

In a Love Nest with the Aloof CEO Chapter 509

As usual, Eva drove herself back and saw Sharon the moment she reached home. Her mother would stay up until the moment she was back. Sharon was about to make Eva something to eat, but her daughter stopped her and yelled, "I can't even get myself a parking lot! Mom, when are we moving out of this area? A few of my friends have purchased a new place!"

Irked by her daughter's manner, Sharon paused and replied in a petulant manner, "Do you think that's possible when your brother has just spent the family's savings for some stupid game? I can't wait to move out of this area as well, but can we afford it? As much as you earn, you have spent most of it buying unnecessary designer items!"

Eva couldn't stand Sharon getting overly worked up whenever the same topic was brought up. She was conscious her mother was frustrated because Skylar had brought Miranda a villa.

Sharon had always complimented her daughter for being a capable woman and thought she would be able to rely on her daughter soon. However, Sharon started picking on Eva and thought it would be way more practical to get herself a rich son-in-law.

Eva said, "I have already approached Mr. Ford and resolved the issue on Kevin's behalf. What the heck is wrong with both of you? Skylar isn't even a member of the family! Why have you approached her when you're conscious she wants nothing but the worst for us?"

Sharon returned to her daughter's side with a pair of gleaming eyes when she heard the great news. She asked, "Are you serious? Why hasn't anyone gotten in touch with us yet? I was against the idea of approaching Skylar, but I was afraid to get you involved as well!”

“Why would I lie to you? Mr. Ford had instructed those from the relevant department to proceed with the refund once I brought it up in front of him.”

Sighing, Sharon asked, “I guess Tobias isn’t half bad, huh? Since you have been working alongside him for a few months, can you tell if he has a thing for you?

Although he’s currently in a relationship with Skylar, we can’t be certain if they’re going to make it till the end. Don’t you think you stand a chance?”

Eva was afraid of letting her mother down. Thus, she replied with her shoulders shrugging, “I’ll try my best, but I think it’s a mission impossible because he spends most of his time working. However, his good-for-nothing brother has a lot of time to kill.

In fact, he has just broken up with his girlfriend.”

“If that’s the case, hurry up and do something about it because I can’t stand your aunt having the best time of her life anymore! I can’t believe she gets to live a better life than mine! Just when are you going to make me proud?”

Eva went dead silent and thought of the alternatives she had. As long as Brayden refused to file for divorce with his spouse, he would remain a backup plan of hers.

Conscious of the things awaiting her in spite of her capabilities, she knew it was time for her to get herself a wealthy better half. Otherwise, she might end up like Susan when she was in her mid-thirties.

However, she was conscious of the reason behind Susan’s current condition. After spending years working alongside the almighty Tobias, it would be impossible for her to fall for those inferior to him.

That happened to be the case for her because she was longer interested in those inferior to Tobias.

The next morning, Sharon logged into her bank account and had her eyes glued to the balance. Throughout their breakfast, she had asked Eva over and over again. In the end, she muttered, "Is Tobias going to go back against his promise?" When Eva heard Sharon's question, she found herself pitiable to be a member of such an inferior family. Upon that, she replied irritably, "Why are you in such a hurry? He's not going to embezzle the mere few hundred thousand of yours, okay?"

Her mother asked, "What do you mean my few hundred thousand? Are you indicating it's not a big deal?"

"Do you really think he cares when his pair of cufflinks cost more than that?"

"It's not transferred into my account yet! I guess it's time to approach Skylar again!"

As Sharon finished her sentence, she saw the latest figures available and heaved a long sigh of relief. "Finally, it's here! I'm about to pass out if it delays any longer!"

Eva announced with a proud grin, "See? Haven't I told you Mr. Ford thinks highly of me? He's doing this because of me!"

On the other hand, Sharon called Miranda and started picking on Skylar, yelling at her sister-in-law through the phone.

Within a fortnight, Empyrean Sword had garnered more than a billion and a half views.

Similarly, Skylar became the second most sought-after celebrity and gained over ten million followers on her Instagram account.

Meanwhile, Valerie felt awful when she found out Skylar had made a name out of herself and generated a fortune on Royal Entertainment's behalf. As much as she was irked, she was afraid to go against Tobias' instructions. Valerie got increasingly frustrated because Winnie wouldn't stop weeping in front of her. In the end, she yelled at the weeping woman, "Are you trying to blame me when we have given you every resource you need? Is crying going to help?"

The frustrated Winnie yelled, "It's not like I'm the one who has triumphed! Skylar is having the best time of her life when I'm the complete opposite! Her fans are coming after me because of our past conflicts! Whenever I post anything on my social media account, her fans would leave all sorts of nasty comments, picking on anything and everything, including my look!"

There wasn't much Valerie could do to turn the tables because she couldn't possibly put herself at stake. Smirking, she said, "Are you blaming me? Skylar was once an easy target, but that's no longer the case! She's currently the mainstay of the entertainment industry!

How am I supposed to stop her from thriving? Am I supposed to send her to host a children's show? Why don't you approach Sheldon for help instead? Aren't you going to get married to him soon? What happened to that?"

Winnie could feel her heart wrenching when she heard Sheldon's name. Truth be told, Sheldon told her their relationship was over. In an attempt to drive her away from him, he had stopped picking up her phone and ignored the text she had sent him.

"How am I supposed to approach him for help when he doesn't want me anywhere near him? His mother is against our relationship!” Winnie’s eyes started brimming with tears because her emotions came flooding out as she went on. Valerie finally linked the missing pieces of puzzles together when she heard Winnie’s reply. She had been wondering the reason Winnie stopped mentioning her relationship with him. It turned out it was over. “You know what? It’s better for you to give up if you wish to stay in the industry. Otherwise, it’s over for you if you get on Claudia’s nerves for real. We’re all aware of the things she’s capable of.” Unwilling to give up just yet, Winnie rebuked, “What if I don’t? Skylar hasn’t given up when she’s in a similar situation!” Winnie was at the top of her lungs. Thus, in spite of the conversation being held in Valerie’s office, Skylar could hear them. I have been wondering the reason my ears are itching when I’m on my way here. It turns out it’s because my beloved friends are talking behind me again.

Skylar knocked on the door and made her way into the office without acquiring consent for entrance.
