. The guests were all intrigued by Aaron's remarks. Was the CEO of FX International Group really married? That was the one thing the guests were dying to find out. They all gazed at Aaron and waited for an answer, but he kept them in suspense. The guests all felt annoyed but couldn't do anything but hold their breath and wait.

"Now please Mr. and Mrs. Mu, come to the rostrum to award the prize to the model employees." When Aaron finished, he felt greatly relieved. The guests shifted their gaze from Aaron to the entryway.

Aaron's announcement took Daisy by surprise. Sensing everyone was watching her, she paused for a few seconds, then collected herself and calmly walked in with Edward, arm in arm.

Everybody was amazed to see how perfect they looked together. Daisy was wearing a long white strapless dress, patterned in diagonals with big sparkling sequins. Her skin was snow white. She looked like a fairy in that mermaid-shaped dress. Daisy's fair skin and the dress were of the similar color. She seemed to be glittering. Together with her aloof bearing, she looked sacred and distinguished. She walked elegantly and all eyes followed her. The guests gasped with admiration at her grace.

Edward and Justin were in dark blue mercerized clothing, which served as a soft and elegant foil for Edward's perfectly-proportioned sexy figure. The colors and the materials of his shirt, tie and suit reflected his delicate features and elegant bearing well. Together with Daisy, they became a picturesque image, having a visual impact on the guests.

Edward gloated inwardly over the dress he had picked out for Daisy. The white color and her aloofness blended well in a distinctive style on her. Instead of innocence which white color usually reminded people of, it now set her cold gorgeousness off to advantage, mixed with her uncompromising and heavenly temperament. Edward was stunned at her charm.

Before they set off, Daisy wasn't informed that tonight was the anniversary ceremony of FX International Group. She was confused when Edward asked her to put on this beautiful dress. When Tom and Leena indicated that they would see her at night, she was really puzzled. So she had refused to put it on until Edward explained the reason to her. Aaron's introduction had shattered her plan to stay low-key. All eyes were on her now. She was even more nervous than when she was facing tens of thousands of soldiers.

Mrs. Mu is not only the wife of the CEO, her other role will make the teenage girls scream in excitement. We all know that there's a young legendary female colonel in the city, who is an idol to many young women. However, since the colonel always keeps a low profile, few have seen her. She is our mystery, our urban legend. People talk about her all the time. Tonight, this mysterious colonel is right here -- Mrs. Mu! Now let's warmly welcome the CEO and his lovely wife to award the prize to the model employees.

People started applauding them as soon as Aaron finished the sentence. Meanwhile, someone was deeply frustrated and resented Daisy even more.

Usually, Justin behaved himself today. He looked here and there. Hearing Aaron say his parents were going to confer awards, he let go of his dad's hand and ran toward his grandparents. Edward and Daisy were a little bewildered. Seeing the guests around them, they looked at each other and smiled, which was caught by the media at the scene. They started taking pictures eagerly, making the affectionate smiles everlasting, immortalized.

Chapter 332: Chapter 332: Daughter And Dead Fish Are No Keeping Wares (part one)

"I'm not mad. It's your life, and I can't make choices for you. Your happiness is what matters." Duke was cold to everyone, but never to Leena. No matter how bad her actions made him feel, he would bear it alone, and would not make her feel bad.

"Duke, I am so sorry! I promise I will be happy." Hearing what Duke had said, Leena smiled with joy, and jumped into his arms like a spoiled child, which made Kevin feel better. He didn't want to drive Duke and Leena apart. That wasn't why he married her, and he knew she wouldn't be happy if that happened. Duke gently pinched her pink face, the way he always did. But he still stared at Kevin with a stony face. Although Duke didn't blame Leena for not telling him in advance, he couldn't accept that Leena would marry Kevin, so he still was very angry when he saw the soldier. Kevin could certainly understand why Duke was so angry with him, so he was ready to take the heat before he got there. He didn't react to Duke's rudeness either. If he were Duke, he'd be angry too. He totally understood and accepted it.

Belinda rolled her eyes at Duke, and thought this guy was so vindictive. Even though Kevin married his baby sister without his consent, he shouldn't be like he was suffering bitterly and nursing some seriously deep hatred. Besides, didn't she marry him because of his dirty tricks? Then, was she supposed to be unfriendly just like him?

After being teased by Belinda, Rain said nothing more but simply watched them. Sometimes it seemed the atmosphere was tense, but it was actually happy. Feelings of loneliness overcame him then. He thought, did Annie really not love him? Was that why Annie left him? Annie was so ruthless that she left him without giving him any chance to ask her to stay. Did she ever think how upset and helpless he would be when she left? Although the party had not yet officially started, the atmosphere here became warmer and warmer as the time went by. There were a lot of handsome guys and lovely women at the party, and their greetings made the noise level rise. However, most people couldn't help but secretly steal glances at where Duke and others were standing, because they could always get attention. But Duke was so aloof that others were afraid to gaze too long.

"Look who are here!" Duke raised his eyebrows and motioned for everyone to look toward the door. He only knew that his father was good friends with Jonathan Mu, but he did not know that his father was also very familiar with his parents-in-law. The thought finally occurred to him that all of these were once the big names in the city, so how could they not know each other? Uncle Jonathan and Aunt Cynthia looked so young. Why did they look so different from others around them, though they were about the same age?

"Wow! Aunt Cynthia, Uncle Jonathan, and Daddy are here. OMG, they look gorgeous! But who are the other two?" Leena liked Cynthia a lot, because she was so graceful and attractive. When she was a child, she liked to go to her house because she could see her. After all, she was so charming that even a little girl would be attracted to her. But Jonathan was so possessive that Leena would get glared at by Jonathan whenever she tried to hug his wife.

"The two are the parents of your brother's wife. Haven't you seen them before?" Duke frowned, and then said slowly, "Oh, you haven't."

Belinda was also curious about who the young couple were. The woman looked very gentle and lovely, while the man looked cold. It wasn't hard to see that the man loved the woman deeply. He held her gaze just a moment longer than normal, the light in his eyes was because he looked at her. It was obvious.

Rain smacked his lips in surprise when he saw Jonathan and Cynthia. They looked so young that they shocked him deeply. What would he do if he got old but they were still young ten years later. That would be awkward for him.

"Aunt Cynthia, I haven't seen you for so many years, you are still so young and beautiful." When Leena saw them, she went to them and gave Cynthia a gentle hug, but she did not dare to hold her for long, because she had already seen Jonathan begin to frown.

"You are such a sweet girl. You are all grown up and even more beautiful than you were years ago." Cynthia was happy to see Leena, too. She had always wanted a daughter, but Jonathan didn't want another child after she gave birth to Edward. So she always treated Leena like her own daughter.

"No matter how beautiful I am, I still can't compare to you. Am I right, Uncle Jonathan?" Leena playfully took Cynthia's arm and looked at Jonathan with a smile. There was a sense of mischievousness in her bright eyes.

"Ha-ha! It looks like my daughter can only see you, not me. I've been here for a while and look -- she totally ignores me." Lloyd joked. He laughed heartily, which was totally different than Duke. Unlike Lloyd, Duke was a very aloof person. For those who didn't know them, they didn't seem like father and son at all.

Dad, I am not ignoring you. It is only polite to greet them first. You're not jealous are you? As soon as she heard her father making fun of her, she hugged him with a sweet smile on her face.

Ah! It seems that you are getting more and more aloof, just like your uncle Jonathan. Sometimes, Cynthia thought Duke was her son, otherwise how could he be like Jonathan.

Chapter 333: Chapter 333 : Daughter And Dead Fish Are No Keeping Wares (part two)

"Ha-ha Aunt Cynthia, don't you know that he has a psychological defect? Something is missing in him." Rain playfully teased Duke, but he didn't expect he would also offend Jonathan, who looked at him coldly.

"What is he missing, Rain?" Leena asked quizzically. She was curious now, not entirely understanding it was a joke.

"Well, he..." Ah! Rain realized that he shouldn't say that. How could he forget that Jonathan was here? Jonathan's cold stare shut him down, A look from the man would stress anyone out.

"Hi! I'm Belinda." If Belinda listened to their conversation and still didn't know who they were, she must be a fool. She just couldn't figure out why Edward's parents looked so young. If she hadn't known that Edward had no siblings, she would have thought they were Edward's brother and sister.

"Hi, Belinda. I remember when I saw you last time, you were still a tiny little girl. I didn't expect you to be so capable now. I heard you married Duke. Welcome to the family." Cynthia knew what kind of person Jonathan was. Apart from her, he would not look at any women who greeted them, regardless of their age. So, for those who greeted them, she would tactfully handle them alone.

"That's right. We were thinking how we could convince them to be together. But they still got married without our help." Sherry Ai liked Duke very much. She had worried that an excellent man like Duke wouldn't like Belinda. After all, Belinda was a hot-tempered girl. Their marriage was no doubt a big surprise for her.

"Mom..." Belinda glared at her mother shyly. She didn't know why her mother had to tell other people everything, Especially today. Now the party would be very awkward for her!

"Well, I won't talk about it anymore." Sherry knew that Belinda was not picky, person, but she was very shy about these things, so she stopped making fun of Belinda. As for Zachary Shangguan, he just smiled and looked at the mother and daughter who were joking with each other. Obviously, the women were the ones to make the rules of the roost.

Hello, everyone! I'm Kevin." Kevin stood in the back as everyone made their introductions, so he was the last person to greet them. In fact, he didn't know any of them except Lloyd, but he should be polite anyway.

"So, you are Kevin! I wanted to meet the man who was so brave that he dared marry our only little princess quietly, " Cynthia said. She was surprised that Leena got married so soon because she still thought of Leena as a child. So, when Lloyd was talking about it, Cynthia couldn't believe it was true

"I'm sorry. Please accept my humble apologies." Kevin smiled, which made him look more handsome. And his stiff body began to relax.

"Ah! Aunt Cynthia, don't say that, please, " Leena cried out. Leena didn't want to see Kevin so embarrassed, so she began to act like a spoiled kid. Leena held Kevin's thick hand with her soft hand to show that she really liked him. Only in this way would those who loved Leena be more likely to accept that she married Kevin so quickly without telling them in advance.

Kevin's hard heart suddenly softened as he touched Leena's soft hand. He turned to her and smiled, trying to tell her he could handle it. After seeing that, Duke felt very sad, thinking that his baby sister not only no longer needed him to protect her, but also learned how to protect someone. And the person she wanted to protect was not him, but someone else. Did that mean he was no longer important to her? And what did that mean for him?

After seeing Duke act like that, Belinda smiled, and then put her hand in his palm. She wanted to tell him that although his baby sister married to a man, she would be with him forever. Of course, She was still mad at Duke for even talking to Rachel, but she knew that she couldn't ignore his sadness at such times. She knew that smart women shouldn't make such mistakes. It turned out that she was right. It was because of her small gesture that Duke was not sad as before.

It really is true that daughters and dead fish are no keeping Wares. She's already defending her husband. Cynthia felt happy when she said this, because she wanted her children to have a happy life. There was nothing more important to her than that.

Everyone looked at Leena, after hearing this, making her pink cheek redder. Leena felt so shy that she had to burry her head in Kevin's chest to avoid the attention of the guests. This move made people smile even more, so she had to burry her head further. Could she be anymore embarrassed?

Kevin chuckled and put his arms around Leena's waist. He felt so surprised that such a lively and cheerful girl would be so shy. Seeing her falling into his arms so naturally, Kevin felt so conflicted. He worried that he would never be able to forget Daisy and fall in love with this lovely little girl.

He had already told himself more than once that he was married to Lee a. He should not pay any attention to Daisy. However, he couldn't easily forget her, since he had carried a torch for her for so long. Now he felt he was sucked into a giant maelstrom. He wanted to get out but he didn't know how to forget this kind of feelings. Every time he came up for air, his feelings would wash over him in a big wave threatening to drown him. That's why he felt so helpless, not knowing how to deal with all that. Sometimes it seemed the maelstrom might win.

Chapter 334: Chapter 334: Till Death Do Us Part (part one)

Daisy walked gracefully to the center of the stage, appearing in all her glory. Probably because she was a soldier, the heroic spirit shown in her firm gaze added an imposing and intimidating touch to her appearance. Standing next to Edward who was handsome and fascinating, Daisy looked like a perfect match for him. The lady was graceful while the man was handsome, the couple were made for each other.

When Leo and Yakira arrived at the hotel, they happened to see Edward and Daisy appear on the stage with the cheering of the crowd. But their thoughts and reactions were different. One was smiling with delight, the other was sneering with contempt and hatred. Although Leo felt suspicious of Yakira after he saw the document Luke had shown to him, he didn't completely believe it. There wasn't enough evidence in the papers to convince him. Looking at the noble and gorgeous Daisy, Yakira flashed a vicious smile in her eyes. She didn't expect she would be transformed into a gorgeous beauty from a normal girl in these years. What vexed her most was that Daisy received Edward's love and affection, and this was all the more insufferable to her, who was intolerant of anything from Daisy. She was extremely upset.

Daisy seldom smiled, but today, she had a gentle smile on her face all the time. Though the smile wasn't obvious, it added a soft touch to her usual cold demeanor. During the whole process of giving the award, she left a good impression on all the employees as an approachable person, without any trace of arrogance.

"Colonel Ouyang, on this special day, do you have anything to say to all the guests here?" Daisy had thought that the award ceremony was over, and she could finally escape from being the focus of every guest's attention now. Aaron's suggestion made her blood and her smile freeze. Nevertheless, she reluctantly took the microphone from Aaron's hand and said, "Hello, I'm Daisy Ouyang. Thank you for your help and support for my husband's work. I hope you can continue to follow the events and development of FX International Group in the days to come. Thank you!" Daisy's short speech was simple and concise, it well matched her usual way of keeping a low profile. She always did things neatly, not sloppily. She would never make a lengthy speech to intentionally please the public. Yakira was late when she arrived, so she missed the part when Aaron introduced Daisy to the guests. She was flabbergasted when she heard Aaron call Daisy "Colonel". Her eyes went wide, and she wondered if she misheard him. In fact, she was not the only one who had the same doubts here.

Mary was still lost in Daisy's gorgeous appearance with the glamorous dress and delicate makeup. And Aaron's introduction of Daisy made her more confused. She was dumbstruck now. She couldn't believe that Daisy could make such astonishing achievements without the support of her family.

She knew that Daisy was born into a noble family and was nurtured with good manners and temperament, and she could not surpass Daisy in this aspect. But she thought she could beat her by being more educated than her. Since Daisy was expelled from the family, she would have no money to get a better education. But it surprised Mary that Daisy climbed up to such a high rank as a Colonel. No wonder Daisy slapped her without any hesitation in the department store the other day. It seemed that she was no longer the maid who was left to be bullied at the mercy of Mary. On the contrary, she became a very confident and competent fighter, and Mary became the one who was intimidated by her.

"Mr. Mu, what about you? Do you have anything to say?" Aaron took the microphone from Daisy, and felt a little frightened when Daisy stared hard at him. He wondered whether she would give him a shot after the ceremony was over. But this was only a passing thought. It was a good opportunity to embarrass Edward in public when he was totally unprepared. How could Aaron miss such an excellent chance? So he made the bold decision to propose a speech from Edward.

Edward smiled slyly and took the microphone with delight. Wasn't it about speaking some words to the public? He was good with words. Even if Aaron didn't propose it, Edward would make a speech anyway. He specially held the event for the purpose of making Daisy and him the centre of attention. He wouldn't back down for it now.

Hello, everyone. I don't think I need to repeat what you've seen here. This is the first time that I brought my wife to attend the anniversary ceremony of FX International Group. Maybe you have all kinds of doubts about this, but Daisy is really my wife - - we were married many years ago. As for why she never appeared in public, its personal and I am not going to explain it today. What I want to say now is only this, that I love her, till death do us part!

Edward said while looking affectionately into her eyes. Edward sudden confession made Daisy blush immediately. She was surprised that a noble, arrogant and dignified man as Edward would say such passionate and sweet words to her in public.

At the same time, she thanked him for not mentioning the fact that she was once abandoned by him in public. He took all the blame by saying that it was his personal factors that cause no one to know about their marriage. She appreciated him for this. Because she didn't want their marriage to become the topic of gossip. This was the least she would expect. He knew what she was thinking about, so Daisy really felt very grateful to him.

Jessica's face was more ghastly pale than it had ever been. It turned out that what Daisy said the other day was true. It was real when she said she was married to Edward. It was not a random excuse she used to cheat her. This realization deprived her of her last hope for getting Edward back. And the confidence she had finally built up fell to pieces when she heard Edward's word.
